BOARD REVERSES CENTER APPROVAL

Rescind Zoning Change

It's a (wo)man's privilege to change his mind.

With this tenet in view, Arlington Heights trustees voted Monday to rescind their recent approval of a zoning change which presumably okayed construction of a $1,250,000 shopping center in the village.

In a 4-2 vote at Monday's adjourned board meeting, trustes decided to reconsider action of May 15 rezoning from residential to commercial nine acres of land at the northeast corner of Kirchoff and Wilke rds.

The matter of zoning the property for business use has been before one of the village's boards or commissions almost continuously since November, 1957.

THE SUGGESTION to reconsider the rezoning was made by Trustee Richard Glantz. He advocated the formation of a committee "to work with residents of Westgate and the petitioner in an effort to arrive at an amicable solution."

His reference was to homeowners in the Westgate subdivision, who have opposed the establishment of the commercial project, and to Nicholas Prassas, of George Prassas and Co., developers.

Glantz and Trustee William Sauer were the only two to vote against granting the rezoning at the May 15 meeting.

THEY SAID they disapproved of the manner in which the project was being "sold" to residents of the area, stressing the need for full exchange of viewpoints on the parts of objectors and the developer alike.

After Glantz suggested the board reconsider, Trustee William Moore entered a motion calling for (1) reconsideration and (2) appointment of a committee to meet with all concerned.

Voting in favor of the motion were Trustees Norval Stephens, Sauer, Glantz and Moore. Casting "no" votes were Trustees Eugene Schlickman and Samuel Wit.

Schlickman asked the board: "Aren't we prolonging something that has already been overly prolonged?" Apparently, Wit was the only trustee in accord with the question's implication.

ATTORNEY FRED Weber, representing Prassas, urged the board to stand on its earlier approval of the rezoning. He pledged to cooperate "as much as possible" with Westgate residents, but noted that "we can't please everybody."

Appointed to the liaison committee by President John Woods were Trustees Glantz, chairman, Sauer and Wit. Also named were Harold Carlson and Henry Wist, members of the plan commission.

The committee was directed to seriously consider the shopping center's effect on traffic conditions and real estate values. A report was ordered for June 19.

PRASSAS first petitioned for rezoning three years ago. As recently as May 3, 1961, the village plan commission ruled the petition be denied. Then the village board overruled the commission. Then Monday night's action.

The 14-store shopping area is expected to do $8 to $10 million worth of business annually and provide parking space for 750 cars.

Editor's Column

STUART R. PADDOCK

Is it fear of Castro or of Soviet Russia that is prompting this country to pay ransome money for the 1200 Cuban invaders who thought they would be backed by the United States?

If the ransom is paid, we predict it will be only a "drop in the bucket" compared to future demands.

There was a day when Uncle Sam's prestige and leadership were undisputed in the Western Hemisphere. Those were days when we practiced what we preached and when deeds, not words, demonstrated to our neighbors where we stood.

Today we're trying to buy the respect of other nations with cold cash, and we're not getting very far.

Our schools continue to suffer growing pains and expansion problems. They need all the help they can muster in order to get over the hump.

Our suburban taxpayers are doing their part. We are really provoked, however, when the state Supreme court rules that a subdivider should not be required to make any special contribution for the new schools his firm is forcing upon the community.

We have long admired former Sheriff Joseph D. Lohman, now state treasurer, for his knowledge of criminology and his efforts to solve the causes of juvenile delinquency. We're glad that he has decided to return to university work, even to the extent of resigning from his state office.

In accepting the position of dean at University of California's school of criminology, he will return to what we believe is his "first love" — teaching.

And we also suspect he'll be happy to be rid of Illinois politics!

There are a lot of businessmen who are worried over the Kennedy administration's social and economic program as presented to Congress.

We agree with Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, who spoke before the Executives club in Chicago last Wednesday. He said the economic growth so badly needed in the nation will not be realized through piling up an unbalanced budget, delusive tax measures, or the theoretical advice of professional economists.

We warrant that there are many Kennedy supporters who are becoming alarmed over proposed legislation which prevents business from exercising the incentive and ability to save and risk capital in the kind of investment which produces economic growth.

Public spending is important — but it isn't the final answer to moving us out of the recession.

THRONGS OF students from St. James school, Arlington Heights, gather around Rudolph Born (center), of 1020 E. Olive, to honor him for being crossing guard at the school for the past 10 years. The students presented Born with two cakes and many handshakes in a recognition ceremony last Friday. School officials said: "We never worry about a child being injured crossing the street when Officer Born is on duty."

Trustees Exploring Village Hall Offer

As a result of the closed meeting, Village President John Woods appointed a three-man committee to work with Dodds and Village Manager L. A. Hanson in an effort to see if the company's bid can be adjusted to comply with bidding conditions.

Named to the committee were Trustees Richard Glantz, William Moore, and Eugene Schlickman, chairman. It was asked that a report be given as soon as a determination is made.

THE COMPANY'S offer to purchase the village hall site for $100,750, was submitted May 15 and studied by trustees in executive session May 17. It was determined that all provisions set forth in village advertisements for bids were not met.

In addition, the St. Louis company asked the village to establish and pave Highland ave. north from Wing st. across the Chicago and North Western railroad tracks.

Village officials estimate this project would cost about $25,000. They point out that, in effect, the company's bid would then be worth $75,750.

DODDS, AN associate in the Arlington Heights National bank, indicated the company plans to construct a building to house three stores. The village hall will be demolished, he said.

A development plan released in 1959 by the Arlington Downtown Plaza Assoc. envisions the village hall site being transformed into a group of retail stores and parking facilities.

Construction of a new municipal building at State rd. and Sigwalt st. is being postponed until the old hall site is disposed of.

Village Opposes Higher Sales Tax

Arlington Heights this week went on record as being opposed to a half-cent sales tax increase now being considered by the Illinois General Assembly.

A bill before the legislature, if passed, would allow municipalities to hike the local sales tax from one-half to one cent, Village President John Woods told trustees Monday.

QUICK TO pick up Woods' suggestion to oppose the tax increase was Trustee Richard Glantz. He moved the tax not be raised "because it would be a burden on already overloaded taxpayers." The motion was okayed 6-0.

Turstee Eugene Schlickman asked that copies of the resolution be forwarded to Senator Russell Arrington and Representatives John Carroll, Arthur Simmons and Bernard Peskin.

The trustees also voted to oppose the legislature giving the Chicago Transit Authority power to levy a countywide tax. The vote was 4-2.

Village's Weightiest Issues Are 'Solved'

A handful of Arlington high school seniors accomplished Monday in one hour what Arlington Heights officials have not been able to accomplish in months — they voted to move Consumers co. ready-mix firm to the village's inactive sewage plant.

The teenage administration also decided that Euclid ave. should be resurfaced, but not widened. They reached an impasse, however, in attempting to finance construction of a new village hall.

DISPLAYING keen insight into the weightiest problems of the village, 16 students conducted the annual Mock Board Meeting under the auspices of the Arlington Heights Rotary club and village officials.

The lone female of the young contingent, Claudi Griesbach, of 407 N. Derbyshire ln., exhibited the most intimate knowledge of village affairs. She played the roll of a trustee.

In voting 6-0 to move the cement operation from 301 W. Northwest hwy., students reasoned the best interests of the village's entire population must be taken into consideration, not just the interests of "comparatively few" objectors.

Though he voted in favor of the relocation, 17-year-old Trustee Eike Schmitz, an exchange setudent from West Berlin, Germany, said he thought the ready-mix business should be moved "some other place."

THE DECISION not to widen Euclid was based on the students' belief that all possible effort should be given to preserving trees. The only dissenter in a 5-1 vote was Trustee Robert Ryan, 410 S. Busse rd., Mt. Prospect.

He noted Euclid was designed as a major thoroughfare in the village master plan and should be widened accordingly.

Village President John Newhard, 418 Banbury rd., was forced to discontinue discussion of financing a new village hall when it was learned the problem was too complicated to be resolved.

UNDER NEW business, students considered a curfew law for minors, the possibility of paving streets without special assessments, and enforcement of prohibitions against minors purchasing cigarettes.

Also, Ed Gerber, 640 N. Gibbons, newspaper reporter; Bruce Watkins, 105 S. Drury ln., village manager; John Rush, 403 N. Yale, police magistrate; Tim O'Gorman, 534 S. Chestnut, prosecuting attorney; Mike Koenig, 507 W. Algonquin rd., police chief, and Bill Sayre, 810 S. Bristol, commissioner of public works.

VOICING OBJECTION to the widening of Euclid ave. during Monday's Mock Board Meeting conducted by Arlington high school seniors is Claudi Griesbach, 407 N. Derbyshire ln., a village trustee. Claudi's position against widening the street gained trustees' favorable nod.

Interest, Wit, and Zeal

Same Name Isn't Only Thing 2 Mayors Share

(The neighboring communities of Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows both have chief executives named John Woods. In the interest of preventing confusion and promoting clarity, Paddock Publications offers the following article.)

What's in a name?

Analysis shows the name "John Woods" connotes a comunity interest, a grim determination to excel, and a ready wit.

These traits are paramount in the lives of two suburbanites, John G. Woods, village president of Arlington Heights, and John J. Woods, mayor of Rolling Meadows.

John G. (for George) and John J. (for Joseph) take sanctuary in the fact that their middle initials provide separation of identity. If the initials were the same, there would surely be confusion, they point out.

John J., 42, led the Peoples Economy party ticket to victory in 1959. He lives at 2304 Dove st. in Rolling Meadows.

The two community leaders are alike in most respects. Both are unselfish in devotion of time to government, both are determined to get a job done well, and both have keen senses of humor.

"I think we see eye-to-eye when it comes to stressing the importance of the public understanding what their governments are doing and planning," John G. explained.

"We agree too that constructive programs for youth are essential to the rapidly growing community," John J. added.

THEY NOTED possible differences in their respective approaches to some problems and issues, but concluded their goals are the same.

John G. advocates carefully studying village problems and then taking positive action to solve them. He plans to make use of a vast reservoir of local talent by relying upon the work of citizens committees. He is conservative in fiscal and budgetary matters.

John J. conducts city business in an efficient, industrious manner. He recently called a city-wide conference to review the city's progress and make known plans for the future. He has great pride in the city, looks to a rosy future.

JOHN G., an attorney, is general counsel for Universal Oil Products Co., Des Plaines. John J., an incorporator of the Bank of Rolling Meadows, is assistant treasurer for Millers National Insurance Co.

John G. and his wife, Mary, have four children, Jon, 17; Susan, 10; Karen, 18 months, and Marie, three months. John J. and his wife, Virginia, who is an amateur artist, are the parents of one daughter, Vohny, 17.

John G. is a graduate of Georgetown university law school. John J. is a graduate accountant of LaSalle university. Both are active churchmen.

Despite the similarity in their names, John G. and John J. look to separate and individual careers.

"The name's the same, but it's not about to hinder us," they say.

Oakton Again

A continued public hearing to deal with the improvement of Oakton st. will be held tonight (Thursday) in the council room of the village hall.

GEORGE HARRIS

Comes next Tuesday, Decoration Day, a holiday for many, a long weekend for others — then again for many just another work day. Whatever the case may be, let it be a carefully planned day that will literally burst with SAFETY.

I know that many of you will think I'm an "old fuddy-duddy" for cautioning all of you to be careful, but there is so much needless loss of life and so much suffering in the world through carelessness. Just remember, you can have a wonderful time right in your own back yard — a cook-out and the kids will be off the street so that you can watch them. If you have planned to go out for the day, be sure you take it easy and drive carefully going and coming. Incidentally, don't even have that extra bottle of beer at the outing. Leave all the fast driving for the fellows at Indianapolis Speedway. Speed is their business, and they are driving fast under controlled conditions.

Have a wonderful time, and come back home safe and sound — an outing can be fun and a lot of pleasure if you will be careful. Have a nice day.

Charity Ball Plans Aired

Members of the 1961 Grand Charity Ball committee met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 217 Windsor dr., to arrange seating plans and acknowledge table sponsors.

The second annual ball will be held Saturday, June 10, at the Arlington Jockey club.

Proceeds from the gala event will be donated to the Northwest Family Service organization, a counseling agency serving the communities of Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect and Palatine.

MONDAY'S meeting dealt with response to letters mailed last week to sponsors of the 1960 ball, it was pointed out. Sponsors reserve tables for parties of eight, 10 or 12.

Music this year will be provided by the 14-piece Jack Dawson orchestra. Appropriate garb for the evening will dies and dark suits for men. be cocktail dresses for the la-

ONE OF THE highlights of the ball will be the film reenactment of famous horse races of history narrated by well-known sports announcers.

Present at the committee meeting Monday were Mrs. Jurco, Mrs. Robert Bukowski, Mrs. William Franck, Mrs. John Noerenberg, and Mrs. Earl Pelland, all of Arlington Heights.

Also, Mrs. William Ramser, Mrs. Robert Green, and Mrs. William Meek of Palatine, and Mrs. Joseph Vavra of Mt. Prospect. (AF

Hearing Is Set June 1 On Route 53

A hearing to discuss the proposed relocation of route 53 is scheduled to be held at 2 p.m. next Thursday in the Palatine village hall.

The hearing will be the second concerning the rerouting of the north-south highway.

AS OUTLINED by the state department of public works in February, the new route will cut through the $20 million Village Green subdivision north of Palatine rd. in Arlington Heights.

The Village of Arlington Heights has filed formal objections to the proposed route. The village will be represented at the May 25 hearing, officials indicated this week.

Park Manor Data To Be Discussed

Data concerning the proposed improvement program for Arlington Heights Park Manor subdivision will be aired again tonight (Thursday) at 8 p. m. in the village hall council room.

The program tentatively calls for the installation of sanitary and storm sewers, water mains and street paving.

THE BOARD of local improvements has been holding hearings on the controversial project since last December. The matter has been hashed and rehashed in both public and private meetings.

Residents of the 50-home subdivision in the southeastern corner of the village have balked at engineers' estimates for cost of the program, saying $1,016, 503 is too high.

IMPROVEMENT board members have made attempts to cut the total cost by eliminating sidewalk construction and proposing to vacate Rockwell and Orchard sts. in the subdivision.

The sidewalk elimination and street vacations are expected to knock down the cost by about $155,000. But home owners hope other cost-cutting maneuvers will be made.

Benefit Party to Assist Housewife

A group of residents in the Westgate subdivision this week announced plans to hold a benefit card party to raise funds for a housewife stricken by cancer.

Proceeds of the party will be given to the John Kmiecik family, 1 N. Yale st., according to Mrs. A. C. Jeffrey and Mrs. Jerry MacDonald, organizers of the event.

MRS. JEAN Kmiecik, mother of two teenagers, was afflicted with cancer in 1958, they said. The dreaded disease has forced her to be continually in and out of the hospital.

"The Kmieciks' hospital insurance has run out," Mrs. Jeffrey, of 1311 W. Campbell, pointed out. "Mr. Kmiecik cannot work regularly because he must care for his wife," Mrs. MacDonald, of 1326 W. Campbell, added.

The women said Mr. and Mrs. Kmiecik were the first residents of Westgate subdivision unit one. They have two children, Jerry, 17, and Kathy, 15.

THE CARD party will be held Friday, June 9, at 8:30 p.m. in the Pioneer park fieldhouse. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Jeffrey at CL 3-3086, Mrs. MacDonald at CL 5-2217, or Mrs. Vern Virchow at CL 5-2159.

Residents wishing to contribute to the card party fund may leave donations at the reception desk of Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell.

Legislator To Address 3rd Banquet

State Rep. Paul Simon (D., Troy) will be principal speaker Saturday night at the third annual community recognition dinner co-sponsored by two suburban groups concerned with Latin American citizens.

The dinner will be held at 7 p.m. in Des Plaines American Legion hall on Golf rd. under auspices of Bensenville council, League of United Latin American Citizens, and the Opportunity Council, Inc., of Arlington Heights.

A donation of $2.50 per person is being asked. Tickets are available from Mrs. Norbert McDonough, 223 S. Main, Mount Prospect. The dinner is open to the public.

Friendly Invitation

Park District Plans Summer Fun Events

"Spring into the Arlington Heights park district's 1961 program of summer fun."

With that friendly invitation, the park district last week mailed to residents a brochure outlining a summer recreation program ranging from "drown proofing instruction" to "jewelry making."

THE PROGRAM is divided into four categories: aquatic activities, sports and playground activities, cultural activities and special events.

According to William Appleby, superintendent of recreation, residents of the district may register for activities and purchase season swim tickets at Recreation or Pioneer parks from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 4:30 p. m., Monday through Saturday.

"We recommend those wishing to take part in free activities register in advance, because enrollment is sometimes limited," Appleby explained.

The district's two swimming pools will open June 14 and close September 4. Pool operating hours will be 1 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9:30 p. m. daily.

ACTIVITIES for children include baton twirling, swimming, story hour, reading, model making, junior golf, dramatics, tumbling, tennis, handicrafts, wading and field trips.

Teenagers' activities are jewelry making, drown proofing (classes in survival swimming), modern dance, weight lifting, volleyball, softball, horse shoes, golf, tennis, and swimming.

Adults may participate in lawn concerts, life saving, scuba diving, square dancing, swimming, tennis, reading and many other activities.

Information concerning classes, timetables and fees may be obtained by phoning the park district at CL 3-0620, Appleby noted.

The district operates 13 parks in all sections of the Village of Arlington Heights. Director of parks is Thomas Thornton.

Annual Pool Inspections Are Needed

Mrs. Jane D. Terbell, Arlington Heights' health officer, this week reminded owners of swimming pools that it's about time for annual pool inspections.

A village ordinance requires private pools to be inspected each year, Mrs. Terbell pointed out. She asked that pool owners contact her at C 3-5740 so that inspection dates can be arranged.

Inspection includes checking equipment maintenance, chemical supplies, filters, rate of waterflow, water ingredients, cleanliness and others.

Controversy Mounts

Puffer Joins Debate On School Treasures

Debate over the office of township school treasurer continued to mount this week in northwest Cook county as Noble J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools, was injected into the growing controversy.

Palatine high school district 211 and Palatine-Rolling Meadows elementary school district 15 recently met with Palatine township school trustees and their appointee, township treasurer Fred C. Kruse, for a clarification of the treasurer's duties.

Since the current budget for the treasurer's office in Palatine township will cost school taxpayers more than $12,000, school board members requested a summation of costs and duties of the office.

KRUSE STRESSED he would have to check with the county superintendent's office before releasing such data. Last week he notified the school boards he had been advised not to provide the information requested.

Township school trustees serve for six year terms without salary. The three trustees hold title to all school property within their township.

They appoint the township school treasurer who is the "money man" for school districts within the township. He must sign all checks, keep accurate books and receive all tax monies. The checks are prepared and coded for the proper school accounts at the school office, and all money spent by school districts is specifically approved by vote of school boards.

THE 1959 STATE legislature amended the state school code to provide that as of July 1, 1961, the records of receipts and expenditures kept by the school districts would be the official records of the schools.

This modification will reduce the office of township school treasurer to "nothing more than a person to co-sign checks and reconcile school district bank accounts" according to Representative Otis L. Miller Jr. of the Illinois House of Representatives. Miller has made an extensive study of the township school treasurer question.

According to Cook County Supt. Puffer, the township treasurer of schools "handles large sums of money, is properly bonded, and is the watch dog of the proper expenditure of school funds." Puffer points out "a person who keeps the records of and handles funds exceeding many millions, certainly must be well trained in financial matters and has a grave responsibility."

Puffer stresses the school treasurer system in Cook county is a "built-in system of checks and balances."

"School treasurers in surrounding counties are appointed by school boards and are directly under their orders. In Cook county the township treasurer is appointed by the township trustees of schools and is therefore independent of orders by individual school boards," he added.

PUFFER ALSO states "if each school district were to have its own separate treasurer . . . experience has shown that the costs of handling township school funds has more than doubled since the elimination of township treasurer of schools."

Township school treasurers are found only in Cook county, and Madison and St. Clair counties in the St. Louis area.

According to Rep. Miller, total costs of school board appointed treasurers are very modest. He cites Decatur, Rock Island and Rockford as three school systems where salary and expenses of the treasurers cost the districts nothing. Total expenses for the Peoria school system is $1,233.50; for Danville the cost is $2,712; and for Springfield the cost is $1,100.

In contrast, salary and expenses of Wheeling township school treasurer totals $16,500. (B-8

Attends 'Y' Conference

William Poling, 521 N. Wille, Mount Prospect, returned Sunday from Jacksonville, Ill., after attending a 3-day conference of YMCA laymen related to physical education.

This is the first time that the new Northwest Suburban YMCA has been represented at this annual meeting of the Illinois Area YMCA Physical Education Congress.

The functions of the Congress are to supervise YMCA athletics in Illinois and to unite the nearly one hundred YMCA's in the state in presenting the best possible programs of physical education to their local communities.

Young Baton Twirlers Featured in Recital

Spring burst forth in a bouquet of batons last Saturday evening, when students of "Miss Jennie's" School of Baton presented their third annual twirling show.

This year's offering, entitled "Twirls of Spring," kept the audience of more than 200 persons anticipating every new number with much expectation, it was reported.

The music of show tunes and college gridiron pep songs filled the girls' gym of Arlington high school as the 5 to 18 year old twirlers performed for parents, relatives, friends, area band directors and program chairmen.

AN IMPRESSIVE sight was the Debonaire Drum and Baton corps preview showing of their sparkling precision drill and twirling national competition routines.

Precision drilling, military twirling, dance-twirl, pom-pom, two-baton, lighted baton, rope twirling, cape twirling and blackout flag twirling numbers unfolded throughout the evening's performance as beginners, intermediate and advanced students entertained with twirling routines indicative of their graded skill.

Numbers staged by the Junior and Senior Debonaires were "Bugler's Holiday," "Espana Capes" and "Blue Tango." The Petite Debs brought additional color to the night's festivities with "Glory of the Gridiron," "Oklahoma," and "Birth of the Blues."

A nautical "Anchors Aweigh" military drill featured intermediate twirlers and twirling Indians smoked a peace pipe baton in the "Canadian Sunset" number.

THE opening number was somewhat delayed to give way to the telegram announcement of the birth of a baby daughter to school director Jennie England and her husband, Gene.

Kathryn Ann, weighing seven pounds, ten ounces, kept "Miss Jennie" from attending the evening's performance.

Marcene Larkin, instructor, assisted by Carole Fill, perfected the staged numbers with dress rehearsal the morning of the twirling show. Costumes made by the mothers were designed by Mrs. England and Mrs. Larkin, and Mrs. Wilbur Downing, headed a committee of others in charge of class costuming.

Stanley J. Fill taped the show's 21 numbers and lighting tasks were delegated to Paul Slade and Larry Larkin. Nearly 75 youngsters from the northwest suburban area participated in the May 20 program. (B9

Physicians Open Palatine Office

DR. H. ROHR

DR. T. SAMMONS

Offices for the general practice are situated at 222 E. Hicks Place, with a 24 hour phone service.

The doctors, both of whom were born and reared in the Chicago area, set up offices in Palatine and moved their families here "primarily because we like the area."

DR. ROHR served his internship at Cook County hospital and received additional training at St. Annes, Chicago.

Dr. Sammons interned at St. Joseph Hospital, Chicago and received additional training at Hines Veterans Hospital.

Both are on the staff of Sherman Hospital, Elgin, and Holy Family hospital, which will open in Des Plaines June 12. Each is an attending physician at Little City, home for retarded children west of Palatine.

Dr. Rohr and family of son 2, and daughter 7 months, has established residence at 266 N. Elmwood st. Dr. Sammon's family, which includes a girl 2, and two boys, aged 3½ and 1, is residing at 141 S. Brockway st. (B8

Q. What do you suggest as rules of good taste for a business girl who smokes at her office?

A. Above all, she should be tidy about it. Empty the ashtray frequently so it won't look messy and smoulder unpleasantly. Don't work with a cigarette hanging out of your mouth, and never carry one with you when you go into the boss' office to take dictation.

MT. PROSPECT

When flowers start blooming in Mt. Prospect, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls and their leaders can point with pride and say, "We planted those!"

Saturday, May 6, at 2 p.m. girls of both organizations and their leaders planted red and white petunias on the islands in front of the shops in the middle of town.

They broke ground, raked, pulled weeds, planted and watered flowers around the trees on three blocks.

EVEN THOUGH dark clouds threatened from earlier showers, the girls sang and enjoyed their work very much. One might say, "They whistled while they worked."

Leaders Mrs. J. F. Elman and Mrs. G. L. Brooks and girls from Flying Blue Birds, guardian Mrs. Betty Petersen and girls from TanNahZuGaToMa Campfire group, Mrs. Sally Hagen of the EluTaKiKaChon group and Judith Childers of the WiKaToMa Campfire girls were among the workers.

Mrs. Newell, Esmond, president of the Community Achievement association ordered the flowers and directed the planting as part of the program to beautify the town.

AN UNEXPECTED assist was given by Bob Kemmin, who solved the problem of water by bringing two large cans of water in his station wagon, into which the girls dipped their pails.

The merchants treated the girls with gum and everyone reported a "wonderful" time.

Danger to Ownership

Administration Tax Plan Alarms Realtor

Ownership and transfer of real estate will suffer a serious blow if the Administration's proposal to curb capital gains on real estate sales is enacted by the Congress, Herbert H. Walbaum, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, warned this week.

The Administration's recommendation would substitute the present high ordinary income tax rates for the lower capital gains rate on the sale of real estate which has been subject to tax depreciation allowances. This affects all real estate which is used in a trade or business or is otherwise income-producing such as apartment houses or single-family dwellings held for rent.

WALBAUM SAID that the proposal would have an adverse effect upon investments in new industrial, commercial, and residential construction because the higher tax on the gain would prove a substantial deterrent to the sale of real estate and reinvestment of the sales proceed in new construction.

He added that this recommendation was one of the principal topics of discussion at the recent spring meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in Chicago.

"Members of the local real estate board are uniting with Realtors all across the country in opposing this proposal," he said, citing this as an example of how realtors—members of NAREB—keep abreast of national, state, and local legislative measures affecting their community, and take action in the community's interest.

TO ILLUSTRATE the impact of the proposed change, Walbaum cited the hypothetical case of a taxpayer who bought a four-family apartment house for $50,000.

Over a 10-year period the owner and taxpayer had been able to recapture half of his capital investment through depreciation deductions totaling $25,000. He sold the structure for $51,000, thus realizing a gain of $26,000 (the difference between the sale price and the acquisition cost minus depreciation deductions).

Under present law, the $26,000 gain is taxable at a 25 per cent capital gains rate which would mean a tax of $6,500. But under the Administration's new proposal, only $1,000 would be taxable at the capital gain rate. The remaining $25,000 of the gain would be taxable at the higher general income tax rate.

"Assuming that this shifts the taxpayer into the 53 per cent bracket, the new tax would be $13,500—a $7,000 tax increase," Walbaum said.

"Tax considerations figure prominently in real estate sale plans," he asserted, "and enactment of this proposal certainly would adversely affect all investment in real estate in our northwest suburban area and other communities throughout the country." (B8

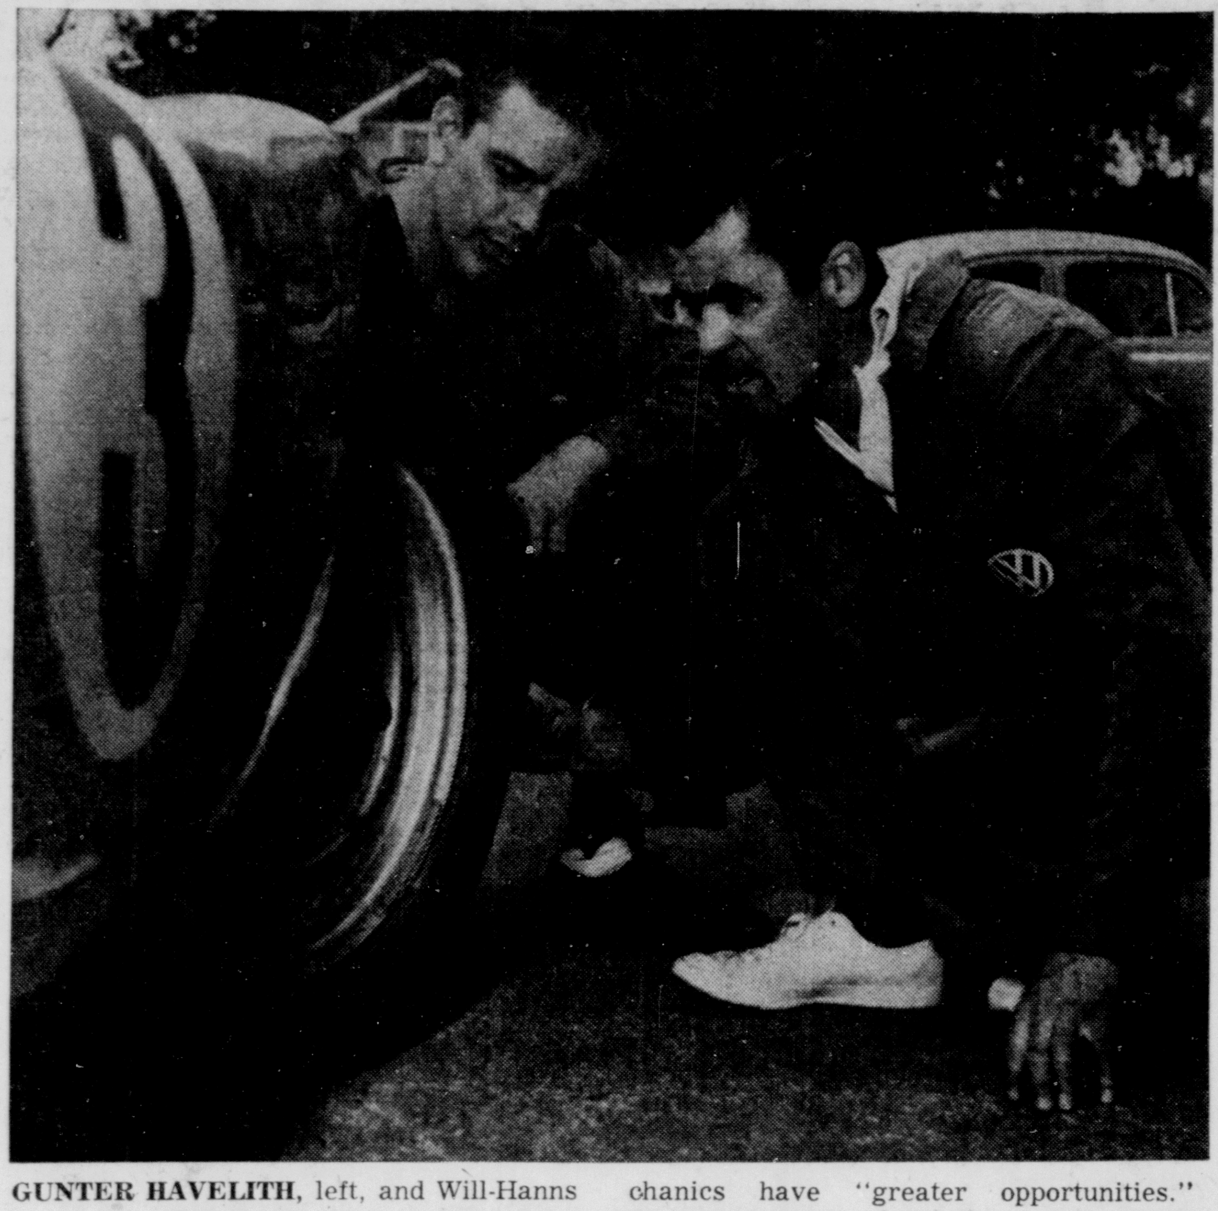
Mechanic Opens Auto Service Shop Here



GUNTER HAVELITH, left, and Will-Hanns Wiedmann apply professional scrutiny to wheel mount of sports vehicle being serviced at shop they opened in Arlington Heights May 1. Wiedmann came to the United States from Germany because mechanics have "greater opportunities." Havelith has been in this country three years. He originally planned visit to Chicago area of year or two only en route back to Germany.

(B-8

A German-born mechanic, who came to this country four years ago "because there are greater opportunities in my trade," opened an auto service shop in Arlington Heihgts May 1.

He is 30-year-old Will-Hanns Wiedmann. His partner, 31-year-old Gunter Havenith, was on his way back to Germany after spending four years in Fundacion, Colombia, when he stopped off in Chicago for a year or two visit.

The two mechanics met while employed in a Chicago repair shop. "We decided to go into business for ourselves when our side work increased so much that it was a question of quitting one or the other," Weidmann explained.

ACTUALLY, the Northwest Auto Service, 201 W. Campbell st., while it accommodates all types of vehicles, specializes in foreign and sports cars. Weidmann stated "there is nothing nicer for a mechanic to work on an engine and see it work to precision and race at high speeds."

Both mechanics, as one might expect, have been interested in nursing professional racing cars around the ovals. They serviced Robert Donner's Porsche RS-61 when it finished on the index of performance at the Sebring, Fla., endurance races this year.

Wiedmann serviced a Porsche RS-K for John Haas and Jack Enslay in the 500-mile sports car race in Elkhart, Wis., recently. The vehicle finished second in its class and sixth over-all.

Because of their interest in racing, Wiedmann and Havenith have had customers from as far away as Milwaukee, Wis., and Joliet. "Many of the people who urged that we enter business for ourselves also are bringing their cars here," the partners explained.

ASKED WHAT they thought they could provide for customers in a competitive service market, Wiedmann voiced the new business' desire to provide "personal" service.

"When a customer brought his car to the place where we worked before," Wiedmann and Havenith explained, "people saw only the service manager."

Wiedmann said "most of the people didn't even know if a mechanic would be working on their car . . . they never saw him or talked to him."

"People with car problems like personal attention and that's what we are to do." The mechanics said they located in Arlington Heights because there "is a need for the type of service we can provide."

BOTH MEN are married and are purchasing homes in the Arlington Heights area. Havenith said he originally planned to stay just a year or two. Asked if he would still like to continue to Germany, he explained "yes, but in business you don't think about it much."

Wiedmann said a mechanic must have eight and a half years of experience in the trade before he can enter business in Germany. "Here, all you need to do is pay for the business license and provide the type of service people want."

Wiedmann and Havenith admitted that people generally think if a mechanic is of German origin that he is good. However, Wiedmann explained there is a disadvantage to that.

HE EXPLAINED some firms hire German born personnel for the little jobs around a garage. "Customers see them working there and think they are the mechanics when, in many cases, they do not work on cars at all. If a poor job is done on the car they get blamed."

But the two new business men feel they can personally provide the answers for customers and that personal attention, ability and craftsmanship are the ingredients of a successful business.

Asked if he's had any particularly challenging repair job, Wiedmann replied: "Every job is a challenge. A mechanic likes to see an engine working."

Catholic Veterans

A field Mass and a parade by veterans' organizations will highlight a special Memorial Day program at All Saints cemetery, 700 N. River rd., Des Paines. The cemetery serves Catholic families in north and northwest areas of Chicago and adjacent suburbs.

Frederick J. Bechely, sexton of All Saints, estimated that approximately 2,200 veterans are interred there. He anticipates about 10,000 visitors during the day.

CELEBRANT of the field Mass, which will begin at 10:30 a.m., will be Rev. John A. McLoraine, pastor of St. Emily church, Mt. Prospect. Father McLoraine was an Army chaplain in World War II and an Air Force chaplain in the Korean War.

Prior to the services, many of the graves will be decorated with American flags. Veterans' groups will march to the site of the field Mass. Memorial ceremonies, including the traditional Taps and Rifle Salute, are scheduled to follow the Mass.

Groups participating in the services include the Catholic War Veterans, Knights of Columbus, and Scout troops from local parishes. (BS

Income Tax, Picket Law Spark Interest

By JOHNSON KANADY

A proposal, largely with Democratic backing, to establish a graduated income tax in Illinois within the framework of the present revenue article received much attention at Springfield last week.

Reps. Robert Marks (D, Evanston), Bernard Peskin (D, Northbrook), Anthony Scariano (D, Park Forest), and Jack Walker (R, Lansing) were among the sponsors of the bill which comes in opposition to the tax program laid down by Gov. Kerner.

Under the terms of the proposal citizens would pay the state amounts equal to five per cent of the federal income tax paid. Scariano, a key mover in the plan, has been in frequent disagreement with Kerner on tax matters.

THE SHARP clash between Scariano and Rep. Marion E. Burks (R, Evanston) concerning legislation to bar importation of pickets in labor disputes has attracted considerable statewide interest.

The Rockford Register Republic in a recent issue took Scariano to task for his opposition to the Burks plan, which was first defeated as an amendment to an anti-strike breaker bill by Scariano, and which now is in the form of a bill in itself. The Rockford newspaper charged Scariano with attempting to set up "one-way-street" law in regard to labor disputes.

Burks' bill to limit erection of billboards along Illinois highways, trampled in the house roads and bridges committee, lives again in the form of an amendment to an administration highway measure.

The full language of the Burks bill was included in an amendment to a bill providing for removal of signs, shrubbery and other obstructions near highway-railroad grade crossings. Should it survive it could mean a return of $4,400,000 in federal taxes to the state in addition to esthetic benefits to highway rights-of-way.

A POPULAR innovation in Illinois highway marking — the white line along the outer edge of pavements—would be expanded under terms of a measure backed by Rep. Harold A. Hoover (R, Palos Park). The bill has passed the house and now awaits senate action. Surveys and studies have indicated the marking is a life-saver as well as a valuable element in reducing driving strain during storms and poor visibility conditions.

Rep. George Dolezal (R, Berwyn) has joined the group which will oppose proposed subsidies and tax levies for the Chicago Transit authority, and the plan of Rep. Elmer Conti (R, Elmwood Park) to establish a commission to study a four-county transportation authority is gaining support in the senate. It has passed the house.

Rep. C. A. Walker (R, Forest Park) introduced a bill during the week to require that persons making unsolicited telephone calls for commercial purposes must, within 30 seconds, identify himself and the concern he represents, along with the reason for the call. The bill and a companion measure HB 1459 and HB 1460 are designed to curb the sometimes annoying practice of selling by telephone.

REP. EDWIN A. McGowan (R, Harvey), Rep. C. A. Walker and Rep. Jack E. Walker (R, Lansing) are among seven sponsors of a bill to increase the pay of mayors and commissioners in cities under the commission form of government. The proposal has a proviso, however, that in cities of more than 20,000 the officials must put in at least a six hour work day at their city duties.

An attempt to recall the "tough" lien law pushed through the, house by Rep. John W. Carroll (R, Park Ridge) failed during the week. The proposal, now in the senate, will mean an additional recovery of $5,000,000 each biennium from the estates of deceased old age pensioners, Carroll states.

The open occupancy bill, baring discrimination, in housing accommodations because of race, creed, color, etc., came out of the house executive committee last week and is due for house debate within a week or two. (B8

Brownie troops 666 and 633 participated in a cookout May 13 at the Izaac Walton club, Des Plaines. Accompanying the girls were seventh and eighth grade scouts: Karen Carlson, Carol Cole, Carolyn Hester, Pat Hester, Pat Lechner and Pam Long.

The older scouts acted as junior leaders and put the Brownies through their outdoor tenderfoot requirements. They also taught them several new games. Adult leadership included Mrs. H. Cress, Mrs. A. Mitchell, Mrs. Hester, Mrs. R. Ervin, Mrs. J. Little and Mrs. R. Winsell.

Both troops attempted recipes which were new to them. Troop 666 made coffee can stew while 633 enjoyed barbecue. All 42 Brownies are looking forward to their Fly-Up planned for early June.

May 21 the Mariners again took third place, this time in a canoe marathon on the Des Plaines river from Libertyville to dam No. 2, a distance of 18 miles. Palatine crew members were Jane Wittenberg, Sandra Glod, Louise Richardson, Diane Sargol, Linda Sargol and Mary Seery.

There were 206 contestants in the marathon. The leader of ship 334 is Mrs. Donald Sargol.

SOUTH MT. PROSPECT

Sixth graders in troop 511 and their leader, Mrs. French, were guests of the Elu-Take-Ka-Chon Camp Fire troop this month. Meeting at the home of the campfire leader, Mrs. Hagen, the girls enjoyed outdoor games and refreshments.

Scouts from four neighborhood troops enjoyed a day at Camp Hickory Hill Saturday, May 13. Making the trip were Brownies from troop 597 and also three Brownies from troop 212, and one intermediate Scout each from troops 401 and 464. They were accompanied by Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Kindelberger, Mrs. Jensen, Mrs. Crandall and Mrs. Pfeiffer.

SIXTH GRADERS in troop 464 performed a service project and helped beautify Mt. Prospect last Saturday when they cleaned and planted petunias in the parkway areas between Emerson st. and the National food store. They were assisted by their leaders, Mrs. Courtney and Mrs. Broadbent, and also Mr. Courtney.

Mothers of Brownie troop 139 were guests of honor at a tea held May 10 in St. Mark church. Punch and coffee were served with an appropriately decorated cake, and handmade corsages and pin cushions were presented to the guests. The Brownies presented the skit that they gave at the father-daughter banquet last month. Mrs. Pursell, leader, assisted the Scouts with the arrangements.

Two troops recently enjoyed a weekend at Happy Hollow. Junior high Scouts in troop 499 spent May 5, 6 and 7 at the camp, sleeping in tents, cooking out and enjoying outdoor activities. They were accompanied by leaders, Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Schimek, and also Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Sinclair.

Sixth graders in troop 477 also spent the same weekend at the camp and while there, completed their work on the camp craft badge. The troop hiked, had a camp fire Saturday night and attended church at East Troy, Wis. Sunday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Caldini and Mrs. Revnes.

WHEELING

Wheeling fifth and sixth grade patrols of troop 263 bought and paint-embroidered their names, troop number and town on five dish towels, which they sent to the cabana in Mexico.

Troop 705 had a mother-daughter cook-out May 13 at Potowatomie forest preserve. The girls made campfire stew and instant mashed potatoes. Included in the program was a short hike with the girls laying a trail for their mothers to follow.

HOFFMAN ESTATES

Girl Scout troop 780 with leaders Olga Brooks, Ann Keith and Sahae Miyashita; Brownie troop 796, under leadership of Connie Kollias and Elfrida Spiotts; and Brownie troop 362, with leaders Wilma Kumpf and Barbara Alexa are combining their plans for an all day cookout the end of May at the Shiller Park preserve, with hiking, trail marking and kaper charts as part of the program.

Wearing plaid skirts made by troop mothers, troops 796 and 362 performed a Scottish song and dance at the rally last Saturday. Girl Scout troop 780 recently planted geraniums at Lakeview school their meeting place.

ANOTHER combined troop activity recently was a trip to Goodman theatre by Brownie troops 800 and 661. Leaders Audrey Knapp, Pat Morse, Sally Callison, Yvonne Bradtke, and Lorraine Klein and 40 girls attended a performance of "The Wizard of Oz" May 7. Newest girl in troop 661 is Kathy Hotz, who first started in the Brownies in Formosa and most recently belonged in Kansas.

Twenty-two girls and four leaders from Girl Scout troop 591 had an overnight at Camp Pine last month. For the climax of their year they are making plans for a father-daughter cook-out June 4, with court of awards at that time. Recently invested were Kris Phelps and Marlene Newman.

Troop 591's spring service projects were the planting of two rose bushes at the Hoffman village hall and the making of picture scrapbooks given to Elmhurst hospital. (B9

Political Discussion Is Planned by GOP Workshop

A survey of the differences between the two major political parties, part of the discussion outline of Republican Workshops, will be featured on the FM radio program, "Let's Talk It Over," on Sunday, May 28 at 10 p.m.

The program is produced by George Coker, 1611 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights, and will be broadcast at 92.7 on the FM band.

An exposition of the Workshop program will also be included in the discussion. Workshop members participating include Dr. Norman Atwater, 300 S. Dunton; Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, 726 S. Highland; Mrs. Dale Nyberg, 910 Thomas; Robert Pritchard, 1801 N. Ridge; and Thomas W. Novotny, 201 N. Yale.

CURRENT WORKSHOP activities also include a second leader training series. Men and women interested in becoming discussion leaders for the informal meetings now being held in Wheeling township can obtain information by calling Robert Reininga at CL 9-3335.

Republican Workshops are discussion groups held in private homes to consider government in general and the activities of political parties in particular. Democrats and independents are included, and the only qualification for attendance is an interest in good government.

Since the formation of the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop, 11 two-part sessions have been held in the homes of local residents. Hosts have included Mr. and Mrs. William K. Andrew, 309 Hillside, Prospect Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Moe, 337 Rosewood, Buffalo Grove.

IN ARLINGTON Heights groups have met in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. George Coker, 1611 N. Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Coughlin, 1152 N. Hickory; Dr. and Mrs. Norman Atwater, 300 S. Dunton; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Wolter, 516 W. Fairview; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Nyberg, 910 Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reininga, 1433 N. Vail; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Novotny, 201 N. Yale.

Ten sessions are now scheduled for June. They will be held in Wheeling, Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, and Buffalo Grove. Information on the Republican Workshop program is available by calling CL 5-3494. (B8

Personal Property Tax Is Suburb Headache

Collection Poses Tough Challenge

by BRUCE LADD

Northwest suburban residents can be head growling about the personal property tax bills they've been receiving in recent weeks.

But how many are paying up?

According to Margorie Annen Carter, tax collector-elect in Wheeling township, only 10 per cent of individuals receiving bills this year will have the fortitude to pay them.

Of the 7,000 bills mailed to individuals last year, some 700 were paid, Mrs. Carter pointed out. That's 10 per cent.

MRS. CARTER

SHE SAID A TOTAL of 8,100 bills were distributed in the township in 1960, and of the 1,800 paid, nearly 1,100 were settled by businesses and corporations. In other words, commercial interests paid more than 60 per cent of the bills.

(Cook count ytax experts estimate that three large utilities—Illinois Bell Telephone co., Commonwealth Edison co. and Public Service co.—kick in 37 per cent of all personal property taxes collected in the county.)

"It's really a shame there isn't better public understanding of the importance of honoring personal property tax bills," Mrs. Carter confided.

"Almost 75 per cent of personal property taxes collected in the townships is turned over to the school districts. Low property tax collections result in higher school district taxes. It's a form of robbing Peter to pay Paul."

SHE BELIEVES taxpayers as a whole save nothing by ignoring personal property tax bills. Instead, she feels, taxpayers cost themselves untold sums in overhead when they force tax beneficiaries to hike their levies.

Recipients of personal property taxes collected in the townships include school districts, libraries, fire protection districts, mosquito abatement districts, sanitary districts, forest preserve districts, road and bridge funds, villages, park districts and Cook county.

Greater collection of personal property taxes would appreciably reduce the financial problems faced by school districts, the chairman of the Illinois School Problems commission said recently.

The problems of other taxing agencies could also be reduced through improved collection, public officials agree.

THE PERSONAL property tax is a direct personal liability and, under state statutes, the tax is delinquent and bears interest after June 1, Mrs. Carter explained.

"There are two methods used by township assessors to determine an individual's tax position," she noted. "One method is to look at the personal property schedules filed by individuals. The other is to assess automobiles, the customary basis for assessment."

The township assessor forwards schedules and local auto registration data to the office of County Assessor P. J. Cullerton, who is then responsible for figuring the tax bill.

Those who neither file schedules nor register their autos locally may escape receiving personal property tax bills for some time, Mrs. Carter indicated. Eventually everyone gets on the rolls through real estate and state license records, she said.

"It's very difficult to determine how personal property bills are figured," remarked Mrs. Carter, a veteran of 20 years in tax collection.

SHE CITED THE case of an Arlington Heights businessman who was billed $6.60 in 1959 and $36.00 in 1960. The merchant's meager equipment and auto had aged another year, yet the tax bill was multiplied by six.

Another example of an unjustifiable bill was that received by a suburban mother of six who is receiving Aid to Dependent Children. The county assessor billed her $45.

These are common—rather than unusual—examples of the billing procedure, Mrs. Carter said.

In order to get a bill adjusted, a taxpayer must break the law by refusing to pay it and wait until a delinquency notice is received from a justice of the peace, she observed.

JUSTICES ARE empowered by the county to collect delinquent taxes. In most cases, after a lapse of many months, JPs call in the taxpayer and a settlement for anywhere from 40 to 80 per cent of the actual bill is made.

"Why bill a person $40 and wait two years to collect $20?" Mrs. Carter asked.

"Why not bill a man $20 and get it right away, thus eliminating the JP's collection fees and getting the money to the government agencies when they need it?"

These questions seem academic, but nobody knows the answers. The assessor's office doesn't. Neither does the county treasurer, clerk or central services department.

Some observers say the bills are high because the ensuing collection process gives political party's added patronage jobs. Others say they're high because of a state multiplier applied to all bills.

ONE THING IS apparent. That is, Cook county officials find other means of raising revenue than by personal property taxes. Individuals do not pay the personal property tax in the City of Chicago. Businesses and corporations carry the load.

In suburban townships, some individuals pay. The difference in the two geographic areas is that the townships don't have the "other means" of raising the needed tax revenue. The only answer outside Chicago is for benefitting agencies to raise their tax rates.

There is much talk in Springfield these days about revamping the state's archaic revenue article, but it's mostly talk. Many politicians would like to tax everything in sight rather than amend tax laws.

AN EXAMPLE of a remedy bill was that introduced in 1957 which would have permitted cities and villages to require proof that personal property taxes have been paid before issuing residents motor vehicle stickers.

Another such bill would have eliminated personal property tax returns and let township assessors do on-the-spot assessments. Both pieces of legislation were defeated.

Mrs. Carter, whose father has served as Wheeling township collector for 32 years, believes taxpayers should pay personal property tax bills "until the law is changed."

She proposes to make the bills equitable so that taxpayers will feel more inclined to honor them.

"AS LONG AS the bills are exorbitant, people won't pay willingly," opined the 45-year-old collector-elect.

"But until things are changed in the legislature, we'll have to go right on attempting to collect the tax amounts whether they're high or low."

And what is applicable to Wheeling township, also applies to Elk Grove, Palatine and Schaumburg townships.

English Department Hunts 'Lay' Readers

High school district 214 this week began searching for qualified "civilians" in the area to serve as lay readers for Arlington and Prospect high school English departments next year.

Under the program recently authorized by the board of education persons will be hired, at $2 per hour, to assist English teachers in grading themes, term papers, and other written assignments.

THE PROGRAM was adopted because of the increased enrollments and the desire to lighten the English teachers' load without lowering the students' written work requirements.

Applications for the lay reader positions are now being accepted. Superintendent H. L. Slichenmyer indicated that each "reader" would be assigned to an individual teacher. Only teachers carrying a full five-class load in English or serving as English Department chairmen would be eligible.

FRESHMAN and sophomore level teachers would receive a maximum of 175 hours' help for the year, while teachers of juniors and seniors would be allowed 275 hours of outside assistance.

While the superintendent and department chairmen are hoping to find applicants with degrees and experience in the English field, they indicated that there were no set requirements. Approximately 22 lay readers are needed.

Interested persons are instructed to phone or write Slichenmyer at Arlington high school. (ACM

Q. When are "informals" properly used in correspondence?

A. The "informal" is a foldover card, and may be used for any short note—for sending and replying to invitations, for enclosing with a gift, and so on. This type of card is not proper, however, as a letter of condolence.

Unknown Destination Beckons Prom Riders

A country club prom and a "destination unknown" train ride await Arlington high juniors and seniors attending "Panathenaea," Friday night.

The Chevy Chase country club, Milwaukee ave., near Wheeling, is the site of this year's junior-senior prom, scheduled for tomorrow night, 9-12 p.m.

Bobby Christian and his 14 piece orchestra will play for the Arlington high dancers. Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the 1961 Prom Queen, who is being selected by senior boys attending the formal.

Some 280 couples will later board a special nine car Chicago North Western train at the Arlington Park Jockey Club as part of the parents' annual "after-the-prom" party.

While planners of the trip would not disclose the destination of the gaily decorated train, they hinted that speed-boat rides, ping pong, pool, dancing, bowling, and other activities would be part of Saturday's entertainment.

The train itself will include dancing cars with two dance bands, a circus car featuring games of skill, music by the Galaxies and Tobin Matthews, "the Ruby Duby Du Man."

THE UNUSUAL freight is scheduled for a 2 a.m. departure. Paul Michaels, general chairman of the parents' committee, predicts "the greatest party ever, for the kids, and a quiet and peaceful night for the parents."

Students planning the country club portion of the evening included Junior Class President Carol Schindler, Kitty Crockett, Sue Keller, Sue Larson, Barb Haack, and Sue Cornelius.

General chairmen for the train ride are Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Tracy, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Daeschner, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lips, Mr. and Mrs. Al Keehlman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Neu, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Palmer, Dave Brooks, Walter Edelblute, and Bill Thompson. (ACM

Probation, Fine Levied On Motorist

Donald Petersen, 624 E. Golf rd., Arlington Heights, pleaded guilty last Friday to charges of carrying a concealed weapon and reckless driving and was fined $100 and $5 on the respective charges by Justice of the Peace Walter P. Dahl.

Petersen was arrested by Arlington Heights police January 19 and charged with driving while intoxicated, a charge later reduced to reckless driving.

Judge Dahl also put the defendant on six months' probation, ruling that violation of probation regulations will result in a six-month hitch in the Cook county jail. (AF

Ambitious Cyclist Is Curtailed

An industrious 16-year-old youth who constructed his own motor bicycle was advised by police last Friday not to ride it until he receives both drivers and state licenses.

Ben Eltz, 215 S. Mitchell, was stopped on his homemade bike at Wilke rd. and St. James Friday by Rolling Meadows police. They tipped Arlington Heights officers, noting the necessity of adherence to license regulations.

Eltz said he made the motor bike from parts purchased with money earned at his after-school job. (AF

REVIEWING PROGRESS of his membership drive committee is Paul Collins of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association. Collins is heading the drive on behalf of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce. Two progress charts have been placed on park property near downtown Arlington Heights.

Membership Drive

'Great Enthusiasm' Shown for Chamber

Paul Collins, chairman of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce membership drive, reported this week that he and his committee have been met with "great enthusiasm" in recent weeks.

"Businessmen, professionals, industrialists and service chiefs have all expressed sincere interest in the work of the chamber," Collins said. He indicated the chamber has gained more than 15 new members since the drive began in March.

The chamber currently has more than 100 members. The membership drive committee is calling on business interests in a concentrated drive slated to run through June 5.

Collins said the fine interest shown in the chamber program has prompted a two-week extension of the drive deadline. A membership report will be given June 5 at a general membership meeting at Gunnell's Rathskeller, Mt. Prospect.

The meeting, scheduled to be held after a 6:30 p. m. buffet supper, will feature complete rundowns on activities of the chamber's various committees, Collins said.

WORKING WITH Collins in directing the membership drive are Paul Ellingsen, Barney Erickson, John Kehe, Bud Mills, Joe Schneller and Bob Walters.

Bud Rapp, chairman of the chamber's golf outing committee, announced this week the date for the annual outing is Wednesday, July 26. He said dinner and dancing may follow the outing if enough chamber members are interested.

Arlington Approves New Hwy. Routing

In anticipation of today's (Thursday) hearing to deal with the relocation of route 53, Arlington Heights trustees Monday expressed satisfaction with the highway's amended route.

Pointing to a topographical map of the communities of Rolling Meadows, Palatine and Arlington Heights, Village President John Woods said he'd like to see the highway located a little further west.

"But in the interest of resolving a compromise, I feel we should approve of the newly proposed route," Woods explained.

TRUSTEES agreed with Woods' thinking, but suggested the state department of public works consider installing egress and ingress facilities near Dundee rd.

They also noted that the new route will force members of the Arlington Heights Elks lodge to seek another site for their $175,000 headquarters.

As first proposed by the state, route 53 was to run through the $20 million Village Green subdivision north of Palatine rd. The amended route runs in closer accord with Wilke rd.

The hearing on the proposed relocation will be held at 2 p. m. in the Palatine village hall.

Merchandising Pirates

Consumer Fraud Hit In Proposed Bureau

The "merchandising pirates" who prey on unwary Illinois consumers will find themselves scuttled if Attorney General William G. Clark gets the legislation he's requesting.

Bills which have passed the House and are now in committee in the Illinois Senate propose the establishment of a Bureau of Consumer Fraud.

The bureau is aimed at unscrupulous merchandisers' Achilles Heel: the pocketbook.

IT WOULD permit the bilked to recover their loses, and would give the attorney general authority to revoke corporation charters granted to conduct business in the state.

A vote on the bills, 629, 630, 631, 632 and 633, is expected in the Senate next week.

"It would be a pilot program," Clark said of the proposed bureau in an interview this week, "but judging from the letters we've received on the subject, we anticipate a tremendous amount of complaints."

The attorney general said that even though his office would operate with limited appropriations to start, bureaus would be established in Chicago and Springfield.

VOLUNTEER law students would complement a staff of lawyers in the fraud bureau at its inception, he added.

The Bureau of Consumer Fraud would offer remedies through civil court action to defrauded persons, Clark explained, whereas now the only recourse they have is by appealing to the state's attorney who initiates action through the criminal courts.

This essential difference would give the attorney general a more effective instrument to curb shady business practices, he feels, since proof must be produced beyond a reasonable doubt in criminal action.

"In a civil action, a preponderance of the evidence will suffice for a judgment against the violator," Clark explained. Of 500 such cases brought to court by a state's attorney, only about one conviction is secured, he pointed out.

CLARK ESTIMATES that 90 per cent of the fraud cases would be settled by negotiation. "If the alleged violator is not found to be a persistent violator of the act, then we will ask him to appear for a conference and suggest that a code of business ethics be signed."

The "pirate" who has established a pattern of consistent plunder, however, would be handed a subpoena directing him to produce his books and records for examination.

WILLIAM CLARK

If he refused, the bureau could apply to a court of chancery for an order compelling him to produce these documents.

Another weapon in the attorney general's arsenal would be the injunction; the court would be asked to enjoin the operator from further violations.

ACTION COULD also be started to have the court appoint a receiver to marshal the assets of the business to compensate the victim of the fraud for "damages suffered."

"If the violator was a domestic corporation chartered within the state," Clark explained of the proposed legislation, "the court could enter a decree revoking the charter and dissolving the corporation.

"If the violator was a 'foreign corporation and the court entered a decree, then the Secretary of State could revoke its certificate of authority to do business in Illinois."

Only criticism against the proposal, to his knowledge, Clark says, is that it would concentrate too much power in the office of the attorney general.

"They (opponents of the legislation) tell me, 'We know you'd never misuse the power, Bill, but what about your successor?' " Clark recounted. But he said the only power it gives him is to seek relief through the courts.

"New York, New Jersey, California and Minnesota have established consumer fraud bureaus, so that Illinois is now an inviting location for the gyp merchants," the attorney general observed.

CLARK SAID the police and states' attorney's staffs now have the power to arrest fraudulent operators, while the contemplated bureau's means of action would be the civil courts. "And the accused can always have his day in court," he added. He also pointed out that charges without substance would be dropped.

Such pillars of cautious conservatism as the Illinois Retail Merchants association and Credit Organization of Chicago have endorsed the plan.

Typical targets of the consumer fraud bureau would be unscrupulous encyclopedia and magazine salesmen, itinerant nurserymen and tree experts, real estate promoters, debt adjusters, pot and pan salesmen, unordered merchandise, blank contracts, food freezer plans, bait advertising, and other forms of deception.

THE NEED FOR such a bureau, Clark says, can be clearly demonstrated statistically. In Cook county alone, the States Attorney has approximately 10,000 cases on file; the Better Business Bureau reported over 42,000 complaints in 1959.

The consumer can — under existing law—file a civil action (if he can afford a lawyer) for recovery of money. But if the defendant asks for a jury trial, it would take two to five years before the case would be heard.

Cases involving a criminal act uncovered by the fraud bureau would be turned over to the state's attorney's office, Clark noted.

Suburb Residents In Musical Comedy

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Murphy, 201 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. James Beall, 211 Winston, Palatine, have featured roles in "Fiesta Fifteen," gala musical comedy revue planned for Des Plaines Theatre Guild, Inc. annual spring banquet, Saturday evening, June 3, at Meo's Franklin House, River Grove.

The Murphy's and Bealls are among several hundred residents of Arlington Heights Mr. Prospect, Palatine and surrounding areas who are members of the Des Plaines drama group, which celebrates its 15th anniversary at the June 3 banquet.

The gala revue, "Fiesta Fifteen" will be the colorful highlight of the evening's festivities, which will also include installation of new officers for the 1961-62 season, and presentation of the annual "Gilda" awards for outstanding behind - the -scenes achievement during the past year.

LAST SPRING two Mt. Prospect residents, Joseph McDermott, 509 North Maple, and Mary Jane (Mrs. Wm.) Bentley, 910 South Ioka, were awarded "Gildas" at the annual banquet.

Reservations for the June 3 banquet may be made by calling Mrs. Wilhelm Levander, TA 3-7039. Tickets, at $5 per person, include dinner with a choice of entrees, the musical comedy revue and program, and dancing to conclude the evening. A cocktail hour will precede the banquet. (AP

'I'm More Objective'

AFS Student Leaves 'Wiser and Better'

Arlington high school's roll call of graduates at the June 9 commencement exercises will include Eike Schmitz, a not too uncommon name in an area originally settled by German immigrants.

However, Eike's home is West Berlin, Germany, and his "immigration" has been a one-year stay in the United States as part of the American Field Service's exchange student program.

The 17-year-old blond, who has lived with the Chester G. Zimmerman family, 105 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, for the past five months, expects to go back to his homeland in August as a "wiser and much better German."

A mature, observant ambassador, Eike claims he never thought he would fit in so well with American way of life. "I didn't think I would be able to wear my shorts and ride a bicycle," he confides, "but I have found that there is really very little difference in people. I didn't know that before."

Eike is an avid supporter of the AFS program. "Living with a family, the international basic unit of living, has given me a better understanding of people, and of American customs. My ideas have been expanded," he emphasizes.

IDEAS HAVE come from school, too, where Eike is enrolled in American history, world affairs, English, botany, and gymnastics. "I've gotten the American slant on world problems, and, while I have managed to retain some German ideas, I have certainly become more objective," Eike feels.

The exchange student, whose father was killed in World War II, is a sort of authority on American education, having attended two high schools in this country. He feels that Arlington high's educational standards are much higher than in the small Oneonta, New York, school that he attended first semester. "This is mostly due to the ability grouping practice which allows a student to work at his capacity," he explains.

"We have just as much homework here," Eike comments, "but I think the German schools are more scholarly, with less emphasis on citizenship and more on the traditional studies." Eike feels there is much to be said for both approaches.

Following graduation from Arlington, Eike will spend three more weeks in the village and then will leave for a bus tour of the country, an AFS feature which includes two-day stops in the homes of families throughout the nation.

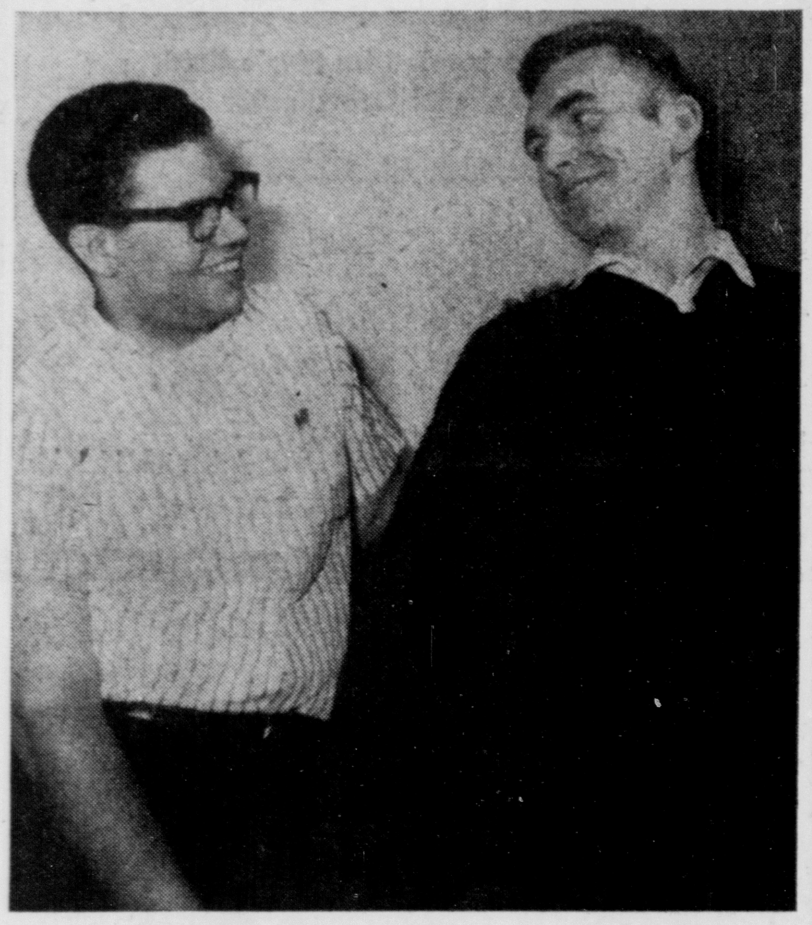
Arlington high has participated in the American Field Service program for two years, housing another German student, Helmut Beeger, last year, and serving as host for Eike and an Argentine student, Alicia Corica, this year.

An Arlington student, Craig Quackenbush, spent last summer and the first semester in Helsinki, Finland, proving that the program can work both ways.

SOME 1,850 foreign high school students are in the United States this year as part of the AFS program. Almost 100 of these youths are in Illinois schools. About 1000 American teens are studying abroad.

The host school has the problem of financing the visiting student's trip. Arlington high's student council has sponsored money-making projects to provide what school officials feel is "a most worthwhile program, enlightening to our students as well as to the foreign guest."

Arlington Heights organizations, especially the Womens' club, have been financial supporters of the program.



TRYING A GRADUATION ROBE on for size is German exchange student Eike Schmitz while his American "brother," Kurt Zimmerman does the fitting. Eike has attended Arlington high school the second semester while living with the Chester Zimmermans, 105 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, as part of the American Field Service program.

Square Dance Club News

Dorothy Meyer CLearbrook 3-2298

PALATINE SQUARES

The last chance to dance with the Palatine club will be Saturday night when Don Finfrock winds up the 1960-61 season in Paddock school, Palatine. Dancing begins at 8:30 and club members extend an open invitation to all area dancers to help them close the season in grand style.

ARLINGTON SQUARES

Members of this Arlington club are looking forward to tomorrow night's dance at South junior high school, Arlington Heights, since it is the last dance of the season and traditionally a "something special" affair. The something special, committee members report, must remain a surprise. Members are reminded that for this one time during the year the dance will be closed to guests, "so come early and plan to stay late for a ripping good time."

"HAPPY Birthday, Bill" was the theme of the May 6 dance in Miner junior high school as everyone sang that ever-popular hit song to club caller Bill Clarke. Sparkie Spilman of Arlington Heights baked and decorated a cake almost too pretty to eat and presented it to Bill.

An original recipe for a square dancer's cake was also presented to the caller by its author, Gertie Rodig of Arlington Heights. All square dancers can cut quite a caper following the familiar square dance terms in the recipe, which reads:

1 cup humor
2 cups friendliness
1 tsp. spice for flavor
1 egghead caller
1 cup melodious tunes

Add the ingredients all around the left hand beater. Pass through the dough and swing the batter around. Mix the couples alternately as the egghead moves you right and left through. Bake in a grand square cake pan but remove from the oven before red hot. This recipe serves eight with no allemande left. After you have eaten it, honor the baker, wheel around and call the undertaker.

Although the kitchen is a poor place to make this particular cake, it works out fine on the dance floor.

LIBERTYVILLE

Saints and Swingers of Libertyville will have its annual Trail's End dance Saturday, May 27. Since this is the club's last dance of the season, members are planning a special surprise, a "Polynesian Hoolaulea" which means a Polynesian Holiday or Festival.

Popular Bing Bengson, regular caller for the club, will handle the calling chores for the evening. Guests are welcome.

Dancing will be from 8 to 11 p.m. after which refreshments will be served. Members are looking forward to seeing their many square dance friends of the area.

Waysiders Plan Ann'l Breakfast

Thursday morning, June 1, the Catholic Woman's Club of Our Lady of the Wayside parish will hold its annual communion breakfast and installation of officers.

Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. followed by the breakfast at Campbell's Hearthstone in Palatine. This affair has traditionally been held as a salute to the outgoing officers and features the installation of the new officers.

Outgoing officers for the current year include Mrs. Robert Alm, president; Mrs. Leonard Luber, second vice president; and Mrs. Paul Hoppe, secretary.

Incoming new officers to be installed are Mrs. Charles McCall, president; Mrs. William Henn, first vice president; Mrs. John Switalla, second vice president; and Mrs. Leonard Hanson, secretary. Mrs. Harold Woods, treasurer, will remain in office to complete her 2-year term. Interested parishioners or guests may obtain tickets from Mrs. Luber at CLearbrook 3-2887. (A

Lobster Feast

All day Friday, May 26, Jim Eggen, the famed Seafood Chef, will be at our store to prepare our succulent LOBSTER TAILS for you. Mr. Eggen, the "down-East" seafood chef, will cook these lobster tails to the peak of flavor and add lemon butter.

Join us on Friday. You can purchase this taste treat as a box dinner for $1.85. If you cherish your dinner guests enough to treat them royally, purchase a party bucket containing ten lobster tails, lemon butter and rolls — enough to serve your party of five for only $15.

Our regular carry-out menu is always available in addition to lobster. You'll enjoy each of these taste-treats:

- Kentucky fried chicken
- Golden trout
- Lake Perch
- French fried shrimp
- Bar-B-Q ribs

You can purchase any of these tasty meals by the Box (for the individual), the Bucket (serves five to seven), or the Barrel (serves to ten people).

COME IN ANYTIME, BUT PARTICULARLY FRIDAY, MAY 26, TO VISIT WITH THE SEAFOOD CHEF.

Greg, son of Lois and Ken Schafer 1231 N. Chicago, was content to celebrate his fifth birthday May 17 at a family dinner party attended by his sister, Janae, brother, Dean, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gibis, Mount Prospect. The festivities were kept at a minimum due to the fact that the newest addition to the Schafer household, Kevin Lee, the 2,000th baby born in the Northwest Community hospital, had arrived only five days before, and, of course, was just settling down at home.

A pink elephant cake was the center of attraction at the party held Monday afternoon for David, son of Jerri and Bill Rix, 1244 N. Chicago, who was celebrating his third birthday. Although Kenny Koenig was unable to attend, David's sister, Jill, and playmates, Steven and Scott Landes, were there.

May 16 in the natal day of Bryan, son of Pierrette and Walter Leckie, 1429 N. Chicago, but it wasn't until last Saturday afternoon that his brother, Bruce, cousin, Stephen Balow, Skipper Fluhrer, Gary Martin, Richard Sorensen and Alan Cech got together to wish ihim a happy fifth birthday.

A SUPPER party was held in the home of Edith and Ted Larson, 1202 N. Race, last Thursday in honor of the ninth birthday of their son, Mark. Present were Robert and Ronald Dolejs, Whitney Kellogg, David Cech and Mark's brother, Larry. On his day, May 20, a family dinner party was attended by his brother, sisters, Thea and Loni, paternal grandmother, Mrs. Stella Larson, and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bures and daughters, Karen and Susan, Broadview.

Dolores and Ronald Kujala, 1223 N. Wilke, became the parents of their second child, Todd, May 14. The baby weighed 7 pounds 11 ounces when born in Columbus hospital, Chicago. His brother, Ronald, was taken care of during, Dolores' confinement by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kujala, Elmwood Park.

Due to circumstances, the first birthday of Ronald, May 22, was celebrated quietly at dinner for which his grandparents were present.

At the after school party May 18 for Peter, son of Carol and Burton Glatz, 1107 Chicago, and wishing him a happy eighth birthday were his sister, Kristin, Scott Gunnison, John Reinhardt and Timmy Trummer. Steven Turner was unable to attend.

IT WAS A dual celebration for the sixth birthday of Kris Ann, daughter of Joyce and Robert Anderson, 1234 N. Yale. A family dinner party was held May 19, and congratulating her were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Streich, Mount Prospect, and Mrs. Ebba Anderson, Schiller Park, as well as aunt, uncle and cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nahaney and Robert, Mount Prospect. Mr. and Mr. Henry Nelsson, Schiller Park, stopped by later in the evening to have a share in the birthday celebration. Joyce employed the "butterfly theme" at the afternoon party given for Kris' friends, Karen Bondi, Mary Lee Berry, Nancy Jo Geer, Kay Lowell, Janet Pendleton, Jane Guiliani, Wayne Heise, Susan Reese and Lynn Sanberg, and her brother, Mark, and sister, Karen.

Janet, daughter of Nancy and Clifton Grassly, 1414 N. Yale, was guest of honor at an after school party May 23. Helping to make her seventh birthday a memorable occasion were her sister, Beth, brother, Clifton, Sarah Polarek, Michael, Valerie and Michele Moser, Stephen Balow, Gail Chodera, Janet Fluhrer, Joyce Randle and several other classmates.

That same evening Janet's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Anderson, Arlington Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Grassly, Park Ridge, and aunt, uncle and cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Grassly, Ann and Karen, Streamwood, were guests.

A luncheon party was held in the home of Eileen and Raymond Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, Monday afternoon in honor of their daughter, Peggy, 3 that day. Sharing in the birthday fun were her brother, Raymond, David Yates, Paul Frisbie and Cathy Weber. Peggy's sister, Barbara, and guest, Terry Trummer, assisted Eileen with the party preparations. There was a family dinner party that night, when Peggy's sisters, Marianne and Kathleen, and brother, Jimmy, helped celebrate the occasion.

A FAMILY DINNER party was held May 19 in honor of Cindy, daughter of Marlene and David Penleton, 1240 N. Yale. Helping her blow out the 3 candles on her cake were her sister, Janet, and brother, Brian. Sunday afternoon, with the May maypole theme prevalent, Kris and Mark Anderson, Kurt Lichtblau, Kay, Claire and Reid Lowell, Gary Gabel, and Tommy and Doug Larson gathered together to share in the festivities, which included ing and Queen crowns for all, a tape recording of the occasion and movie pictures. Also present were Cindy's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Modjeske, Prospect Heights.

Joan and Dick Larson, 12 N. Illinois, along with four other couples, recently spent a long weekend at the Lake Lawn lodge, Delevan, Wis. Beside having a good visit among themselves, they enjoyed swimming, golf, bicycle riding, dining out and relaxing.

A surprise party was held last Friday evening in the Larson home for Bunny Reinhardt, 1414 N. Illinois, who will soon leave the Terrace for a new home in Mount Prospect. Wishing her much luck and happiness, and resenting her with a gift certificate, were former neighbor, Dee Ryan, Park Ridge, Olive Balow, Sandy Mullins, Diane Moser, Isabel Chodera, Sherwood, Nancy Grassly, Ruth Randle, Betty Badali, Jane Von Ebers and Sue Behrens.

As representative of his company, Herman Mell attended the recent meeting of the New York Stock exchange in New York city. Mrs. Mell was invited to be a guest at the convention, so the Mells, in turn, decided to invite their daughter Laurel to be their guest for the exciting five action-packed days at the Waldorf.

Perfect weather enabled Vera and Laurel to visit many famed places, such as the UN, top of the Empire State, Statue of Liberty and a hansom cab ride through Central Park. Their evening entertainment included visits to fabulous restaurants, among them, the Forum of the 12 Caesars, Edin Roc club and the Round Table.

MRS. CARL Carlman's three - week pre - summer vacation took her by jet to San Jose, Cal. where she visited with her brother's family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kassel and their four children. Their tour of the California countryside included visits to a winery at San Mateo, and in San Francisco they dined at Pietros and saw Fisherman's Wharf.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cullison Jr. are busy people this week. They are co-chairmen of the games car for the Arlington high "After-the-Prom" train ride. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mutti are also working on this car. Tuesday, Mrs. Cullison held a committee meeting for the mothers, and Wednesday, mothers and dads met in their rec room for last minute planning before the big night, Friday, when the fathers will accompany their teenagers on the "destination unknown" journey.

The Cullisons entertained their parents at the Alpha Omicron Pi sponsored benefit for the Illinois Children's home on Mothers day. After dinner at home, the Cullisons and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cullison Sr. and Mrs. Jacob Wilkins, all of Gary, enjoyed Hans Conried in "Mr. Belvedere" at Drury Lane theatre.

Pam Haslam, the John Haslam's daughter of 406 N. Beverley, has been chosen intramural chairman of the women's recreation association at Grinnell college, where she is a sophomore.

TWINS, MARY LOU and Allan Aspengren's 16th birthday was honored with a surprise party Saturday night. They attended a dance given by the St. James youth club, and returning home they were greeted by shouts of "surprise" from their friends. Their cousin playing the drums and the hi-fi provided a merry evening for 8 girls and 12 boys. On Sunday, the twins' actual birthdate, they enjoyed dinner at the Sweden House with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Aspengren, 618 N. Dryden.

Mr. and Mrs. William Richter of N. Dryden have recently returned from a visit to Phoenix. Since their trip coincided with son Bill's spring vacation, it provided him a wecome respite from his studies at Denver university. (A

Contact Lens Talk Thursday For Nurses

Dr. Gustave Soltz, eye specialist from Arlington Heights, will speak on "Contact Lenses" at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 24, to members of Arlington Heights Nurses club when they meet in the Lauterburg and Oehler meeting room.

Hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Harold Klingner and co-hostesses will be Mrs. Frank Stanfest, Mrs. John A. Detweiler and Mrs. T. R. Thomas.

As this will be the last general meeting until September, all members are invited. (A

Mrs. James Voelz Is New President of Newcomers

Mrs. James Voelz was elected new president of Arlington Heights Newcomers club at its monthly business meeting May 17 at Pioneer Park field house.

Other officers elected to serve for the next 6-month term were Mrs. Woody Edwards, vice president; Mrs. Charles Aldag, recording secretary; Mrs. Dean Sanderson, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Hughes, corresponding secretary. Past president, Mrs. Q. R. Sharp, will serve on the executive board in an advisory capacity.

New officers will be installed at the June 14 luncheon meeting at the Patio restaurant. At this time, Mrs. Voelz will announce new board chairmanships. Reservations for this luncheon may be made by contacting Mrs. Hamp Braun, CL 9-3610.

MRS. Q. R. SHARP, president, was presented with a gift of appreciation from the club for a successful term as president. At this time, Mrs. Sharp thanked her committees and officers for the cooperation and help they have given her during the past 6 month term.

Remainder of the evening was spent playing cards, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Thomas Bettinger, evening hostess, and her committee. Bridge prizes for the evening were won by Mrs. William Couch, Mrs. William Strelow and Mrs. Bud Treat. Mrs. Leroy Delack and Mrs. Fred Walworth won the pinochle prizes. Canasta winners were Mrs. James Brady and Mrs. Thomas DeRiemer.

Further information concerning the Newcomers club may be obtained by calling Mrs. Neil Werner, membership chairman, CL 5-9330.

Judge Drops 2 Of 3 Charges

Judge Robert C. Buckley, sitting in Police Magistrate court May 17, found Harry McKey, 517 S. Fernandez, not guilty on a disorderly conduct charge.

An assault and battery charge against the 36-year-old Arlington Heights resident was dropped for lack of prosecution, but a speeding conviction resulted in a $15 fine.

McKey was booked on the three charges May 9 after being observed speeding at State and Central rds. by Arlington Heights police. (A

Realtor to Cover Board

Village Manager L. A. Hanson Monday introduced to Arlington Heights trustees a plained he has been assigned to attend village board meetings indefinitely.

Jack Reddy of Park Ridge, a member of the legislative and taxation committee of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, said the board asked him to attend meetings with an eye to "protecting real estate interests."

He said he intends only to observe board activities and offered to provide trustees with any information concerning real estate that might be requested. (A

Youth, 21, Charged in Exposure

A 21-year-old Palatine youth was being held by Arlington Heights police this week after admitting exposing himself Tuesday to two women in Arlington Heights and one in Rolling Meadows.

Held under $2,000 bond is William N. Lamping, who told police he lives on Rand rd. in Palatine. He admitted the offenses after complaints were signed and he was identified by the women involved.

Police said a preliminary hearing of the charges against Lamping will be held Wednesday, June 7, before Arlington Heights Police Magistrate Robert C. Buckley.

35 Cartons Are Swiped

Robert Huerberg, assistant manager of the Walgreen drug store in Arlington Market shopping center, told police Monday three men entered the store and made off with 35 cartons of cigarettes.

He said he spotted the men leaving the store with their loot by way of the "entrance" door. They entered a 1961 auto and proceeded east on Kensington rd., he said.

Sets Hearing

The Arlington Heights zoning board of appeals will hold a hearing Monday, June 5, to discuss a petition for variation in yard requirements to permit the construction of a service station in the triangle of land in Dryden pl., at Kensington rd.

The property is owned by Mrs. Selma F. Behrens. The hearing will be at 8:30 p.m. in the north side fire station under the direction of Victor Beisler, zoning board chairman. (A

Cards Bumped By New Trier

Arlington's varsity tennis team had its string of dual meet victories checked at 14 last week when it dropped a 4-1 test to powerful New Trier.

It was the Indians' second victory of the season over the Cardinals with the Suburban league outfit claiming a 5-0 triumph in the 1961 opener.

Coach Rog Steingraber's frosh-sophs avenged an earlier setback to New Trier with an impressive 3-2 conquest.

THE VARSITY Indians took two singles tests and both doubles encounters in handling the Cardinals. Only local to pick up a victory was Tom Benson in No. 2 singles with a 2-6, 6-2, 6-2 decision.

Ne wTrier's Bill Rice dumped Arlington's Bill Thompson in No. 1 singles 6-2, 5-7, 6-0, and Pug Schoen handled Bob Bohac in No. 3 singles 7-5, 6-4.

In No. 1 doubles the New Trier unit of Erenburg and Kaufman whipped Arlington's Chuck Close and Dave Wollerman 7-5, 6-4, and in No. 2 doubles Sweet and Jones handled Jim Jakubiec and Russ Walters 6-0, 6-4.

ARLINGTON swept singles play on a frosh-soph level to pick up the team victory. Rick Wollerman, Steve Martin, and Jim Tindall recorded the triumphs with both Martin and Tindall winning in straight sets.

In No. 1 doubles New Trier's Ingersoll and Borden toppled Arlington's Dave Clough and Mirrel Kephart 7-9, 6-3, 6-1, and in No. 2 play Vail and Knight bounced Pete O'Neil and Bob Schuldt 7-5, 6-2.

Arlington's varsity and frosh-soph tennis squads will terminate their 1961 schedules next Monday when they meet Evanston's powerful units. The Wildkits' varsity claimed its second straight state championship last week and is one of three teams to whip the Cards this spring.

Private Firms To Undertake Improvements

Arlington Heights will improve portions of Wing and Salem sts. abutting the Ridge well and reservoir property under a private contract, trustees decided Monday.

Village Manager L. A. Hanson recommended that village portions of the Campbell, Kennicott, Wing and Salem sts. special assessment project be deleted and handled under private contract.

The cost to the village would be reduced by this action, he reasoned. The improvements will cost about $15,000. (A

1951 Class Reunion Is Set July 8

A tenth reunion for the Arlington high school class of 1951 has been set for Saturday, July 8, at Itasca country club.

The tenth reunion dinner dance was planned by a committee headed by Ronald Prellberg, 1951 class treasurer.

RESERVATIONS for individual tickets at $6 should be forwarded to Prellberg, 1661 N. Highland, Arlington Heights. Further information may be obtained by calling CL 9-0332.

The committee is seeking information on class members who have not received notification of the event through the mail. (ACM LETTER TO FENCE POST in last week's Herald complained of the dumping of trash in vacant lots on north Walnut st. near Thomas. A check by a Herald photographer revealed numerous tin cans, pieces of furniture and rugs littering the area. Village Manager L. A. Hanson said the area was recently cleaned up by village employees. He noted it is "extremely difficult" to police such dumping activities, but promised to investigate the possibility of erecting a "No Dumping" sign. (A

Expect Capacity Classes For Parks' Swim Lessons

Learn-to-Swim classes continue to grow in size and popularity with each summer at the Arlington Heights park district pools, it was pointed out this week by Bill Appleby, recreation director.

In 1960 over 2,200 children enrolled in classes, he noted With the increased growth of the park district population it is expected that once again classes will be filled to capacity.

Although the learn-to-Swim program uses the Red Cross teaching methods and awards, volunteer Red Cross instructors are not available for the park district use because of of the size and variety of the program, Appleby said.

Instead, a large staff of Red Cross trained instructors are hired by the park district which necessitates the charging of a small $2 fee.

"DUE TO THE amount of sports and activities which take pace in and around water; for example, fishing, boating, and picnics, it is important that everyone possible know the basic concepts of swimming," Appleby said.

A person cannot fully enjoy any of these activities if he must worry about his own or one of his families capabilities in the water. A cool swim in a pool, lake or ocean cannot be appreciated nearly as much by a non-swimmer, as it can by a person that has learned how, he added.

"Unlike most other sports or activities, swimming is never forgotten. An absence of many years from the water will find you just as confident as the last time you went for a swim. It is not something you must relearn every few years."

Pioneer and Recreation park pools will open on June 14 with swim instruction beginning on June 19. Each session consists of 15 lessons. They are held daily for 30 minutes over a period of three weeks.

ALL LEVELS of swimming skills are taught in each class. Children are tested on the first day and assigned to an instructor for beginners, intermediates, swimmers and advanced swimmers. By this method a child may earn his beginners card and move to the intermediate section without changing his class time.

The first session begins on June 19—July 7; the second July 10—July 28; the third July 31—August 18. Class times for boys are 9:15, 10:15 and 11:30 a.m.

Girls meet at 9:45, 11 a.m. and noon. Swimmer and advanced swimmer classes are combined for one hour at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. (A

Plum Grove Club Plans Open House

The Plum Grove club is opening its doors to all sidewalk superintendents that wish to take a look at the progress of the building, bathhouse, pool and other improvements now being constructed on the clubsite.

The pre-opening open house will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. Sunday, May 28. Guides will be available to answer any questions pertaining to the construction and to point out certain enhancements the club has to offer.

All members and interested persons are invited to attend. The club is located on rte 53, approximately a quarter of a mile north of rte. 62. Refreshments will be served. (AP

Historical Society to Hear Pastor

The Rev. Martin E. Marty, pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Holy Spirit, Elk Grove Village, will be guest speaker at the May 26 meeting of the Historical Society of Arlington Heights.

Dr. Marty, a frequent contributor to the columns of Paddock Publications, is interested in and has done considerable research in the church history of the Arlington Heights area. This will be the subject of his talk.

HE WILL speak Friday, May 26, at 8 p.m. The annual meeting of the Historical society will follow the program of the evening.

The society welcomes guests to the meeting which will be held in the community room of the Arlington Heights Savings and Loan building, Evergreen ave., and Campbell st.

Round 'N About Westgate

WESTGATE II

A family dinner celebrated the ninth birthday of Jeffrey, son of Beverly and Jack Mc Call, 1406 W. Grove, Friday evening. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Larson, Chicago, were on hand for the occasion.

Saturday marked the first communion of Kevin McCall in Our Lady of the Wayside church with Father O'Hara officiating. After the services his parents and grandmother, Mrs. A. C. Larson, treated him to breakfast at Rapps. His brothers, Jeffrey and Christopher, joined them.

A picnic at Deer Grove park celebrated the ninth birthday of Carol Beth, daughter of Carol and Dick Mooney, 204 Illinois, Sunday afternoon.

AFTER A HIKE in the woods the picnic supper was enjoyed by Linda Reifstahl, Tina Nielson, Christine Gehrig, Janet Cording, Nancy Burra, Gail Collins, Merridith Meyer and Diane Hume. Connie Kouzmanoff and Kathy Van Brock were unable to attend.

Another first communicant was Sharon, daughter of Rose and Norman Smith, 1616 W. Grove. After the services her grandfather, Carl Matlak, grandmother, Mrs. Rose Smith, aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goeppinger, and Camile and Jo Ann Matlak returned to the Smith home for brunch.

In the evening fifty guests arrived at the Smith home for a buffet dinner honoring Sharon.

Weekend guests of Norma and Bill Cinnato, 302 S. Yale, were Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cinnato, La Salle, and their nephew, Craig Cinnato. While here they helped Kathy celebrate her third birthday at a family dinner.

Last Thursday Bette Lister, 115 N. Reuter, had three ladies to lunch to celebrate the birthday of Betty Chapman, Palatine. The afternoon was spent playing bridge.

Audrey and Phillip Trampe, originally of Brookfield, Wis., are now living at 1616 Fremont together with their children, Phyllis, Karen and Steven. The two younger children attend Westgate school and Phyllis attends South junior high. The family often take camping trips and also enjoy square dancing. Phillip is associated with General Electric X-Ray Co., Chicago.

SEVERAL children from the area made their first communion last Saturday in Our Lady of the Wayside church.

Roberta and Dennis, children of Dorothy and Bob Agnes, 1503 Fremont, had a luncheon after the service. Their guests were Christine Graczyk, Debbie Garner, Doug Akerlund and Mark Graczyk.

Jeanne and Ed Huster, 1411 Fremont, had a party for their daughter, Linda. Present were her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kane, Chicaog, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Peterson andMr. and Mrs. E. Huster Sr.

Joan, daughter of Dolores and Larry Smith, 1611 Johanna terr., had her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rose, invited to breakfast, after which they all attended the service. In the evening several aunts and uncles were guests.

MARY CERWIN, 6 last Saturday, had an afternoon party to which she invited her sister, Ann, Marsha and Melinda Flodin, Kay Mc Daniel, Lisa Erickson, Marilyn Wallner, Donna Jernberg and Marsha Hochstetler. Mary is the daughter of Nan and Leonard Cerwin, 219 N. Yale.

Bess, daughter of Bette Lou and John Myers, 4 N. Yale, had a luncheon and theatre party last Saturday to celebrate her seventh birthday. Guests included her sisters, Marsha and Janice, Carol Jernberg, Lynn Herdrich, Lisa Callahan and Christine Yonkers.

Stella Stefan, 103 N. Reuter, entertained six members of her poker club last Friday evening.

Mrs. Nancy Porter, who lives with her daughter and son-in-law, Jane and Charles Kessler at 1608 Johanna terr., returned home last Tuesday from Northwest Community hospital, where she had spent a week after surgery. While she was in the hospital, her sister, Miss Bessie Lowry, Lexington, Ky., spent five days here to be near her.

JOSEPHINE Garner, 1513 W. Fremont, had a luncheon May 16 to introduce Audrey Trampe to several of her neighbors. Present were Bette Lou Townsend, Joyce Akerlund, Joyce Czerney, Ruth Stein, Shirley Weisenborn, Lois Catanzaro, Bernice Callahan, Jeanne Huster, Mary Lou Beyer, Bert Graczyk, Lou Kuharich and Dorothy Agnes.

Mike, son of Betty and Frank Conley, 107 N. Reuter, made his first communion last Saturday and received congratulations from his aunt, uncle and cousin, Mr. and Mrs. James Lane and Virginia, on Sunday.

Timmy Love, who also made his first communion last Saturday and was treated to brunch at Old Orchard along with his sister, Amy, and brothers, Kevin and Terry, by his parents Dan and Henrietta Love, 23 N. Reuter.

Bridge Club Results Are Announced

Forty-one teams turned out for the master point duplicate tournament held by the Arlington Heights Bridge club at Pioneer park May 19. The game was played in three sections.

First place winners were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anstrand of Long Grove, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. L'Hommedieu and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mooney of Arlington Heights, Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Kranz of Mt. Prospect, Miss Ann Conroy of Chicago, Mrs. W. J. McNeil of Arlington Heights, Jack Farrell of Palatine and Tom Sucher of Arlington Heights, and Jack J. Swenson and Leo Zalucha both of Crystal Lake.

SECOND PLACE winners were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McInnes of Arlington Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Lee B. Eddy of Mt. Prospect, Nuri Bulut and C.J. Ells of Mt. Prospect, Jini McAvoy and Olive Pemble of Roselle, Robert Doughty and Ralph Hadley of Chicago.

The next duplicate bridge game at Pioneer park will be held Friday, June 2, at 7:45 p.m. Duplicate bridge games, open to the public, are sponsored by the Arlington Heights park district on the first and third Fridays of each month. (A

Tea Party Set For Fieldhouse

All "little" girls who live in the Arlington Heights park district are invited to the "Little Madames" tea party Saturday, May 27. It will be held at the Pioneer park field house from 2 to 3 p.m.

Girls should dress in their mother's clothes. A prize will be given for the best costume. Parents may attend as spectators. Groups of girls are invited to attend in a body providing they make an advance registration. (A NORTHSIDE BUSINESS district improvement began last week when construction on a building to house two new stores was started under the direction of Howard Faber (left), owner of the north Dunton st. property. The site was formerly occupied by the Mors Bakery, 204 N. Dunton, which was demolished last December. Faber has been waging a one-man campaign in recent years to revitalize the northside business section. The new building may be completed by the end of the summer, Faber said. (A YOUNG WINNERS of Mother's Day contest sponsored by merchants of the Arlington Market shopping center are Jeanne Combs (left) and David Smalenberger. Pictured at center is Charles Bartling, manager of the center's Kresge store, who presented the first place winners with $50 savings bonds. The contest was based on 50-word essays on "Why I Like My Mom." (A

THE DANCE CAR on the special Arlington high school "After the Prom" train will be "rocking" with music provided by Epic record stars the Galaxies and by Tobin Mathews, shown here swinging into his "Ruby Duby Du" routine. The nine-car special train will leave at 2 a. m. Saturday morning following the prom Friday night a Chevy Chase. The destination is a closely-guarded secret by the parents committee sponsoring the outing but boat rides, swimming, bowling and games are promised for the Saturday activities.

Spring Season Sparks Load At Hospital Emergency Room

Springtime seems to bring out the energy of the young and the nasty dispositions of dogs.

A flurry of cuts, broken bones and dog bites kept the emergency room of northwest Community hospital busy last week.

Seven-year-old Anna Martinez, 640 N. Franklin, Palatine, was bitten by a dog on the face. Another Palatine youngster, Tom Piotrowski, 6, of 250 Elmwood, was bitten by a dog earlier in the week.

Michael Hynes, 12, of 1011 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, also was treated for dog bites.

DOGS DID not confine their "biting spirit" to children. Mrs. Georgia Tatroff, 8542 S. Meade, Oak Lawn, was treated for dog bites at the emergency room. Sutures were applied to dog bites on both hands for Raymond Becker, 3311 Pheasant dr., Rolling Meadows.

The older a child, the farther he falls. Gary Soto, 5, of 3902 Eagle lane, Rolling Meadows, fell from monkey bars, breaking his left forearm. Falling from a picnic table, David Alvin, 6, of 516 N. Fairview, Mt. Prospect, broke his right arm. Harry Anderson, 10, of 635 S. Beverly, Arlington Heights, fell the greatest distance when he fractured his right wrist in tumbling from a tree.

A fall at work brought Donald Plantz, 2114 Seventy-third st., Elmwood Park, to the hospital with a fractured left arm and dislocated elbow. Plantz was admitted to the hospital and his condition is listed as satisfactory.

Spring also seemed to bring a rash of new substances which children found as tasty food substitutes.

GARDEN PEST poison pills were the snack which two-year-old Rosso Runyon, 549 Oak, Elk Grove, ate last week. The young boy was rushed to the emergency room where his stomach was washed.

The stomach-washing equipment at the emergency room also was kept busy one day when Mark and Peter Langer, 2 and 4 years old, of 215 W. Wilson, Palatine, ate an unknown amount of baby aspirin. Later in the day, Susan Durkee, 2, of 447 Bianco, Elk Grove, was brought to the emergency room after eating baby aspirin. Still later the emergency room equipment was used for Beth Barratt, 4, of 904 Lynnwood, Arlington Heights, after she ate adult medication.

Baby aspirin was the "candy" which brought two more youngsters to the emergency room last weekend. John Lindstrom Jr., 2, of 2107 Hawk lane, Rolling Meadows, and Sandra Irvin, 2½, of 731 N. Ela rd., Palatine, both had their stomachs washed and were released following treatment.

AN ELECTRIC saw brought Buford Whitman, 533 Gentore Breeze, Carpentersville, to the emergency room for treatment. Whitman lost a finger while using the saw.

Lawn mowers were out in full force for spring grass cutting, and in the emergency room in full force were victims of severe lacerations received from the mowers.

Roland Soorus, 18, of 211 W. Miner, Arlington Heights, received severe lacerations on his leg. He was admitted for treatment and observation and his condition is reported as good.

DARREL MEACHAN, 501 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, was treated for a three-inch scalp laceration received at work. Phyllis Seaber, 201 Barcliff lane, Hoffman Estates, cut her hand on broken glass while washing dishes. The cut was sutured at the emergency room.

Cuts were not limited to adults. Alan Cureton, 6, of 418 Flanders lane, Grayslake, fell from his bicycle receiving a severe laceration of his upper lip. He was admitted to the hospital where his condition was listed as satisfactory.

Stephen Spence, 9, of 810 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights, caught his foot in a door and cut his heel. His condition is reported as satisfactory after admission to the hospital.

Flash burns of the face were received by Richard Hoffman, 1508 Joan dr., Palatine, when a furnace blew up. His burns were treated at the emergency room.

SEVERAL automobile accidents in the area kept the emergency room busy with injuries. Andres Gutierrez, 2605 Kirchoff, Rolling Meadows, received facial lacerations in an automobile accident on South State rd. Another Rolling Meadows resident, Leonard Millewski of 2806 Hawk lane, was treated for lacerations after an accident at Wilke and Kirchhoff rds.

A severe cut on his forearm was received by Delbert Blakley, Biesterfield rd., Roselle, when he caught his arm in a Go-cart. Treatment at the emergency room included sutures and a tetanus toxoid shot.

Fourteen-year-old William Crotty, 308 E. School lane, Prospect Heights, was brought to the emergency room after he was hit by a car. He was released following examination and X-rays.

An accident at Mitchell and Elm sts. in Arlington Heights brought three village residents to the emergency room for examination, X-rays and treatment. They were Mrs. Louise Nagle, 321 S. Stratford; Warren Wahl, 17, of 906 N. Vail; and Larry Weidner, 17, of 1131 N. Dunton. All three were released following treatment. (A-14

One More Week to Enter Teen Road-E-O

Teens of Wheeling township have one more week to enter Wheeling Teen Road-e-o to be held in the Dunhurst shopping center parking lot at the corner of Dundee and Elmhurst roads in Wheeling.

The competition will include a written test to be given June 1 at 7 p. m. in the Walt Whitman school library, and a driving test June 4 over an obstacle course.

ANY UNMARRIED girl or boy that has a drivers license or permit and whose 19th birthday does not fall on or before August 3, is eligible. Entry forms are available at Prospect high school or the Wheeling police department. They should be mailed to Road-e-o chairman, P.O. Box 7, Wheeling, Ill.

Two automatic transmission cars will be donated by North Shore Rambler sales company for the driving test.

Purposes of the event, the Jaycees report, are to give young motorists an opportunity to prove and improve their driving abilities, and to stimulate high school driver education courses.

For further information, contact John Shelk, LE 7-4007, or Newell Krogmann at Prospect high school. (ACM

After 8 Memorable Years

Motorist 'Eulogizes' Passing of His Chevy

by BOB CUMMINS

Can a person grow sentimental about a collection of old bolts, sheet metal, rubber and glass?

"Only a fool!" did I hear you say?

Then I plead guilty. My old Chevy, which served loyally for eight years, has been given a corner of the garage as its own. It shall have the same rights and privileges as a faithful horse allowed to spend its last years in the pasture. The fact that no one would give me a cent for my Chevy has nothing to do with the matter.

What experiences we had together! What memories!

THERE WERE the days of glory, when you were new and shiny. With you, I went courting, and then on a honeymoon through the hills of Pennsylvania, made green and pink by breezes from the south.

Alas, those days of your happiness were all too brief. I was much to blame. I neglected you and mistreated you.

I drove you down that fresh-oiled road and let black goo splash your tawny sides.

I let sludge gorge the oil lines until your rocker arms cried out in protest.

And, oh, the many times your parched bearings begged for lubrication, and I callously replied, 'I'm much too busy—maybe next week." Next week never came, did it? But you took it all, and gallantly carried on.

BUT OTHERS were to blame, too! How I wish I had avenged you for what they did!

That lady in the parking lot! She put her car in reverse and, without looking, bore down upon us. We were trapped. We honked the horn madly but she paid no heed. What a crash! You bore a terrible scar thereafter.

And that teen-aged nincompoop in the gas station, who neglected to tighten the nuts on a wheel after he rotated your tires. What a horrible moment it was when the wheel flew off out there on route 34!

IT WAS then that your tires began to wear so oddly. And it was hard to close your left door.

Do you remember when the landlady told me that you were on fire? The wind must have blown that cigarette back inside through the rear window. It took buckets of water to put out that upholstery blaze. They are nasty things, aren't they?

I think it was then that you began to lose heart. Your battery grew so tired. Your weary speedometer cable just snapped. Then I had to begin buying oil for you in those 2½-gallon cans because you just couldn't get enough.

And when the gear shift linkage broke, you would only run in high gear.

I TRIED TO make a joke of it. "She's converted herself to automatic transmission," I said in jest. But I laughed only to hide my sorrow. I knew that the end had come.

Now you are at rest, sheltered from the mad race of traffic and the sneers of other drivers. Perhaps some day we shall try again. But nothing strenuous, I promise. A few judicious repairs, and maybe you can canter to the market twice a week, or pick up one of the girls at school.

Then it will be like old times again! (A-14

Track and Field Clinic Is Held for Junior High Girls

A locally unprecedented track and field clinic was held for sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls at Wheeling-Buffalo Grove school district 21's Walt Whitman school Saturday.

It was an outgrowth of a new trend in thinking in this country in regard to women's physical fitness, and a direct result of the belief and interest of the girls' physical education instructor Miss Phoebe A. Wienke.

"It is a false, misconceived idea that girls must throw awkwardly and bat ineffectively merely to maintain their female status," she states in regard to the game of softball.

"The thinking of the girls in our junior high is being reconditioned to the idea that they are physically able to bat and throw as well as any boy."

FOR INSTANCE, "The girls have found that when they are able to play softball skillfully, they enjoy it much more, and they are also able to enter into games with boys in their peer group. The boys are more willing to let the girls play when they are able to make a respectable showing.

"A good deal of emphasis is being and will continue to be placed on track and field events for girls (in the school district)," Miss Wienke continued. "The events are not only excellent physical activities, they also offer a challenging opportunity for self-improvement and the expression of competitive spirit.

"If we find a child with natural ability and a desire to imporve, the junior high level is a wonderful time to begin training for various athletic events.

"Who knows, we may have a future Olympic star right here in Wheeling, if she is found soon enough. We also may have prospective physical educators, who are so vitally needed in our nation today."

MISS WIENKE notes that there is a growing movement in schools back toward competitive athletics for girls.

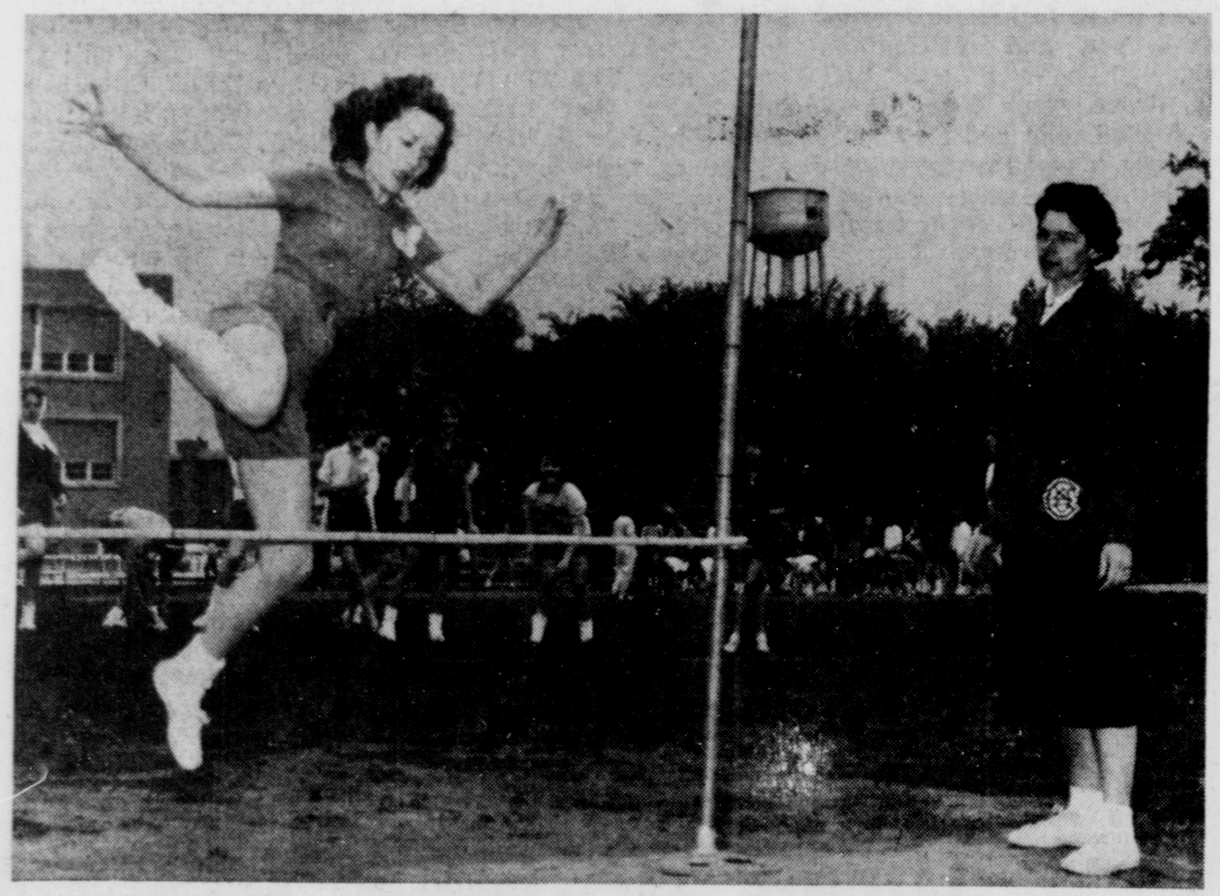
Perhaps it can be directly ascribed to the weak showings of American women in the post-war Olympics. But the United States also saw its long standing dominance in men's track and field ended by European and Russian competitors. In fact, basketball is the only sport included in the Olympics which the U. S. clearly dominates. Yet that has become more difficult with each succeeding Olympiad, despite the fact that it is played far more extensively in this country than anywhere else in the world.

In the past eight years and in response to former President Eisenhower's physical fitness program, Junior Olympic track and field meets have been included in many communities' summer recreation programs. Also, there has been a rash of AAU sponsored men's track meets.

NEARLY EVERY school district has increased its attention on physical development. Mainly, greater concentration is being put on the already existing gymnasium periods, utilizing them to a fuller extent and adopting more well-rounded programs. Formerly, many were simply "free play" periods.

On hand for Saturday's clinic as instructors were former national women's track champions, Barbara Mueller, Ida Meyers and Donna Thompson.

Of note is that former Czechoslovakian Olympic discus champion, now Mrs. Olga Connoley of the U. S., has been touring the country espousing athletics for women as a means toward beauty, fitness and fun. She is a luscious example. (B8



JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS of Wheeling-Buffalo Grove school district 21 had a field day Saturday at a track and field clinic at Walt Whitman school. On hand to instruct were three former national women's track stars. Above is Miss Ida Meyers, former American high jump record holder. The program was made possible by the Amateur Athletic Union. It was in accordance with the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation's track and field project, sponsored by "Operation Fitness—U. S. A."

Church to Offer Outdoor Services

Outdoor Protestant church services will be sponsored again this summer by Christ Lutheran church, Palatine. Starting Sunday, June 4, through September 3 at the "53" Drive-In theater, services will be held each Sunday morning at 8 a.m. with the public welcome.

The summer outdoor church services are viewed by Rev. C. G. Shira, pastor of Christ Lutheran, as a community service. "It is convenient for families with young children and for people who have other plans for the rest of the day and do not want to dress up," he explained.

SERVICES are held on the top of the concession stand while the congregation sits in their cars in one of the 1500 available parking spaces. The same loud-speaking system is used as for the movies. On the concession stand there is a large eight-foot white cross, flowers, lecturn, organ, soloist and pastor.

The service is held regardless of weather. An order of service acceptable to Christians of all faiths is used.

Christ Lutheran church will continue to hold regular worship at 10:30 a.m. and Sunday school at 9:15. (B8

Approve Federal Funds

TV Research Project Set for High School

For the second time since the April school board election, Arlington-Prospect district 214 high school board "reversed its field" and unanimously approved a request for federal funds.

The board last week voted to seek National Defense Education Act funds for the initiation of a two-year experimental closed-circuit television research project.

Previously, the board had unanimously approved use of NDEA funds for equipping science, foreign language, and mathematics rooms at the new Forest View high school.

BOTH VOTES were taken in the absence of board member William Spomer, who has expressed strong opposition to any use of federal funds.

The last administration request for NDEA funds prior to the election came on March 6. This was opposed by Spomer, Daryl Oldaker and George Laubenheimer. The motion to approve NDEA science programs at that time carried by a four member majority.

The television research project will be conducted over a two year period starting in September, 1961, and running through June, 1963, if final federal approval can be received by that time.

All direct equipment costs for four direct-wire TV cameras, tripods and 23-inch receivers, as well as maintenance, would be paid by NDEA. This cost is estimated at $5,340. The high school district would pay the salaries of teachers involved in the experimental program.

BOARD MEMBER Mrs. Eugenia Chapman, speaking in support of the experimental TV project, stressed it was to be used as a supplemental teaching aid rather than a substitute for teaching. Among the many particular advantages she mentioned was the use of microscopic slides under the TV camera which would permit the teacher to be sure each student was seeing and noting the proper material.

Mrs. Chapman emphasized the advantage of this system, compared to 30 students individually using microscopes and seeing "nothing but their own eyelashes." (ACM

Persons entering their local Marathon station Sweepstakes are automatically entered in a weekly drawing for a 1961 Pontiac Catalina 2-door hardtop, along with a cash prize of $1,000, given each week to a winner chosen from the five-state Marathon Vacation Sweepstakes contest area. Winners are chosen from entries in the local Sweepstakes before June 5. (A14

June 1 Is Deadline For Awards

Deadline for the nomination of young Illinois residents for Young American Medals for Bravery and Service is June 1, Gov. Otto Kerner said this week.

Illinois boys and girls who have performed acts of extraordinary courage or have achieved an outstanding record of endeavor, service or recognition of character are eligible to be nominated for the awards, the governor said.

ACTS OF bravery or service must have taken place during 1960 for the person to be eligible for nomination. Two medals may be awarded in each category and the medals will be presented by President John F. Kennedy at the White House.

Nominations of Illinois youth should be sent to Joseph E. Ragen, director of the Illinois Department of Public Safety, State Armory, Springfield. (A14

Protests Destruction

Hull House Holds Memories For Arlington Businessman

by STEVE FRANZMEIER

"I think it would be a crime to tear it down."

In one sentence Howard S. Faber expresses his attitude toward the planned destruction of Chicago's Hull House in clearing an area in the Harrison-Halsted district for the Chicago campus of the University of Illinois.

Faber, 62, is an Arlington Heights real estate man. He built five stores at the Miner-Dunton streets intersection. Three more are under construction.

AS A CHILD, Faber was one of the hundreds of children to whom Hull House was the center of existence. If it had not been for Hull House many of those children — and children since then — would have become criminals, Faber thinks.

He recalls the world-renowned Jane Addams, founder of Hull House in 1889, the first settlement house in America. She was "medium build, not slight, but not heavy — and kindly."

The children who played and learned at Hull House behaved, Faber recalls. Settlement house workers made activities so interesting children "couldn't help but behave."

There was no need for the stern discipline characteristic of those days. Miss Addams "wasn't the type who could be stern anyway," said Faber.

Faber studied art at Hull House, and it was here he learned to type.

THE GARDEN in the court yard surrounded by Hull House was the only place in the neighborhood one could find a blade of grass. It was that way the years 1906 to 1912 when Faber knew it. The garden still is there today.

Weekend picnics and rides to and from the picnic spots on street cars—a picnic on the grounds of a Gold Coast mansion and a ride in a limousine—a speech by Teddy Roosevelt to a Hull House Boy Scout troop. These are among Faber's memories of Hull House.

Trying to identify the values of Hull House Faber said: "I think it did a lot to teach neighborliness."

CHILDREN of many nationalities—Irish, Italian, Jewish, Chinese,— played together in friendship.

Why is Hull House worth saving?

"It's not just what Jane Addams did; but what Hull House has done for an entire nation that counts," says Faber.

Jane Addams said: "The good we secure for ourselves is precarious and uncertain until it is secured for all of us and incorporated into our common life."

SHE SHARED the philosophy of John Dewey who taught that true mortality lay in equipping people to enrich their own lives rather than telling them exactly what they must do to be happier.

"I honestly believe," says Faber, "that the only cause of juvenile delinquency is that we don't have institutions of this kind (Hull House).

"Parents worked just as hard in those days as they do today. It's still a matter of children running on the streets or going to a place like Hull House."

What can be done to save Hull House?

It has to start with the newspapers, radio and television stations is Faber's opinion. Individual appeals to authority—the "politicians" he calls them—are ineffective. The weight of opinion as expressed in news stories and letters to the editor are the force which politicians fear, says Faber.

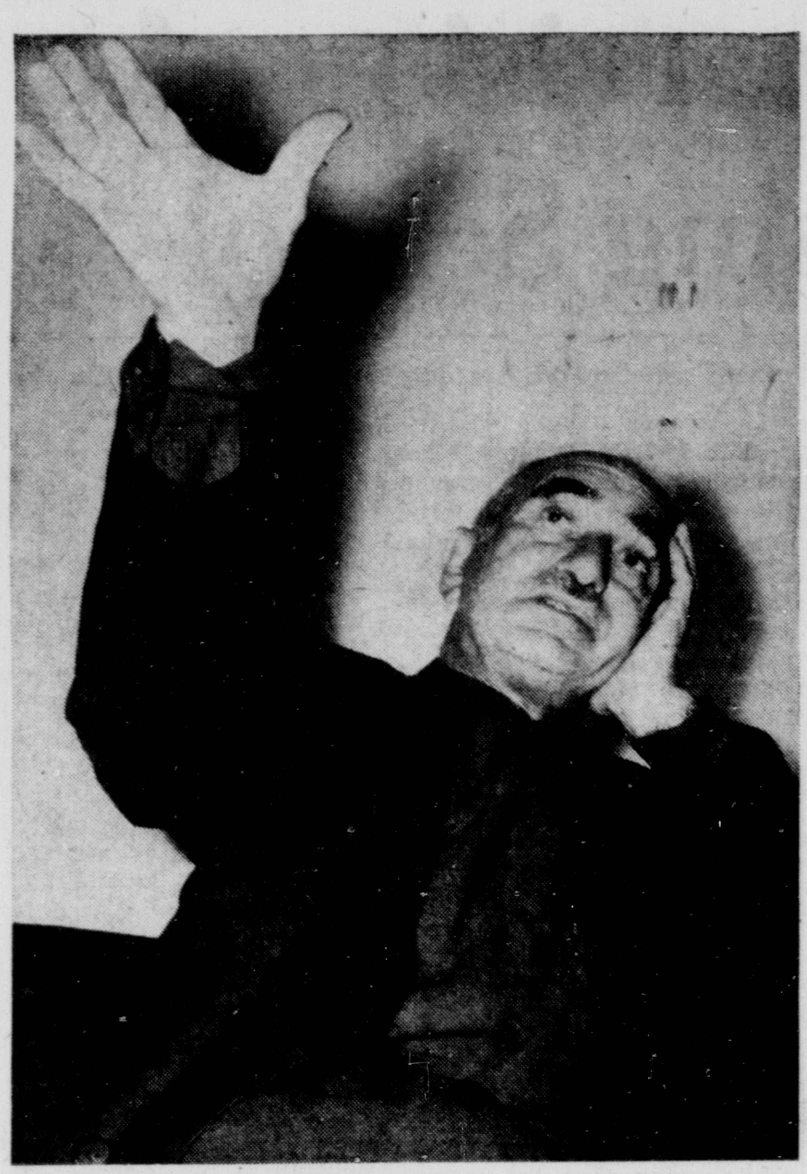
INSTEAD OF contemplating the destruction of Hull House people the world over—for the work that Hull House has done has earned it international fame — should be pledging money to renovate it. It could become a building on the new university campus.

The settlement house is 105 years old this year; but there are many buildings, part of eastern university campuses, older than that, Faber notes.

He said he will give $100 if such a fund is started.

If the university piously places a bronze tablet at the site of Hull House after the last stone has been hauled away it will soon be forgotten, says Faber.

The best way to commemorate the work of Hull House is to continue it.



IF THERE'S ONE SUBJECT which stimulates Howard S. Faber, Arlington Heights businessman, it's the proposed wrecking of Chicago's Hull House. He remembers Hull House from the days he worked and played there as a child. As for tearing it down—he's against it.

Feed Grain Program Date Set

The Cook county ASC office reminds corn producers who are interested in taking part in the 1961 feed grain program that they should lose no time in getting in touch with the county office. The program offers diversion payments to such producers who hold corn acreage out of production this year and put it to a conservation use. Also, for farmers who grow corn, eligibility for price support on 1961 feed grains will depend on participation in the program, so it's important to file your intention before the the deadline.

According to a May 19, 1961 report corn producers on 344 farms in Cook county had filed intentions to participate in the program. These agreements covered 8387.7 acres of corn which have been signed up for diversion to conservation uses this year. The deadline date for signing up is May 26, 1961.

Paces Suburbs

Arlington Is Sales Leader

Arlington Heights paced northwest suburban communities in Cook county in the amount of sales tax collected in March, while Bensenville led the field in northwest municipalities of DuPage county.

Arlington Heights' share of the taxes collected on February tax liability and to be disbursed in May amounted to $14,376.02. Bensenville's total was $4,467.07.

The municipal sales taxes collected from 1,120 cities and villages grossed $4,056,852, of which the state claims a four per cent administration cost of $162,091. Payments made under protest totaled $1,378, of which $684 was included in the amount certified and $694 is under injunctional order and withheld.

ALL OF THIS whittles the net amount certified down to $3,890,167.

Gross collections from 56 counties amounting to $213,531 in county sales taxes was shaved down by the state's six per cent administration cost of $12,812. The net amount certified, $200,719, includes $377 paid under protest but not under injunctional court order.

County Retailers' taxes for Cook county amounted to $26,376.04. For DuPage county, the figure was $40,536.01.

Municipalities in the northwest suburban area of Cook county and the net amount each will receive is as follows:

ARLINGTON Heights, $14,376.02; Mount Prospect, $6,552.15; Palatine, $4,866.64; Rolling Meadows, $3,355.08; Wheeling, $2,907.85; Elk Grove Village, $2,285.80; Hoffman Estates, $1,509.01; Schaumburg, $220.85.

Municipalities in the northwest area of DuPage county were in this order: Bensenville, $4,467.07; Roselle, $1,806.16; Itasca, $790.11; Wood Dale, $543.83; Bloomingdale, $326.54.

To date, 1,126 municipalities in the state have passed ordinances under the Municipal Retailers' Occupation Tax Act.

Seek State Supervision of Practical Nursing Schools

Thousands of girls and women enrolled in the five commercial, unapproved schools for practical nursing in the Chicago area are doomed to disappointment when they discover their training does not qualify them to obtain a license in Illinois, according to David M. Kinzer, executive director of the Illinois Hospital association. One such school has boasted that t has graduated 83,000 students.

Kinzer testified last week in support of a bill (House Bill 278) which would make make it unlawful for anyone to conduct a school of professional or practical nursing unless the school has been approved by the Department of Registration and Education of Illinois. The bill was introduced by State Rep. Kenneth E. Wilson, of Chicago. Co-sponsors are Rep. James Y. Carter and Rep. Cecil A. Partee, both of Chicago. The bill has passed the house.

Kinzer told members of the Senate committee on license and miscellany that "there is a real problem in the practical nurse education field. These women are recruited by high pressure advertising and mail campaigns. When they graduate they cannot work in Illinois hospitals as practical nurses or obtain a license, except those who were granted their license under a waiver clause in the 1952 law governing this matter.

"HOSPITAL administrators," he said, "are concerned about the widening gap in their nursing service, caused by the fact that registered nurses, already in short supply, have had to assume, in recent years, supervisory duties and special tasks that remove them from the patient's bedside. Hospitals have been discovering that the licensed practical nurse, when assign duties in keeping with her educational preparation, is both willing and able to fill this gap in nursing service. But these commercial or correspondence schools are not only duping many of their students; they are draining off possible nursing personnel so urgently needed today in our institutions of care."

Mrs. Lucille Broadwell, coordinator of the approved practical nursing program of the Chicago public schools, was quoted by the hospital executive as declaring that hundreds of girls and women have attempted to enroll in the public school programs following the discovery that their commercial education did not qualify them for a license. Some 3,000 people apply annually for enrollment in the Chicago school program, but only about 300 are qualified to enter. Out of the rejected cases, many are products of the unapproved schools. The educator was quoted as saying the commercial schools have practically no entrance requirements at all. A person suffering with undetected TB, "or leprosy for that matter," could enroll as well as not, she said.

SEVERAL examples were cited of students who had taken such courses and, later, had been unable to find the employment for which they thought they were being trained.

Carmen Soler, 1970 W. Evergreen, Chicago, attended one such school for six months got her diploma and went out to get a job. She was turned down because she did not have a license, nor could she take the examination. She has since been admitted to the Chicago public school nursing program.

Another girl enrolled for $125 in a Chicago school but was intelligent enough to realize that she was not receiving the proper training and dropped out, her money lost. She had not read the fine print on the application form, which turned out to be a legal contract.

Still another student took the major part of a course and, having paid her full tuition, was finally told that the school was not approved.

Maudest Gentry, 6916 S. Parkway, Chicago, also testified. She told the committee members of her trouble with a commercial school which offered as an inducement guaranteed placement following graduation. She was placed as a housekeeper, instead of as a practical nurse, on two occasions. She then went to an approved Chicago registry for practical nurses and was told that her educational background did not qualify her for placement as a practical nurse. She enrolled in the Chicago school program and is now a licensed practical private duty nurse.

MRS MARY Runnels, state president and acting executive secretary of the Licensed Practical Nurse Association of Illinois, Decatur, also testified in support of the measure. "Since January," she said, "we have received 23 letters from people who have taken these commercial courses only to find they can go no further with their nursing careers. They came to us asking what to do next. Some of these people become private duty nurses and this is especially dangerous since such nurses work, normally, with a minimum of supervision. The patients simply take the correspondence school diplomas on their face value and employ them."

IT WAS BROUGHT out at the hearing that the promotional literature of the schools stresses the ease with which the student will sail through the lessons to become a practical nurse. One school offered a home study course with "self - graded examinations" at a cost of $29. If this sum is paid in advance, the student was to receive her cap, a Taylor thermometer and other nursing materials. This course qualifies her, the literature states, to be an auxiliary nurse.

One would-be student received a total of twenty-seven separate pieces of promotional material, all designed to get the recipient to sign up. One piece was a replica of the school's diploma, to which had been added the line: "Wouldn't you like to own a diploma like this—with your name here?" More mail from the same school read like this: "Perhaps finances have delayed you. If so, I am going to do something about that right now. The amount of down payment, as well as the monthly payments, have been especially reduced for you." In a telephone conversation, this school claimed that 83,000 people had taken its course. "See for yourself," the literature continues. "how quickly you can master them (the first four sessons). See how much fun it would be to have the kind of work that means association with wealthy people, opportunities for travel and for gracious living. In only a short few months you will be ready to receive your diploma, your valuable pin and all your graduate honors and nursing equipment."

What is actually required in the accredited schools, Kinzer said, is 20 weeks of class room theory followed by 30 weeks of clinical experience in an affiliated hospital, 10 weeks each for medical and surgical experience and five weeks each for obstetrical and pediatrics. The hospital pays the student $4.50 daily, on the average, for clinical service. The faculty of approved schools must have baccalaureate degrees. Twelve months of study is customary. The student must be at least 18 years of age, hold U. S. citizenship or have declared her intentions. Two years of high school are required. A strict physical examination must be passed. Upon graduation from an accredited school, the student may take a state written examination. A license may then be issued.

THERE ARE 8,871 licensed practical nurses in the state, of which, 5,489 were licensed under the waiver clause contained in the 1952 licensing law. Some hospitals employ graduates of the commercial schools as nurses aides, Kinzer said.

ELEVEN OF the approved schools of nursing education are conducted by boards of education, four by non-profit hospitals and two by the state, one at a mental hospital, the other at a university.

The Chicago public school program is affiliated with Bethany Methodist Home and Hospital, Chicago State hospital, Cook County School of Nursing, Drexel Home for the Aged Jews and Weiss Memorial hospital. Loans and scholarships are available to qualified applicants. Tuition is approximately $100.

Public Assistance Rolls Hold 4.3% of Population

Public assistance was extended to 434,142 Illinois residents—4.3 per cent of the state's population—during March, according to Peter W. Cahill, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid commission.

The rolls showed an increase of 6,524 persons over February, he said. Cost of public assistance in March was $21,335,990, of which $12.1 million or 56.7 per cent represented state funds.

BY COMPARISON, Cahill said, the rolls of March 1960 carried 3.9 per cent of the state's population or 388,736 persons assisted at a cost of $18,944,089.

Recently approved federal and state legislation permitting children of unemployed parents to receive Aid to Dependent Children went into effect May 1 and will continue through June 30, 1962, Cahill said.

"This will permit shifting many cases from local general assistance programs to the federally-aided program and will result in a substantial savings of state funds," he added.

IN COOK county, a breakdown of public assistance for March shows that 115,900 persons received $4,862,337 in Aid to Dependent Children. In DuPage county, 174 persons received $6,764 in this category.

There were 104,128 persons on the general assistance rolls in Cook county, receiving $5,313,477. In DuPage county, 603 persons received $28,465 in general assistance.

Blind assistance in Cook county aided 1,350 persons who received $132,439, while 18 blind persons in DuPage county were awarded $1,661 in assistance.

THERE WERE 12,748 persons who received $1,204,765 in disability assistance in Cook county compared to 21 persons in DuPage county who received $1,054.

Old age assistance was extended to 28,580 persons in Cook county at a cost of $2,379,140. In DuPage county, 371 persons received $27,459 in this area of assistance.

Henry Busse Defends GOP Leadership

by TOM EDWARDS

Henry A. Busse has been Wheeling township Republican comitteeman for nearly 20 years. But he is currently under heavier fire from within his party than ever before.

His position of leadership in a party, for which northwest suburbs have traditionally been a stronghold, is being criticized and challenged, chiefly by the ambitious — and somewhat obstreperous — Young Republican club. But there is dissent from throughout the local Republican ranks.

Though he has been a central party figure for so long, the majority of people in the township don't even know who Busse is, critics contend.

HE IS LEAVING the door wide open for the Democratic organization to move in, they assert in so many words, simply by being inactive and appointing and keeping in office inactive precinct captains.

It has even been alluded that Busse may actually be somewhat of a Democrat in disguise, taking his orders from that organization as well as the Republicans. (Such fears are particularly prevalent in the Chicago area, where it is well known that many Republican bosses are actually working for or are dependent upon the Democratic bosses.)

A widely circulated rumor among active township Republicans is that Busse is currently working at his political patronage job in the state highway department on the strength of a "deal" he arranged with Democratic chiefs.

EVIDENCE IS that the Republican committeeman was released from the highway post he held for nearly eight years shortly after the November election when the Democrats wrested the state governorship from the Republicans for the first time in nearly a decade. Later he went back to work for the department.

It is true that he was released from his job, Busse says, and was reinstated—but through the efforts of Republican Senator Bidwell—and only until June 1. The reason, he explains, was that he was within a few months of having completed eight years with the highway department, qualifying him for a partial pension. In sympathy, the Dems put him back on the payroll until June 1 when he will have completed his eight years and will be eligible for the pension.

In a definite sense, this is a deal with the Democrats—but not necessarily one that abrogates his Republican position. What comes after June 1 remains to be seen.

As to being inactive, Busse points to the strong Republican showing in Wheeling township and the northwest suburbs in the last November election.

"How many votes you bring in, that is the important thing," and the criteria as to how well he is doing his job, he states.

SEVENTY PER cent of those that voted in the township cast their ballot for Nixon, the fourth highest percentage total for Nixon among the 30 townships in Cook county.

A total of 96.6 per cent of the registered voters (28,106) voted in the presidential election, third highest percentage among the 30 townships.

Arlington Heights, in which Busse resides, voted exactly 3-1 for Nixon.

Busse points out that the Republican showing in the northwest suburbs in the November election led that of the always strong Republican counties of Kane, DuPage and Lake. He added that this area "is one of the strongest in the state" for the Republicans.

"We spent money, bought

WHEELING TOWNSHIP Republican committeeman Henry A. Busse poses in front of his fireplace in his home at 210 N. Pine st., Arlington Heights. advertising space, sent out literature in the mail and distributed car stickers," in that campaign, Busse cites in defense of "inactive" accusations.

WHAT DOES HE plan for the future to strengthen his party's position and re-establish it in power both in the state and nation? He was vague, evidently not having any definite plans or currently working on any projects. "I am waiting to hear" from the people who decide what we should do, he said. They will make plans and tell us.

Why is it true that most people don't even know who he is though he has reigned for years? Yet practically all voters know who the Democratic committeeman is, although the present one has only been in office for three the area about half as long as Busse.

"I never look for publicity," he stated. People don't cast their votes because of whom their committeeman happens to be or how popular he is, Busse continued.

"I go according to results of elections. I am not worried about whether or not I am well known. Bringing in the votes, that is most important," he summed up. This he believes he has done.

years and has only lived in

BUT OLD TIMERS speak of when this area used to go Republican by much larger margins than in the last election, sometimes as high as 8-1 or 10-1 over the Democrats. "We never won by that margin," Busse, who is an old timer here himself, retorted.

"Sometimes the Republican vote was 4-1 or 5-1 over the Democrats, but never any more."

Also in his defense, the Republican margin has been dropping in all the traditionally strong Republican Chicago suburbs as the exodus to them from the traditionally strong Democratic city of Chicago continues. (This has been pointed out in past articles in Paddock Publications.)

Busse has other deep convictions as to why he and the township Republican organization are much less in the limelight than its Democratic counterpart.

"The Democrats have all the patronage positions and always have had. They have the county sheriff's department, the county clerk's department, the county forest preserve, the sanitary district—the whole county and Chicago city government.

"They (the Dems) control these patronage fellows, and send them into the elections as workers. Besides, I don't go for this business of shoveling snow off people's walks."

ALSO, HE believes that all newspapers, including Paddock Publications, "play along" with the Democratic committeeman and party.

"I think they take several pictures of the candidates and use the worst ones (of the Republicans) during election campaigns. They put little digs (about us) in the paper. And the newspapers have Stavros' name (James Stavros, Democratic committee man of the township) in the paper so doggone much."

Still, the fact remains that the township is preponderantly Republican, at least potentially so.

Do the Democrats, therefore, have a better organization?

'No," Busse replied in his always quiet manner. "The reason for that is that we outnumber them, so naturally we have a better organization." He said that he had heard that the Wheeling township Democratic organization assigns one precinct captain to as many as three or four precincts, whereas all of the 43 township precincts have a Republican captain.

BUT HERE AGAIN, the Young Republicans attack Busse, claiming that the precinct captains he appoints are often men who do nothing for the party, are practically defunct agents.

One is over 80 years old, another has a heart condition, and still another has never been known to call on one person in regard to the party, they say.

"I don't care if they (the precinct captains) go from house to house or not," Busse stated, "as long as they get someone else to do it." That is, it doesn't make any difference how the public contact work gets done as long as it gets done.

"You try to get the best person you can to act as precinct captain, one who will do you the most good getting out the Republican vote. Somebody that's retired makes a very good captain. They can go out anytime during the day or evening," something which many younger working men concerned with family responsibilities cannot.

DOES HE HAVE any ideas in accord with the current Republican campaign to recruit new and young members to the organization, recently given a shot in the arm locally by a visit and speech by Nixon? And what does he think of Nixon's statement while here that his race for president was lost here in Illinois?

After every election loss there "always has to be the fall guy, the whipping boy," Busse replied, inferring that he was that person in the township.

"Elections come and elections go. Everybody has different ideas about what happened. My idea is that Nixon should never have debated on TV. Nixon was much better known at the time by the people than was Kennedy, and the TV debates gave Kennedy a chance to catch up" in that respect. Also, "Kennedy is more photogenic."

In support of his theory, he pointed to the above capacity crowd that came to hear Nixon when he spoke at McCormick Place while last here. "That is very unusual to have such a public response for a defeated candidate."

HOWEVER, IN response to the Republican grass roots campaign, Busse pointed to the United Republican Citizens party formed in the area under the leadership of James Worthy. (Some claim this is the old guard's response to the Young Republicans.) According to him, the citizens group is actively working to solidify the party's position.

Busse is constantly asked by the Young Republicans whether or not he plans to run for another four-year term as committeeman next spring. He has steadfastly refused to commit himself.

The Young Republicans are wondering, it has been reported, if the Democrats may rig their party's contest for committeeman with a sure thing candidate, then order many of their party members to "cross over" and vote for Busse in the Republican contest. They believe that the township Dems would rather have Busse as their opponent committeeman rather than any other potential Republican candidate.

IT DOES appear that Busse will run, according to his comments on his interest in politics and the many old friends he has developed in political circles over the years.

"Politics is fascinating," he said. "For one thing, we meet with all these other officeholders. They become like brothers to you." (He cited Senator Bidwell.)

He talks fondly of meeting old friends at gatherings of the Country Town Republican organization (which includes the 30 county townships, that is, everything outside the city of Chicago).

In addition, his roots in politics are very deep. Before first being elected committeeman in 1942, he served for 10 years as a precinct captain under committeeman Al Volz of Arlington Heights (who was recently feted on his 90th birthday.)

His uncle, William Busse, formerly of Mount Prospect, served as a county commissioner representing the six Northwest area townships on the county board, for 50 straight years. And he was Elk Grove township Republican committeeman from the time that the post of committeeman was first created until he died about five years ago.

CAN HENRY Busse get reelected? Well, at last count in 1948 (on the occasion of the Busse family reunion celebrating the 100th year of the arrival here of the first Busse from Hanover, Germany) there were 1,087 blood relatives and 415 relatives by marriage living within 25 miles of Arlington Heights. With that many campaigners, anyone could swing a township election.

What about the factions within the township Republicans? "I myself look at then all, whether young or old, a Republicans if they are Republicans."

Before the April 8 township election, he called off a caucus meeting in which the "old guard" wanted to determine whether or not they were going to endorse a slate The Young Republicans were against the caucus and the proposed endorsements. This could be interpreted as a middle of the road course by Busse, indicating he is not about to make enemies—which he wouldn't fear if he weren't going to run for reelection.

The job of committeema as he sees it is simply appointing precinct captain and to "get the vote out."

Newspapers could hel more in getting voters to th polls, he asserts. "They don' play up elections enough, sa there is no issue. They coul make it a lot easier by saying, 'Come on, there is goin to be a big vote. Let's ge out and vote.' "

AFTER THE last November election the papers wer "right there to belittle th effort, right out there to criticize."

As to his patronage highway department job, "yo have to work at it like an other job," Busse said. Bu actually the job of committeeman is a non-paying one he continued, although th committeeman ends up paying for it through the donations of time and money tha are necessitated, like buyin tickets to party clambakes

The township organization meets once a month at the Arlington VFW hal Its headquarters are at 15 N. State rd., Arlington. Then there are the Country Town organization meetings to attend.

Busse was born in Arlington Heights—how long ago h would rather not say. He ha two sons, J. Henry, 18 an in college, and Jon Henry, 2 and an Illinois University architectural school graduate.

HE IS an avid TV fan (" don't know what I would d without it."), delights i working about the yard of hi home at 210 N. Pine st. where he has lived since 193 Since his wife died five yea ago, he has done his ow housekeeping, and doing spic and span job of it. H is a member of the Elks Club

Busse owned and operate the Evergreen Sweetshop which used to be near th Arlington theatre, for 2 years, until 1954. He remembers when township Democratic committeeman Stavros, now 30, used to com into his shop after school.

Committee Compiles Report

High School Teachers' Pay Hikes Sought by Citizens

The question of high school teachers' salaries was placed squarely in the laps of district 214 school board members last week by a citizens committee which asked for a flat 10 per cent pay increase for teachers during the 1962-63 school year.

The recommendations were greeted by applause from an audience of more than 30 persons.

But the now gun-shy and publicity-conscious Arlington-Prospect school board memerly smiled, thanked the committee for its report, and went on to other items of business.

Speaking for the tax-paying residents of the district were Dr. Eric Gross, Mrs. Charles Rezner, and H. Robert Powell. Three other members of the self-appointed citizens committee, Mrs. Gerard Berthold, Walter Hosek and Charles Baker could not attend the Monday night meeting.

IN SUPPORT of the 10 per cent pay increase proposal, Dr. Gross submitted a charted salary comparison study which pointedly showed district 214 salary schedules rank in the lowest quarter among all area districts reviewed. These area districts are in direct competition for teaching staff personnel.

"Good buildings are of no value if we have no teachers. The teacher situation is critical, and it will become more critical," Dr. Gross said. "We must think in advance so that when the time comes next spring to set salary levels our superintendent will know what he has to work with and what he has to do."

Dr. Gross had more ammunition aimed at arousing action.

"We have talked to many people in the district and have not found anyone who does not want taxes as low as possible." But he emphaized: "All are willing to pay more taxes for educational betterment."

DR. GROSS pointed out that a "pessimistic" estimate of the assessed valuation of district 214 next year would be $330 million. "Even with this pessimistic estimation of assessed valuation it will cost only $.072 per $100 valuation to increase the entire salary scale by 10 per cent so that our 340 teachers of September, 1962, will have salaries 10 per cent higher than the present scale for 1961-62."

According to the salary comparison study submitted by the committee, district 214 is 6 per cent below maximum and 4 per cent below median in salaries offered for beginning teachers with bachelor's degree. For bachelor-degree teachers with five years experience, the district is 16 per cent below maximum and 4 per cent below median. For similar teachers with more than five years experience, district 214 is 29 per cent below maximum and 18 per cent below median.

The same study for teachers holding master's degrees showed salary schedules for district 214 were 9 per cent below maximum and 5 per cent below median for beginning teachers. For teachers with five years experience, the district is 13 per cent below maximum and 4 per cent below median. For teachers with more than five years experience the district is 17 per cent below maximum and 4 per cent below median.

"THIS REPORT is based on a study we have made of salary schedules in various schools for some time. I might note that during this survey we found Arlington Superintendent Slichenmyer has everything in much better form and we were able to obtain the information we needed from him more easily than we could from the other school districts," Dr. Gross said.

Dr. Gross pointed out that an attempt by the school board last year to increase salaries in the "middle" range had not been effective when compared to other schools.

The small gray-haired professor at Illinois Institute of Technology fired one more volley.

"I wish to quote for you from a news item which appeared in the March 20 issue of the Chicago Daily News," he said.

"The story is about a statement made by Charles H. Percy, chairman of Bell and Howell company. Percy is also the man who wrote the Republican platform last summer.

"I have confidence in newspapers, especially Paddock Publications, and I would like to quote from this story even though it is from the Chicago Daily News:

"Mr. Percy says 'If over a period of years we were to double the pay scale of teachers we would undoubtedly overpay some, but this would be the exception rather than the rule.

"By the process of natural selection we would begin to attract a higher percentage of our ablest young men and women to teaching."

DR. GROSS stressed his belief that no one in the district who has, will have, or had children in school and who knows what the school stands for is not willing to give Supt. Slichenmyer the budget he needs to raise salary scales for teachers.

"I do not think we are overly ambitious if we say Arlington could rank among the top, or at least the top quarter, of high salary schools," Dr. Gross concluded.

Mrs. Rezner, speaking in support of Dr. Gross, stated she had contact with 20 PTA groups. In a discussion at the last council meeting the PTA representatives felt there could be no economy when it came to classroom teachers' salaries. Powell stressed the willingness of people to maintain high educational levels even though it might mean higher taxes. He urged the board to follow the suggestions made by Dr. Gross.

Public Disillusioned At High School Image

The "disillusionment of the general public in the image of a quality high school district" was pointed out in strong language by Wheeling elementary district 21 school board last week.

Members of Arlington-Prospect district 214 board were read a letter from the Wheeling-Buffalo Grove school system which called the "downgrading of the high school's public relations a serious mistake and one which will ultimately have an adverse effect on a good school program."

THE LETTER revealed that the unfavorable newspaper publicity given the high school board had been discussed by the Wheeling school board at a meeting.

"We have come to realize that when the actions and feelings of individual board members become more important than the educational issues being discussed, then certainly emphasis is in the wrong area," the letter said.

Arlington-Prospect school board members had no comment and silence prevailed following the reading of the letter. Finally, at the suggestion of member John Haas, school board president Daryl Oldaker stated he would acknowledge the letter.

"As individuals, each of us has recently been asked many questions by thoughtful citizens concerning the high school board. These queries may be paraphrased in this question, 'Can individuals who apparently show as little respect for one another and for their employees be the best qualified to set the educational policies and spend the necessary money required of them in the performance of their duties?' " was one major comment contained in the letter.

IT CONTINUED, "Although we have a vested interest in the children we send to district 214, we cannot and should not attempt to answer this question. All we can do is explain the accepted responsibilities and duties of school board membership, the most important of which is acting always as a board and not as individuals with specific axes to grind." Husband-Wife Team Open Florist Shop

A husband and wife team, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Schwind, have opened a new florist shop and greenhouse business at 1141 S. Wolf rd., near Palatine road in Wheeling township.

They specialize in carnations, geraniums, bedding plants and various potted flowers and vegetables. Although they began as a wholesale dealer, they recently began retailing their own products as well as those of other florists.

Both have extensive backgrounds in the trade. Schwind's father also was a greenhouse owner and operator, in a partnership with Mrs. Schwind's father, Peter Kayser, in Evanston.

Later Schwind and his father-in-law operated a greenhouse together in Streator, Ill., for 17 years, specializing in mums, poms, and snapdragons as well as carnations. He has won several awards for his carnations.

MRS. SCHWIND has worked extensively as a dress designer before joining her husband as a partner, holding her own dress concerts to display her work.

Schwind served in the army as a first lieutenant during World War II and received the purple heart with a cluster and the bronze star.

The couple have four children, Carolynn attending Prospect high school, Ricky attending St. Alphonsus school in Prospect Heights, and two below school age, Toni and Terri.

This Week with PTA

The final meeting of the Arlington Heights PTA was called to order by the president, Mrs. Robert Wallace, Tuesday evening, May 16, at the South Junior high school gymnasium. All schools attended this village-wide general meeting. Dr. Hughes B. Morris, pastor of First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights delivered the invocation, and Explorer Scouts of Troop 57 presented colors.

Life memberships in the ICPT were awarded by Mrs. Charles Fago, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers to the following worthy recipients:

School board members, Roger Burke, William Hannum, and Kenneth Anderson; PTA parents, John McComb, Mrs. John Lindstrom, and Mrs. Robert Wallace; principal, Robert Campbell; teacher, Miss Mimi Reeb; director of buildings and grounds, J. C. Clemans; director of health services, Mrs. Thelma Carroll; office manager, Mrs. Delores Conn; and cafeteria manager, Mrs. Doris Evans.

WENDELL GODWIN, superintendent of public schools of Topeka, presented a program, "The Future Is Calling," in which he discussed present and future educational issues.

He stressed the need of working toward a solution to two great problems: How can competence in teaching be recognized and rewarded? Who is to determine what shall be taught? "Our present criteria," Mr. Godwin says, "of years in college and years of classroom experience, does not satisfy the first question." "As for the second, while the curriculum is finally determined by local administrators, they are influenced by standard test makers, legislatures, college entrance requirements, and world science prestige."

Following the program, Mrs. Fago installed the officers who will serve next year in the nine schools, newly-formed PTA units and the new Arlington Council.

Presidents of the units are: Mrs. Robert Tindall, Dryden; Mrs. Dennis Malcomson, Park; Mrs. Charles Bennett, Windsor; Mrs. Harry Rongner, North; Mr. Peter Carr, Ridge; Mrs. Robert Bukowski, Miner Jr. High; Mrs. Lewis Gregg, Kensington; Mrs. Gerald Brask, Westgate; and Mrs. William Franck, South Junior high. Council President, co-ordinating the activities of these groups, will be Mrs. John Lindstrom.

PRESENTING the past-president's pin to Mrs. Wallace, Mr. Ralph Clabaugh, superintendent of schools, expressed his confidence that the PTA will give even greater service under our new system and praised those who have served so ably in the past. (A

Pupils Plan 2-Day Tour To Capitol

The eighth grade class of St. Peter Lutheran school will take its annual Springfield tour on May 25 and 26, it was announced this week.

Highlights of the tour will be Lincoln's home and tomb, Centennial building, museum and Lincoln library, the Capitol building, and Lincoln's New Salem.

Supervising chaperones accompanying the group will be Mrs. Vernon Deeke, Mrs. Gordon Geils, Mrs. Lester Rush, Mrs. Melvin Harting, Robert Blum, Lester Rush, and the eighth-grade teacher, Roland Kiel. (A

Special Assessment Notice

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS SPECIAL ASSESSMENT NO. 145

That the roadway in Ridge Avenue from the North line of Elm Street to the South edge of existing pavement in Oakton Street; and the roadway in Elm Street from the West edge of existing pavement in Walnut Avenue to the West line of Kennicott Avenue; be improved by grading, curbing, paving and installing sidewalks, by construction of all necessary catch basins, storm water inlets and connection pipes to the existing storm sewers. The pavement in Ridge Avenue and in Elm Street from Walnut Avenue to approximately 9 feet West of West line of Ridge Avenue, shall consist of a waterbound macadam base course having a compacted thickness of eight (8) inches constructed on a cushion of sand or stone screenings having a compacted thickness of one (1) inch, and the bituminous concrete binder and surface courses having a total compacted thickness of two and one-half (2½) inches. The pavement in Elm Street from approximately 9 feet West of West line of Ridge Avenue to the West line of Kennicott Avenue, except between Salem Avenue and Kasper Avenue, shall consist of Portland cement concrete base course widening 8 inches thick and bituminous concrete binder and surface courses having total compacted thickness of two and one-half (2½) inches over entire pavement area. The pavement in Elm Street between Salem Avenue and Kaspar Avenue shall consist of a compacted gravel or crushed stone base over existing stone base, which shall be scarified and widened, and bituminous concrete binder and surface courses having a total compacted thickness of two and one-half (2½) inches over entire pavement area. The widths of the finished roadway to be constructed, measured from back of curb to back of curb shall be as follows:

Ridge Avenue:
31' back to back curb
Elm Street:
28' back to back curb.

The detailed location, cross sections, elevations, grades, and sizes of all manholes, the storm water inlets, catch basins, connecting pipes, including all estimates, plans and specifications are contained in the ordinance for the improvement on file in the office of the Village Clerk, and having applied to the County Court of Cook County for an assessment of the costs of the improvement according to the benefits, and an assessment therefor having been made and returned to the court, the final hearing thereon will be had on the 19th day of June A.D., 1961 at 10:00 o'clock A.M., or as soon thereafter as the business of the court will permit.

All persons desiring may file objections in that court before that day and may appear on the hearing and make their demand.

Said assessment will be payable in ten (10) annual installments and each of said installments shall bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum, according to law, until paid.

Dated Arlington Heights, Illinois, May 24, 1961.

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM RIDGE PARK

Mrs. Laura Thill's family gave her quite a sendoff for her trip to Europe. Her daughter, Miss Helen Thill, gave a luncheon May 15 at which several friends wished her a bon voyage. Mother's day, the Raymond Thills, 834 N. Patton, joined the family for a triple celebration—Mother's day, Mrs. Thill's forthcoming trip and her birthday which she will celebrate abroad. At dinner that day the conversation naturally turned to her trip—she plans to be gone three months, during which time she will visit relatives in Luxembourg and Belgium, and they will travel with her to other parts of Europe.

Sympathy is extended to the Joseph Dunns, 728 N. Kennicott, in the recent death of her father, Francis Wilburding, in a local rest home.

Bede William evened up the score for the Jerry Winters family, 1015 N. Princeton, when he joined the family 18 minutes after Mother's day in St. Anne hospital, Chicago. There are now six boys and six girls. He was christened Sunday in St. James church. Father Lane officiated and Bede's brother, Jerome, and sister, Mary, were his godparents.

FRIENDS AND neighbors of the Robert Read family, 1019 N. Kennicott, were saddened to learn of the death of Ginnie's mother, Mrs. Squires, last week. Ginnie flew home Monday to attend the funeral in Brockton, Mass., Wednesday.

Lorraine and Glenn Buckley, 1404 W. Elm, are busy getting ready for their forthcoming trip to Hawaii. Winning this boat trip to Hawaii came as a complete surprise to both of them. To use Lorraine's words: "I never won a thing in my life."

Friday night the Bill Cokash family, 906 N. Illinois, arrived home from a 3-week vacation in the east. The weather was damp when they came to Valley Forge and Gettsyburg, before heading for Medford, Mass., and the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Perito.

It was like one big family reunion while they were there, with Bill's folks coming from Rhode Island and Bill and Rosemarie getting to see their friends and relatives once more. Probably the biggest thrill came when Rosemarie's brother called from Manchester, England, to wish his mother and her a happy birthday. Rosemarie's birthday was the 24th and her mother's the 20th.

Because Rosemarie had never seen Niagara Falls, they came home by way of the falls and went over to Canada (another first for her) for a picnic lunch in Ontario.

IN ORDER for Ann and Jerry Mockenhaupt, 818 N. Harvard, to have a shortvisit with Doug, they drove out to the airport to see him between planes. Doug was on his way back to the University of Illinois after flying to Seattle on business. June will be a busy month for Doug. He is being married in Champaign June 10 and is finishing his doctorate in engineering. Doug's specialty is rockets and missiles and he plans to join one of the aircraft companies in June.

At his last cub scout pack meeting of the season last Friday, Billy Groh was awarded an eagle for his neckerchief for selling the most tickets for the recent Scoutorama.

Friday was also his sister, Susan's birthday, but because of the pack meeting she had her party the following day. Karen Pleasner, Kathy Millay, Margaret Safarik, Madaline Jaster, Noreen Nolan and Judy Sponder came for an outdoor barbecue to celebrate Susan's becoming a teenager.

Sunday the whole family went into Humbolt park for the parade celebrating Norwegian Independence day. The parade was reminiscent of the old country with many people marching in their native costume. The televiston industry was well represented too, with many of its stars there, including Anna Lisa riding on a palomino horse, which made quite an impression on Susan. In fact, Susan's day was complete when she and her family had dinner in the Norwegian club after the parade and Anna Lisa sang happy birthday to her. And to remember the day, Susan has a picture of Anna Lisa and her which the star also autographed. The Grohs live at 912 N. Chicago.

SEVERAL RIDGE Park couples were guests at a cocktail party at Lil and George Lurtzes', 909 N. Patton, Saturday evening before the Hundred Dance club's final dance for the season at Itasca country club. It was quite a treat for many of the Patton ave. folks who were at the Lurtzes' to find their former neighbors, Delores and Bob Lind, there too. The Linds now live in Palatine.

Seeing the Goodman theater's production of the "Wizard of Oz" Saturday were Pat Phillipp and her daughter, Marjorie, 644 N. Salem. Later that evening the Phillipps were guests of the Dean Shumates at the Coterie dance party at River Forest country club.

There were three mothers at the Glen Rubenkings', 948 N. Fernandez, Mother's day weekend. Barbara's folks, the L. D. Kindreds, drove up from Beason, and her sister and her family, the C. W. Nicholsons, came up from Jacksonville.

Norma and Al Snap, 1012 N. Kaspar, hosted a house full of relatives over the weekend. Al's mother and brother, Mrs. Albert Snap and Lee came from Freeport and his sister and her family, the Melvin Davidsons and Candy, completed the family circle. Sunday they drove to Lombard to see the lilacs in bloom and then had a picnic at Busse Woods.

Although the Lawrence Fischers', 1021 N. Race, 25th wedding anniversary wasn't until the 23rd, former Ridge Parkers, the J. J. Buckleys, planned a surprise party for them last Sunday. Their former neighbors now live in Evanston and had invited the whole family for dinner Sunday. Bill even came from Champaign for the occasion and Mr. Fischer's mother was also with them for the party.

It was great fun for the Fischers, who were completely surprised when 50 friends arrived to honor them. The senior Mrs. Fischer plans to be with them until Larry Jr. gets his master's degree from the University of Illinois.

Monday night the Ridge Park Bowling league bowled for the last time for this season. The team, sponsored by Sylvia's Flowers, came in first with their captain, Roy Splitt, sharing honors with Lorraine Cunningham, Red Craig, Ray Lineback and George Lurtz. Elm's Liquorland team came in second and its captain, Ed Elstee, also won individual sweepstakes for the evening. When everyone finished bowling, Sylvia gave a small impromptu party at her shop and the men on her team presented Lorraine Cunningham with a gift for her good sportsmanship.

Dot and Erik Dedring, 1120 Northwest hwy. also went to the Coterie dance Saturday at River Forest country club. Before coming home, they joined friends for snacks at Montana Charlie's place. Sunday morning they drove to the Conrad Hilton hotel where a friend was singing at the church service in the grand ballroom. After dinner at the Hilton, they headed south to a birthday party for her nephew in Chicago.

Receiving congratulations on the birth of their first grandchild are Mr. and Mrs. B. Nowak of 821 N. Patton ave. The baby, Michael John, was born May 7 to Mr. and Mrs. John Weidner of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Nowak recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a reception for 125 guests in the Krokadaro banquet room in Chicago.

FROM SHERWOOD

Elise Allen was weekend guest of Amy and Paul Fellingham, 1145 N. Patton. sunday the Louis Weitzmans joined the family, which also included Carol and Bob Redeker and baby Kenny, for a dinner party celebrating Carol's birthday. Jerry Hadley was also with them Sunday. (A

Five Area Teens Win Scholarships

Five Arlington, Prospect and Palatine high school students were named winners of University of Illinois scholarships this week by Dr. Noble J. Puffer, Cook county superintendent of schools.

The students were among 114 scholarship winners selected on the basis of examinations given March 25 to 1,399 students from Chicago and suburban public and private high schools.

THE EXAMS, which were of four hours duration, were graded by the staff at the University of Illinois, Puffer said. Students not awarded scholarships will receive a notice during the next two weeks from the university informing them of their grade and rank, he added.

Richard John Carlson, 1711 W. Oakton st., Arlington Heights, a student at Arlington high school, and John Thomas Holton, 441 S. Oak st., Palatine, from Palatine high school, were the other scholarship winners from this area. (B8

Like millions of Americans you may be dreaming of building or buying your own home. If you are, chances are you need two important things—first, money for a down payment; second, a home loan to make up the difference. Our association specializes in helping you get both these things.

Last year, associations like ours throughout the U.S. made one out of every three home loans—1,000,000 of them totaling more than $10 billion. The Insured Savings and Loan way has, in fact, become America's most popular way to finance a new home. Here's why:

1. We know more about home loans because we make more of them.
2. You get friendly understanding from our staff which is experienced in home financing.
3. You repay your loan just like rent. A monthly repayment is usually set up to include principal, interest and property taxes.
4. While you're saving for the down payment, your money earns excellent returns, and is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government.

Suburb Firm Plays Role in Prepared Food

Foil Containers Originate Here

by MELDA LYNN

A busy executive, flying high above the ground thousands of miles from Mount Prospect, eats a hurried, tasty meal served by the airline hostess.

He appreciates the opportunity to catch a good meal en route.

A housewife has just returned from a busy day planning the local PTA program for next year. The meeting took longer than usual, and dad and the kids will be home. She is expected to have dinner ready — one that is good as well as nourishing.

SHE TOOK a quick run into the prepared foods department of her local grocery store. There she bought complete dinners, pies and other delicacies ready for oven or table on a few minutes notice.

None of the people concerned with eating or preparing the food knew it, but a Mount Prospect company played a big part in the convenient way in which these foods were presented to the consumer.

The Buhrke Tool and Engineering comapny, 259 E. Prospect ave., designs and manufactures the dies which stamp out the aluminum foil containers for the convenience foods.

THE COMPANY is the largest die maker for aluminum foil containers in the country. Almost 50 per cent of the entire business of the company is in making and designing the dies for the containers.

The aluminum foil trays for TV dinners, pans for dessert pies, chicken and meat pies, casseroles, pizzas and all kinds of foods purchased in frozen or quick preparation containers begin on the drawing boards of the Mount Prospect company.

If a large food company wants to get out a new quick, convenience type food product, either in frozen, cooked or uncooked form, the food processor contracts the aluminum company who in turn contacts the Buhrke Tool and Engineering company.

THE MOUNT Prospect firm finds out what kind of food is to be packaged and what type of container the companies want. Buhrke then designs the aluminum foil container and machines the die used to form it.

At the present time, the company is making a die to be used by one of the largest food processors in the world. The aluminum containers which will be formed from the die the Mount Prospect firm is making will be offered as a special feature with a packaged dried food.

Some of the companies which are regular customers of the Mount Prospect company are Reynolds Metal, Revere Copper and Brass co., Anaconda Aluminum co., Ekco Alcoa of Wheeling, Mirror Aluminum and Chicago Metalic of Lake Zurich.

PRODUCTS put into these containers are familiar to every homemaker — Swanson, Jane Parker, Banquet, Betty Crocker, Jiffy Pop, General Mills, Johnston and many others which are by-words in the homes of America.

Another item which has brought plaudits from homemakers is the broil-a-foil tray which housewives place in their ovens before broiling foods. The food is cooked in the foil pan. When it is removed, the foil pan is easily disposed and there is no messy oven to clean. The disposable aluminum foil broil pan was designed by Buhrke.

While these products are familiar to every housewife, there are other items in the stamping and die process of the Mount Prospect plant which are used daily but not seen.

ONE IS a diaphram for a telephone receiver. The piece is designed and manufactured by Buhrke.

Many parts for radio and television companies are made in the Mount Prospect plant. A cap for a detonator is made by Buhrke, for the U. S. government.

The Buhrke Tool and Engineering company has one of the best equipped machine shops in the country. Special pieces of machinery not usually found in such an operation are standard equipment there.

One large machine, a Cincinnati Electro-Jet, a very unusual piece of precision machinery, cuts and bores materials such as Tungston Carbide which before could only be cut by diamonds. This machine cuts by electrical discharges.

THE COMPANY also does engineering work for special automation machinery.

It's a big operation, one about which not too many people are aware. One which Mount Prospect and the northwest suburbs can be proud.

The man behind the company is also one whom the community can be proud. He is probably better known locally as a civic leader than for his business, however.

Fred Buhrke has been active in community projects ever since he moved to Mount Prospect more than 10 years ago.

He lived here shortly before going into business for himself in 1949. He was an engineer for Zenith, Pullman Standard Car company, and other Chicago companies.

He decided he liked Mount Prospect and wanted to live here permanently. He built his plant there in 1949 and has been the head of the growing concern, working day and night in the business and in his community as well.

BUHRKE attended engineering college at Northwestern university. He is a native of Chicago.

His wife, Anne, helps in the office as his "right hand" and also plays the role of housewife and mother.

Their children, Linda, 13; Ricky, (Fred Jr.) 10 and Patrick, 6 share an interest in the business and also take an active part in the many hobbies enjoyed by their parents.

BOTH ANNE and Fred belong to the Mount Prospect Art league. Fred is immediate past president and Anne is secretary. Anne is actually the artist, according to her husband, and has a studio in one section of the building. She had many of her paintings exhibited in various shows in the area. She and the children also play the organ.

The studio in the plant is a combination hobby, shop room. It contains all kinds of photographic equipment and woodworking machines for two of Fred's hobbies. His main hobbies, however, are boating and flying.

When he isn't busy with his business or hobbies, he's working in various civic affairs, especially with the Mount Prospect Lions club. He is president-elect and will take office as president shortly.

Mainly, he's a typical American citizen who has made a successful career furnishing items used by every typical American family.

Zone Pleas Submitted To Planners

The Arlington Heights plan commission will hold three public hearings Wednesday, June 7, to discuss rezoning requests made by owners of property about to be annexed to the village.

One petition seeks rezoning from Cook county R-4 to a combination of B-1, B-2, B-3 R-3 and R-6 on 87 acres located at the northeast corner of Palatine and Wilke rds.

ANOTHER ASKS rezoning from county R-4 to village R-3 on property lying north of Palatine rd. at Chestnut st. The third concerns B-2 zoning for the Cities Service station on the southeast corner of State and Central rds.

Arlington Heights trustees voted April 17 to amend the comprehensive zoning ordinance to provide that zoning hearings be held prior to the annexation of land rather than after.

AN ECHO OF REMEMBRANCE FOR THIS MEMORIAL DAY

To everyone the things remembered on Memorial Day are intimate, as personal as the quiet whisper of his own conscience. But can you spare a moment for a boy named John Magee?

John Magee, American, went to England with the RCAF before our entrance to World War II. He made his mark as one of the great poets to come from this, or any other war.

This particular poem was written in pencil on the back of a letter to his father. It was recognized by the Library of Congress who featured it in an exhibit called "Poems of Faith and Freedom" along with the poems of Joyce Kilmer, Alan Seeger and other great wartime poets.

We give it to you here because it symbolizes the spirit of the airborne men who piloted all the planes in the last great war; of those who, today, hold their jet-juggernauts between us and our enemies; of the astronauts of the future who will blaze new pathways to the stars.

He called it ....

HIGH FLIGHT

Oh, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth,
And danced the skies on laughter silvered wings.
Sunward I've climbed and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sunsplit clouds, and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of, wheeled and soared and swung
High in the sun-lit silences. Hov'ring there
I've chased the shouting wind along and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air.

Up, up the long delirious burning blue,
I've topped the windswept heights with easy grace,
And while with silent lifting mind I've trod
Where never lark nor even eagle flew
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand and touched the face of God.

John Magee

Can you spare a moment of remembrance for John Magee? Can you spare a word of your Memorial Day prayer for John Magee? Can you take one fleeting moment to remember poet-pilot John Magee who, at the age of 19, put out his hand and touched the face of God?

Family Members Honor Confirmands at Weekend Parties

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

In many local homes the past weekend family parties honored young members who had affirmed their faith at special services in the churches of their choice. First communion was served youngsters in Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic parish Saturday, and in the newly dedicated St. Peter Lutheran church 58 children were confirmed Sunday.

Several south side families with one child receiving first communion last Saturday and another to be confirmed Sunday are planning a combined celebration after confirmation services. Among them are the Jack Guilfoils, 801 S. Chestnut, whose daughter, Gail, is a new communicant of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church. Gail will share family congratulations next week at a party after the confirmation of her sister, Colleen.

Following the communion mass Saturday she marked her own special occasion at a gala breakfast in the home of a fellow communicant and neighborhood friend, Joan Sterling, 805 S. Chestnut.

CANDY CLARK'S first communion was made a little bit "extra-special" by her big brother, Tom's, part in the serving of the mass Saturday. Adding her blessings to the day was Candy's and Tom's grandmother, Mrs. George Koeppen of Chicago, who was among family members at a celebration dinner in the Clark home, 645 S. Chestnut.

The Myron Blum family celebrated Gerald's confirmation Sunday in St. Peter Lutheran church with a dinner for 20 in the church school and open house later in the Blum home, 615 S. Evergreen. Sharing family pride in the occasion were Gerlad's grandparents, the Henry W. Moehlings of Arlington Heights.

Another St. Peter Lutheran confirmand who was honored at a dinner in the church school Sunday afternoon was John Meyn III, 29 S. Mitchell. Thirty-two family members extended congratulations following the church services and gathered after dinner in the Meyn home.

Among them were John's uncles who were his spiritual sponsors, Herman Meyn of Mt. Prospect and William Meyn, John Oltrogge and Edward Grimm, all of Arlington Heights.

A family dinner for 25 and open house with a buffet supper marked the occasion Sunday of Cheryl Horcher's confirmation in the Lutheran church. Among guests in the Horcher home, 406 S. Dunton, were Cheryl's uncle and aunt, the Albert Beckers of Fairmont, Minn., who will remain here in the home of their son Werner and family, 1004 N. Ridge, until the graduation next month of their granddaughter.

Mrs. Becker, who is Cheryl's sponsor, joined Grandmother Horcher in extending special congratulations to the young lady. Cheryl's brother Joe, a student at Ripon college, will bring his best wishes Sunday when he arrives to spend the summer at home.

THOMAS SORENSEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sorensen, 1051 S. Dunton, was honored at a family gathering in his home following his first communion Saturday in Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church. Among the 40 Chicago and local relatives who celebrated with the young man were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glees of Chicago. Sending their congratulations from Florida were his paternal grandparents.

A buffet supper party for 70 local and out-of-town relatives honored Arthur Harting Sunday evening following his confirmation in St. Peter Lutheran church.

Guests in the Harting home, 1104 N. Stratford, included an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Muehlhausen of Muskegon, Mich.; Arthur's grandparents, the senior Arthur Hartings of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Humphrey of Chicago; cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Phillips of Powers Lake and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conrad of Dunhurst Heights. Mrs. Conrad, Mrs. Phillips and Mr. Humphrey serve as Arthur's godparents.

Thirty-five Lombard, Itasca, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect and local relatives honored Jimmy Rateike Sunday at a family party following his confirmation in St. Peter Lutheran church. Adding their blessings at the gathering in the Rateike home, 717 N. Evergreen, were Jimmy's grandparents, the F. C. Rateikes of Mt. Prospect and Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Stoeckel of Arlington Heights.

MR. AND MRS. Walter G. Meyer Jr., 1643 N. Vail, were hosts Sunday at a family dinner for 15 to honor their son, Donald, upon his confirmation in St. Peter Lutheran church. Guests included Donald's grandparents, the senior Walter Meyers of Fox River Grove and his godfather, Walter O'Neil and Mrs. O'Neil of Morton Grove.

Kathy Dalton, daughter of the James Daltons, 522 S. Dunton, was honored at a family buffet supper party Saturday after becoming a communicant of Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church. The young lady received the blessings of 43 relatives including her godmother, Mrs. Rudolph Hoffman of Palatine. Also among her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bailey of Florida who are in the area visiting relatives.

Sunday, Kathy's brother James, will be confirmed and plans are being made for a similar gathering of family members in the Dalton home after the evening service in the church.

MICHAEL BAARTZ' grandmother, Mrs. H. E. Berry of St. Paul, is enjoying a week's visit here in the Baartz home, 401 N. Windsor. She arrived late last week for Michael's confirmation in St. Peter Lutheran church Sunday at which she was a sponsor.

Dimming the family's total joy in the occasion was weekend news of the sudden, serious illness of Michael's paternal grandmother. The senior Mr. and Mrs. Baartz, also of Minnesota, had planned to be part of the family gathering here in Michael's honor.

Julie Anne Phares made her first communion Saturday in Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church and was honored at a family celebration later in the Phares home, 725 S. Chestnut. Adding her blessings to the day was Julie Anne's grandmother, Mrs. Agatha Fonfara of Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, 19 N. Pine, returned Saturday from a week in St. Louis where Mr. Baker attended committee meetings of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. Daytime entertainment was planned for wives of committeemen and combined with social evening events to make a just-right balance of business and pleasure during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Law of Pompano Beach, Fla. are visiting here with their daughter and family, the Michael Slaters, 44 S. Salem. They plan an extended stay in the area in order to spend some time with other family members. Monday as the wind blew from the north at 25 miles an hour they reported being tempted to head back south and come again in August if it's warmed up by then.

RICHARD KLAGES, an aviation technician with the navy, arrived Monday night to spend a 20-day leave at home, 1135 N. Dunton. Klages serves aboard the USS Lake Champlain and was part of the recovery effort May 5 when Cmdr. Alan Shepard made his historic flight into space.

Nancy Westfall was 17 Saturday and spent the day taking college board exams, which made an evening dinner party in her honor all the more delightful. Nancy and the rest of the family at 843 S. Highland were guests of her aunt and family, the George Richters in Twin Lakes, Wis. where the fun and relaxation was a welcome climax to a day of brain strain for the birthday girl.

Mrs. Douglas Brown and Mrs. George Lawler were cohostesses recently to 10 area women of the Northwest Community hospital auxiliary at a "coffee and" in the Brown home, 1323 W. Sigwalt. Although the "and" usually infers good things to eat the meeting concerned something even dearer to a woman's heart - hats!

The dozen women are members of a committee planning an unusual millinery bar for the auxiliary's Pink Lady bazaar September 29. Between cups of coffee and good things to eat, they talked hats, imagined hats and planned hats to their heart's content and the bazaar's benefit.

KATHY WEGNER received birthday congratulations Sunday at a family dinner in the Wegner home, 726 N. Belmont. Among her well-wishers were her grandparents, the Adolph Wegners of Chi- also of the Belmont address. Kathy was 13.

Little William Wiegand of Lake Bluff had a great big dinner party Sunday in the Arlington Heights home of his grandmother, Mrs. William J. McNeil, in celebration of his birthday. He was 2. There were hats and horns, and the complete family circle to make it a wide-eyed occasion for him and for his sisters, Catherine and Victoria.

He brought his Mom and Dad along, too, and they were joined by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Wiegand of Arlington Heights, his aunt, Mrs. Harriet Schultz of Chicago and a family friend, Mrs. Walter Pierels of Palatine.

Mrs. Kate Mitchell, 304 S. Mitchell, is enjoying the visit of her son, Gail Gordon of Phoenix, who is here and in Chicago with other relatives for a 2-week stay.

Lynette and Greg Burmeister, 1134 N. Dunton, shared a biithday party in their home Saturday afternoon to celebrate Lynette's early Maytime birthday and Greg's early June date. Eighteen neighborhood children had 18 varieties of fun wishing Lynette a happy third birthday and Greg a happy number five. Mrs. Burmeister hostessed six mothers over coffee and cake after the initial hubbub of the young set died down.

TERRY TAEGE, Jerry Hahnfeld, Carol and Keith Swearingen of the St. Peter Lutheran school will perform tonight in an organ and piano recital to be held in Des Plaines.

Four women of the 1000 block of S. Dunton were guests of eight neighborhood friends at a gala farewell luncheon in the Dundee Country House Saturday afternoon. Although the departure schedule of Mrs. Jack Nesslar, Mrs. W. L. Vinberg, Mrs. Elmer Spain and Mrs. Juanita Boyd is a many-splintered thing, the immediate good-bye to Mrs. Nesslar was imperative. Tomorrow the Nesslar family leaves the home at 1006 S. Dunton for Dallas. Further farewelling of the other three ladies will be possible for several weeks to come.

MRS. RONALD Peterson of Flushing, N. Y. and her children, Scott, Mitchell and Shawn, spent the past two weeks here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kussow, 815 Burton.

Mrs. Clark Gutru, 531 S. Pine, and Mrs. Frederick C. Schmoyer, 445 S. Pine, were in Bloomington, Ind. last weekend for the Mother's day program at Indiana university and to visit their daughters, Jean Gutru, a freshman, and Judy Schmoyer, a sophomore. They attended the annual "Little 500 races" and visited with Mrs. Leonard Castle of Indianapolis, and formerly of Scarsdale, who was at the university to visit her daughter, Betsey, a freshman student.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bolas, 630 S. Beverly, recently attended the 4-day American Association of Advertising Agencies convention at the Greenbrier in White Sulphur Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde a Ferry, 637 Bristol, who marked their 19th wedding anniversary Saturday, celebrated it by spending the weekend "antiquing" through Wisconsin. Mrs. Ferry came home with a real treasure, a dry sink they admired and bought.

MR. AND MRS. George A. glow, 603 S. Belmont, returned Saturday from a 2-week fishing trip in the Branson area of the Ozarks.

Mrs. Robert Barbour, 715 Bristol, and her mother, Mrs. L. Weinsz, who is visiting here from Springfield, Ohio, attended the Parent's day program last weekend at Northwestern university.

They were guests of Bob, a sophomore and member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, all of whose members were hosts to mothers at the final performance of "A Raisin in the Sun" at the Blackstone theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Skinner, 721 S. Beverly, were in Milwaukee last week attending a convention in the auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Garrity, 615 E. Grove, are home from a 2-week vacation at Key Biscayne, Fla.

Saturday, the Garritys were hosts at a large family dinner party in honor of their daughter, Patty, who made her first communion at Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Church of Arlington Heights.

MR. AND MRS. Theodore W. Kleisner, 602 E. Park, vacationed the past 10 days in Palm Beach, Fla. While enjoying their favorite sport of deep sea fishing, Mr. Kleisner brought in a beautiful 8-foot sailfish.

The Kleisners returned home in time to attend the Parents day program Sunday at St. Marys Minor seminary, Crystal Lake, where their eldest son, Ted, is a student. Included in the Parent day activities was a luncheon at the seminary, a minstrel show in which young Ted took the lead, an exhibit of science projects and a musical program given by the Troubadors, student members of the Glee club.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Goldthwaite, 406 E. Park, are home from a 4-week vacation in the south. They visited friends in Fairhope, Ala., and then spent a week sunning and relaxing on Long Boat Key off Sarasota, Fla. Enroute home, they toured through the Smoky mountains, with a short stay in Gatlinburg, and then went on to Elkhart, Ind. for a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Martell and their children, Danny and Paul.

While the Goldthwaites were away, her father, Arthur Bonde, spent two weeks visiting his granddaughter and family, the Ronald Martells in Elkhart and two weeks with his son and family, the Arthur O. Bondes of Elmhurst.

MRS. Eugene Lukasik, 526 E. Central, who recently underwent heart surgery in St. Mary hospital at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn., is back home and recuperating.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Edelblute, 209 S. Pine, were guests at a dinner party and bridge Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kameyer of Des Plaines. Earlier in the day, Mrs. Edelblute gave a party for nine friends of her son, Kenny, who was celebrating his seventh birthday. A highlight of the party and a source of delight to all the youngsters was the pink elephant birthday cake Mrs. Edelblute made and decorated.

Miss Swenette Forsberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Swen Forsberg, 929 S. Beverly, celebrated her 15th birthday Monday with a barbecue for 10 friends. She will mark the occasion again next Friday, when she will join her parents to attend a performance of show boat at the Melody Top theatre.

PAUL GUSTITUS received birthday congratulations on his 15th birthday May 13 at a dinner party his parents, Mr and Mrs. John A. Gustitus, 400 S. Dryden, gave. Guests included his brothers, John and Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Murray of Scarsdale and their son, Lynn, and Mr. and Mrs. George Landis of Western Springs Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Gustitus were hosts at a dinner party for Charles Lohmann of Philadelphia and Clark Thornton of Louisville.

Roy Garr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Garr, 316 S. Derbyshire, arrives home this weekend from Coe college, where he is a sophomore.

Mrs. Helen Frederick arrived in Arlington Heights from her home in Allentown, Pa. May 20 for an extended visit with her son and daughter-in-law, the Robert Fredricks, 408 S. Carlyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stahnke, 110 S. Brighton, entertained Saturday for Mr. and Mrs. Donald Engelson, newcomers to Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lonergan, 1002 Mayfair, are grandparents of a baby girl born May 2 in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, to their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sarish of Rolling Meadows. The baby, named Patricia Marie, is the fifth child of the Sarishes.

The Lonergans' son, Tim, who is stationed with the navy at Oceana Beach, Va., arrived home Friday for a 10-day leave. He recently was promoted to third class Petty officer.

MRS. W. A. MILES, with her arm still encased in a cast as the result of a fall, recently flew to Washington D. C. for a 2-week visit with her daughter, Betty, while her son-in-law, Col. Fred Durni was in Japan.

Mrs. Miles' timely visit to the east gave her the pleasure of enjoying two spring seasons. Her arrival in Washington D. C. coincided with the arrival of spring with every tree and shrub in blossom, and the same scene greeted her two weeks later as she arrived home to a late midwest spring.

Jay A. Wetherall, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wetherall, 407 S. Lincoln, was confirmed Sunday in St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights. Afterwards, the Wetheralls, Jay and his brother, Jack, joined a group of friends for dinner at Simonini's in Algonquin.

The Wetherall family will be leaving Arlington Heights for their new home in Denver the latter part of the month.

Sympathies of neighbors are extended to two Arlington Heights families this week in the death of their mothers.

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Right now you are probably unconsciously identifying the cartoons on this page. And as your mental list of different types of people adds up, you are giving yourself the reason why Family Want Ads in this newspaper perform such a vital community service.

Fashion model, grandmother, construction worker, secretary, teenager and farmer . . . all are people who many times in the course of their lives find occasion to benefit from the Family Want Ads.

Aptly called "The People's Market Place," the Want Ads are not just for your neighbor, or for the people caricatured here . . . they are for you too!

If you are not a Want Ad reader, you have yet to learn how interesting they are. And if you have never advertised in a Family Want Ad, you have yet to learn how amazingly fast they bring results. Join thousands of your neighbors and get the Family Want Ad habit. Want Ads are for everybody, and that includes you!

Another good reason for Confidence in a growing America

YOUR FUTURE RIDES HIGH ON THIS CURVE!

If you're uncertain about what lies ahead, take a good look at the white line. It represents America's past production rate and economists' estimates of future production, with the peaks and valleys smoothed out. Over the long pull the curve keeps rising.

In fact, American production more than doubles every 20 years.

You can expect even faster growth during the Sixties. Because at the present rate, the $12 billion a year we're spending on research and development may well reach $22 billion by 1971. The outpouring of new products and processes will be in proportion. Research is the fountainhead of progress. Ready now are such innovations as foods preserved by radiation, cleaning with sound waves, machines that can translate foreign languages, and solid radio sets without wires. And many more are on the way.

Judging by past experience, two million more businesses will be established to make and distribute our growing production during the next 25 years. Whole industries will emerge to turn out the new products that are coming from the laboratories. America has a brilliant future but to realize it fully, we must all work together for the common good.

GET READY FOR AN UPSWING!

MORE RESEARCH—We're now spending $12 billion a year—and that's expected to double during the Sixties!

MORE INCOME—Today's $6500 average per family represents an all-time high!

MORE JOBS—Despite unemployment, there are 15 million more jobs than in 1939—will be 22 million more by 1975!

MORE EDUCATION—By 1970 we'll have 20 million more high school graduates than today, and 3 million more college graduates. They'll earn more, live better!

MORE LEISURE—40 million Americans get paid vacations, and there are 16 million people over 65, many of them with retirement income to spend!

MORE MARKETS—U.S. exports, plus output of U.S.-owned plants overseas, already account for over $50 billion in sales!

MORE NEEDS—Schools, hospitals, highways, homes—we need billions in improvements right now, and the need keeps growing!

Vandals Prove Costly to Taxpayers

Schools Are Prime Target

by JOHN REDDY

Vandals, a sign of our times, are getting many of their kicks at the taxpayers' expense. And once tranquil suburbs are beginning to experience incidents formerly identified with city slums.

While homes often are targets for destructive intruders, schools and other public buildings in many cases appear more attractive.

It is figuratively impossible to compile what it cost the average taxpayer for losses due to vandalism. However police and insurance experts indicate the rate is rising—slowly in some areas, more quickly in others.

Frank P. Sesterhenn, of Underwriters Insurance service, Chicago, a firm representing accounts throughout the Midwest, said the number of vandalism claims has increased. Although Sesterhenn said no detailed survey is separately maintained for incidents of vandalism at schools, there are indications that rate is increasing.

MOST INSURANCE policies covering loss in schools as a result of vandalism now have deductible clauses, which, while permitting school boards to select insurance with relatively nominal rates, does not compensate for minor acts of vandalism.

Biggest items turned in to insurance adjusters by school authorities are claims resulting from attempted breakins and burglaries. Willful destruction appears to be a by-product when amateur burglars find nothing of value to haul away.

School officials in northwest suburban areas say they have received excellent cooperation from police. But in a number of cases there just is not a force large enough to provide the necessary surveillance needed to discourage vandals.

Schools hardest hit by vandals are situated in unincorporated areas not under the protection of village police patrols.

THIS IS THE CASE in Elk Grove school district 59, according to business manager Gene Waite. Breakins and minor incidents caused an estimated $2,500 in the past year, with most damage resulting from breakin efforts. On one occasion, Waite noted, it cost nearly $1,000 to replace locks broken when vandals entered the Dempster Junior high school.

Authorities speculate most school burglaries and incidents of vandalism are the work of idle young toughs. More is ruined than could be stolen, they say. Anybody wanting to take something of value wouldn't be breaking into schools.

In many cases, police have proved a single gang of five or six young people have been responsible for a rash of incidents. Unfortunately, many innocent persons are often tacitly accused by community residents.

EVEN THOUGH some suburban areas report their schools are being harder hit by vandals, others indicate willful destruction is not a problem in their districts.

L. E. Murphy, superintendent of Mount Prospect school district 57, said "I don't recall when we ever submitted a claim for stealing or vandalism." Murphy has been affiliated with the district for 13 years. Asked why he thought there have been few if any incidents, Murphy opined that there is an enriched recreational program by the park and other recreational organizations to occupy young people's time.

"In our case," Murphy added, "I feel the police departments are very effective in discouraging this type of thing."

Glass breakage, school officials agree, is a problem every school encounters sooner or later. But it comes in rashes, resulting in more costly repairs for some schools, less in others. Glass breakage is not covered by insurance.

Kenneth Gill, superintendent of Wheeling school district said last year about $900 in window glass was broken after school, mostly by rocks. This year, Gill compared, "we are down to about $135."

OTHER THAN glass, Gill reported, "I'm happy to say we've suffered very little damage to the buildings themselves." Last year, Gill pointed out, some buildings were partially constructed and there wasn't much landscaping."

Gill contends children now appear to have more respect for school property and suggested that completed beautification of school grounds has played a large part in generating this attitude. Another reason for the relatively low rate of vandalism, Gill speculated, is that majority of school children in the district are from young families and not yet in their teens.

Police Chief Donald Foxworthy, Palatine, where the population has more than doubled in ten years, said he believes incidents of vandalism "definitely increases in proportion to increase in population." Foxworthy noted that a most recent breakin represents the single case where vandals who broke into village schools have not been apprehended.

G. A. McELROY, superintendent of Palatine high school district 211 stated he thought a contributing factor to the increase in the frequency of vandalous acts is the contemporary economic situation. "Parents as well as children have more money. It's easy to buy and easy to replace. There's no question that there is a lessening in respect for property."

McElroy indicated incidents of vandalism in the Palatine school is partially a reflection of the growth of the community from rural to urban status.

Many residents believe schools should do more to protect themselves. Waite, of the Elk Grove district, pointed out schools can hire a watchman, install a burglar alarm or erect floodlights to assist surveillance of patroling police.

HE POINTED OUT, however, that most schools cannot use money for these relatively expensive items. Most districts are faced with a period of growth that is creating demands for money to be spent on new buildings and additional teachers.

Waite said he thought residents living near schools could do more to assist police by being more alert to night activities around the school. "That could be our biggest stop-gap measure," he declared. "If a person sees something suspicious at school, a call to police would be well worth it."

Insurance companies already have recognized the increase in vandalism at schools by creating a public institution policy with the $100 deductible clause. Most districts in the northwest suburban area indicate vandalism losses are below what they pay in premiums on insurance. A few report their claims are higher than premiums paid.

'WAY BACK WHEN'

Compiled by Mrs. G. Rex Volz Phone CLearbrook 5-9078

60 Years Ago—May 25, 1901

SCHAUMBURG

Christ Fasse is now located at the home of his birth. He has moved over to the old place. Nine teams joined in the procession with a drove of cows at rail end. Louis Menke and force of eight men beat the record in Schaumburg by raising Herman Busche's new barn, 36x70x26, frame complete, in 2¾ hours; high roof and two sets of rafters all in place. They began at 2 p.m. Wednesday and had it all done before sundown. About fifty neighbors came to help see and enjoy the fun. It is a large barn, 44 ft. to the ridge, has 144 rafters and required 500 pins to fasten it together.' The building was raised with pike-poles, without ropes or tackle. It stands on a high hill that commands a good view of the surrounding country. A new house, 24x44x20, also adorns the site and will make a pleasant home for the newly wedded couple.

ROSELLE

There is no more feasible money-making project than a north and south electric railroad, connecting the coal fields on the south with the lakes and ice fields on the north. Every inch of a road from Morris, through Plainfield, Naperville, Wheaton, Bloomingdale, Roselle, Schaumburg, Palatine, Quentin Corners, Lake Zurich, Wauconda and Volo to Fox Lake, would pay well, hauling mail, express, freight and passengers. Such a line could make traffic arrangements with all railroads leading west from Chicago; could compete with all, and yet have no opposition. The cars could stop at any crossing, and still make satisfactory time.,

Miss Louise Beigel and Wm. Niemann of Arlington Heights were married at the residence of H. C. Hitzemann Saturday evening, May 18, 1901, Rev. Droegemueller officiating. The couple will take up residence at Arlington Heights.

The announcement of the special conference collection was overlooked last Sunday, so come prepared this Sunday, Rev. J. C. Hoffmeister.

Wouldn't brick or asphalt make better street crossings and not cost any more than stone?

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Rev. Edward N. Barrett, D.D., a teacher in Dunton Academy, Dunton, Ill., (known now as Arlington Heights) in 1866 and 1867, died in Iowa City, May 8, 1901. On leaving Dunton he entered the Chicago Theological Seminary, from which institution he graduated in 1870. He had served in the 137th Illinois infantry during the Civil War and was closely identified with the Grand Army of the Republic. He was buried in the Arlington Heights cemetery, Saturday May 11, 1901.

EDITORIAL MUSINGS

H. E. Quindel has subdivided the 30 acre tract he bought from Fred Nerge of Schaumburg Center and is building a mammoth hotel in anticipation of the new North and South Electirc railway to be built connecting the lakes of Northern Illinois with the coal fields in the central part of the state. This road will be welcomed by all steam roads as a connecting link to carry freight, passengers, milk, mail and express to all interior points.

The People's State Bank of Arlington Heights is an assured fact. The 250 shares of stock at $100 a share sold at par like hot cakes among 57 subscribers. First stockholders meeting was Saturday, May 20, and they were informed that an option had been taken on the Union Hotel property at $9,050, and the new bank will probably open for business early this fall in a new brick building on the site occupied by the White's barber shop.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The President and Board of Trustees of the village have ordered the construction of a connected system of sewers in State Road, Euclid Avenue, and other streets and avenues in the village. Lorenz Traub was the officer appointed to spread the levy.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Renata Hattendorf and Wm. Fenz Sunday May 28.

Until Sept. 3, the Geo. E. Franzen Roller Mills run only the, last three days of the week.

PALATINE

After three preliminary meetings the Cook County Fair is started. A permanent organization was effected at an enthusiastic meeting at Palatine, Friday evening, May 20, and officers chosen for the coming year. Dr. J. W. Gorsline, Palatine, president; Herman Schwake, Elk Grove, vice-president; L. T Ross, Palatine, secretary; C. E. Conrad, Palatine, treasurer.

Let's give folks a good outing, their money's worth, by showing them the largest herd of accredited dairy cattle in the state, the highest producing cow, and some more of the "best ever" that the county possesses. Let's bring a few of the onion sets, of which the county produces 90 per cent of all grown in the United States, some of the millions bushels of potatoes produced annually, and all of the pig club pigs that the Cook County boys and girls are raising. (Adviser Louis Heller in the May issue of the Cook County Farm Bureau News.)

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

CACHINNATION; loud or immoderate laughter, as of a hysterical person. (Pronounce cack-i-nay-shun, accent third syllable). "Strange cachinnation from the adjoining room startled me."

SACROSANCT; most sacred; inviolable (often ironical). Pronounce sack-roe-sangkt, accent first syllable). "We soon found that these men in power were no more sacrosanct than the people they ruled."

APOLOGUE; a fictitious story intended to convey some moral truth. "Aesop's fables are good examples of apologues."

RIFE; prevalent, common; numerous; current; widespread. "The countryside is rife with gossip." (A-14

Area Motorists Lose Privileges

Of the 186 revoations and 973 suspensions of drivers licenses in the state of Illinois, three licenses of area motorists were revoked and 16 were suspended. In addition, 14 drivers received probationary permits, according to the records of Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier.

Revoked was the restricted driving permit of George Cutting, 104 State rd., Arlington Heights; the license of Julian J. Domek, 403 N. Vail, Arlington Heights because of three violations; and for driving while intoxicated, the license of Harry Krippes, R 3, Box 344, Palatine.

SUSPENDED for three violations were the licenses of Arlington Heights residents Denny F. Warnock, 721 N. Beverly; Earl F. Weseman, 1107 N. Mitchell; Paul Peale, 829 N. Belmont; Pedro G. Perez, 528 E. Dundee rd.; and Frank W. Bauer, 2803 Grouse lane.

Also suspended for three violations were licenses of Edmund H. Becker, 1100 Wilke rd., John A. Bichl, 114 S. Ashland; Vernon R. Rairie, Box 274 Rand, and Jack N. Nielsen, 620 Franklin rd., all of Palatine; Nick Menola, 627 Edwards and Robert M. Mayers, 1708 Estates dr., both of Mt. Prospect; and John J. McFall, 3306 Pheasant, Rolling Meadows.

The licenses of Donald L. Blair, R. R. 2, Higgins, Bensenville; Charles A. Matthies, 5N473 Central, Itasca; Daniel J. Pearson, 325 Pleasant st., Hoffman Estates; and Paul F. Vombrack, 230 Pearl st., Roselle, were also suspended because of three violations.

PROBATIONARY permits were issued to Raymond E. Walbaum, 115 S. Mitchell ave., and Eldon C. Robson, 927 N. Chicago ave., both of Arlington Heights; Palatine residents Richard C. Lepley, R. R. 3, Box 237, Ross J. Paterson, 361 N. Ela rd., James R. Dickinson, 272 E. Kirchoff rd., and Richard F. Wegrzyn, Box 343 R. R. 3; and Mt. Prospect residents Walter S. Swiatowy, 139 Hill st., Dennis H. Hahn, 118 S. Louis st., and Bruce E. Lynam, 509 William.

Also receiving probationary permits were Kenneth J. Milowski, 340 Pleasant st., Hoffman Estates; Kenneth E. Neilsen, 209 E. Pine st., Bensenville; and Addison residents Sterling N. Augustine, 409 Stone st., General P. Fields, 547 Byron, and Robert C. Lunetto, 229 E. Diversey.

Suzy Bowdle, 1124 N. Beverly lane, was among the group of high school seniors who attended the Youth For Christ outing last Friday and Saturday. The affair began with a banquet at George Diamond's in Antioch, after which the group travelled to a nearby camp. There early breakfast began the day of outdoor fun, including boating, hiking and games.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bowdle became grandparents May 10 when Shirley Elizabeth was born in MacNeal hospital, Berwyn, to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd K. Johnson of Cicero. Mrs. Johnson is the former Marjorie Bowdle.

Mrs. Ray Thorsen, 661 E. Clarendon, was joined by Mrs. Leonard Weidner for a 3-day trip to Springfield last week. The group, numbering nearly a hundred, were invited to tea Monday afternoon at the Executive Mansion hosted by Governor and Mrs. Otto Kerner. The Governor also addressed the group at a dinner in the St. Nicholas hotel Monday evening. Tuesday they visited in the State Capitol while the State Legislature was in session. Before returning home they visited Lincoln's home and Lincoln's tomb.

MR. AND MRS. Melvin Shepherd, 1145 N. Douglas, ended an 8-day vacation with the flight home last Tuesday. They enjoyed a week of sunning and relaxing in North Miami Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Gale Duxbury and son, John, 1116 N. Pine ct., returned home last Tuesday from a 4-day motor trip to Kansas. They visited the senior Duxburys, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. at LaCygne and grandmothers, Mrs. C. Jaqueline Andrea and Mrs. Russell King, in nearby Kansas City. It was a get acquainted trip for 5-month-old John, recently adopted son of the Duxburys.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Brown, 1146 N. Dryden, last week were Alexander Brown of Roslyn Heights, L. I., who motored to the midwest to visit relatives. They left Sunday for the return trip home.

The John Mundell family, 1123 N. Beverly lane, spent last weekend in Arcadia, Ind., where they visited grandmothers, Mrs. Lulu Mundell and Mrs. Luella Hiller. Mr. and Mrs. Mundell attended their 25th high school reunion Saturday evening and enjoyed reminiscing with former schoolmates.

Mrs. Don Schreiner, 1156 N. Beverly lane, hosted a luncheon given for her neighbor, Mrs. Henry Haskell, last Thursday. Guests were Mrs. George Roby, Mrs. Gordon Baer and Mrs. John Mundell. The Haskells, who made their home at 1145 N. Hickory for the past six months, will move to their new home in Glenview this weekend.

Another family to be moving from the Greens this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roane. They lived at 1152 N. Beverly lane for more than five years. They will make their home in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, where Mr. Roane, a chief in the preventive medicine branch of the navy, has been transferred. He was formerly stationed at Glenview.

NEW RESIDENTS in the Greens are Wesley and Martha Spitler, who moved into their new home at 1164 N. Beverly last Thursday from Elgin. Mr. Spitler is employed by Henneberry Roto-Gravure Service company in Chicago.

Peggy Lockhart, 606 E. Clarendon, celebrated her seventh birthday last Saturday at a luncheon party in her home. Tiny ballet figures dancing atop the birthday cake delighted her guests, Denise Braun, Carol Walsh, Kristine Rongner, Jeanne Kargol, Carra Hood and Peggy's sister, Mary.

Donald Miller, 1218 N. Hickory, was among the 70 young people in the first communion and confirmation class at St. Peter Lutheran church Sunday afternoon. A dinner in the Miller home honoring the occasion was attended by 28 relatives and friends from the nearby suburbs and Milwaukee. Among them were Rev. Sigbert W. Becker and his family. Rev. Becker is a teacher at Concordia college in River Forest. Brother Bill shared in the festivities, observing his 18th birthday.

Sunday was also confirmation day for David Bartlett, 1217 N. Hickory. David served as acolyte during the 8 o'clock service and joined the class of 25 confirmed in the next service in Our Saviour Lutheran church. Observing his 14th birthday the same day, David celebrated the occasions at a family dinner party and an afternoon fishing trip.

William Evans Jr., 1150 N. Hickory, was initiated into Delta Sigma Pi, an honorary fraternity at a banquet Sunday at the University of Cincinnati.

Main Street U.S.A. shows its mettle!

The community spirit throughout America helps build security for millions through U. S. Savings Bonds.

When the Savings Bond Program began in 1941, your community was presented with a great new opportunity to show the stuff it's made of.

The way your community and thousands of other American communities rose to the occasion is one of the bright spots in our Nation's history.

The volunteers take over

People in civic, fraternal, service and veterans' groups stepped into leadership roles, organized Bond drives, sold Bonds to their neighbors and bought Bonds themselves.

The tremendous savings plan that resulted has helped people buy $78 billion worth of new homes, new businesses, college degrees and retirement funds. And Americans still own $43 billion in Savings Bonds—a huge chunk of security which grows bigger each year.

Security: national and personal

Just as in 1941, every Savings Bond you buy is a share in a stronger America. As a personal investment, U.S. Savings Bonds are absolutely riskless. Uncle Sam guarantees that your Bonds will grow, that you can get your money anytime you need it, and that your Bonds will be replaced if stolen or destroyed.

You can buy Savings Bonds where you bank, or on the "installment plan" where you work. Why not look into it today?

"A community grows on its savings—and its volunteer workers," says Art Linkletter, famous friend of the Bond Program.

"America's communities, big and small, have gotten behind the Savings Bond Program 100%. Every one of us owes a vote of thanks to the community organizations and other volunteer groups whose unselfish efforts have helped so many Americans build soundly for the future."

Books Available On National Parks

It is estimated that more than one out of every three persons in the United States will visit some part of our national park system during 1961.

To meet the need for information about these parks, the Arlington Heights Memorial library has available for circulation many books which include data on location, size, history, points of interest in each park, etc.

One of the newest accounts of the national parks is Irving Melbo's revised two-volume edition of "Our Country's National Parks." The well-illustrated guide not only gives a description of each of the national parks, but also provides important historical, factual, and scientific information.

ANOTHER excellent guide is Nelson Keyes' "America's National Parks" which covers 29 national parks of both the United States and Canada. Facts are included about the history of each park and information is given about accessibility and accommodations available to visitors.

Other books which provide information and background include: "America's National Monuments and Historic Sites" by Edward J. Long, a guide in pictures and text to our magnificent natural and historic treasures; "National Parks: What They Mean to You and Me," by Freeman Tilden: "America's Wonderlands," edited by the National Geographic Society, etc.

MARGARET MERRILL in "Bears In My Kitchen" describes her life in Yosemite National park as the wife of a U. S. forest ranger.

Another useful book — George Well's "The Handbook of Auto Camping, and Motorist's Guide to Public Campgrounds" lists nearly 4,000 camping areas in national parks and other recreation spots. "The Family Camping Directory — 1960-61 edition" gives information on camping areas throughout the country. (A

Young Writers Win Prizes for Essays

The Arlington Market Mothers' Day contest turned the village into a veritable writers' colony from May 4 until May 13. At least, that was true of the children in Arlington Heights.

There were two sets of prizes, one for the literary efforts of children 8 years old and younger, the other for youngsters from 9 to 12 years. The subject was "Why I Like My Mom," and the two first prizes were $50 U.S. savings bonds.

In addition, there were 32 merchandise and gift certificate prizes, all given by the Arlington Market merchants to help encourage a little respect and affection for the maternal parents.

THE WINNER in the 8-year and under class was Jeanne Combs, 8, of 909 Chestnut ave., Arlington Heights.

The 9-12 first prize was by David Smalenberger, 12, of 2111 S. Arlington Heights rd., Arlington Heights.

JACQUELYN Novak, Ruth Hawthorne, Eve Lacker, Jill Schaeffer, Peter Glatz, Dean Evenson, Susan Thorstad, Rick Whitfield, Kim Dowling, Michael Cooper, Michaela Miller, Michael Cliffone, Janis Pauly and Janet Lunkos, all of Arlington Heights; Nancy Le Beau and Chris Feiereisel, of Rolling Meadows, and Harold Klapp Jr., of Palatine.

Parade, Ceremonies Planned For Arlington Memorial Day

An outstanding array of community organizations and officials will participate in Memorial day ceremonies in Arlington Heights Tuesday, May 30.

A parade composed of 32 units will step off from Dunton and South sts. at 9:30 a.m., proceeding to Memorial park, Chestnut st. and Northwest hwy., for ceremonies at 10:30 a.m.

Following Memorial park ceremonies, marchers will proceed to the war memorial in Memory Gardens cemetery, to Arlington Heights cemetery and to the Merle Guild grave for further ceremonies.

GRAND MARSHAL of the parade will be Dan W. Helt, 79, a veteran of the Spanish-American war who served with the marines.

Distinguished guests will include Lt. Col. Edward Mills, USAF-R; Captain Mike Drewes, USA retired; Major E. B. Holtz, 45th Artillery brigade; Major Victor J. Bechtel, 45th Artillery military coordinator; Major Charles W. Hoffman, 755 Radar squad commander; H. W. Baumer, Captain, USN retired, and Commander W. B. Daughtry, USN-R.

Also, Lt. Cmdr. J. Millay Jr., USN-R; Lt. (jg) B. A. Maloney, USN-R; Lt. Col. Miles J. Petione, USMC-R, 9th Infantry battalion commander; Father Adelbert Mayr, OES, Vitorate Novitiate; John Woods, village president, Harvey Carother, fire chief; L. W. Calderwood, police chief; Mathias J. Harford, DAV, and others.

At the 10:30 a.m. ceremonies, Rev. R. O. Bartz of St. Peter Lutheran church will give the invocation. Mary Ann Laseke, vocalist, and a Navy band will lead singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

ARLINGTON Heights VFW post 981 will then present the post's Citizens Citation to Thelma Carroll, Arlington Heights public nurse, and American Legion Commander D. J. Wheeler will read general orders.

Address of the day will be given by Lt. Col. Albert Bagot, commander of the 6th Missile battalion. VFW Commander Wallace Luettschwager will read the honor roll and wreaths will be placed by Shirley McDougall, VFW Auxiliary president; A. D. Reeves, Lions club president, and Robert Compton, Jaycee president.

A salute to the dead and taps will be followed by the benediction by Rev. Bartz.

ORDER OF march in the parade will be as follows:

Distinguished guests, VFW firing squad, 45th Artillery brigade drum and bugle corps, VFW Auxiliary, 45th Artillery brigade troops, 755 Radar squadron, Navy color guard, Navy Recruit band, Navy drill team, 9th Infantry battalion of USM-R, Marine Corps league, Calvin high school ROTC, Merle Guild American Legion post 208 and American Legion Auxiliary.

And Rebels drum and bugle corps, school children, citizens, Blue Birds, visitors, Arlington Heights Jaycee float and Tot and Teen entertainers of Dolores Eiler school of dancing.

Honored Memorial Day will be three northwest suburban veterans of the Revolutionary War, Walter Kennicott, Aaron Miner and Eli Skinner. Some 300 other veterans of ensuing wars will also be specially honored.

ALL PARADE marchers are asked to assemble at South school at 9 a.m. Senior Marshals for the parade will be William Milligan, William Waver, Edward Zaker, Don Reschke, P. M. Brogard, Robert Larson, Robert Pina and R. Englebrettson.

The Memorial Day program is being sponsored by Arlington Heights Veterans of Foreign Wars post 981. (A

Banquet to Honor 1961 Confirmands

The 1961 confirmation class of Our Savior Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will be honored with a banquet given by the Senior Luther league at 6 p.m., May 28 in the church. Mrs. Karl Thomas is chairman of the committee making arrangements for the group sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Vern Heim.

The confirmation class was received into the church at the 11 a.m. service Sunday, May 21, with Rev. John P. Petersen officiating.

Trustees Vote Zoning Change

Arlington Heights trustees concurred with a recommendation of the plan commission Monday in rezoning from residential to business a lot adjacent to the Standard service station at State and Central rds.

Victor Konieczski, owner of the lot, told trustees he intends to construct a building which will house a delicatessen in the front and medical quarters in the rear.

Local Jaycee Elected As National Director

At the annual state convention of the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce, held last weekend in Springfield, Briard B. Strout, a member of the Arlington Heights Jaycee chapter, was elected to the office of national director of the Illinois organization.

Eight directors are elected at each convention, for one-year terms, and, with the state president, are the Jaycee state board of directors, a Jaycee spokesman explained.

They are given internal state assignments and act in liaison capacities to the national Jaycee organization.

STROUT is the first national director to come from the local chapter. He joined the Jaycees in 1958 and has been active in local, district and state affairs ever since.

BRIARD B. STROUT

He has served as committee member and chairman for numerous local activities and was internal vice-president in 1959-1960. He was named as outstanding SPOKE winner of the chapter and placed second in last year's state SPOKE competition.

This year, Strout is serving Arlington Heights as state director, and was also appointed co-chairman of the extension-retention program for the Illinois Jaycees.

In this latter capacity, he developed a uniquely successful chapter formation program and has traveled extensively in its promotion and execution.

In October, 1960, he accepted still another Jaycee responsibility by being elected state vice president for District 11, consisting of Lake county and Cook county outside of Chicago. As State Vice President he has carried out an active program of visits to local chapters.

STROUT LIVES at 537 S. Mitchell with his wife and two children. He is employed as office manager and construction supervisor by Peter Johnson and Son, general contractors, Park Ridge.

Assisting in Strout's campaign was Glenn Carlson, who gave the Arlington Heights chapter the honor this year of having as members two state vice presidents.

Other chapter members attending the convention as supporters of Strout were Don Sweeney, Frank Precilio, Jim Pinney, Frank Kams and Paul Kearney. (A

Zoning Ordinance Faces Tough Test

Arlington Heights comprehensive zoning ordinance is currently undergoing one of the toughest tests of its short life.

Adopted by the board of trustees in 1959, the ordinance provides that residential building lots have minimum frontage widths of 70 feet. A 50-foot lot at 634 S. Newbury pl. in the Scarsdale subdivision is providing the test.

Herman Schwinge of Herman Builders, owner of the lot, wants to build a house on it. Building Commissioner Harold Best has refused to issue a building permit because of the sub-standard frontage.

SCHWINGE is appealing to the zoning board of appeals for a variation. Also appealing to the board are residents of the 600 block on Newbury, who allege the ordinance prohibits construction on the lot.

Historywise, the lots at 634 and 630 S. Newbury have been held in common ownership as a 100-foot property since 1945. Recent sale of the property found the former owner ridding himself of the parcel in two 50-foot chunks.

Builder Schwinge claims he has a legal and constitutional right to make use of his land. Neighbors say the intent of the ordinance is to "protect the character of established neighborhoods" by upholding standards set by precedent.

In a meeting Monday, the zoning board passed a resolution to hold in abeyance a decision of May 15 to issue Schwinge a building permit. Village Attorney Stephen Jurco will present a legal opinion at a hearing called for 8 p.m. Wednesday, June 21, in the north side fire station.

RICHARD C. Blaisdell, 638 S. Newbury, said Tuesday that he is "ready, willing and able to purchase the 'splitoff' lot from the builder for a reasonable price." He and his neighbors want to keep the lot vacant, thus preserving its landscaped complexion.

Joseph Kerner, 630 S. Newbury, also has expressed willingness to enter into a purchase agreement.

Builder Schwinge said May 5: "I might be willing to sell the lot. But I have not heard a reasonable offer yet."

INCORRUPTIBLE; incapable of being bribed or morally corrupted. "A truly great man is incorruptible."

Date Back to 1929

Old Assessment Bonds Redeemed by Village

Arlington Heights has successfully redeemed 142 special assessment bonds dating back to 1929, it was announced this week by Thomas A. DeRiemer, village finance officer.

Issued to permit the village to acquire the major portion of the sewage system existing today, the bonds were once valued at $131,500 plus interest, DeRiemer pointed out.

He said the bonds were surrendered to the village Thursday by Sunswick Corp., a New York investment firm, for $16,045 or 12 per cent of their original value.

IN EXPLAINING the background of the bonds, Village Treasurer Raymond Dietrich said the special assessment project improving the sewer system was the largest special assessment project ever undertaken in the village.

The depression caused owners of assessed properties to default in their payments, the bonds thus depreciating through a long series of foreclosure suits and other legal action.

Because property owners defaulted, the special assessment fund, for which the village acts as trustee, likewise became delinquent in redeeming the bonds, Dietrich noted.

UNABLE TO PAY 100 per cent on the dollar, redemption of the old bonds stopped and the accounts became dormant for more than 20 years.

"The New York firm holding the bonds recognized the merits of the present village claim that the bonds should be redeemed as rapidly as possible," DeRiemer said.

Last week's transaction, largest of its kind in village history, removed the special assessment fund liability for over 25 per cent of the special assessment bonds dating prior to the depression.

"Satisfaction with which Sunswick surrendered its holdings gives substantial support to the current program to redeem all outstanding bonds which became delinquent during the depression," Dietrich advised.

Some 200 such bonds have been redeemed by the village in the past six months.

BOTH DeRIEMER and Dietrich said the village stands ready to redeem all outstanding bonds issued for warrants originating prior to the depression.

The problem, they say, is in locating holders of the bonds.

Redemption will be on the pro-rata amount of the cash available as a percentage of the bond value after foreclosure losses, the village officials said.

Bond holders may be advised as to the value of their securities by contacting the village treasurer.

30 Appointments Are Approved by Council

More than 30 appointments were made by Mayor John J. Woods and confirmed by Rolling Meadows city council Tuesday night with scarcely a hitch.

Only for a few brief moments was there any threat of a repetition of the session two weeks ago when committee appointments threw the council into an uproar.

SOME JUGGLING and diplomacy by Mayor Woods resulted in the confirmation of Dale Fischer as chairman of the finance and purchasing committee, and James Watson and John Mackin members.

Al Piekarski was named to the licensing committee, Leroy Enger replaces Mackin on the streets, alleys and utilities committee, and Tom Waldron takes the spot on the municipal building committee deserted by Roland Meyer.

Meyer asked replacement as chairman of the personal advisory committee, also, and Mayor Woods informed the council that unless he receives an offer from one of the aldermen within a month he will disband the committee as a function of the city council and appoint a three-member citizens' committee.

He needs a replacement for Watson as liaison with the schools. In accepting the finance committee spot, Watson asked to be relieved of the school job as well as his appointment as a member of the library board.

GEORGE HAMM has agreed to remain on the library board, a post he held while alderman.

The excitement came when William Stegeman was proposed for a new three-year term on the board of fire and police commissioners. A second proposal by Mayor Woods named him chairman of the board.

Ald. Steve Eberhard raised the question whether Stegeman's political activities in the Democratic party precluded his appointment under rules and regulations set up by the commission itself.

Attorney James Mackin said he construed the rules as applying to appointees of the commission, not to the commission itself.

IT WAS A tie vote, with Mayor Woods casting the deciding "aye" in favor of his candidate.

Just before adjournment, Ald. Phil Prete asked for reconsideration and read aloud a newspaper article announcing Stegeman's appointment as Democratic "organizer" in Rolling Meadows. Prete said he was not convinced this violated the rules, and with his own conscience cleared voted against the reconsideration.

Kenneth Erickson was unanimously voted a new term on the commission.

There was some hesitation when Bill Hickey was renamed chairman of the special advisory committee, with Ald. Ed Potaniec suggesting rotation of chairmen might whet interest of committee members. Again there was a tie vote, with the Mayor deciding the issue in favor of his man.

OTHERS NAMED to the special advisory committee are John Connor, Bi White, Robert Campbell and a new man, Donald Rose, unsuccessful aldermanic candidate in the spring election.

John Rafferty was re-named chairman of the zoning board of appeals, and James Radcliff has a new term as a member. Resignation of George Kitterman was accepted with regret, and he will be replaced by Joseph Nagel.

Donald Winn and James Stahlhut were reappointed to the plan commission.

A two-year term for Robert Schultz on the police pension board was confirmed.

NAMED TO the new city manager committee were ex-alderman Robert Sales, and William Abraham, an aldermanic hopeful this spring.

Safety council members will be Alvin Haase, Thomas Baranski, and Orville Rumrey.

Mrs. Peter Keller will be replaced on the library board by Mrs. Louis Macior.

Appointment of city officials is under consideration, Mayor Woods commented, urging new councilmen to become acquainted with these key people and the services they perform. (KF

Camp Outing Top Prize for Clubs

An outing at Camp Awana, Fredonia, Wis., this Saturday is the prize for which members of the Guards group of Awana Girls clubs in Rolling Meadows have been vying.

Contest points have been earned by club attendance, dues, wearing uniform, bringing new members and by working on rank tests. As the contest progressed, the top ten were identified with women who have been prominent in the news during this year, Jackie Kennedy, "Lady Bird" Johnson, Mamie Eisenhower, Pat Nixon, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, Eleanor Roosevelt, Nancy Ann Fleming, Queen Elizabeth of England, Queen Frederika of Greece and Princess Michiko of Japan.

WHN FINAL points are added up this week, the ten winners will be announced. Besides the outing Saturday, the first five will choose from an additional group of prizes, including $10 toward summer camp, overnight case, flash camera outfit, Awana sweatshirt and Guard hat, autograph hound.

Both Guards, some 30 sixth, seventh and eighth graders, and Chums, about 60 younger girls, will wind up the year with a picnic May 29. The 18 adult leaders will meet the girls at 6:30 p.m. at Salk school, and take them to Elk Grove woods for baseball and games, to be followed by a cook-out. (K

Hors de combat. Pronounce ore-deh-kawn-baw, princip a l accent on last syllable.

Quorum. Pronounce the "o" as in "no," not as in "on."

Dumas (famous French writer). Pronounce dyu-maw, accent on second syllable.

THE ROARING 20s as interpreted by a group of Rolling Meadows girls was a featured number of the Crusaders club talent show Monday night. Linda Sutter and Mary DePalma took the male roles, as Nancy Nolan, Janice DeStefano and Pamela Bailey Charlestoned. (K

St. Colette's CYO Celebrates

A party at the Paladium in Glenview climaxed a week-long membership drive by St. Colette CYO.

A large group of Rolling Meadows teens skated and danced Sunday evening at the sports palace.

Board members met at the home of Mike O'Connell, president, Monday evening to discuss plans for a picnic to be held in Deer Grove June 4.

The CYO group will receive communion at the 9 a.m. mass May 28. (K

Police Exams Set June 17

Candidates for Rolling Meadows police force will be given written examinations at 1:30 p.m. June 17 at Salk school, the board of fire and police commissioner has announced.

Applicants must pick up forms in person at the city hall between 7 and 8:30 p.m. the evenings of June 5, 6 or 7. Military discharge papers and birth certificate should be presented, and applicants will be checked for weight, height and vision. Any who do not meet requirements will be rejected immediately. (KF

Backstop Bids To Be Opened

When bids on installation of four baseball backstops were not ready last week, Rolling Meadows park commissioners called a special meeting for tonight, May 25, to consider the figures.

Larry Packard,park planner, was instructed the figures must be available for action tonight if the backstops are to be up when the baseball season opens next month.

The commissioners expect to arrive at another important decision tonight—selection of an engineer to design the swimming pool. They interviewed additional candidates last week.

Miniature Circus Set For Golf-Mill Center

"The biggest miniature circus in the world" will be held at the Golf-Mill shopping center Monday through Saturday, June 5 to 10.

It's the Ernie's Circus that has been on 189 television shows and was featured at the Brussels World Fair in 1958. Tickets are not needed, the show is free.

The 50,000 replica of the entire Ringling Bros. circus has 5,000 animals, 5,000 carved little figures, 30 tents, 2,000 circus performers. They're all carved of wood and built at a scale of one-half inch to the foot.

FAMOUS STARS of Ringling's Circus—including the favorite clown Emmett Kelly—are the life-like performers in this fairyland of tiny figures moved by 20 motors. The circus tents, the music and the lights give this circus delightful realism.

The moving parts of the circus also include a half dozen circus wagons which move about the miniature grounds as if in a parade. Six railroad cars on a track siding and four bulldozers outside the Big Top add to the realism of the scale-model show.

All 50,000 pieces have been carved by its creator, Ernie Palmquist, and costumed by his wife, Virginia. The circus features moving acts and animals, spectators, roustabouts, cooks and animal handlers.

ERNIE, A former musician and bandleader, composed the once-popular song, "The Music Goes Round and Round." Like all kids, Ernie was a circus fan, but he never got over it. Ginny, his wife, an ex-Ziegfeld show girl and formerly of Chicago, does the painting of the small wooden figures, fashions the costumes, makes the tents and does a great deal of the mechanical work.

"I was just going to have a few wagons in my collection," Ernie said. "But they looked so good when I got through with them that I decided to carve some horses to pull them. One thing led to another . . . I ended up devoting all my spare time for 13 years to this 50,000 piece layout!"

According to Ernie, it took him and his wife two years and $8,000 worth of materials to fashion the fabulous display that is now insured by Lloyds of London for $50,000. "I made every one of these pieces with a pocket knife and two special carving knives. That is all I used," Ernie said. Now music is Ernie's hobby (he still writes songs), but whittling is his career.

VIRGINIA IS an original Ziegfeld Follies girl. She has appeared in many of Earl Carroll's shows and was a member of the Eddie Cantor Company that took the first American musical, "Look Who's Laughing," to Europe. The exhibit was featured in the Brussels Fair in Belgium and is slated to go on display at the 1964 World's Fair in New York.

Ernie and his hobby have appeared on Garry Moore's show, on "What's My Line?" (He stumped the panel), and Ed Sullivan's show. His circus was used in the plans for Cecil B. DeMille's "The Greatest Show on Earth." Some scenes were actual shots of the miniature. (BB

Retailer Receives Honors

The Illinois House of Representatives has passed a resolution expressing congratulations and commendation to Polk Bros. for having been named, by Brand Names Foundation, the "Retailer of the Year," in the appliance category.

The resolution, submitted by Rep. Harry H. Semrow (D. 14th) and Rep. Cecil Partee (D. 21st) acclaimed the progress of Polk Bros., from a modest beginning to its present leadership in brand name merchandising.

Other official notice accorded the honor bestowed upon Polk Bros. was a proclamation from Governor Otto Kerner who designated Name Brands Week in the state, and one from Mayor Richard J. Daley, proclaiming a like week in Chicago. (BB

Dandelions vanish, grass grows greener

Nothing can do more to turn a self-respecting lawn into a shambles than a bumper crop of dandelions like we're having right now.

BONUS® makes short work of these persistent pests. Knocks out other ugly weeds, too—like plantain, buckhorn.

At the same time, BONUS feeds grass a steady, protein-building diet. Result? Greener, thicker, stronger turf, unmarred by weeds.

Nice work for just half an hour. But that's all it takes to treat 5000 sq ft with double-duty BONUS and the precise Scotts Spreader. The time for BONUS is now!

Swim Pool Safety Is Speech Topic

Jere L. Gottschalk, former president of the National Swimming Pool institute, will address the National Water Safety Congress Tuesday, June 13, in St. Paul, Minn.

His topic will be "Safety in Residential Swimming Pools."

GOTTSCHALK will describe the recommended minimum standards for residential swimming pools drafted by the NSPI, which include recommendations in regard to proper floor and wall slope, safety devices such as enclosures, pool covers, alarm systems and devices for proper pool sanitation.

One of the founders of NSPI, he has been secretary and vice president of the group as well as president in 1959. He also has served as chairman of the constitution, ethics, and finance committees.

He was a founder and first president of the Midwest Swimming Pool association in 1956.

He is president of Recreation Supply Co., 1600 E. Davis st., Arlington Heights. (BB

Rodney L. Merten New Kresge Manager

A new member of Palatine, will be Rodney L. Merten, who will manage the S. S. Kresge variety-department store in Palatine Plaza Shopping center.

Formerly manager of another Kresge store in Chicago, Merten brings a rich background in variety store mechandising to his position.

Because he works up through the ranks, every Kresge executive, whether manager, regional manager, buyer or president, knows the public he serves and has experienced every phase of variety store merchandising.

As a store manager, the Kresge manager is practically in business for himself. He is also encouraged by the Company to actively participate in community affairs and join local organizations.

Kresge's Palatine Plaza store will be a self-service unit and will offer shoppers a selection of items.

As a store manager, the Construction of the new Palatine Plaza store marks another step in the Kresge company's expansion plan.

Music to Buy By At New National

Shoppers in the new National Tea supermarket located at 2995 Kirchoff rd., Rolling Meadows, which opened May 9, are finding aisle-strolling more pleasurable than ever, thanks to the Storecast System's "Music to Buy By."

Designed to make shopping as friendly and intimate as the atmosphere to which National Tea patrons are accustomed at home, the high-fidelity programs are a consumer service of Storecast, America's largest supplier of background music exclusively for supermarkets. The Storecast melodies are regarded as a major attraction among grocery shoppers and are supplemented by helpful hints to the homemaker, news, time and weather reports.

The manager of the new Rolling Meadows National Tea supermarket is John Egan. (BB

G. H. Krohn Attends Washington Meet

G. H. Krohn, of the Babcock and Wilcox Co, Arlington Heights was invited to Washington to participate in a National Defense Executive Reserve conference called by the Business and Defense Services administration of the U. S. Department of Commerce, May 23-24, 1961.

Krohn is a member of the group of selected business executives designated to assume important executive positions in the federal government in the event of a national emergency. He is assigned to the Business and Defense Services Administration (BDSA) of the United States Department of Commerce. In the event of a national emergency, BDSA would provide the nucleus of a production agency.

As a BDSA reservist, Krohn has been called to Washington for the conference. The conference was a "shirt sleeve" working session devoted to solving typical problems which the reservist might face if called to active duty. In addition to the work sessions, the Reservists were briefed on the latest developments in nonmilitary defense.

Krohn is assigned to the iron and steel division of BDSA which deals with specific problems affecting the steel industry. While in Washington he met with Secretary of Commerce, Luther H. Hodges and other top administration leaders. (BB

Replica of Gettysburg Talk Given

In recognition of the Centennial Year of the Civil War and as a prelude to Memorial Day, Polk Bros. stores are distributing replicas of the Gettysburg Address in Abraham Lincoln's handwriting.

Measuring 15 by 18 inches, the script is reproduced on parchment-like paper and is ready for hanging.

Representatives of churches, schools, colleges; and of patriotic, fraternal, civic and like groups may obtain one of these replicas merely by bringing a letter of authorization to the manager of any of Polk Bros. stores in Chicago, Joliet, River Grove or Arlington Heights, any weekday up to 10 p.m. or any Sunday afternoon. Illinois Bell Music Festival

The Illinois Bell Telephone chorus will present its annual spring music festival Friday, May 26, at Orchestra hall, starting at 8:15 p.m.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert S. Childe, the 85-voice chorus is made up of Bell System employees working in and around the Chicago area. Now celebrating its 40th season, the chorus has become one of the outstanding industrial choral groups in the state.

Among those singing with the chorus are the following local residents: Barbara Pedersen, 319 N. Pine, Mt. Prospect, Doug Lattner, 602 N. Wille, Mt. Prospect and Jack Schuler, 205 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights.

THE CHORUS will present a varied program including "Isn't It Romantic," "The Lost Chord," "Tico-Tico" and "When he Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bobbin' Along." Mrs. Dorothy Levin and Miss Carole Johnson will be soloists and the Men's Chorus will present their speciality numbers. Mr. Richard Otto, regular accompanist for the group, will also be performing as soloist.

Tickets may be purchased from any chorus member, at the door of Orchestra Hall or call Miss Celine Wolfe, 727-2092. (BB

Homeseekers' Wishes Included in 2 Models

"Your wish is my command!"

Although this phrase has come down through the annals of history . . . and many of us use it with tongue-in-cheek . . . it's not often that we find it applied to modern business situations. However, homeseekers viewing the two new models being introduced at Winston Park Northwest this weekend might well accuse the builders of following this old adage. The accusations, if you can call them such, are true.

Since the opening of Unit II last year, Joshua A. Muss, Winston Park Northwest vice president, and his salesmen have been compiling a list of suggestions made by the thousands of people who have visited the $45,000,000 Palatine community.

THESE IDEAS were evaluated when the new models were still in the discussion stage, and subsequently turned over to architect Alan Grossman and his staff.

As a result, Winston Park officials are confident that the models will receive even wider acclaim than those previously offered.

"Maintenance - free homes were high on the list of preferences given us," stated Muss. "Because of this, we're utilizing Face brick and Reynolds aluminum siding, giving the home long-range protection and eliminating maintenance problems."

"Home seekers also indicated that they prefer having their choice of gas or electric built-in ranges and ovens," he continued, "so we are offering them just that, included in the purchase price. Similarly, for the first time, we are also including a washer and dryer."

"To meet the demand for more closet space, we have not only provided for an ample number of wide closets," he stated, "but have given them height as well. All closets in our two new models are eight feet high."

MUSS POINTED out that other features requested in the survey and subsequently incorporated by the builders include: spacious rooms; separate dining rooms; extra storage room,. even the garages are an oversized 25 feet deep, allowing additional storage space to that provided in the homes themselves; colored bathroom fixtures in powder rooms as well as baths; large mirrored medicine cabinets and color coordinated kitchens with attractive cabinets and double sinks.

According to Muss, the new homes also feature traffic patterns separating the sleeping, family and formal areas. They are set on minimum 80 foot lots, and are built to the rigid construction standards set by the Winston Park Northwest Corporation, as well as by the Veteran's Administration and Federal Housing Authority.

THE FOUR other homes now available at Winston Park Northwest range in price from $23,990 to $27,290 and include one ranch and three two-story models. The homes feature 3-4 bedrooms, 1½-2½ baths, living room and separate dining area, family room, large-sized basements, and one- and two-car garages. Purchase price of all homes include landscaping and seeding.

Located in Palatine, Winston Park Northwest is only 35 minutes from the Loop by car or commuter train. (BB

Tests Determine TV Repair Costs

Why can't a TV repairman give an estimate of cost for repair of a set before the work is done?

This is a question asked by people when they consider having a set repaired.

Television repair men state that they cannot possibly look at the outside of a set, make a guess as to what is wrong and then say how much it will cost to repair the set.

THEIR REASONS? There are 585 separate tubes and components and thousands of feet of wire in a typical TV set.

When one or more of these components break down, it is impossible to determine exactly which one is causing the difficulty until the set is thoroughly examined.

Some of the 585 parts can cause the identical type of trouble, and only an inspection of all the parts can determine just which ones are causing the trouble.

TESTING HAS to be done with special testing instruments. Many times these tests cannot be made with the ordinary tools a repairman carries in his tool kit. Often it becomes necessary to take the workings of the set into the repair shop where large bulky testing equipment is set up.

A 25 CENT resistor, on the surface, can cause some of the same symptoms that a $25 transformer can. To determine whether it is a minor or major symptom it is necessary for the repairman to use instruments, not guesswork.

This is why he cannot tell you what the repair charges will be before he has made the necessary examinations. (BB

Landscape Tips

Back Yards Go 'Glamorous'

"Anyone can make an ordinary back yard into an attractive, livable outdoor spot, with the work done by the do-it-yourself gardener," said Jack Hill, manager of a Dundee evergreen nursery.

Whether your lot is small or large, you should plan for an easy circulation of traffic. You must permit easy access to all areas from the street, house or other lawn area. Walks around the garden serve a double purpose.

First, as a means of enjoyment of the gardens at close hand when the turf is wet, and also as a mowing strip. The view from your terrace or patio should sweep across the long interrupted areas of bright green turf to blend with beautiful plantings in every direction. This is the ultimate effect in good landscaping design.

Screening of the yard for privacy can be accomplished with a hedge or shrub planting, small trees and fences. The amount of screening will depend on your lot location.

THE BAR-B-Q grill should be easily accessible to the kitchen and terrace. Before you start you should list all practical necessities of your family to be sure they are provided for. Related work areas, driveways, vegetable garden, and play areas to your home design. You should plan on your outdoor living area for barbecuing and entertaining. Orient your flowers, shrubs and trees so you can view and enjoy them from inside your home or from outdoor living areas.

Remember it is important to separate and divide your landscape projects into different groups so that you will have several years rather than attempt your entire landscaping at one time. A fountain in the garden is like icing on a cake. It gives that extra special look.

It is one of the easiest and quickest ways to give your home that individuality you have been seeking. The fountain may be large, elaborate and expensive. but some of the most interesting ones we see are far from that. Instead they are planned and created by amateurs themselves. There is something about the tinkling sound of water dripping that makes one feel cool even in the hot summer days. A little pool in your garden adds a delightful refreshing look even when the sun is the warmest.

GARDEN fountains are practical, as well as attractive. If you plan to recirculate the water, very little water is used. If there is an overflow, this is desirable for garden watering or irrigation. Then there is a double use that the water gives. The expense can be slight, but the pleasure of enjoyment is great.

A feature of many large new homes is a swimming pool. This of course is desirable in larger lots. Regardless of the size of your property, there is an unlimited variety of flowers, shrubs, and trees available for you for landscape effects. Consult your reliable nurseryman. (BB

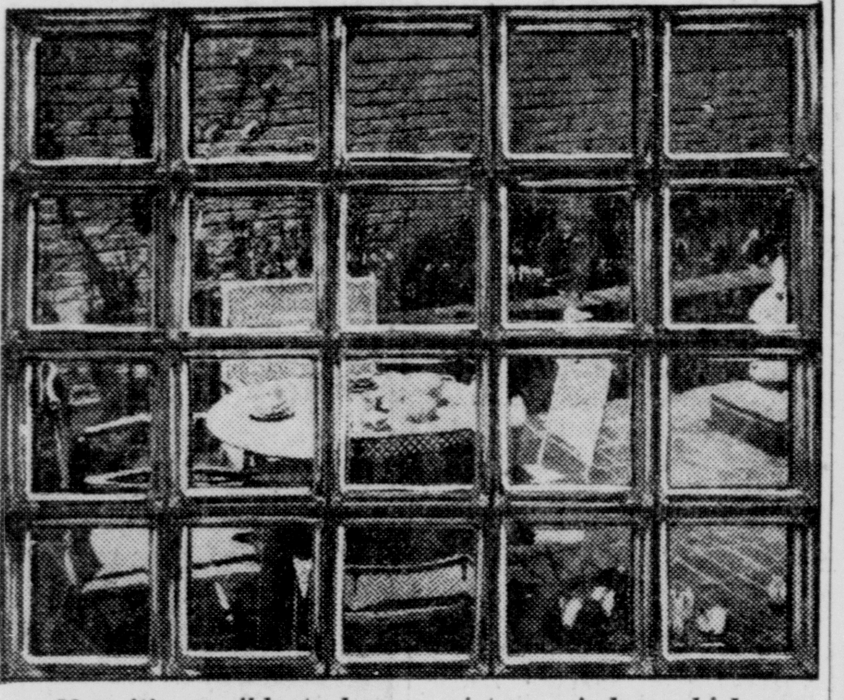
PATIO PANORAMA



Now it's possible to have a picture window which provides both beauty and insulation. Clear glass blocks give a vista-view to the great outdoors in all kinds of weather—especially pleasant in spring and summer when outdoor living reaches an all-time high. And summer heat is so much less when a picture window is made of glass blocks. Made of two pieces of pressed glass fused together to create a partial vacuum, glass blocks insulate as well as an eight-inch masonry wall. Sturdily constructed and available in convenient sizes, glass blocks are easy to install and maintain. Mortared in place, they may be cleaned from the inside by wiping with a damp cloth and washed from the outside with a garden hose.

In California

Marine Lance Cpl. Paul B. Lindberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Lindberg of 7 W. Campbell st., Arlington Heights, is serving with the third Marine aircraft wing at the El Toro Marine Corps air station, Santa Ana, Cal., participating in Phase III of "Exercise Green Light" off the coast of California.

Scheduled from May 8 to June 8, this phase of the exercise involves Navy and Marine Corps undersea, surface, air and ground forces, supported by minesweepers of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Highlight of the operation will be a large scale amphibious landing by the first Marine division in the Camp Pendleton, Cal., area. The landing force will be supported by an amphibious task force and aircraft. (WUS

In Texas

R. L. MILLAY

Airman Robert L. Millay, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Millay, 222 Warren ave., Palatine, has completed his initial course of Air Force basic military training at Lackland AFB, Texas. He has been selected to attend the technical training course for control systems mechanic at Amarillo AFB, Texas.

Upon completion of special technical training at an Air Force Technical Training center, airmen are reassigned to operational units of the USAF Aerospace Force. (WUS

Midshipman Borman Is Honored

Twenty-six members of Miami university's Navy and Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps units will receive individual awards for general university work the past year at the annual Presidential Review Saturday.

The two units alternate responsibility for arranging and directing the review, and this is the Navy's year. Midshipman Commander Robert L. Wenz, a business administration student from Merrick, N. Y., will command the combined regiment and present it for review.

The list of award recipients includes the name of Midshipman 3/c Walter C. Borman, 303 E. Willow, Prospect Heights, silver medal of Ohio Department Reserve Officers association for top-ranking sophomore in overall academic work and aptitude.

In Kansas

During the course Colonel Martin is receiving training in the latest methods of army classroom instruction and other new army teaching methods.

He is an instructor in the 5034th Army Reserve service unit in Chicago.

He is employed as an assistant building manager by the Prudential Insurance Company of America in Chicago. (WUS

3 Marines Training

Serving with the First Marine Division from Camp Pendleton, Calif., are Marine Lance Corporals Raymond L. Bryce, Bensenville; Thomas Braham, Wheeling, and James M. Kent, Mt. Prospect. They are now participating in phase three of "Exercise Green Light" off the coast of California.

Scheduled from May 8 to June 8, this phase of the exercise involves Navy and Marine corps undersea, surface, air and ground forces, supported by minesweepers of the Royal Canadian Navy.

Arlington Reservist Training

Harold L. Frank ADJ3, of 210 E. Palatine rd., Arlington Heights, started two weeks Naval Reserve training duty on April 30 at the Naval Air Station, Glenview, with Naval Reserve Maintenance Unit 725.

The squadron is maintaining the twin engine "Neptune" Patrol Aircraft. Intensive training in ground checking this aircraft is conducted during this training duty.

Naval Reserve Maintenance Unit 725 is composed entirely of Naval Reservists and maintains its proficiency in keeping modern anti-submarine aircraft flying as its contribution to the security of our country.

Frank, an active member of the squadron playing an important part in maintaining its efficiency in civilian life, is working for Campanilla Bros. of Illinois in construction work. (WUS

Set Public Auction At St. John Church

Members of St. John United Church of Christ, Algonquin and Roselle rds., Palatine, are working on plans for their first public auction, to be held Saturday, June 3, at 10 a.m. on the church grounds.

They believe that this is the first attempt by a church in the Palatine area to have such an auction, and while going through saleable articles, have uncovered many antiques. Friends of St. John church and residents of the northwest area have also given support to the project by donating unusual items.

WHILE the auction is taking place outdoors a rummage sale will be conducted in the church basement by women members.

The Women's guild, famous for its annual ham supper, will also serve lunch, featuring homemade pies. (B9

Modern Etiquette

Q. What have you to say about a girl's acceptance of gifts from a man?

A. She should not accept expensive or personal gifts—never any wearing apparel more intimate than gloves or handkerchiefs—never such things as dresses, nightgowns, slips or furs. Flowers, of course, are always acceptable. Gifts that are too expensive or too personal are compromising, and a man with really good taste will not embarrass a girl by offering them.

Q. Does it really make any difference whether a person sits down from the right or from the left side of the chair at the dinner table?

A. No; he should seat himself from whichever side offers the quickest and easiest access.

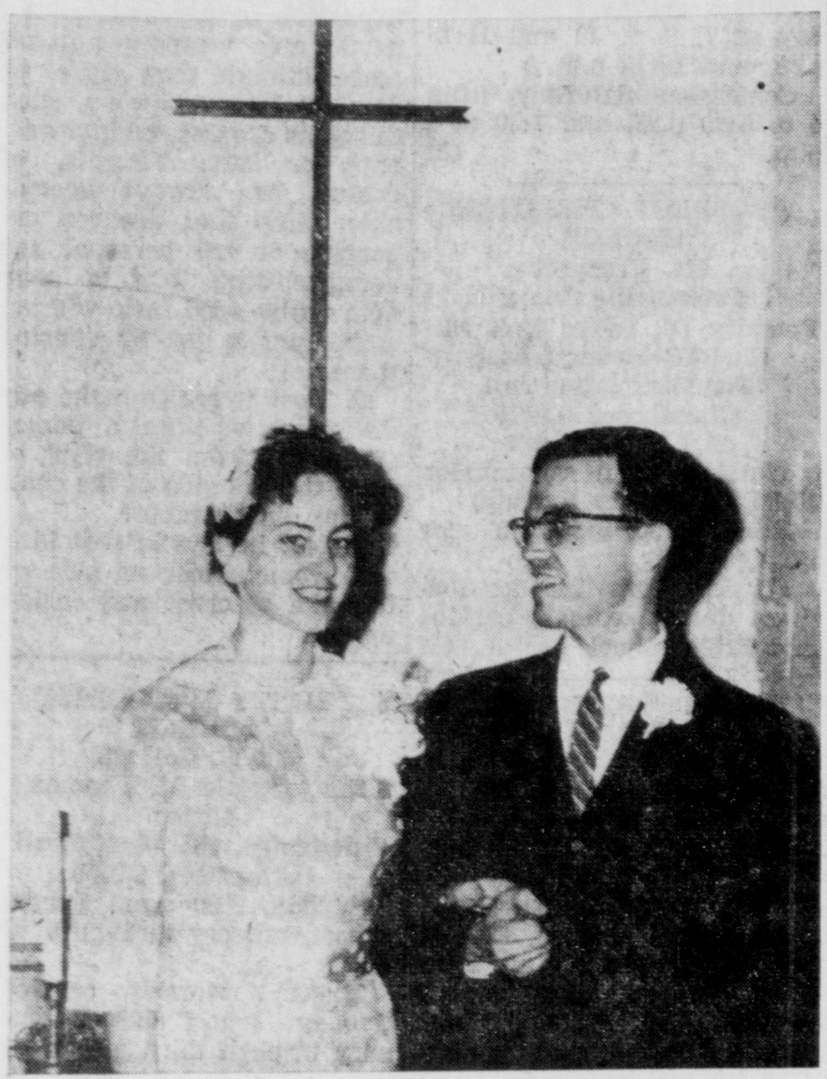
Glynn Brownell Weds College Sweetheart



In a simple ceremony performed on April 30 in the prayer room of the Covenant Presbyterian church of Tuscaloosa, Ala., the former Glynn Brownell, daughter of the Walter T. Brownells of Mount Prospect, became the bride of her college sweetheart. She and her bridegroom, Oscar Leigh Du Pre Jr., are students at the University of Alabama and are now at home at 1306-F Seventh ave., Tuscaloosa.

The bride's parents came from their home at 607 S. Elmhurst ave., Mount Prospect, to witness the ceremony which took place at 2:30 p.m.

Rev. Will Ormond united the couple before a small altar decorated with candelabra and a bouquet of white mums, carnations and stock. At the side of the altar a pedestal held an open Bible with the wedding rings on either side of it.

A CORSAGE of laelia orchids was pinned to the bride's aqua blue dotted suit, and she wore white accessories. There were no attendants. The bride's mother wore a delphinium dress with pink accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Leigh Du Pre of Brooklyn Heights, N. Y., formerly of Gadsden, Ala. He is a senior at the university, and his bride is completing her freshman year there. She is affiliated with Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, her bridegroom with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

THE COUPLE was feted at a dinner on the Sunday preceding the ceremony by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. G. G. Brownell of Tuscaloosa. Friends and relatives from out-of-town greeted the pair and wished them well.

After a weekend honeymoon in Gulf Shores, the newlyweds went back to school and took up residence in their apartment. (S

Area Woman Has Key Role In PEO Meet

An Arlington Heights woman, Mrs. D. A. Cox, will play a key role in proceedings at the June 19-21 convention of the Illinois PEO sisterhood scheduled for the campus of Southern Illinois university.

Mrs. Cox holds the office of organizer for the state and has as her special responsibility, organization of new chapters. She will be honored at a reception held June 18, prior to the convention opening.

MRS. COX IS a member of ER chapter of PEO, an educational and philanthropic organization for women. She also is active in work of the Arlington Heights Woman's club, First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights and the American Red Cross.

Arlington Heights chapter is one of 272 Illinois chapters of PEO that will convene in Carbondale for the convention which will be held in Southern's new University Center building. (S

Hospital Auxiliary Aids Scholarships

This will be the second year the Northwest Community Hospital Women's auxiliary will support a state wide nursing scholarship fund program sponsored by Women's Hospital auxiliaries of the Illinois Hospital association.

The scholarship has been given the past four years with a hope of easing the shortage of qualified instructors in Illinois nursing schools. Requirement for the scholarship is that the applicant must be enrolled in a degree program, rather than a 3-year nurses training program preferably in the last two years of study. Since only three Illinois colleges are offering degree programs in nursing education, attendance at an out-of-state college will not disqualify the applicant.

ALL APPLICATIONS must be filed not later than July 15 as the committee must complete its selection before the opening of the fall semester.

Hospital auxiliaries contributing to the scholarshp fund are asked to participate in the choice of winners by submitting application to the scholarship committee. The public is invited to help select a worthy applicant by taking advantage of application forms which may be obtained from Mrs. H. A. Burnette, president of the Northwest Community Hospital auxiliary, CL 3-5976. (S

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

Party Manners

Dear Peg:

Patrick had his fifth birthday a few days ago and it was celebrated in a grand way!

As we promised the night before we all took his presents in to him before he was awake on his birthday morning. He gets so embarrassed when he's drawn into the spotlight and so hid his head during the singing of Happy Birthday—lovely though it was at 6:45 in the morning.

Of course, Joseph had to have a few gifts too (to keep peace) so both of them set about opening presents. There were cars, trucks, jeeps, musical instruments, a plastic baseball bat and ball and a bloop. For those of you who are not familiar with the latest toy— a "bloop"—this is a sort of pop gun whose short front end comes off with a "pop" when enough air is pumped into it by the child. The children love it—and it is guaranteed to be harmless. In fact Joseph "shot" Deirdre with it at very short range and didn't hurt her at all (although it scared her for a minute.)

Shortly before the party all arrived, Patrick became very sick at his stomach. I think now that it might have been the excitement of the day, however he claimed that it all started in the middle of the morning, when he felt that all he wanted to do was to lie down. Now, this is most unusual for Patrick, since he's the type who will keep going until everyone else gives up.

I toyed with the idea of calling off the whole party at the last minute, but knowing it would be a disappointment to the invited guests, I decided to let them all come and hope that Patrick would perk up.

Our darling little Jeannie arrived first. She is such a cute little girl, who although a year older than Patrick, loves to play with him and even enjoys playing with Joseph. The boys adore her. She arrived in her little red coat and white gloves, carrying a bright package for Patrick.

Poor old Patrick, flaked out on the couch aroused himself long enough to open the gift—a nice game of picture Lotto just right for ages 5-8.

Little Jeanne entertained herself looking at Patrick's other gifts until the other guests arrived while Patrick drew up his knees and turning over on his side went back to sleep. The other guests arrived en masse—all four of them. Again Patrick stayed awake long enough to open the presents then went back to sleeping.

I let the children play around for a short time until I could decide what to do about Patrick. Knowing that they were looking forward to the cake and ice cream, I called them to the birthday table, also insisting that Patrick get up long enough to blow out his candles on the cake. He gave in and in a couple of blows blew out the five candles. I didn't think he would want any ice cream or cake, but I was mistaken. Despite all his complaints, he was able to get through a large dish of vanilla and a medium size piece of cake—and then insisted on going outside with the rest of the children! I tell you, you never know! I all but had him in the hospital with appendicitis (since he almost never has a stomach ache). He suddenly claimed that all the pain had vanished—apparently it was true and played the rest of the afternoon with no reoccurrence of the malady.

One of the funniest things about the whole birthday affair was Joseph. Ever since Patrick was invited to a party a week ago, and Joseph wasn't, Joe has been getting dressed up each morning for a party—no one knows whose party—but it's somebody's anyway.

So, now that a real party was planned for the day Joseph went all out—putting on all the clothes he considers party clothes. A real Beau Brummel, he had two shirts, a vest, a jacket, short pants (his best)and no shoes or socks. He was quite a sight, but believed himself to be the best dressed guest at the party! As a matter of fact, I'm not so sure but that he wasn't . . .

My love,
Patty

Donna Brodahl Is Now Mrs. William Novak Jr.

Two years ago, when Donna Brodahl was president of a group from Northwest Suburban YMCA that gave parties for servicemen, she met Edward William Novak Jr., who was stationed at the Arlington Heights Nike base. The friendship developed into a romance that culminated April 29 in First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights when she became Mrs. Novak.

Rev. Paul Louis Stumpf officiated at the candlelight, double ring service during which Mrs. Earl Auge served as organist. Soloist was Mrs. Parvin, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." Altar vases of snapdragons and mums provided the setting for the ceremony.

THE BRIDE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd West Brodahl, 33 S. Ridge, Arlington Heights, chose a white pure silk dress with a chantilly lace bodice, three-quarter sleeves and cathedral train with appliques of the lace. A Swedish crown held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a crescent of white white roses and lily of the valley.

Mr. Brodahl gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Brodahl chose her sister, Karen, as maid of honor and her youngest sister, Lynn, as junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were of pure silk, in white, fashioned with rounded necklines, short sleeves and bell-shaped overskirts with embroidery in pink and raspberry from the bodice to the hipline. Bridesmaids, Miss Judy McKee of Marion, Ind. and Miss Gerry Kuhn of Arlington Heights, also wore dresses of the same white silk and all carried pink rose crescents and wore white pill box headpieces trimmed in embroidery.

THE BRIDEGROOM, son of the senior Edward William Novaks of Shreveport, La., chose Robert Glen Tucker of Shreveport as best man and his ushers were Jay Plaisted of Palatine and Jarry Gjoen of Arlington Heights. Michael Pabst of Arlington Heights was candlelighter.

A sit down dinner was served to 120 guests in Inverness country club after the 6 p.m. service. Mrs. Brodahl received in a pure silk romance pink sheath with matching accessories and corsage of rubrum lilies. Mrs. Novak chose a light green sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of rubrum lilies.

MR. NOVAK took his bride on a week's honeymoon trip to New York and Canada and the newlyweds are now residing at 523 Miner, Arlington Heights. The bride was graduated from Arlington high school and attended the University of Illinois. She is now employed by Charles Bruning Co. Mr. Novak, a graduate of Louisiana Tech. is employed by Skokie Federal Savings. (S

Mrs. W. J. Hayden Installed As Wheeling Jrs.' President

Members of the Wheeling Junior Women's club heard a resume of activities of the past year before newly-elected officers were installed at the club's annual meeting Tuesday, May 16, in the Union hotel, Wheeling. The installation saw Mrs. William J. Hayden assume the responsibilities of the presidency for the 1961-62 club year. Mrs. Hayden was retiring recording secretary, and had previously served on the board as a ways and means chairman, first vice president, and maintenance chairman. She had also been secretary of the seventh district Juniors.

Other officers of the club installed were: Mrs. Charles Piercy, first vice president; Mrs. Martin Chindblom, second vice president; Mrs. Gerald Moore, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur Fassbender, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Herbert Balling, treasurer.

SERVING ON the board of directors will be: Mrs. Edwin Wahlquist, ways and means; Mrs. Robert Johnson, social; Mrs. J. J. Stiller, publicity; Mrs. Herbert Agase, philanthropy; Mrs. Myron Johnson, program; and Mrs. Arthur Zrimsek, membership.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Donald Swanson, previous president. Following a vocal selection by Mrs. Wahlquist, final reports of officers, members of the board of directors and special committee and department chairmen were given. They included: Mrs. John Preisler, first vice president; Mrs. J. J. Stiller, second vice president; Mrs. Donald Koelling, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hayden, recording secretary; and Mrs. Moore, treasurer.

Others were: ways and means, Mrs. John Woods for Mrs. Donald Frantz; social, Mrs. Frank Cajka; publicity, Mrs. Edwin Matus; philanthropy, Mrs. Robert Steinman; program, Mrs. Gerald Kiffel; and membership, Mrs. Kenneth Bjertnes.

SPECIAL committee reports were made by: Mrs. Kenneth Gill, library; Mrs. Bjertnes, hospitality and seventh district projects; Mrs. Robert Johnson, youth; Mrs. G. L. Duke, community council, park district, pool; Mrs. William Farr, community improvement and achievement; Mrs. Donna McMahon, stamps and cards; Mrs. Wahlquist, music; Mrs. George Bobalko, special education, mental health; Mrs. Hubert Summerfeld, American home, school caucas.

Mrs. Swanson thanked those who had served with her, and told of the recent district meeting, Illinois state convention, along with a synopsis of the year's club activities.

Among the recent awards received by the club were a first place in the district press book contest and a third place among the junior clubs in the state for the sale of brain research candy.

The later was of even greater interest to the membership as Mrs. Swanson had recently visited the Old Chicago Memorial Hospital, which will now house the new Brain Research foundation, and gave a description of the building and future plans for the structure.

THE YEAR'S events included a visit to Washington by the community achievement committee, who later participated at a regional seminar for club presidents of nine states; a visit by the Indonesian educator, Mrs. Roosdiano; a radio tape for Voice of America; a Chicago TV program, the initiation of a scholarship fund, formation of a Salvation Army home service unit, park district referendum, and community improvement.

Special thanks were given to those who represented Wheeling in federation activities during the year: Mrs. Farr, state junior projects chairman; Mrs. Duke, assistant director, seventh district juniors; and Mrs. Hayden, secretary, seventh district juniors. (S

Mrs. Norman Olsen Heads Hatlen Women

Installation of new officers was the highlight of the Hatlen Heights Woman's club's fifth annual banquet held May 17 in Gunnell's restaurant. Mrs. Norman Olsen was installed as president and Mrs. William Horton as vice president.

New recording secretary is Mrs. John Jenkins and Mrs. Daniel Mulcahy took over as corresponding secretary. Treasurer of the club is Mrs. Casmer Andrews.

APPOINTMENT of chairmen was also made at the banquet. Heading the ways and means committee are Mrs. Edward Krebs and Mrs. Robert Stracek while Mrs. Michael Mulcahy is in charge of membership. Mrs. Charles Vojta was named program chairman and Mrs. Jack Buyers, publicity. Social chairman is Mrs. Donald Jones and charity, Mrs. William Boulter. Mrs. Wilbur Mottweiler is the new civic representative and Mrs. Robert Newren, sunshine girl.

As the new officers and chairmen were introduced, each was presented with a hat decorated with humorous tokens representing the duties of each office. Mrs. Paul Hoppe, Mrs. Mottweilwer and Mrs. Levant Huych were honored as past presidents and winners of the bridge clubs were presented with prizes.

The new board has met and is already planning for next year's activities. (S

TWA Hostesses Plan May Tea

Former Trans World airline hostesses residing in the Paddock area are invited to attend the annual membership tea of the Clipped Wings, to be held May 27. Reservations and information may be obtained by calling Mrs. William Hammond, 314 N. Wilshire, Arlington Heights, CLearbrook 3-3832.

Those attending will learn about the group's dinner dance and fashion show planned for September 16 and the group's national convention to be held in October. Though just in its third year, the Chicago chapter, to which hostesses from this area belong, ranks among the most active of the nine chapters in the country. (S

Mothers Form New Group Here

Mrs. Vernon Schlexer, 1518 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights, has become an active member of a suburban group of Mothers of Diabetic Children which is now being formed. Purpose of the group is to give parents of diabetic children an insight to mutual problems and be better informed through group discussions and prominent speakers in the diabetic field.

Other mothers interested in the group may call Mrs. Schlexer at CLearbrook 9-3433 for further information.

Quite Contrary by Mary

A Rose Is a Rose Is a Rose

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to girls. And vice versa, I guess. But, in the spring this old woman's fancy turns to thoughts of gardening and not lightly either. As the days get warmer and the grass turns green, the peasant in me begins to bloom. I simply long to get dirt under my fingernails. Maybe I don't exactly long to get my fingernails dirty, but it works out that way.

This year, after getting out all the flower catalogs and dreamily turning the pages, I decided to have a rose garden. The book says that anyone can grow roses and I aimed to prove, or disprove this thesis. The pictures of roses in the book are enough to drive a strong man mad. And, I'm a rather weak woman.

I have found out, since starting this venture, that everyone does know how to grow roses. The trouble is that everyone contradicts everyone else. The book says to cut them back six inches (or is it to six inches?). The man I bought the bushes from says bah. The book says to spread the roots gently over a little mound of dirt in the bottom of the hole before covering them. The man I bought the bushes from says bah.

The man I bought the bushes from says to be very gentle when planting them. I was so gentle you would have thought I was handling the baby King of Siam. I felt a little like when I gave my first baby her first bath. Shook. However, I got them in and then the fun started.

The girl across the street came over and said that the two white roses should be planted together or they got lost in the shuffle colorwise. The girl next door said bah. Spread them around said she. The girl across the street said it wouldn't matter as white roses always die anyway. The girl next door said bah.

Another girl from across the street said thy should be planted two feet apart. The man at the rose farm said a foot and a half. The man from next door came over, looked at the results of my labor and said he hates roses. Thinking he might be allergic to them or something, I inquired if they affect his health in any way. I try to be a good neighbor. Naw, said he, it's just that they always die.

So I have a rose garden. Some are two feet apart, some barely a foot apart. Some have spread roots, some don't. The whites are separated for here I followed my own inclination which is rare for me. Some are cut back, some aren't. This, if not the most beautiful rose garden in the world, will surely be the strangest.

District Juniors Report On Annual Convention

Seventh district Juniors recently presented a check totaling more than $1800 to Clearbrook School for Retarded Children, which recently announced that it has acquired land in Rolling Meadows to erect a school. The money was earned by the Juniors' hat show and sale presented this spring.

More than 80 seventh district juniors attended the recent IFWC convention in Chicago and were part of a group of 300 juniors from the state who gathered for the affair. The junior business session was held May 10 and was followed by a banquet and a movie preview in a loop theatre.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS of the juniors were listed as more than $10,000 contributed to local and federation projects; 27,000 hours of service to local communities; contributions of 110,000 cancelled stamps for hospitalized tubercular Norwegian children and hospitalized veterans in the U. S.; and full scholarships to future teachers of exceptional children, an IFWC project since 1953 for which Arlington Heights Juniors gave $600 and Des Plaines and Northwest Juniors $400 each.

Five awards, figured on a per capita membership, were also presented as follows:

Largest total philanthropy and largest teacher's scholarship, Northwest Juniors; largest contribution to brain research, Wheeling Juniors; and largest amount of cancelled stamps and largest support of the February Flair hat show, Rolling Meadows Juniors. (S

Rose Petals Cover Aisle For Geisler-Beckman Rites

A 5-year-old flower girl scattered red rose petals down the aisle of St. Theresa Catholic church, Palatine, April 29 during an 11 a.m. high mass in which Mary C. Geisler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Geisler, Algonquin rd., Palatine, became the bride of David W. Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beckman of Elgin.

Also preceding the bride down the aisle was an 8-year-old ring bearer, the maid of honor and three bridesmaids. Maid of honor was Miss Karolyn Bodak of Lombard and bridesmaids were the Misses Mary Olive Czarnowski of Chicago, Mary Schmitz of Madison and Rosemary Geisler, sister of the bride and an aspirant at Notre Dame of the Lake in Mequon, Wis.

THE ATTENDANTS all wore ice blue silk organza over taffeta street-length dresses with scoop necklines and three-quarter sleeves.

Their illusion veils fell from princess crowns interwoven with white pearls. The little flower girl, Karen Real of Elgin, carried her rose petals in a white basket and the other attendants carried crescents of tinted blue stephanotis and white carnations.

The bride's gown was of silk organza over taffeta fashioned with a tulip neckline, long, pointed sleeves, fitted bodice with silk organza rose buds and leaf motif appliqued over the gown. The back of the gown featured a bustle, four floating panels and a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a Swedish crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and white stephanotis with a yellow-throated white orchid in the center. Her father gave her in marriage.

THE BRIDE'S mother chose a sapphire blue lace chiffon dress and the bridegroom's mother a dress of navy blue silk crepe. Both mothers had corsages of white orchids.

Best man to the groom was William Beckman of Elgin and ushers were Jack Eatinger of Dundee, Gene Gannon of Elgin and Phillip Braun of Lowell, Ind. Ring bearer was Brian Schultz of Elgin.

The double ring service was followed by dinner at Campbell's Hearthstone in Palatine and a reception for 400 guests was held at the Eagles club in Elgin.

After a 10-day honeymoon in the Ozarks and throughout Missouri, the newlyweds took up residence in Elgin.

Engaged

Bonnie Benson

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Benson of Arlington Heights, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie Jo, to James A. Dunn, son of Paul F. Dunn, also of Arlington Heights.

Miss Benson, who was graduated from Arlington high school, is now a student at Northern Illinois university majoring in elementary education. Her fiance is a commercial artist employed by Fuller, Smith and Ross advertising agency, Chicago.

The couple has not set a wedding date.

Joyce Wells

After August 19, pupils of Miss Joyce Wells, who teaches music in Wheeling, will be calling her Mrs. Pence, for on that date, in Evanston, she will marry Dwight Pence Jr., son of Dr. Dwight Pence of Decatur and Mrs. Paul Yoder of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. The couple's engagement and approaching marriage is announced by her parents, Lee Wells and Mrs. Neil Ballinger of Gering, Neb.

Miss Wells was graduated from MacMurray college and has attended Northwestern university and the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. She has been a member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra chorus.

A penny social, sponsored from the University of Illinois and is employed as a chemist at Borg-Warner research laboratory in Des Plaines. (S

Sorority Activities

GAMMA PHI BETA

Mrs. George Paris, 407 S. Main, Mt. Prospect, was hostess to northwest suburban alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta at the group's last scheduled meeting of the season. The meeting was held May 24 and the agenda included a summary of the year's projects and activities and plans for the annual summer husband and wife picnic.

DELTA ZETA

North suburban alumnae chapter of Delta Zeta recently held its spring luncheon in Westmoreland country club, Wilmette. The group is planning its annual theatre party benefit for June 24 at Music Theatre in Highland Park, when members and their guests will see Tony Bennett starring in "Guys and Dolls."

Proceeds from the benefit will be given to Holiday Home Camp for Diabetic Children, a summer camp located in Lake Geneva. Tickets may be purchased through Mrs. Henry Korff, CLearbrook 3-3972 or Mrs. Arthur Sieworth, FLanders 8-0635.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Installation of officers and the appointment of committee chairmen were highlights of the May 17 meeting of Lambda Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Installed as president was Dr. ODilia McLaughlin of Palatine while Mrs. William Valiant of Prospect Heights was installed as vice president. Mrs. Frank Wiedl and Mrs. Esther Lindholm, both of Palatine, were installed as treasurer and director.

Committee chairmen include: Mrs. MaryAnn Ocks of Rolling Meadows as program chairman; Mrs. Valiant, membership chairman; Mrs. Val Reising, Mt. Prospect, social chairman; Mrs. Norman Fletcher, Palatine, service chairman; and Mrs. Ronald Davis, Rolling Meadows, publicity and historian chairman.

Summation of the chapter's services was stated as follows:

Countryside Farm School for Retarded Children, $75, proceeds from a bake sale and $30 toward the purchase of a wading pool; Northwest Community hospital's auxiliary, $50 in toys to be sold in the hospital gift shop; and International Endowment fund, $25.

The group's next meeting will be held September 6 in the home of the president.

SIGMA KAPPA

Husbands will be guests at the May 27 meeting of the northwest suburban alumnae of Sigma Kappa sorority, when members of the group have planned dinner followed by games of fun and skill. The dinner will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Crockatt, 418 S. Wa Pella, Mt. Prospect, with Mr. and Mrs. Eric Gabler of Mt. Prospect as co-hosts.

DELT AGAMMA

More than 630 pairs of eyeglasses were collected by Chicago northwest suburban Delta Gamma alumnae in their first New Eyes for the Needy campaign. The drive, conducted in the five suburbs from Palatine to Park Ridge over a 2-month period, far exceeded the group's expectations, according to a spokesman.

At the closing alumnae meeting held earlier in May in the home of Mrs. Robert Hayes, Mt. Prospect, the eyeglasses were individually wrapped and packed for shipping to Short Hills, N. J., headquarters for New Eyes for the Needy, Inc.

Park Ridge tallied the largest number of eyeglasses: 215. Des Plaines collected 150 pairs; Mt. Prospect, 100; Arlington Heights, 100, Palatine, 40. A substantial number were mailed to Mrs. Fred Daneke, Arlington Heights, the project chairman, from ago residents who hadEich Chicago residents who had read of the drive. A pair arrived from as far as Monmouth.

Due to the success of the collection, the Delta Gamma alumnae plan to make it an annual drive. (S

Lots o' Luck

More than $45 million is paid into the Irish Sweepstakes lottery each year.

NORTHWEST COMMUNITY hospital auxiliary was represented by Mrs. Ralph Adams of Mt. Prospect at the annual luncheon and fashion show presented by Grant hospital women's auxiliary May 8. Mrs. Adams, who has just retired as recording secretary of the local auxiliary, modeled a shocking pin kand white cotton dance dress. Northwest Community was one of 45 participating hospitals.

Secret of Bride's Charm Lies in Proper Planning

An old saying maintains every bride is beautiful, yet some young women approach their weddings with more grace and charm than do others. The secret lies in proper planning, for just as every detail of the ceremony is charted in advance, details of the bride's appearance should be premeditated.

For most women a soft permanent is a necessity, not only for the day itself, but to insure a pretty coiffure during the wedding trip.

THE BRIDE-TO-BE should have a permanent about two or three weeks before the event, allowing herself ample time to become accustomed to the style. She should bring her bridal headpiece to the salon so the stylist can determine a harmonious relationship between hair and headdress.

Make-up is of utmost importance. Both engagement photographs and large ceremonies have specific requirements. Those planning to apply their own make-up should see the consultant in their favorite cosmetic department, who can help with photographic make-up as well as special flattering colors for the ceremony. She may also suggest pick-up masks and sun lotions for the bride who may suffer from a tired complexion or whose wedding trip may involve sunning.

A LITTLE CAREFUL forethought, intelligent use of beauty aids, and friends will mean it when they say, "What a beautiful bride!" (SSD

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fenner were hosts last Friday evening in their home at 801 S. State rd., Arlington Heights to members of Arlington Heights center of the Infant Welfare Society and their husbands, who were making plans for the center's next benefit, a buffet supper dance in the swank Post and Paddock club at Arlington race track.

The affair, "Turf and Terrace Party," will be held Friday, June 30, beginning with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. in the new Terrace club, followed by dinner at 8:30 p.m. in the Post and Paddock. Dancing will be from 9:30 to 12:30, also in the Post and Paddock.

FOR DANCING, the group has signed the 12-piece orchestra of Frankie Masters, with a combo from the orchestra to also play during the cocktail hour. Details of the buffet menu were announced at the party by Mrs. William Ball, president of the center, who has been conferring with Emile, the Post and Paddock's matre d'. Emile, who has been with the club for many years, promises both a hot and cold gourmet buffet, plus the club's famous array of desserts.

Those attending the benefit, which is by invitation only, will be among the first to see the club's new Terrace room, which is scheduled for completion some time in June. This room overlooks the track and many of the party-goers will be arriving at the club in time for the last few races. (S

With the lovely tulips nodding at the window and spring in all its glory, why not entertain a few of your friends at a Tulip Time Coffee Party?

INVITATIONS

Cut double fold tulip heads and paste them to a paper cup pattern, yellow, red, any color that suits you. Inside write the following:

Tulip Time and Spring is here,
So come on over the 10th, my dear,
For a Tulip Time Coffee I'm planning, 'tis true
It won't be a success without YOU.

State time and place, the patio or breezeway would be perfect, especially any room in view of the tulips.

MENU

Simple and sweet, rolled, that is. Coffee cakes and sweet rolls hot from the oven. A nice Dutch recipe you've seen in a magazine or one from a favorite aunt. But there is nothing so fragrant as a houseful of lovely fresh baked aroma coming from the kitchen when the coffee hour draws near.

And, remember the gals who are cutting down. A friend of mine recently served a dish of chilled pineapple wedges and these pleased the guest-dieters and certainly showed the hostess wanted only her guests' satisfaction.

DECORATIONS

The picnic table, or two card tables turned buffet can be set with a lovely pink cloth; just a suggestion, tint a yellowed or aged white one, it perks up your table and your outlook on the world. The cost is low and if you use your washing machine for the dye job it's simple as changing your mind.

Get a tulip print napkin or one with a coffee cup design and carry out the tulips in the centerpiece. If you have white dishes or any with a Dutch feeling, use them and use one of the vegetable dishes for your flower container. If you want to use an urn type container fasten a cup turned upside down to the bottom of the dish. Hide the cup handle with a figurine or a tulip. Turn a few tulips inside out for a "new" flower appeal and a conversation piece is created. A wooden shoe also is a terrific container for your tulips.

ENTERTAINMENT?

Daisies won't tell but Tulips will, and who needs more than tulips when a group of ladies get together for coffee?

Fertile Soil

Mt. Prospect Women Plan June Garden Walk and Show

"The Four Seasons" is the theme of the Mt. Prospect Woman's club garden walk and house to house show which will be held June 14 from 1 to 5 p.m.

The public is invited to enter exhibits as well as to enjoy viewing "Summer Time" at 421 Wego trail, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon T. Adams; "Autumn" 214 Kenilworth, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Falcone; "Christmas and Winter," Mrs. L. W. Kester, 801 S. Elmhurst rd.; and "Spring," 914 S. Elm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hugen.

MRS. C. B. Shaffer, Jr., Jr., garden show co-ordina- CLearbrook 3-6618, will furnish a schedule to anyone who desires to exhibit. Admission donation is $1 and tickets may be obtained from members or Mrs. Finch, CL 3-2596, Mrs. Hall, CL 5-3268, or at the homes.

The junior exhibit, (children 6 to 14), and the horticulture exhibit will be held in the Northwest Suburban YMCA. These exhibits are also open to non-members.

THE GARDEN walk marks the close of the 1960-1961 club calendar and the garden and conservation department, whose programs and workshops have been held to encourage and inform members and guests the details which go into the exhibiting in a show.

The committee responsible for this department consists of honorary chairman, Mrs. Arlie L. Pierce Jr.; Mrs. Gordon O. Larsson, chairman; Mrs. C. B. Shaffer Jr., garden show co-ordinator; schedule, Mrs. Ralph Sandeen; tickets, Mrs. H. W. Finch and Mrs. M. L. Hall; horticulture, Mrs. R. A. Davis;—junior exhibit, Mrs. J. C. Tippett; refreshments, Mrs. E. G. Svikhart; chairmen of judges, Mrs. J. W. Viger and Mrs. V. F. Bittner.

Hostesses will be Mrs. F. J. Leibrich, Mrs. A. J. Thorne, Mrs. H. A. Kreith and Mrs. H. W. Kolzow. (S

Busy Prep Weekend in Champaign-Urbana

Andy Merutka Sets Shot Put Mark; Rocks, Lions Tie

Hinsdale, Evanston Gain Titles

by BOB FRISK

The Chicago area again demonstrated its strength in high school athletics with an impressive showing last weekend in the three Illinois Interscholastic championships decided in Champaign-Urbana.

Hinsdale of the West Suburban conference and Evanston of the Suburban league each won clear-cut championships in golf and tennis, and LaGrange of the West Suburban tied for state honors in track.

Only "outsider" to make any noise in the team circles was Rock Island's track squad, co-champ in the cinder spectacular.

Overall, four new records were set in the track and field meet and three were established by Chicago area standouts.

THE MEDALIST in golf was a 17-year-old from Waukegan high school of the Suburban league, Warren Smith.

Both the singles and doubles titlists in tennis were from Evanston.

Thanks to a cooperative weatherman who gave the athletes a beautiful day on Friday and acceptable one Saturday, there was some tremendous action in each state meet.

THE TEAM title in track wasn't decided until the final event, and both the co-champs, LaGrange and Rock Island, could point to relay mishaps which cost them opportunity to win the team trophy alone.

Rock Island's Joe Fuller had just taken the lead on the last leg of the mile relay when he stepped on the stone curbing and fell. Proviso West's runner stumbled over him and LaGrange shot ahead to win the event and catch the Rocks in team points.

Earlier, though, LT had finished second in the 880 yard relay and this would have give the Lions the team championship. However, it was disqualified because the baton was picked up illegally after it had been dropped.

880 Champion

THE BIDS OF Moline, the defending champion, Waukegan and New Trier, all considered strong contenders heading into the crucial finals, faded Saturday via a series of various failures—a familiar story in state meets.

FOUR NEW records were set in the track show with Palatine's Andy Merutka fashioning one in the surprising shot put event. Merutka, only a junior, upset the meet's biggest favorite, Chuck Mercein of New Trier, to win the shot at 59-5½. The former mark was 58-5¼ set by Hinsdale's Pete Martin last spring.

New Trier's Mercein was well off form after bettering the 60-foot mark on eight occasions this spring and finished a disappointing third.

Highland Park's Jim Weinert, another junior, was equally brilliant in winning the mile run in record time of 4:16.2. The former mark was 4:20.7, set by DeKalb's Jimmy Bowers.

TWO OTHER boys flashed past the wire in record time although only Weinert will get credit for a new standard. New Trier's Weymouth Kirkland came home in 4:19.4, and Glenbard West's Dave Stineback finished at 4:19.5.

Another amazing mark was turned in by Urbana's Thom Walters who reeled off a :48.4 clocking in the 440 yard dash and bettered the old mark by four-tenths of a second. Walters won the race in the first 220. He got away from Tommy Thomas of Rock Island and even Thomas' fine kick couldn't catch him. Walters covered that first furlong in :21.8.

The fourth record of the afternoon was established by Chicago Taft's 880 yard relay team. With fleet Larry Albertson supplying a fantastic anchor leg, the Chicago entry came in at 1:28.2, a full second under the 11-year-old record set by Phillips and Jim Golliday.

ALBERTSON, third in the state 220 as a junior, came back this year and covered the furlong in :21.2 for a victory by three yards. The other sprint victor was Zion-Benton's Theo Cox in the 100 yard dash.

Barney Peterson of Proviso West, another junior who took state honors, headed the 880 field in 1:58, a somewhat disappointing time but creditable considering the jockeying for position that went on during the race.

The downstate athletes picked off hurdle crowns with East St. Louis' Warren Hampton in the 120 yard highs and Herrin's Randy Burlison in the 180 yard lows.

OTHER WINNERS were LaGrange's Tom Atkinson with a repeat in the broad jump, Forrest's Jack Honnegger in the discus, Rock Island's Jeff Tyler in the high jump, and Oak Park's Ed Nilsen and Kewanee's Ron Fulton in the pole vault. The vault was decided at a disappointing 12-0 as the field failed to live up to season performances.

The state entries from Arlington and Prospect failed to place in the finals, but Palatine did pick up another 1/5 of a point in addition to Merutka's five. Brad McCreery tied for third in the pole vault.

In addition to LaGrange and Rock Island who finished with a tie at 14 points, the lowest winning total in years, other squads that finished high were Marshall and Taft of Chicago with 12 markers; Glenbard West with 11; Highland Park with nine; Urbana, Zion-Benton, and New Trier with eight and Proviso West, East St. Louis, and Waukegan with seven.

Knights in Interim Track Test Today

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

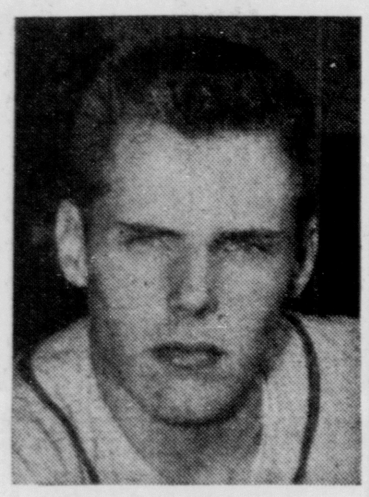
IF PITCHERS WERE judged strictly on their won-lost records each spring and summer, some creditable mound achievements would go entirely unnoticed.

Such is the case of Arlington high's Greg Beckway for the 1961 campaign.

At first glance the pitching record of Arlington's Beckway appears to be lacking in anything that's particularly noteworthy. The Cardinals' senior right hander won just two of seven overall, and that mark is nothing to get excited about.



GREG BECKWAY

However, you have to examine Beckway's complete pitching record for '61 to get a true evaluation of his work for Coach Bob Baker. In 49 innings of work Beckway fanned 51 and walked just 11, a remarkable ratio. In those same 49 innings he allowed just 29 hits or about one every other inning.

Although he yielded 29 runs, only five were earned and that gives Greg a fancy 0.71 earned run average, one of the most impressive — if not the best — marks in the West Suburban conference.

Whenever Beckway worked on the mound for Arlington, his teammates suffered an attack of "error-itis." In his eight starts this season the Cardinals committeed 29 errors, an average of 3.6 per game.

He lost three one-run decision and one by two runs. He never gave up more than six hits in a game and boasted a one-hitter against York's defending state champs and two-hitter against LaGrange's conference titlists.

Beckway's 2-5 pitching standard will go down in the record books as just another so-so year. However, the true story behind this right hander's value to the team isn't reflected in his record as the other statistics clearly indicate.

HATS OFF TO Coach Max Armer and his LaGrange Lions for bringing a share of the state track and field crown back to the Chicago area. It wasn't gone long — just one year — but it's nice to have it back.

This is Armer's first year as head man of the Lions' cindermen and that's quite a way to start. He succeeded Russ Deason as varsity track coach at LaGrange after Deason had guided the Lions to some outstanding campaigns.

Although state titles are nothing new to LaGrange, it was Rock Island's first time at the top, just as it had been Moline's first last year.

"Track interest has really boomed in our area in the last few years," the Rock Island coach commented Saturday. "When I started out four years ago as head coach we didn't have enough boys out to stage both a varsity and sophomore meet."

Among the disappointed coaches in Champaign-Urbana was York's Joe Newton. The Dukes, author of several major track titles this spring, lost expected points when Mike Psaltis failed to qualify for the discus finals and when hurdler Gay Morse, who had the state's top time at :19.1, couldn't make the grade in the 180 yard lows. In addition, Psaltis had a new shot put record taken away from him in Friday's prelims.

Mike, who eventually finished fourth in the state, became the first man to hit 60 feet in state shot put competition, getting off a 60-0½ toss Friday. But a rules infraction resulted in taking the record off the books and setting off a first-class rhubarb.

The shot put Mike has been using all season — without any other complaints — has two small indentations, about one-eighth of an inch deep where plugs, which had fallen out, had previously been — and had been replaced by corks.

The rules state that the shot put must have a perfectly smooth surface to be legal and following a protest by the Bloom coach, Psaltis' record was tossed out. The husky York senior had been using the same shot all season, and it had been weighed and inspected by the official inspector of weights prior to the event.

As Newton asked and with reason, "Why didn't they rule it illegal in the first place? If Mike had thrown it only 48 feet, they wouldn't have said a word!"

Cards' Frosh Trackmen Cop Invitational

Arlington's powerful freshmen cinder team, sparked by sprinter Bob Splitberger, rolled to the Class B championship Monday afternoon in the Glenbrook Frosh Invitational track and field meet.

With Splitberger claiming both the 100 and 220 and running on the victorious mile relay team, Coach Russ Attis' Cardinals collected 49 points to head runnerup Libertyville by 13.

Palatine's Pirates edged West Leyden for third place with Highland Park fifth and Prospect sixth. Glenbard East, Proviso West, and host Glenbrook rounded out the team places.

IN CLASS A competition, with the division made according to enrollment, New Trier annexed the crown with 57½ markers, 9½ better than runnerup Proviso East. Evanston and Waukegan finished in the next two slots.

Splitberger's victories in the 100 and 220 accounted for two of Arlington's three firsts during the meet and his work on the mile relay helped in the third. Joining Bob on that mile quartet were John Hermes, Bill Moore, and Greg Buczynski.

CLASS B

Arlington	49
Libertyville	36
Palatine	31 1/5
West Leyden	31
Highland Park	30 1/2
Prospect	29 1/2
Glenbard East	24
Proviso West	15 1/5
Glenbrook	4 2/5

CLASS A

New Trier	57 1/2
Proviso East	48
Evanston	43
Waukegan	35
Maine East	24
Morton West	22 1/2
Niles	17 1/2
Maine West	7

Arlington boasted three seconds with Tom Fagersen in the 120 yard high hurdles, Buczynski in the 440 yard dash, and Bill Truax in the discus. Jeff Beckman placed third in the broad jump and Jeff Hoy and Fagersen tied for third in the low hurdles.

ROUNDING OUT the Cardinals' scoring were Gary Fouty with a fourth in the mile, Hoy with a fourth in the high jump, and the 880 yard relay team with a fourth. Making up that unit were Mike East, Hermes, Beckman, and Larry Bleichroth.

Coach Bob Scott's Prospect aggregation registered two firsts thanks to Dave Thomas in the mile run and Mike Zasadny with a tie in the pole vault.

Dave Gobeille cleared 5-6 for a second in the high jump, and Gerald Haenisch took a third in the 880 yard run.

GAINING FOURTHS for Prospect were Al Runeman in the shot put, Greg Field in the 120 yard highs, and the 440 yard and mile relay teams. Working on that first relay were Tom Blair, Jay Magnuson, Jim McMillan, and Mark Wolf. The mile unit consisted of McMillan, Wolf, Haenisch, and Tom Brennan.

Fifths for the Knights were registered by Scott Armstrong in the high hurdles and Magnuson in the 220 yard dash.

Schulz, Wheaton Top Interim's Golf Test

Wheaton and Deerfield walked off with the two teams championships Tuesday afternoon in the Interim league golf meets at Arrowhead country club.

With Fred Schulz firing a 74 over the 6450 yard Arrowhead layout and capturing medalist honors for the second straight year, the varsity Tigers of Ed Howe registered a 320 score and eight stroke margin over runnerup East Leyden.

Glenbrook's Spartans posted an aggregate 335 score for a third place finish and Coach Frank Wright's Prospect Knights and Glenbard East tied for fourth at 338.

ON A FROSH-SOPH level Deerfield's talented outfit sparked by Johnny Fleming's amazing 75, easily headed the 11-team field. Deerfield registered a 344 total in dethroning Glenbrook and headed the two teams tied for runnerup honors by 29 strokes.

Prospect and Wheaton finished in a second place deadlock in the frosh-soph division.

Schulz, the talented Wheaton senior who is a four year letterwinner and ninth place finisher in the recent state meet, toured Arrowhead's nines in 37-37 in posting his 74. In heading the field last spring Schulz took medalist honors with a snappy 72.

WALLY KORTMAN of East Leyden took runnerup honors with a 77 and three boys tied for third with 80s, including Prospect's Jim Palmer. Also deadlocked at 80 in the individual ranking were Tony Abraham of Glenbard East and Jack Sutorious of champion Wheaton.

Making up Wheaton's championship aggregation in addition to Schulz and Sutorious were Tom Jordan with an 81 and Dick Cobb with an 85.

The second leading Prospect linksman was John Krause who came home with nines of 38 and 47 and an 18-hole total of 85.

ROUNDING OUT the team finishers on a varsity level were Maine West (350), Willowbrook (351), Proviso West (357), and West Leyden (410).

Fleming, the sophomore from Deerfield, turned in a remarkable score in easily winning medalist honors in the younger class. The youngster who was the frosh-soph champ in the Suburban league as a Highland Park frosh in 1960 registered nines of 39-36.

AMONG THE other top individuals were Deerfield's Jim Goodow with an 87, Prospect's Don Feig with an 89 on nines of 43-46, Deerfield's Mike Hatjuk with an 89, and Maine West's Ken Miller and Wheaton's Tom Mackey with 90s.

Maine Warriors Varsity Favorite

Prospect's varsity and frosh-soph trackmen will compete in the Interim league cinder meet today (Thursday) with the preliminaries slated to get under way at 4:30 p.m. at Maine township East.

Although Maine West is the official host, the meet will be held at the Park Ridge school. The finals will begin at 7 p.m.

Division championships will be determined at both levels with Maine West and Prospect the defending Interim titlists.

MAINE'S WARRIORS rolled to the varsity championship last spring with 65½ markers and is favored to repeat this year. Prospect annexed the frosh-soph title with 76 points and could be in the running for another crown.

A talented field of trackmen will compete in the varsity test with one state champion included. Proviso West's Barney Peterson headed the 880 yard run downstate and will be in action today in what should be one of the best races on the card.

Battling Peterson for the half-mile crown will be Glenbard East's Barry Moore, fourth in the state and author of the state's fastest clocking this spring at 1:56.8, and another Glenbard flash, John Nichols, who has a 1:59.3 to his credit.

Glenbrook's Ted Jacob is rated the sprint favorite with the Spartans' junior fashioning a :10.1 century earlier this year. Jacob could get some arguments from teammate Larry Corcoran and Maine West's Ray Leonardson, and Prospect's Rich Bachhuber who claimed a fifth in the Interim 220 as a junior.

PROVISO WEST'S Gary Anderson heads an average 440 field with the Panthers' ace boasting a :51.1 clocking this spring. Maine West has a good boy in Les Wolf who has done :51.8

Announce Honor Team Next Week

Paddock Publications will announce its sixth annual All-State track team in next week's sports section.

Prep athletes will be honored in the 12 individual events with certificates and tear sheets going out to the All-Staters.

An All-State board, headed by Sports Editor Bob Frisk and Bill Beckman of Prospect high school, will select the 1961 team with the honor squad based on the consistency of the boy's performances throughout the season rather than on one or two impressive efforts.

The mile run is a toss-up although the pre-meet favorite has to be Dave Bartel of Wheaton, second as a junior and a state qualifer this year.

Both the high and low hurdles could develop into battles between two boys, Gerald Beatty of Proviso West and Denny Luzinski of Maine West. Beatty was fourth in the high downstate and has a :14.6 clocking. Luzinski qualified in both events for the state meet but failed to place.

MAINE WEST has two capable relay teams but could get some stiff competition in the mile relay event from both Glenbard East and Proviso West and from Glenbrook in the half-mile. The Warriors have a 3:24.8 clocking over the mile while Glenbrook has a snappy 1:31.5 in the 880 yard event to currently rank as favorites.

FINISH
100 YD

URBANA HIGH'S Thom Walters established a new Illinois Interscholastic record in the 440 yard dash Saturday afternoon when he covered the distance in an amazing :48.4. Here Walters nears the finish line and claims the victory despite the determined bid of Rock Island's Tommy Thomas (behind Walters), the defending champion.

THE NORTH SUBURBAN CONFERENCE had one of its best years at the state track meet. Theo Cox of Zion-Benton won the 100 in :09.9, took 4th in the 220, and anchored a 5th place 880 relay team to give his team 7th place. Andy Merutka, like Cox only a junior, broke the state record in the shot with a toss of 59' 5½'' and with Bradley McCreery's tie for third in the pole vault helped Palatine finish 13th. John Lally of Crystal Lake's North Suburban track champs, took 5th in a record breaking mile in which Jim Weinert of Highland Park was clocked in the amazing time of 4:16.2. When Jim Bowers of DeKalb set the old mark of 4:20.7 in 1956, the record was expected to stand for many years.

In addition to the great new records in the shot and the mile those scored in the 440 and in the 880 relay were terrific marks. Marshall Miller, who lives in Palatine, set a state 440 mark of :48.8 back in 1932 competing for Maine Township high school. This mark withstood the assault of the best Illinois had to offer until John Lattimore of Phillips tied it in 1956. This year Thom Walters of Urbana reduced it to :48.4 with Tom Thomas of Rock Island, the defending champ, a half stride behind also breaking the record. Taft High of Chicago lowered a real good record in the 880 relay to a new standard of 1:28.2.

THIS MONTH AT MOST of the private golf clubs in the Chicago area members will either be billed for a payment to the Evans Caddy Scholarship Fund or will be asked to make a contribution. Chick Evans golf exploits of many years ago are well known to most sports fans but cannot compare with his work in helping deserving caddies to secure a college education. Evans is the only man to win four major championships: the National Open, National Amateur, Western Open, and Western Amateur. This is insignificant compared to his organizing a foundation which has sent 1,106 ex-caddies to college.

Last summer on his 70th birthday 1,000 guests, including some of the greatest sports and educational dignitaries, gathered for a testimonial banquet for this outstanding youth leader. From the Paddock Publications area the Evans scholars now in college are Jason Morgan at Illinois and Dave Shaw at Northwestern from Inverness; Michael Andrea at Northwestern and Joseph Rand at Michigan from Barrington Hills; Thomas Tirado at Illinois from Brookwood; Fred Flener at Illinois from Elmhurst; James Tatnall and Tom Tatnall at Illinois and James Utaski and Tom Utaski at Northwestern from Itasca Country Club; Tom Clark, James Ellinger, and Francis Sekyra at Illinois and Tom Lynch at Northwestern from Medinah; Gordon Brunner and Vernon Bruner at Wisconsin; Don Moses at Illinois, and Bruce Rasmussen at Northwestern from Rolling Green.

20 YEARS AGO

Palatine won the Northwest Conference track meet with 63 points. Bensenville was second with 55. It was the first time Palatine had ever won the league track meet. Sixteen Palatine boys won 28 medals. Cipri of Palatine and Kiefer of Bensenville each took two firsts and a second for 13 points. Pomplun of Bensenville scored 12 points with a double win in the hurdles and a third in the shot while Hahnfeldt of Palatine and Fullerton of Barrington collected 11 points apiece in field events. Trepus and Timmerhaus of Palatine set records in the 880 and mile runs. Pomplun and Thomas of Bensenville set new marks in high hurdles and pole vault . . . Crystal Lake won the Northeast Conference track meet with Arlington third behind Libertyville. Arlington winners were Heinze in the high and low hurdles and Niemeyer in the mile . . . Tom Fullerton is athlete of the year at Barrington. Fullerton quarterbacked a conference champ football team, played center on the basketball team, and was in the state meet in track.

10 YEARS AGO

Palatine took the Northwest Conference track title for the 4th year in a row with few first places but a new record of 4:40 in the mile by Herb Oesterle . . . Arlington took the West Suburban golf title as Dick Hauff scored 76, Tom Rowader and Dick Tang got 84, and Coleman and Rascher both carded 88. Hauff is a freshman and played remarkable golf in a pouring rain . . . Palatine's golfers, with a 12-5 record, are favored to win the Northwest golf title next week . . . Palatine split their golf squad and won two varsity matches the same afternoon at the expense of Lake Forest and Bensenville . . . Bensenville knocked Palatine out of the Northwest baseball lead 7-3. Karrigan hurled the win for the Bisons with Merholz the receiver. Earlier in the week Karrigan pitched a one hitter against Wauconda.

Six Prospect Net Entries Reach Semi's

Prospect advanced three singles players and two doubles teams into the semi-finals of the Interim league varsity tennis finals with first round victories Monday afternoon at Willowbrook.

Only one local singles players reached the finals on a frosh-soph level, however, with the concluding net action slated for Willowbrook yesterday (Wednesday).

The impressive varsity showing was highlighted by a three-set victory by sophomore Lothar Hanson in No. 1 singles. Hanson, who had been working in doubles for Coach Rick Farris throughout the season, bumped Joe Figaro of Maine West, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5 and was slated to meet Gary Sawyers of Glenbrook in the semi-finals.

ALSO RACKING up singles victories for Prospect were Vaughn Kirchhoff and Jerry Gehrke. Gehrke claimed a bye in No. 3 singles and was to meet Bill Roberts of Glenbrook yesterday. Kirchhoff easily pasted Ron Longhurst of Maine West 6-0, 6-2 in No. 2 singles play.

In doubles competition the No. 1 team of John Heuer and Tom Gewecke won 6-0, 6-1 and was scheduled to play Willowbrook's Paulson and Schulz in the semi-finals.

The No. 2 entry of Newell Krogmann and Gordon Hunt won on a bye and gained a shot at Olsen and Manning of Glenbrook.

IN REACHING the semi-finals in No. 3 singles of the frosh-soph competition Prospect's Bob Gewecke won 8-6, 6-1. He was slated to meet Jim Gaverett of Maine West Wednesday with the winner moving into the title match.

Ken Rozek fell 6-0, 6-0 in his first match of No. 1 singles, and Scott Paris bowed in three sets in No. 2 singles.

Both doubles teams were also bounced in opening action. Lee Marek and John Barr fell 6-4, 8-6, and Bob Laechelt and Scott Campbell were defeated 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.

An injury kept Paul Shaw out of action in the conference meet. Shaw had been playing in singles for Coach Maurie Levy.

Underground Mail

Forty automatic subway trains carry mail 24 hours a day over 6½ miles of track between eight London post offices.

Arlington's Frosh Track Squad Wins

Arlington high's frosh trackmen, recent victor in the Glenbrook Invitational, warmed up for that test with a convincing 87-30 rout of Notre Dame last week.

Coach Russ Attis' young Cardinals, showing a lot of promise for the future, topped 12 of the 14 events in humbling the Dons.

Bob Splitberger, Jeff Hoy and Tom Fagersen were double winners for Arlington. Splitberger copped both sprints, Fagerson topped the high hurdles and finished in a tie for first in the high jump, and Hoy won the low hurdles and claimed a tie in the high jump.

Other winners were Ray Schmeiser in the 880, Bill Moore in the 400, Gary Fouty in the mile run, Bill Truax in the discus, Jim Varnado with a tie in the pole vault, and the two relay teams.

The summary:

High Hurdles—Won by Fagerson (A); 2nd, Tucker (A); 3rd, O'Gorek (N). Time :19.0

100 Yard Dash—Won by Splitberger (A); 2nd, Bentley (N); 3rd, Bilodeau (N). Time :10.8

880 Yard Run—Won by Schmeiser (A); 2nd, Lindstrom (A); 3rd, Loster (A). Time 2:17.1

880 Yard Relay—Won by Arlington. Time 1:40.9

High Jump—tie between Hoy (A) and Fagerson (A); 3rd, Buczynski (A). Height 5-0

Interim

If Maine West's Ken McLaughlin competes in the shot put, he has the class to pick off the crown with a 54-9½ toss this spring. However, if he isn't entered today, Prospect's Jim Peters could claim the top prize. Jim has a 52-0 effort and was the only Interim league boy to qualify for state.

Willowbrook's Scott Brees is the discus favorite off a 157-8 toss this year with the Warriors' senior copping the event last spring at 149-¾. Prospect's Darryl Phillips can't be counted out in this event.

ART STEELE of Maine West, fifth in the state, heads the broad jump field although some other talented boys are Jack Hutchinson of Wheaton, Leonardson of Maine West, and Al Hermach of Proviso West. Leonardson won last spring at 20-11½.

Hutchinson and Jim Rodgers of East Leyden should rule the high jump, but a real dog-fight is shaping up in the pole vault.

One of the strongest events in the Interim, the pole vault includes such talented entries as Tom Flynn of Prospect, Jay Wickum and Tom Koenig of Glenbrook, Steele of Maine West, and Dan Kuhn of Wheaton. Koenig tied for third downstate but Wickum has the best vault this spring among the entries at 12-4.

East Leyden, LaGrange Top Card Golfers

Tagged with losses to both East Leyden and LaGrange in recent links action, Arlington high's varsity golfers will battle Hinsdale today (Thursday) before concluding their 1961 campaign next Monday with the West Suburban meet at Arlington country club.

Although the varsity was bumped in both outings, the frosh-sophs did manage to register a victory over East Leyden before falling to LaGrange.

Coach Ralph Meyer's varsity golfers gave East Leyden's powerful Eagles a tight battle last week before suffering a 227-233 setback.

IN THE 12-hole competition Jim Diehl sparked the Cardinals with a 55. Backing Diehl were Rusty Blix and Doug Wiborg with 59s, and Mike Heyl and Rich Wallhoff with 60s. Fred Kortman and Brian Jacobsen both carded 55s for the winning Eagles, second place finisher in Tuesday's Interim league test.

Fred Devin paced the frosh-soph Cardinals to their 256-269 triumph with a fine 58. Also aiding the cause were Jamie Wolf with a 63, Pete Johnson with a 67, and George Brinke with a 68.

In Monday's action at LaGrange country club Arlington had one of those days. The varsity lost by 34 strokes, 329-363, and the frosh-sophs bowed by 19 strokes, 383-402.

GRANT Wallhoff's 86 was low for the varsity linksmen and Heyl and Blix both came in with 92s. Wiborg and Bob Sielken toured the LaGrange course in identical 93s.

Broggi and Coman paced LaGrange with impressive 79s.

Devin's 97 sparked the local's frosh-sophs with Ken Seeger coming in with an even 100, Wolf with a 101, and Brinke with a 104.

Layout Change

The change in the layout of holes on the North Course of Olympia Fields Country Club, where the 43rd PGA Tournament will be held, may confuse some pros who competed in the 1961 PGA Pro-Am at the club last August. Old No. 11 is now No. 9, while old No. 9 is now No. 18. The entire back nine has been renumbered.

Olymia Fields Country time was the world's largest golf plant, with four 18-hole courses. It now has two of the nation's finest layouts, and the PGA Tournament will be held on the No. 4, or North Course. Amos Alonzo Stagg was the club's first president, 1916-1919.

Cardinals Booster Club Plans Outdoor Barbecue June 1

Arlington high school will stage a new and different type of "banquet" next week as the Cardinals Booster Club honors the spring sports athletes.

An outdoor barbecue on the athletic field of the high school will be held on Thursday, June 1, at 6:30 p.m. with all boys and their managers and coaches who participated in baseball, golf, tennis, and track honored guests.

Musical entertainment will be provided during the dinner hour with coaches briefly reviewing their respective seasons afterwards. School letters, numerals and other awards will be distributed by Wally Grace, athletic director.

James F. Hendricks, newly-elected president of the Booster Club, cordially invites all interested parents, their children and friends to the barbecue. Tickets may be purchased for $1.50 each at the high school adminstrative office (room 111) through Monday, May 29.

Tickets for athletes and their parents will be handled by the athletic director.

Four Big Nights Of Racing Slated

Four big nights of racing are on tap for Memorial weekend speed and thrill enthusiasts at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park rds., beginning with the 1961 debut of the roaring Midwest Speedways modified stock cars Friday night.

NASCAR, late model stocks plus O'Hare's exciting Cadets take over the track Saturday night and again on the holiday itself—Tuesday night, May 30. United Auto Racing association midgets highlight the Sunday night race card. There will be no races Monday.

Gates open each race night at 6 p.m. with speed trials at 7 and the first race at 8:30. Due to the large crowds expected, fans desiring good seats are asked to arrive early.

prise with a solid team victory. Hinsdale's low foursome fired an aggregate 630 over 36 laps for a 10-stroke victory over runners-up Urbana and Peoria Richwoods.

Heading the Hinsdale entry was Jay McGurren who had a 36-hole score of 155. Medalist honors for the meet went to Waukegan's Smith with a 151.

Smith, who could do no better than a 77 in Friday's opening round, blasted back with a two-over-par 74 to catch Sherm Finger of Evanston and then beat him on the second hole of a sudden death playoff.

Urbana's Dallas Peters, opening day medalist with a 73, found the going rough Saturday and rocketed to an 82.

BARRINGTON'S Bronchos, the Arlington district winner, didn't fare too well in state competition with a 14th place finish. However, their No. 1 man, Larry Grelle, showed some consistent golf and wound up with a 76-78 for a 154 and eighth place among individuals.

Making up the top five teams in the state links test were Hinsdale (630), Urbana (640), Peoria Richwoods (640), New Trier (641), and Waukegan (646).

A POWERFUL Evanston tennis team had little trouble wrapping up its second straight net championship with the Wildkits posting 13 points for a five-point bulge over runnerup Hinsdale.

Evanston claimed both the singles and doubles crowns thanks to Dave Power and the combo of Bob Major and Bob Wham. Power, undefeated in 24 matches this year, downed Danville's Wilson Burge 6-4, 7-5 for the singles title and Major and Wham revenged a district defeat by stopping Niles' Paul Bishop and Mike Baer 3-6, 9-7, 6-3 in doubles.

Arlington's Little League Program Off to Fast Start

The Arlington Heights Little League is off and running in what should be another banner year.

Action got under way last weekend with some spectacular individual achievements by the 1961 crop of Little Leaguers.

Thirteen hundred boys are assigned to 76 teams this season with the larger field promising some outstanding competition throughout the summer months.

IN THE American League the Athletics, Senators, and Yankees opened with victories with a two-run homer by John Brost the big blow as the Yanks, behind the pitching of Jon Keys and Doug Fink, grabbed a 3-2, extra-inning thriller from the Tigers.

TomLeStarge, who hurled six innings for the Tigers, fanned 16 batters and permitted only two hits. Keys struck out 10 of the losers in his six inning stint and allowed only three safeties.

The Athletics exploded with nine runs and 11 hits in a 9-3 conquest of the Red Sox with Winkler blasting a triple and homer for the victors. O'Connell of the Red Sox also homered.

BLANKED for the first three innings, the Senators erupted in the fourth and coasted in with a 9-2 win over the White Sox. McDougal bested Cronin for the victory.

In the National league the Twins opened with a smashing 15-2 victory over the Angels as Ray Hearl registered the decision and also blasted a homer. Sauter also homered for the Twins.

Saflarski rapped out a triple and single in leading the Braves to a 5-1 win over the Cardinals, and Pat Martin hurled the Cubs to an impressive 3-1 win over the Dodgers. Weber cracked out two doubles for the Cubs, and the Dodgers' first sacker Jerry Bebber registered an unassisted double play.

IN THE SOUTH Intermediate league the Solons opened with a tight, 7-6 decision over the Stars as Barry Clark got the win, and the Rangers routed the Marlins 12-3. Theroux fanned 14 in picking up the win and Earl Lasworth cracked out a homer.

The Terriers pounded the Barons 16-4 with Merkle the winner, and the Huskies edged the Dons 12-11 as Gorman got the mound triumph.

Both teams recorded only five hits but the Seals pushed over the important runs in an 11-4 conquest of the Ravens.

IN THE NORTH West Intermediate division the Comets opened with a 10-0, no-hit victory over the Broncs as three boys combined for a fancy no-hitter. In a free-scoring affair the Celtics edged the Redbirds 14-13.

In other league action the Lancers bumped the Saints 10-6.

The Mounties, Mohawks, and Colonels opened with victories in the North East Intermediate league with Ronnie Hull blasting two homers and driving in four runs in the Mohawks' decision. Jeff Rasek struck out nine.

IN ANOTHER tight game the Mounties edged the Bruins 9-7 although the losers came up with five big runs in the final inning. Jack Dabbert and Ray Koss rapped homers for the winners, and John Schultz and Bill Drake came through with circuit clouts for the losers.

Irmen got the mound decision as the Colonels launched their 1961 campaign with a 9-5 win over the Doves.

In the South East juniors division the Beavers and Colts opened with victories. The Beavers rocked the Oaks, 8-0, as Brian Renz tossed a nifty two-hitter, and the Colts pounded the Gems, 11-6, with Jim Maltman the winner. Maltman also cracked a homer and double for the victors.

THE SPARTANS and Wrens battled to a 6-6 deadlock with the latter counting two runs in the final inning for the tie.

In the South West juniors loop the Jets and Atoms engaged in a first-class slugfest with the Jets tallying 13 runs in the second inning and winning, 18-10. Denny Foreman had a perfect day at bat with a single, double, and triple and Brad O'Berry collected two singles and a double.

The Buckeyes scored in four of the six frames and bounced the Jays, 8-3, with Glen Pierce the mound victor. The Stags had a field day in Rolling over the Padres 19-7 as Rickey Roeing fanned 13 and also blasted a double for the winners.

IN THE NORTH East juniors league the Gulls opened with a 6-5 victory over the Millers with Steve Radcliffe besting Kent McNamara. Dave Glance got the win and also rapped a two-run homer as the Sox blanked the Larks, 4-0.

In final action from this division the Badgers slipped by the Blues, 7-5, with Dave Kellman the winner.

In the North West juniors league the Robins got their season off with a bang as they buried the Bisons 15-3 in a four-inning affair. Marty Willow received credit for the victory and he and B. Bergstrom collected homers for the winners.

The Gophers scored in every stanza and Bob Dolejs smashed a homer in a convincing 15-9 triumph over the Bees. Bill Cardinell was the winning pitcher.

Heuer Tagged Favorite at Meadowdale

Sports car fans predict that Harry Heuer, driving the B-modified national champion Meister Brauser Scarab owned by Peter Hand Brewery Company, will be the driver to beat in the feature event of the second annual Fiesta Road Races at Meadowdale Raceway on this Sunday, May 28.

With Heuer definitely entered in the Meadowdale inaugural program, general manager Bob Halat states that many of the nation's top sports car drivers will be seeking to upset the Meister Brauser speedster, something that never has been done at the Carpentersville plant. The Scarab, first raced at Meadowdale in 1958, holds every record at the sporty track and under the Peter Hand colors has captured the B-modified national championship in 1960 and 1961.

HEUER ALSO plans to compete in the hot Meister Brauser Isis Formula Jr. with which he holds the track record at world-famed Daytona (Fla.) International Speedway.

Meadowdale's 3.27-mile course, spread over 235 acres, provides Chicagoland with one of the toughest, sportiest road racing plants in the world. A highlight of the course is the 45-degree "Monza" turn which calls for drivers hitting speeds in excess of 130 miles an hour to negotiate it properly. This curve is a duplicate of the famed Monza wall in Italy.

Cards Handle Maine East In Finale

In their first meeting with Maine's fire-balling Tom Benson this spring Arlington high's Cardinals were checked with only one hit in a 2-1 setback.

Last Friday coach Bob Baker's Cards again faced the Blue Demons' Benson.

But they were ready for him this time.

Rapping out three hits and tallying three runs in the first inning, Arlington went on to record a 6-5 victory over Maine in the final outing of the 1961 campaign. The decision set the Cardinals' West Suburban standard at 5-9 and overall record at 5-12.

RIGHT HANDER Greg Beckway worked on the hill for Arlington and turned in another strong performance. Once again, however, his teammates didn't give him any support in the field, committing six errors and handing the Blue Demons five unearned runs.

Craig Quackenbush drilled a single to lead off the first for Arlington and moved to second on Ray Miller's sacrifice. Hits by Beckway and Ross Retterer coupled with a walk to Skip Witt brought home the three runs.

The Cardinals hit Benson for two more runs in the fourth on a single by Denny Koeppen and doubles by Tim O'Gorman and Beckway. Their final run came in the sixth on a two-out single by O'Gorman, stolen base, and error.

BECKWAY WAS sailing along on a no-hitter until the fourth and had a shutout until Maine punched over two runs in the fifth thanks to two Arlington errors. The Blue Demons countered a trio in the seventh with the aid of only one hit. The Cards contributed two more errors.

Maine had the tying run on third with two outs when Beckway got Harry Abbott on a fly to O'Gorman in left.

Quackenbush, Beckway, and O'Gorman each had two hits for Arlington with O'Gorman boosting his season average to an even .300.

WestSuburban Golf Meet at Arlington CC

Hinsdale's well-balanced Red Devils, a surprising victor in the state golf meet, will be out to defend titles on both varsity and frosh-soph levels in the West Suburban conference links spectacle next Monday at Arlington country club.

Action will get under way at 8 a.m. with Maine township East the official host for the 1961 affair. Arlington country club is located on Dundee rd., about 1½ miles east of Arlington Heights rd.

Hinsdale annexed both the varsity and frosh-soph titles in the West Suburban last spring and although that younger division is always a toss-up, there's no reason to doubt that the Red Devils will repeat in varsity competition.

THE WEST Suburban entry captured the state title last weekend with an aggregate 630 over 36 holes at Savoy in Champaign. Low man for Coach Russ Poppenhager's Devils was Jay McGurren who fired rounds of 79-76 for a 155, four strokes off the pace of medalist Warren Smith of Waukegan.

In winning the 1960 league championships Hinsdale posted a 311 total in varsity action and 332 on a frosh-soph level. LaGrange was second in varsity competition last spring and will be a definite threat again this year.

COACH RALPH Meyer's Arlington Cardinals, currently 2-4 in league action with a match slated today (Thursday) against Hinsdale, don't appear to have the strength needed for a loop title, but the locals could show well in the 1961 test.

The Cards finished in a tie for third in the varsity division last spring and third in frosh-soph play.

Prospect Linksmen In Split

Prospect's varsity golfers got back on the winning trail last week with a 215-222 decision over Maine West in an Interim league test.

But the frosh-soph Knights dropped a real heartbreaker with Maine coming out on top by one stroke, 190-191.

The varsity test was decided over 12 holes although only nine hole efforts are included here. Jim Palmer fired a 40 for nine and Jeff Louthain came in with a 41. Other scores for Prospect were John Krause with a 44 and Byron Wilson with a 45.

John Nau's 45 paced the younger edition and three other boys finished under 50. Don Feige registered a 48 and Warren Luebcke and Bob O'Day both carded 49s.

Park District Softball Loop Opens Season

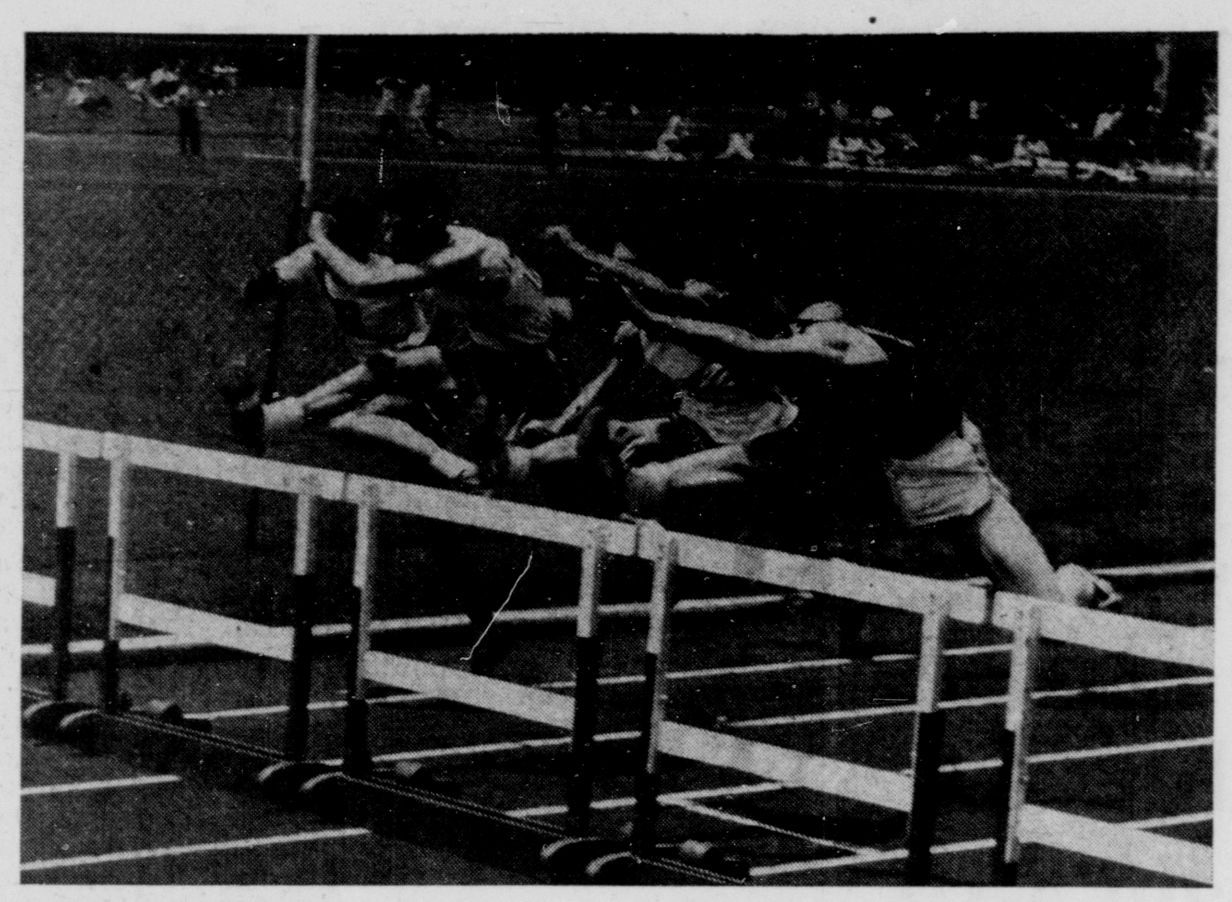
Mt. Prospect Park District Men's softball league opened the season on time Monday evening despite the cool weather. All eight teams in the league were well represented and anxious to get the season under way.

The results of the evening's play are as follows: Tri State Mfg. blasted by Bailey's Bombers 23 - 3; Goryn's Sluggers topped Froelich's Jets 26 - 13; Golden Point Drive In won over Stan's Standard 22 - 14. In a real close game Winkelmann's Shell edged Mt. Prospect J. C.'s 15 - 14.

All games are played on Monday evenings at 6:50. If you enjoy seeing 16 inch softball come out to Prospect High School Monday evenings.

Course Facts

The North course of Olympia Fields Country Club, where the 1961 PGA Championship will be held, is 6,722 yards in length, par 70. The first nine is 3,370 yards, par 544, 443, 434—35; the second nine is 3,352 yards, par 434, 534, 444—35.



ARLINGTON HIGH'S John Latta (third from left) skims over the highs on the way to a second place finish in a preliminary heat last Friday afternoon in the state track and field meet. Although Latta's second earned him a spot in the semifinals of the 120 yard high hurdles, he finished fourth in this semi's and failed to gain a spot in the finals.

Topped in Tourney

Niles, East Leyden Blank Knights' Nine

Prospect lacked the clutch hit against Niles and the base hit against East Leyden and was tagged with two varsity baseball setbacks last week.

Coach Chuck Aldrich's Interim league Knights outhit Niles 7-2 in the regional tournament finale at Maine West but couldn't come up with that clutch blow and fell, 2-0.

The Foundry rd. aggregation then found the going rough against East Leyden's Dick Murphy in a league encounter and could pick up just one safety — a seventh inning single by Tommy Thomas — in a 1-0 loss.

IN BOTH contests the first inning proved to be Prospect's undoing. Both tests were decided in that first frame.

Niles of the Suburban league punched across two runs in the opening stanza without the aid of a base knock in the regional championship. Three walks and two balks by southpaw Mark Thorne gave the Trojans their only runs of the contest.

Prospect registered seven hits in its bid for the tourney title but couldn't score off Paul Williams and Bob Sabey. The locals had runners on in every inning but the first and seventh and had the bases loaded in the third.

THORNE SETTLED down after the shaky first inning and gave up a single safety in the third and fifth, but the damage had been done.

Aldrich's crew had two runners on in the second and sixth, but Sabey came in to relieve Williams in the latter segment and check the uprising. He got the Knights in order in the seventh on two infield taps and a strikeout.

Mike Francek continued his heavy hitting for Prospect with two safeties in three trips to the plate. Francek was the Knights' big gun offensively in tournament play with seven hits and a .538 plate average.

IT WAS all Murphy in the Interim league test at East Leyden with the Eagles' ace fanning nine in his route-going stint.

Thomas' single with one out in the seventh was the only hit off the Leyden moundsman although Prospect had runners on in six of the seven stanzas.

The hosts tallied their only run in the first without the aid of a base hit thanks to two walks, a stolen base, and an error.

RIGHT HANDER Tom Polzin toiled for the Knights and deserved a better fate. He yielded four scattered hits in absorbing the defeat.

The loss set Prospect's Interim league record at 3-5 and it was the squad's fifth straight loop setback of 1961.

Cardinals, Hinsdale in Net Showdown

Arlington and Hinsdale, the two teams battling it out for the varsity tennis championship in the West Suburban conference, both showed their power Tuesday afternoon in the preliminaries of the loop meet.

The Cardinals advanced three singles players into the finals and Hinsdale advanced two singles men and both doubles teams.

Heading into the decisive action slated for yesterday (Wednesday) at Riverside-Brookfield, Arlington held a one-pont, 36-35, lead over Hinsdale in the points accumulated throughout both the dual meet campaign and conference meet. Each victory in Wednesday's finals was equivalent to one team point.

TWO OF the crucial matches Wednesday involved battles between Arlington and Hinsdale entries.

The Cardinals' Tom Benson was slated to meet Hinsdale's Kappy Pielet in No. 2 singles, and Bob Bohac was scheduled to test the Red Devils' Bill Ninnes in No. 3 singles.

Benson and Bohac both registered two straight victories in reaching the finals of their respective divisions.

IN NO. 1 singles Arlington's Bill Thompson also reached the finals, and he was slated to meet Downers Grove's talented sophomore Tony Ivans Wednesday for the championship. Thompson had whipped Ivans in an earlier meeting but was extended at 10-8, 8-6.

Arlington picked up two more points Tuesday thanks to first round victories by the two doubles teams. Chuck Close and Dave Wollerman, playing No. 1 doubles, toppled the Downers Grove entry before bowing to Hinsdale 6-2, 6-4.

Jim Jakubiec and Russ Walters, playing No. 2 doubles, also won their first round test before bowing out of competition with a loss to LaGrange.

IN THE frosh - soph division another battle is shaping up between Arlington and Hinsdale but this one is for second place. LaGrange has convincingly wrapped up the championship.

Heading into Wednesday's tests, Arlington boasted a one point lead over Hinsdale in the second place battle and both placed two entries in the finals.

Arlington's second doubles team of Pete O'Neil and Bob Schuldt will meet LaGrange for the championship, and Steve Martin, playing in No. 2 singles, is also faced with an opponent from LaGrange in title action.

Arlington picked up two other points as both Rick Wollerman and Jim Tindall won first round singles matches before falling. The No. 1 doubles team of Mirrel Kephart and Dave Clough dropped its first round battle with Hinsdale.

Arlington's Frosh-Sophs Edge Maine

Four straight hits in the home half of the seventh inning enabled Arlington high's frosh-soph Cardinals to come from behind and register an impressive 3-2 victory over Maine township East last Friday.

The victory set Arlington's West Suburban record at 8-5-1 for the 1961 campaign.

Trailing 2-1 heading into the seventh, Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's aggregation erupted with hits by Ken Layden, Gary Spencer, Rog Lindstrom and Russ Ward. Lindstrom's blow brought in the tying run and Ward sent home the winning tally.

Right hander Eric Berg, a standout all season for the frosh-soph Cardinals, turned in another solid performance

Rob Roy Tuesday Leaders Gain 4-1/2 Points in Golf

Webber Paint maintained a commanding lead in the Rob Roy Tuesday night league by picking up 4½ points against a stubborn John Stearns & Co. team. Irv Rybicki of Webber Paint and Len Dunteman of Stearns were tied for low net honors in this match with 37s.

Joe Bodor, number four man for Webber Paint, stole the show with two spectacular shots by holing out a 30 yard shot from a sand trap on the third hole for a par 4 and a 20 yard approach shot on the next hole for a birdie two.

Don Hager, Kirchhoff Insurance number one man, captured low gross honors with a 37 to pick up two of the three points the insurance boys picked up against Golf Rand Golf Center, but the Golf Rand team made good use of their four joints to become firmly entrenched in second place, three points back of the leaders.

KELTER Insurance vaulted into third place by scoring a clean sweep of 7 points over a surprised Prospect Heights Service Station team who previously were riding hard on the heels of the leaders.

Bob Johnson, number three man for L'Nor Cleaners, who had a very erratic season last year served notice that this year was going to be different by shooting a sizzling 37-5, net 32 for low honors in this category. Adam Serbin also had a fine round with a 37-3, net 34 for runner-up honors.

John Flint with an extremely well played round shot a low net 33 to lead the alternate group.

The standings after the third round of play are as follows:

Webber Paint	17

Burkes Pick Up 5 Points To Hold Lead

High winds and low temperatures again plagued the Monday night Arlington Post VFW golf league.

For the majority of the golfers their scores reflected the unfavorable weather conditions.

The Burkes and the Hagens, however, were able to pick up five points each to maintain the two top positions in the standings.

Stu Sage again carded low gross with a 38 while Vic Bechtel came in with a low net of 34.

Golfers are again reminded that there will be no matches scheduled for Monday night, May 29, because of the Memorial Day holiday.

Mulcahy, Carter Pace Loop Leaders

Mike Mulcahy and Alternate Jim Carter teamed up last week to lead Wille Fuel and Lumber to its third consecutive victory in the Friday Night twilight league at Mt. Prospect country club.

Mulcahy picked up three points with a 43-30 low net effort and Carter added two more with his substitute victory as the Wille team downed Duffy-Evans Plywood Center 9-3.

Keefer's Pharmacy moved into second place with an impressive 9.5-2.5 win over the Pro Sport Center. Emory Calhoun and George Miscevich brought home 2.5 points apiece to pace the winners.

Mt. Prospect Liquors dropped a notch to third after losing a close 6.5-5.5 match to Mell and Paul's Drive-in. Mike Goda's 36 net led the drive-in team.

Birdies were carded Friday by Bob Wegerer on the 1st, Jordan Italia on the 10th, and Mulcahy on the 11th.

League members were reminded that there will be a two-ball foursome special event Sunday, June 11. Reservations are due this Friday (May 26).

Maine East Frosh Rock Cards, 8-3

Both teams collected three hits but Maine East had a decided edge in the important column and recorded an 8-3 victory over Arlington high's frosh "A" baseball team last Friday.

The young Blue Demons scored in three innings with a four-run explosion in the fourth.

Dick Anderson twirled creditable baseball for the Cardinals but his wildness and some erratic fielding led to the locals' downfall. Anderson fanned seven in 3 1/3 innings.

Score by innings:

Harves Food Mart Moves Into Lead In Hoffman Loop

The third week of play in the Hoffman Men's Golf league brought about many changes in the team standings. Notably, Harve's Food Mart is the new league leader, moving up from the third spot it held last week.

Captain Bob Rivines, Harvey Goetsch, Bill Ross and Bill Borkenhagen collaborated to hand a stinging defeat to the Roselle State Bank team. Harvey's victory coming in spite of him hitting the same ball in the water twice on the Golden Acres country club's ninth hole.

The Rainbow Inn team was the big point winner for the day. Harry Grover, John O'Connell, Frank Marek and Chuck Davey were match winners contributing to their team's twelve point total.

Holding tightly to second place is Higgins Shell, captained by Roy Jenkins. Roy, Bill Bailey and Lindy Clark turned in victories against Team Three to account for their 10 point total for the day's labors.

Dick Thompson's Plaza Liquors team moved up a notch in the standings as a result of their defeat of Snyder's Hoffman Drug's team.

TOM GLESSNER and Marty Nieman added match victories to captain Dick's to move their team into the fourth spot, just three-and-one-half points behind the leaders. Captain Jack Sheridan and Vern Bartusch won their matches for losing Snyder's Drugs.

Tony's Sinclair took ten points from Team Seven as Ray Larson, Don Kolp and Art Murphy each won their matches while John Warder and Herb Keesee turned in victories for the losers. Don Kolp's was the best score of the day, a 43-11, four under par net 32.

Casting Champ To Appear At Johnson's

Johnny Dieckman, the International Casting champion and tackle consultant for The Garcia Corp., will appear at Johnson's Sporting Goods, 794 Lee st., Des Plaines, on Monday, May 29.

Dieckman is noted for the amazing distance and accuracy of his casts with spinning, bait, and fly fishing tackle. He has won 10 international championships and holds three world's records.

He will be at Johnson's from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., and will have a representative with him to inspect, service, and clean any Garcia reel free of charge.

Hebert, Palmer In Links Test

The two reigning national golf champions, Jay Hebert and Arnold Palmer, will clash June 6 at Olympia Fields country club in the "Round of the Champion" to climax National Golf Week.

Hebert, defending PGA titlist, and Palmer, 1960 Open champion and Golfer-of-the-Year, will meet in an 18-hole medal-play match over the famed North Course where the 43rd PGA Championship will be played July 27-30. Admission $2.00, with all proceeds going to The National Golf Foundation.

The contest will wind up a week of play, which starts May 29, during which the nation's golfers will have the opportunity to "beat the champion."

The nation-wide competition is sponsored by the PGA for golf charities and worthwhile projects. In the nine years that National Golf Day has been a major project on the PGA schedule, nearly 884,000 golfers have participated, contributing about $800,000 to charity.

This year, instead of confining the activity to a single day, the event has been expanded to cover a full week. About $83,000 was raised through this sponsorship last year.

Cantino Entry Holds Top Slot In Golf Action

Cantino Builders maintained their first place position in the Wayside-Colette golf loop on the strength of a 5-1 win over F. J. Die Mold. Detroit Steel moved into a tie for 2nd with Lauterbach & Oehler by virtue of its 5½-½ win over Beverly Lanes, with B. Rademacher getting low net for the team with a 32.

Quadriga took the measure of Jim's Service 4½-1½ with "Ace" Bob Ulbrich gathering low net 33 for the team. F. Jorstad and E. Scherrer gathered in low net with a pair of 31's.

Medinah CC To Host 1962 Western Open

After a lapse of two years, Chicagoland sports enthusiasts will welcome the return to this area of big-time professional golf this summer.

As a matter of fact, the Chicago area is assured a glimpse of all of the top notch pros for at least the next two summers with the selection of Medinah country club as the site of the 1962 Western Open.

Olympia Fields country club of Chicago Heights will host the National PGA championships July 27-30 of this year.

FOR THE Medinah club, next year's Western will mark the first appearance of the PGA trailblazers since 1949 when its number three course was the site of the National Open.

A definite date for the '62 Western has not, as yet, been determined by the PGA. This year's tourney, slated for Grand Rapids, Mich., will be held June 22-25.

The Western, sponsored jointly by the PGA and Western Golf association, is considered to be one of the top four tournaments along the professional circuit. Also included in this group are the Masters, National Open and National PGA.

VALUE of this year's Western will be in the neighborhood of $30,000 although the '62 meet will be worth approximately $50,000.

Professional golf has declined in stature in this area ever since George S. May, owner of Tam O'Shanter country club, withdrew his backing of the All-American and World's Championship tourneys in 1956.

Glen Eagles country club took a crack at filling in the void during the summer of '57 with the $50,000 Chicago Open but abandoned the project after two unsuccessful tries.

MEDINAH'S number three course is one of the most awe-inspiring in the country. Its par 71 rating is deceiving if not downright unreasonable as many pros will attest.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff walked off with that National Open title at Medinah in '49 even though he totaled a one over par 286 for the 72 hole test.

Since then, Medinah has added several improvements to its championship layout including 12 rebuilt greens that will give even the best of the pros some sleepless nights.

Koop's Mustard Holds Slim Lead

Koop's Mustard held onto a slim lead in the Arlington Heights Twilight golf league after play Friday night at Golden Acres. There are only four points separating the 1st and 6th place teams, so anything can happen when play gets under way next Friday.

A team worth watching is Lohr's Pill Rollers who moved up two more rungs in the ladder, from seventh to fifth, when they had high team points total of eight.

C. Kleinhofen leads the No. 1 Men with 9 points, after only three nights of play. You can't do better. C. Tessem is top No. 2 man, W. Dobbelaere No. 3, Rudy Lippke No. 4, Fred Reid No. 5, and Joe Haughey leads the Alternates.

Gordon Otto was the only birdie shooter Friday night with two, one on the 465 yd. 11th and the other on the 140 yd. 14th. Low Gross went to C. Kleinhofen with a 37 and his low net of 33 was the best for the night.

Two Tight Races In St. Raymond's Holy Name Loops

St. Raymond Holy Name Golf League has now completed its third week of play at the Mt. Prospect country club and the race has tightened up considerably in both leagues.

In League No. 1 Spooner Engineering continued to hold on to first place after putting together seven more points; however, Strass Ladies Apparel gave notice of having strength and is just four points behind Spooner with Moran Furs riding in 3rd place just six points off the pace.

In League No. 2 the field is even tighter with only three points separating the first 4 teams. Busse Automotive and Safford Stamps are neck and neck with 20½ points each and Illinois Range continues to be a tight second with 20 points while Keefers still maintains the 4th spot with 17½ points. "Hot Corner": F. Caldini 39; B. Louthain 40; B. Loehrer 41; G. Grego 43; D. St. Denis 43; B. Minton 44; J. Griffin 44; R. Strass 44; J. Moran 44. "Bird Men": B. Louthain-3rd hole; J. Griffin-3rd hole; J. McGuinnis-5th hole; D. St. Denis-11th hole; G. Grego-17th hole.

The "Honesty Award" for the week goes to Tom Ackerman of the Ackerman Insurance Team for carefully counting all "17" blows he took on the 15th hole.

Prospect's Sophs Own 9-3 Record

Niles scored in each of the first three innings, added two insurance runs in the seventh, and wrapped up a decisive 6-1 victory over Prospect's frosh-soph baseball team Monday afternoon.

The loss was the Knight's third of the season, second to Niles, and set the overall standard at 9-3. Only other team to whip Prospect was Maine West, and Coach Larry Wyllie's crew took care of the Warriors in a return bout last week.

Jim Hogarty and Hank LaRocco worked on the mound against Niles and Chuck Halvorsen rapped out two hits. Prospect scored its single run in the fourth on a double by Hogarty and singles by Bob Geller and Halvorsen.

IN THE 4-1 victory over Maine West Hogarty again worked on the mound and turned in a real masterpiece. He held Maine to two hits and fanned 12.

In other action last week Prospect blanked Deerfield, 4-0, with LaRocco handling the mound chores. The Knights took an early lead in the first on a walk to Mike Adams and homer by Dave Leekley.

Leekley was the locals' leading sticker with 2-for-4.

Championship Drag Races Over Weekend

The Great Lakes Dragway, in Union Grove, Wis., will hold its first major event of thhe year, the "Midwest Championship" drag races, this coming Memorial Day weekend May 27-30.

This event will bring together the top machines from six states in the midwest area.

Representing Illinois will be Bud Roche of Chicago, driving the "Guzzler," ranked number two in the A/Gas Dragster class.

The machines are all in the 170 to 190 mph bracket and turn the one-quarter mile in under ten seconds from a standing start.

Starting with this Saturday, races will be held every Saturday night thereafter, starting at 8 p.m., until Labor Day. Racing will also continue Sunday afternoons as in the past, starting at 2 p.m.

The track is located 12 miles north of the Wis.—Ill. state line, highway 45, at Union Grove.

State Champs Next for Two AHS Outfits

Arlington is bowing out in style.

The Cardinals will bring down the curtain in both golf and tennis against the 1961 state champions.

Today (Thursday) Coach Ralph Meyer's linksmen will host Hinsdale in their final dual meet of the season. Last weekend Hinsdale annexed the state golf title in Champaign.

Coach Ken Schaller's varsity tennis squad will terminate its campaign next Monday, May 29, with a dual meet against Evanston, and the Wildkits copped the net title last Saturday for the second straight year.

By WALLY SCHWALLER

Mother's Day, 1939, Bob Feller made special arrangements for his mother to see him pitch a game. He brought her to Chicago from the farm in Iowa so she could see her son pitch in a Major League game for the first time.

Early in the game, Feller hurled a fast ball to one of the White Sox players, who fouled it into the stands. Out of the 45,000 people in the park that foul ball found Feller's mother, struck her on the head, knocking her unconscious. Badly injured, she was taken to the hospital. It turned out to be the oddest present any pitcher ever gave to his mother on Mother's Day.

Cook Buick Claims Lead In Roll-Off

Bill Cook Buick, rolling one man short, took the lead in the Paddock Classic Traveling League Championship roll-off by winning two of three games from Bill Bond Men's Wear Sunday night at Bowlway in Elgin.

Play will now revert to Bill Bond's home lanes at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich where all the remaining games in the best four of seven series will be resumed at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Although Bill Cook Buick of Arlington Heights was one man short, the first half champions had three of their four men who were present join the "600 Club," paced by a 673 by Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods. Dick Nickol of Palatine posted a 613 and substitute Norb Leja of Arlington Heights came through with a 607 triplicate.

LEJA WAS bowling in place of Jim Perna of Rolling Meadows and Whitey Hefferan of Elk Grove Village, both of whom were absent. For the blind, the low score on the Bill Bond team was substituted game by game.

Radke started off with a 231 game to pace Bill Bond to its only win Sunday, 970-947. Helping was a 205 by Herb Lohman of Lake Zurich. A 226 game by Nickol and 212 by Kouros were not enough.

THEN BILL Cook Buick got rolling. Kouros upped his count to 237, Leja came along with a 221 game and John Seidel of Palatine totaled 214 for a 1047-949 Bill Cook Buick triumph. The only 200 game for Bill Bond was a 221 by anchor man Frank Graff of Palatine.

Bill Cook Buick captured the third game by 14 pins, 963-949, thanks to a 224 count by Kouros and 216 by Leja. It was a hard loss for Bill Bond to take in view of the fact that Radke rolled the night's high game, 256, and teammate John Taylor of Waukegan rolled 206.

Deerfield's Soph Netmen Top Knights

Deerfield swept singles play and wrapped up a 3-2 victory last week over Prospect high's frosh-soph tennis squad.

Claiming triumphs for Coach Maurie Levy's Knights were the doubles teams of Lee Marek and John Barr and Bob Laechelt and Scott Campbell.

High Series

Bob Rogers of Des Plaines, bowling for Cook County Mobile Homes, walked off with high average honors in the Paddock Classic traveling league for the 1960-61 season.

Official statistics released this week reveal that Rogers carried a 198 average for 69 games with a high game of 278 and high series of 693.

Cook County Mobile Homes also boasted the second high-average bowler with Don Oberg of Itasca coming in with a fine 195 average for 99 games. Oberg recorded a high series of 683 and high game of 268.

ROUNDING out the bowlers with 193 or better averages in the high-flying Paddock Classic league are John Taylor of Waukegan and Bill Bond Men's Wear (194), Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods and Bill Cook Buick (194), Earl Fenimore of Arlington Heights and Pro Sport Center (193), George Stone of Wilmette and Jeffery Lanes (193), LeRoy Papineau of Lake in Hills and Moyle Construction (193), and George Radke of Bill Bond Men's Wear (193).

John Seidel of Palatine, rolling for Bill Cook Buick, was author of the high game in the 1960-61 season with a big 279 en route to a 675 series. Seidel finished with a 189 average for 102 games.

Other top games registered in league play were a 278 by Rogers, 276 by Nickol of Bill Cook Buick, and 269's by Fenimore and Ted Zimmerman of Cook County Mobile Homes.

GEORGE STONE of Wilmette hit the high series with a booming 724 in competition for Jeffery Lanes. Kouros of Bill Cook Buick fashioned the other 700 series for the past season with a 714. Rogers had a near-miss with a fine 693.

The Rules committee and advisory board of the Paddock Classic traveling league decided to retain the same average range for next season, 940-970, as this past year; to retain the area from which bowlers can be drawn, as is without change; to travel as a unit of eight teams, same as last season; and to adopt the "4-point system" of determining championships, instead of the won-loss system in use in the past.

The league will hold its annual banquet Saturday evening, June 3, at Barrington Ten Pin.

JIM WEINERT, Highland Park's talented junior, hits the finish line at the termination of the one mile run Saturday in the Illinois Interscholastic track and field championships in Champaign. Weinert set a new state record in the event with a clocking of 4:16.2, snapping the old mark by over four full seconds.

West Suburban League Having Banner Year!

The West Suburban conference is enjoying quite a year in athletics.

With LaGrange and Hinsdale adding state titles last weekend the WSC has now picked off four Illinois Interscholastic championships during the 1960-61 school year and one second place.

Glenbard West's Hilltoppers captured the cross country title in the fall and York's Dukes annexed the state gymnastics crown last winter. LaGrange tied with Rock Island for the track title, and Hinsdale walked off with the links championship.

Hinsdale's Red Devils also boast a second in state competition with a runnerup — that's quite a record for any conference!

JUST DOGS

Obedience Trial

The 21st annual trial of the North Shore Dog Training club held last Sunday at the Highland Park Recreation center had some 19 people from our area with dogs entered in the event. Although it was a cool weekend, it ended up on a warm note from the standpoint that many people came home with a passing score for their dogs and more than one completed the required number of points and shows to win one of the coveted American Kennel club obedience degrees.

Top honors should go to Maxine Martens of Elk Grove Village, whose Doberman Pinscher took first place in the Open A class with a score of 196½ out of a possible 200. In the same class, Kay Blackwood of Arlington Heights showing her Poodle won fourth place with 193½. Another class winner was the Cocker Spaniel owned by John and Leona Weging of Wheeling, whose dog took third place in the Novice A class with a score of 198½.

Perhaps one of the most coveted wins at the trial was in connection with the tracking test held early in the morning at an outdoor location. In this event the dog either passes or fails, however, in the case of the German Shepherd owned by Irving Pociot of Roselle, his dog passed this difficult test with flying colors. It is a tough affair to train a dog to do and congragulations are in order to both the owner and his dog.

Fair Price

We have often mentioned the subject of a fair price for a dog, and with summer about here and people looking for puppies, again keep in mind a few points.

A price for a purebred puppy will vary, according to the availability of the breed and the individual pup's potential as a show or field trial prospect. Once you decide on the breed you will find not too much of a variation among good breeders. It costs so much to raise a puppy and, after all factors are considered, most breeders will be in line with their costs based, of course, on the potential of the puppy being sold as well as the actual raising costs.

Barks & Bays

Laws and taxes seem to be with us these days. They have one law in a city in Europe which forbids dogs to ride in taxis except on the day of their national dog show.

Darnell Captures Main Event at Waukegan Oval

Veteran race driver, Bay Darnell of Deerfield, Ill., broke into the winners circle once again as he sped to victory in the 25-lap main event for the modified stocks at the Waukegan Speedway Sunday night.

His win registered the first feature run of record for the 1961 season in the second program held at the local track. Last Sunday's semi and main event was washed out by rain and this Sunday, though clear, was extremely cold and held the crowd down to just over 2,000 avid fans.

Darnell grabbed the lead on the 8th lap from pole setter, Bob Ratajczyk of Milwaukee, and held it for the rest of the distance. A hard fought battle for the second spot then ensued between Ratajczyk; Gordy Gorman, Libertyville; Junior Dodd, Waukegan; and Jack Radtke of Grayslake. The position changed hands several times, but at the end of the gruelling 25, Ratajczyk still held on to second, Dodd finished third, Gorman fourth and Radke placed sixth.

GARY Sheldon, Beloit, scored a last lap victory in the 15-lap semi feature to win over Johnny Wood of Winthrop Harbor who had led for the entire distance.

Reynolds won the first tenlapper of the evening, beating out Don Koelling of Wheeling; Sheldon won the second heat over Ken Heiden of Barrington; Zion's Jack Frost a long time favorite of Waukeganites scored the third heat win over George Bellegante of Winthrop Harbor; and Junior Dodd took top honors in the fourth over Bay Darnell.

NEXT Sunday, May 28 the modifieds will have their third go at the Waukegan oval. Another large field of cars and drivers is expected to participate and track manager Mike Kaishian is hoping for a weather break in order that a full program can be held to a comfortable crowd.

Knights' Netmen Win, 5-0

In their final warmup before the Interim league meet Prospect high school's varsity tennis squad blasted a visiting East Leyden team last week, 5-0.

Coach Rick Farris' Knights took straight set victories in each match with both Lothar Hansen and Vaughan Kirchhoff claiming 6-0, 6-0 conquests in No. 1 and No. 2 singles.

Jerry Gehrke was extended in No. 3 play but finished with a solid 6-1, 9-7 decision.

In doubles action the combos of Tom Gewecke and John Heuer and Newell Krogmann and Gordon Hunt both registered straight set victories. The latter duo breezed in at 6-0, 6-2.

Honor Roll Leaders Show Well in State

by BOB FRISK

In most instances prep trackmen in Illinois lived up to their press clippings in the 1961 state meet.

Of the 14 event leaders on last week's outdoor honor roll nine came through with state championships during the festivities in Champaign-Urbana. Only one event leader, York's Gaylord Morse, failed to place in the finals.

Zion-Benton's Theo Cox was the leader in both the 100 and 220 on the honor roll and came home with a first in the century and fourth in the furlong downstate. Taft's Larry Albertson, third on the list last week in the 220, coasted in with the state title Saturday.

URBANA'S THOM Walters, the honor roll leader all season in the 440 yard dash, topped his specialty in the state and raced to the fastest quarter-mile in Illinois' history with a :48.4 clocking. Glenbard East's Barry Moore headed up the 880 on the honor roll but dropped to fourth in the state meet as Proviso West's Barney Peterson copped the coveted title.

In the mile the top four boys on last week's honor roll finished in those exact positions downstate headed by Highland Park's Jim Weinert who set a new mile record at 4:16.4.

East St. Louis' little Warren Hampton copped the highs in the state meet after pacing the honor roll most of the season. York's Morse, the honor roll leader in the lows at :19.1, was the only casualty as he ran third in his heat of the semi's and didn't qualify for the finals.

IN THE MILE relay Moline finished a poor fifth in the finals Saturday but had posted the best clocking in the state in Friday's prelims at 3:24.4. Taft headed the 880 yard relay field heading into the state test and lived up to expectations with a new record in its event.

New Trier's Chuck Mercein, who was on top of the honor roll all season, with his 61-1¾ toss tightened up downstate and had to settle for third. In the discus Forrest's Jack Honnegger showed why he had paced the honor roll for weeks when he got off a state-winning toss of 166-5½.

ALTHOUGH Oak Park's Ed Nilsen had cleared 12-11½ earlier this season for the best jump this spring, he could only reach 12-0 in the state, good enough for a title but far below his best.

As expected, LaGrange's Tom Atkinson, a junior who thrives on rough competition, won the broad jump after heading up the honor roll all spring, and Rock Island's Jeff Tyler, who has moved into prominence with a 6-5½ jump in district action, topped the state high jump at 6-4.

Here are the top marks of the cinder season as presented on Paddock's final honor roll for 1961:

Q. Is it still considered proper for a man to ask permission to smoke when he is with a group of women who he knows do not smoke?

A. Yes, this is still the courteous and thoughtful thing to do.

Old Town Holiday Is Planned June 10, 11

The twelfth annual Old Town Holiday is expected to bring an estimated 35,000 to 40,000 visitors to the Old Town Triangle between noon and nightfall on Saturday, June 10 and Sunday, June 11.

Visitors can wander at will through a vast outdoor art gallery set against the colorful backdrop of historic houses dating back to the 1880's. In the picturesque Triangle area just west of Clark street, exhibits will line both sides of the 1800 block on Lincoln Park West, the 1800 block on Orleans, and adjoining blocks on Menomonee street and North Park avenue.

MORE THAN 250 invited artists will be present to show and sell every conceivable type of artwork: oil paintings, water colors, drawings, etchings, constructions, handwrought jewelry, ceramics, glassware, sculptures, and textiles.

Veteran exhibitors who have returned year after year since the early days of the Fair include Gustaf Dahlstrom and Frances Foy, paintings; Frances and Michael Higgins, handblown glass; David Landis, paintings; Rose Migdal, ceramics; Quintin Neal, jewelry; Rudolph Pen, paintings; Bunni Sovetski, sculpture; and James Swann, etchings.

Making their initial showing at the Fair, by special invitation of the exhibitors committee, are: Peggy Burrows, Robert Sutz, E. Algerd Waitkus, and Doris White, paintings; William Brinka, sculpture; and Elwood V. Jahr, stoneware.

A complete list of all exhibits and their location will be found in the official program book, along with a map of the Triangle and many interesting facts about the area. All profits from the sale of the program book are given to the Menomonee Club for boys and girls in the area.

Each exhibitor is contributing a representative piece of work for the art auction to be held from 2 p.m. until closing on both days of the Fair. Because all proceeds from the auction are turned over to the Menomonee Club for neighborhood youngsters, buyers get a double benefit from their purchases.

AMONG SOME 40 well known personalities expected to lend their talents as auctioneers this year are Lee Phillip, Fahey Flynn, Hal Stark, Ken Nordine (also a neophyte exhibitor) Studs Terkel, Frank Oelshlager, Maggie Daly, Janet Kern, Tony Weitzel, and Lee Ross, professional cattle auctioneer who made a tremendous hit with spectators last year. On a total of 268 items in 1960, the auction grossed more than $7,000 for the support of the Menomonee club. Stanley Mitruk's still life in oil, entitled "Quince," brought the highest bid ($185) for a single item.

The auction booth will be located on Orleans street near Wisconsin. Paintings to be auctioned will be on display in Michigan Avenue and State Street show windows beginning May 15.

OTHER SPECIAL activities planned for visitors during the two-day Holiday sponsored by the Old Triangle Association include:

—Garden Walk, featuring winners in the annual garden contest. A wide variety of Old Town gardening efforts will be open for inspection, from window boxes to formal walled patios.

—Puppet Show for children. The Hans Schmidt Puppet theatre will give performances every hour on the hour, starting at 2 p.m. both days.

—Bookstalls. Bargain hunters can revel in a large, but carefully culled collection of books and records donated by Old Town residents. Rivaling the "Sputnik Corner" in popularity is the department labeled "Sex, Health and Cooking."

—Art in Action. At the Old Town Art Center, 1714 N. Wells street, which is supported by funds raised from the annual Holiday, selected students from the workshop classes will give demonstrations. Work of year-round instructors at the Art Center will be on exhibit in the gallery.

—Food. In addition to the regular refreshment stands, tortillas and other Mexican delicacies will be featured at the Azteca booth, where patrons can also enjoy the music of gayly costumed guitarists. Broiled chicken and sukiyaki will be served in a Japanese tea garden operated by the Midwest Buddhist church. Traditional ham and roast beef dinners will be available at St. James church on North Park avenue.

In case of rain on June 10 and 11, the holiday will be postponed until the following weekend. (Bill

At The Star-View

SCIENTIFIC CAPERS . . . FRED MacMurray, starring in the title role of Walt Disney's side-splitting new comedy, "The Absent-Minded Professor," demonstrates scientific phenomena to his college class in this scene. Nancy Olson, Keenan Wynn and Tommy Kirk also star in the Buena Vista release .

Tombstone Trio At Villa d'Este

A special feature will be offered at Villa d' Este, country restaurant in Cary Friday, May 26. The Tombstone Trio, local Crystal Lake boys who made good, will entertain with their distinctive style of singing.

The trio, noted for their renditions of old and new folksongs, have won several talent contests, including first place honors in the Talentsville, U.S.A. competition.

PAUL DeBeer, Dennis Gray and Dan Conway comprise the Trio who are now making night club, radio and television appearances. They will soon record for one of the big record labels.

Pierre Andre, host at Villa d'Este, announces that the Tombstone Trio will entertain during the cocktail and dinner hours, then move into the bar lounge for the rest of the evening.

Paul DeBeer is a 1957 graduate of Crystal Lake High school. He attended one year at Duke university, where he studied political science and economics. A veteran of two years in the army, DeBeer plays piano, organ, drums and guitar.

DENNIS Gray is a 1960 graduate of Crystal Lake Community high school. A trombone, guitar, banjo, mandolin and drum virtuoso, Gray composes for the trio and has been singing for more than 10 years.

Dan Conway also graduated in 1960 and has a background in dramatics. He writes short stories and lyrics for the trio. He plays guitar, banjo, bongos, cornet, drums, french horn and trumpet. (Bill

IT'S ROMANCE on the beach at Fort Lauderdale, Florida, for Dolores Hart and George Hamilton in MGM's love-and-laugh-filled comedy, "Where the Boys Are." Also starred in the Cinema-Scope and color attraction are Yvette Mimieux, Jim Hutton, Barbara Nichols, Paula Prentiss, Chill Wills and famed songstress Connie Francis, in her movie debut. The picture starts May 26 for a full week at the Prospect Theatre in Mt. Prospect. (Bill

At The Catlow Friday

Q. Is it a mark of delicacy or property to leave a little food on your plate at the end of a meal?

A. At one time this was thought the right thing to do—but now it's considered sheer waste. We do not leave food on our plates unless we really cannot eat it. It is, however, polite to leave something on the serving platter, since someone else might possibly want another helping.

Players Schedule Popular Musicals

The B.O.B Players this week announced that arrangements have been completed with the Rodgers and Hammerstein Reportory company and its agents to present two famous musicals for the forthcoming season.

The group has obtained licenses to present "Annie Get Your Gun" on Friday, Oct. 20, Saturday, Oct. 21, and Sunday, Oct 22, and "Show Boat" in May. These two classics of the musical comedy stage will be presented for the first time in this area by an amateur theatre group.

THE GROUP plans to go into production of "Annie Get Your Gun" immediately. Production committees were formed at the last regular meeting and are planning their activities for the coming months.

Kermit Allen of Elmwood Park has been signed as director, and auditions for cast parts have been scheduled for June 19. Time and place will be announced.

Positions are still open for orchestra members; anyone interested in playing in a theatre orchestra is asked to call George Palmer at Fl 8-0156.

The next regular meeting of B.O.B Players will be held on June 12 at 8 p.m. at the Palatine Community Park field house, located one half block west of Northwest highway on the north side of Palatine road in Palatine. All meetings of B.O.B. Players are open to the general public. (Bill

TV Offers Teaching Opportunity in Art

By LUCILE ERNST

Hope you have heard that one of the most revolutionary techniques in education, closed circuit TV, is being used at the Parkside school in Roselle.

Originally, the closed circuit TV was planned by Thomas Mayhew, the supervisor, to teach foreign language in the elementary school. Instead of running from class to class, one teacher can teach a number of classes on the same grade level.

WHAT HAS this to do with art? Use your imagination. Mr. Mayhew did. If you can teach foreign language on closed circuit TV, you can teach music and art that way too. Since I am lucky enough to be teaching at Parkside and I'm an art teacher, I will have the opportunity to learn a new way of teaching. I think it will be fun and a real challenge.

It is unfortunate that so often art is considered a frill. In the elementary school it is taught, without text books. by teachers who, as a whole, know very little about it. Teachers are conscious of this lack and do a great deal of outside study. They share the common dilemma of all involved in the arts, of working toward creativity, but often they are unsure of just what is creative and what is just plain sloppy.

Does it matter? We want our children talented but we don't want them to be artists.

WHETHER we like it or not, our children, and every human being, are artists, good or bad. What they create their homes, their clothes, their community, will reflect their understanding of beauty. In the past it has reflected, to a large degree, our lack of understanding.

If people are taught to appreciate beauty, they will not buy that which is ugly. It speaks rather well for American taste and standards that manufacturers do hire competent artists to design their products. Unfortunately, the gaudy still sells rather well, and we have a way to go.

Often what appears to be an improvement in public taste is actually a change in fashion. Way back in the war years when I was in college, all art teachers were engaged in a sort of holy crusade to liquidate all clocks that were surrounded by a silly looking Venus. Our text books and teachers were enraged by the very thought of those clocks. We received with our diploma the implied instructions to teach the world to love modern art.

I will have to admit in all these years I have never seen a Venus with a clock where her stomach should be. The fashion had changed before I had a chance to fight the good fight. I have, however, seen some ugly clocks that were modern. Some horrible, some silly, some just badly designed. I have seen many modern clocks that made Venus look good.

FOR THE last ten years modern art has been sold at the dime store. The fact it was modern did not make it good. Some was as bad as Victorian art, just brighter. By the same token, the fact that a picture is not expensive doesen't mean it is not good. One of the most powerful and expressive paintings I've seen in the last few years could have been had for five dollars.

Good art work of all ages contains qualities which can be understood and can be taught. If our children know what is good, they will choose it and buy it. What is good will become fashionable.

Children's needs are different. Some will become factory workers, some salesmen, some scientists. All, however, will be using the principles of art every day of their life. With the advent of television as a teaching device, all children can have the true broad education which once was just a dream. Bill

Cantinflas Film At Catlow Friday

With Cantinflas, the sensation of "Around the World in 80 Days," starring as "Pepe," a new excitement in screen entertainment opens Friday at the Catlow Theatre, Barrington.

Co-starred with the international comedy favorite, are Dan Dailey and Shirley Jones, while 35 of Hollywood's outstanding personalities appear as guest stars in the new Columbia release. "Pepe" is a George Sidney production in CinemaScope and Eastman color.

SAID TO BE a gala entertainment event of unprecedented audience appeal, "Pepe" is compounded of fun, color, drama, music and screen pageantry. It ranges from spectacular musical numbers to a comedy bullring sequence, from a gentle love story to moments of high hilarity.

In 'Pepe," Cantinflas portrays a simple-hearted lovable Mexican peon and ranchhand who, through his devotion to the horse he has raised from a colt, finds himself flung into the never-never land of the entertainment world.

Dailey plays a fading Hollywood director whom Cantinflas helps win a comeback. His is a dancing, singing and acting performance that reportedly is little short of brilliant. Shirley Jones, who hinted at hitherto untapped dramatic resources as the trollop in "Elmer Gantry," is said to be another revelation. (Bill

Week's Best food buys

A more difficult decision to make this weekend is whether to cook outside or inside, rather than in the selection of food values that line up naturally in a holiday pattern.

Weather permitting, such popular bar-b-q items as poultry parts, sliced ham, some beef steaks, ground beef and lamb chops are bargains. Otherwise, equally good values are found in such indoor fare as portion hams, pork roasts, beef chuck roasts and lamb leg roasts.

WEATHER makes selection of fresh produce bargains a more precarious matter, the markets still being sensitive to sudden change. California is one area of reasonable stability from a growing and shipping viewpoint, but its outpouring of supplies run head-long into unsettled cost conditions here created by erratic pattern of supplies from the south and midwest.

The safest bet includes values in strawberries, bananas, watermelons, green beans, cabbage, new potatoes, asparagus and tomatoes.

IN MORE specific terms, the University of Illinois consumer service finds these factors involved in area food markets for the week ending May 27 that will carry over at retail into Memorial day.

Beef supplies are normal at wholesale despite cattle receipts that declined 15 per cent at Chicago and 7 per cent on all other markets. Wholesale quotes sagged for the seventh consecutive week, seeking bottom, with chucks off 1 cent and carcasses off ½ cent. Retail price reflection was limited, taking a mostly steady rating except for warmer-weather stimulated steaks that edged higher at the top side of the price range.

For instance, porterhouse steaks jumped 4 cents on the high side from a week ago, to post a top of $1.25 as a general market level quote. Sirloins topped at $1.09, round steaks at 89 cents. On promotion, all will be lower. Chuck roasts range broadly 35 - 55 cents.

Pork trade was slow at wholesale, especially for loins that declined 3 cents. Butts recovered slightly from a previous low. Live hog receipts were off 16 cents around the circuit. None of this affected basically steady retail patterns.

However, hams are a setup for holiday feature attention, shank cuts ranging 29-39 cents, but butts 39-49 cents and center slices topping at 79 cents.

HEAVIER marketings elsewhere was not the situation in Chicago for lambs—local receipts fell 50 per cent for the smallest count since last June, with most action on spring kinds. Moderate demand at wholesale caused a momentary surge of 1 cent a pound increase, mostly in anticipation of higher replacement costs. Retail levels still show the steady signal.

In poultry, fryers and turkeys complete the holiday menu possibilities. Despite heavier buying action, the recently removed 25-29 cent promotion price on fryers returns for another short run, although the prevailing market price calls for 37 cents.

LIGHT weight turkeys are in the 39 cent class, heavier weights 35 cents. Medium eggs are down at wholesale, but large grade A whites at retail are steady at 49 cents—some discounting being noted in stores clearing inventories.

In vegetables: cabbage is a good bargain with abundant supplies from six supply areas; currently high lettuce is due for drastic reductions possibly within the week; asparagus supplies locally are picking up despite reports of harvest problems.

NEW POTATOES are discounted even more this week, especially the southern reds and California long whites; tomatoes are pouring forth from all directions to fracture price levels.

Current high-cost items are carrots, cucumbers, sweet-corn, radishes, endive, escarole.

FRUITS: cantaloupe volume is up as are watermelon supplies, with some weaker quotes already noted at shipping points; California strawberries are in the low priced category, with southern quarts due in volume with the first real warm weather.

The first California peaches are now seen on the market. High-cost items include apples, peaches, grapes, larger oranges. (SH

New Pizza, Sausage Packaged Together

HELP YOURSELF to a slice of good eating. Tender on the inside, crisp on the outside is the pizza dough under the zesty sausage in pizza sauce filling. Adventure In Exotic Fare Shrimp, Almonds Oriental

For the adventurous cook there is nothing more exciting than foreign cookery. Because there are so many intriguing and exotic cuisines in the world to try, her cooking horinzon is indeed limitless.

But even the everyday garden variety chef may illuminate her daily menu planning with the unusual recipe from time to time to alleviate monotony.

MANY ARE the recipes of gourmet caliber that have been adapted to the time and effort limitations of a busy homemaker. This recipe from the Lipton Kitchens, Shrimp with Almonds Oriental, is a good example.

It is made with a package of mushroom soup mix which eliminates the chore of preparing and dicing mushrooms. The interesting combination of green pepper, onion, curry, sour cream and almond blends pleasingly with the mushroom flavor to make a most distinctive dish to set before your ravenous family.

SHRIMP WITH ALMONDS ORIENTAL

2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 cup water
1 cup milk
1 (1½ oz.) package mushroom soup mix
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
1/3 cup sour cream
1/3 cup almond slivers, blanched
1 pound cooked shrimp

In a heavy skillet cook onion and green pepper in butter or margarine until soft. Combine water, milk, soup mix, and curry powder. Add to onion and green pepper.

Heat while stirring constantly. Stir in sour cream, almonds and shrimp. Heat rice. Makes 3-4 servings.

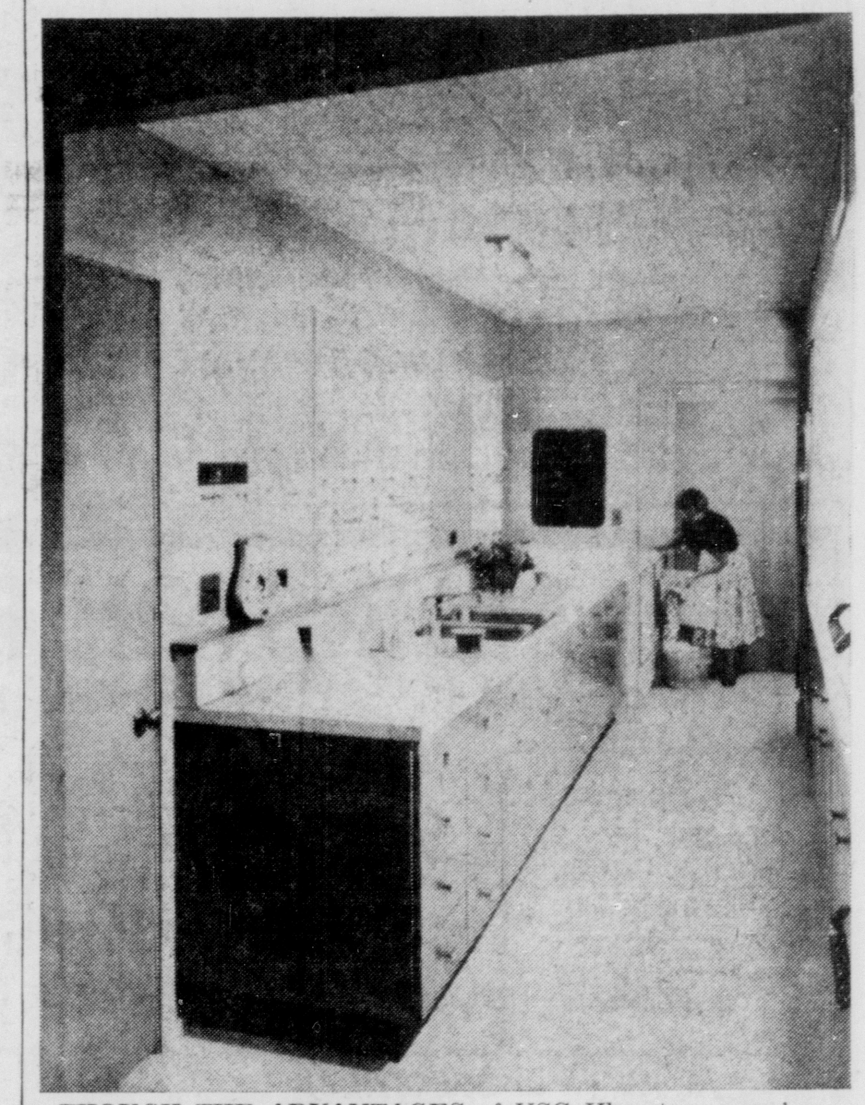
'Sound' Kitchen Solution Offered By U.S. Gypsum



THOUGH THE ADVANTAGES of USG Kleentone are important to any room in the house, the product is especially suited to the kitchen, where grease and noise have always been problems.

Today's modern appliances make the kitchen an easier place to work, but they tend to create excess noise.

The clatter of pans and dishes, grinding of the garbage disposal unit, whining of the egg beater, buzzing of the oven timer can all become pretty irritating.

THANKS TO research by the nation's leading manufacturers of building materials, however, where there is a sound problem there is a "sound" solution — even in the kitchen. Just about all makers of fiber board now have available the materials to control sound anywhere in the house.

One manufacturer, United States Gypsum Company, has gone so far as to develop a new wood fiber acoustical ceiling tile especially designed to handle sound control problems in the kitchen. The ceiling tile absorbs sound without holes or fissures on the tile surface.

Called USG KLEENTONE, it's an exclusive tile with an attractive white vinyl-plastic surface that is specially treated to make it stay clean—resist grime and grease.

THOUGH THE surface won't absorb dirt, it does allow sound to pass through to hidden perforations that soak up about 70 per cent of the noise that reaches the ceiling.

Complete information about this product and many other excellent wood fiber acoustical ceiling tiles is available at stores which carry building materials. The tiles come in a variety of smart patterns and colors, and most of them can be installed easily by the family "do-it-yourselfer."

Membership Drive Ends For Series

Members of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association have concluded another successful membership campaign. Many new members from northwest suburbs have been added.

Because of the popularity of this last series of Community Concerts, next year's concerts will also be held on Sunday evenings in the Arlington Heights high school auditorium, an association spokesman said this week.

The exact dates and complete program will be announced as soon as confirmed by the New York booking office.

Due to the illness of Gordon Bengston, Community Concert representative from New York City, the Artist Selection committee meeting scheduled for Sunday afternoon has been postponed until June 4 at 3:30 p.m., at the home of Gale Blocki, board chairman. (B8

Intriguing Taste Tempter Is Upside Down Chili Pie

For an intriguing conversation piece, serve this unusual Upside Down Chili Pie. A delightful combination of tangy flavors redolent of the aromatic cuisine found south of the border, this main dish will surely tempt tired appetites.

It is baked handily in a skillet that has been lined with quilted broiling foil. This clever trick, purely an American innovation, makes for easy baking and actually turns the "pie" out, upside-down, on its serving plate in one neat stroke, thus eliminating the ticklish chore of trying to ease it out intact with a spatula.

UPSIDE-DOWN CHILI PIE

1 lb. ground beef
2 tablespoons flour
2 teaspoons salt
1¼ teaspoons chili powder
1 cup finely cut onion
3 tablespoons finely cut green pepper
1 clove garlic, finely cut
2 cups hot water
1 cup tomato sauce
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup drained, cooked red beans
½ cup sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup corn meal
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
1 egg, slihtly beaten
1 cup buttermilk
2 tablespoon salad oil
Kaiser quilted broiling foil

Line 6-cup skillet with quilted broiling foil; add meat, broken into bits, and cook slowly until lightly browned. Sprinkle with flour, salt and chili powder. Add water, tomato and Worcestershire sauce. Cover and simmer for about 45 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Mix and sift flour, corn meal, salt, baking powder and soda. Combine egg, buttermilk and boil; stir into dry ingredients until just moistened. Pour batter over chili mixture.

Bake in a moderately hot oven (425 degrees F) about 35 minutes or until corn bread is done and lightly browned. Turn upside down on heated serving plate. Serves 6. (SH

Spicy Pie Boasts Cream Cheese, Yoghurt Filling

Serve Spicy Cream Pie tonight, and you'll be surprised how quickly it will disappear. Its light and fluffy filling, made with lemon-flavored gelatin and blended with cream cheese and yoghurt, boasts an unusually refreshing flavor.

Teamed with a crisp graham cracker crumb crust, this delicious pie spells very good eating.

SPICY CREAM PIE

1 package (3 ozs.) lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 package (3 ozs) cream cheese
1 cup yoghurt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 baked 8-inch graham cracker crumb crust*

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Meanwhile, beat cream cheese, adding yoghurt gradually until mixture is smooth and fluffy. Add nutmeg, sugar and vanilla. Fold cream cheese mixture lightly into slightly thickened gelatin. Pour into graham cracker crumb crust. Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with lemon slices and mint sprigs. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUST

1 cup graham cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup melted butter

Combine graham cracker crumbs and sugar. Add melted butter and mix well. Press firmly with back of spoon on bottom and sides of 8-inch pie pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 5 to 8 minutes. Cool before filling.

It's A Honey Of An Idea

The clever little honey bee has a wonderful suggestion. He thinks we'll find grapefruit halves more enjoyable than ever when topped with this ancient and popular sweetening.

Big juicy Florida grapefruit will be on hand through the spring months. For extra energy and to be sure your vitamin C requirement is met, eat one every day. You'll find Duncan grapefruit especially suited for serving this way.

Since you will core the fruit anyway to make a well for the honey, the seeds are no problem. Duncans are exceptionally juicy grapefruit and their large size makes them suitable for sectioning for use in salads, too.

GRAPEFRUIT WITH HONEY

Cut Florida grapefruit in half; remove core. Cut around each section, loosening fruit from membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge of fruit. Spoon in one to two tablespoons of honey. (SH

Cleanliness Clips

"HANDY" WASHER

A teenager with troubled skin sometimes notices an improvement when she uses her hands, rather than a washcloth, to apply soapsuds to her face and neck. Once used, a washcloth can be germ-laden and thus may reinfect problem skin. At least three applications of lather, followed by rinses, are beneficial to both problem and perfect skin. (SH

LAWFUL LATHER

Two sudsings are so important to a successful shampoo that it's a state law in some places. If an operator fails to lather a customer's hair at least twice, her license can be revoked.

SOAP POWER SOURCE?

Soap is the staff of cleanliness to most people, but some scientists regard it as a jet-age power source. When fuel oil and liquid soap were burned in an experimental device during recent tests, the exhaust gases were forced between the poles of a large magnet.

The result: electric current!

COSMETIC WHITE

Bluing is a "cosmetic" which makes yellowed fabrics appear white. It does not clean the clothes as many of us think—only an ample supply of soap or detergent suds does the job well.

SUDS SMOKER

Every cigarette holder needs to be washed in warm, sudsy water once a week or so. Take the holder apart to make sure the lather reaches all recesses. Then use a small, stiff brush and several pipe cleaners to coax out tobacco hidden in cracks and crannies. Rinse well with luke warm water; wipe dry.

MOVABLE COAT

How to move a 227-ton turbine generator from a railroad car to a flatbed truck? General Electric did it by coating four 35-foot wooden beams with household soap, then using two winches to pull the machine.

TUBBED TUBA

How do you keep a tuba clean? With a tub bath of course! At least, one professional musician in Philadelphia washes his tuba in a bath filled with suds.

BATHTUB 'GROWS'

Average Americans are so much taller these days than formerly that hotels and motels are raising shower heads and installing longer bathtubs. Here's an idea to copy if you are building or renovating a family home.

QUEEN'S DELIGHT

Now that workmen have overhauled the out-of-date hot water system in Buckingham Palace, Queen Elizabeth can at last enjoy a steaming hot bath—one truly fit for a queen.

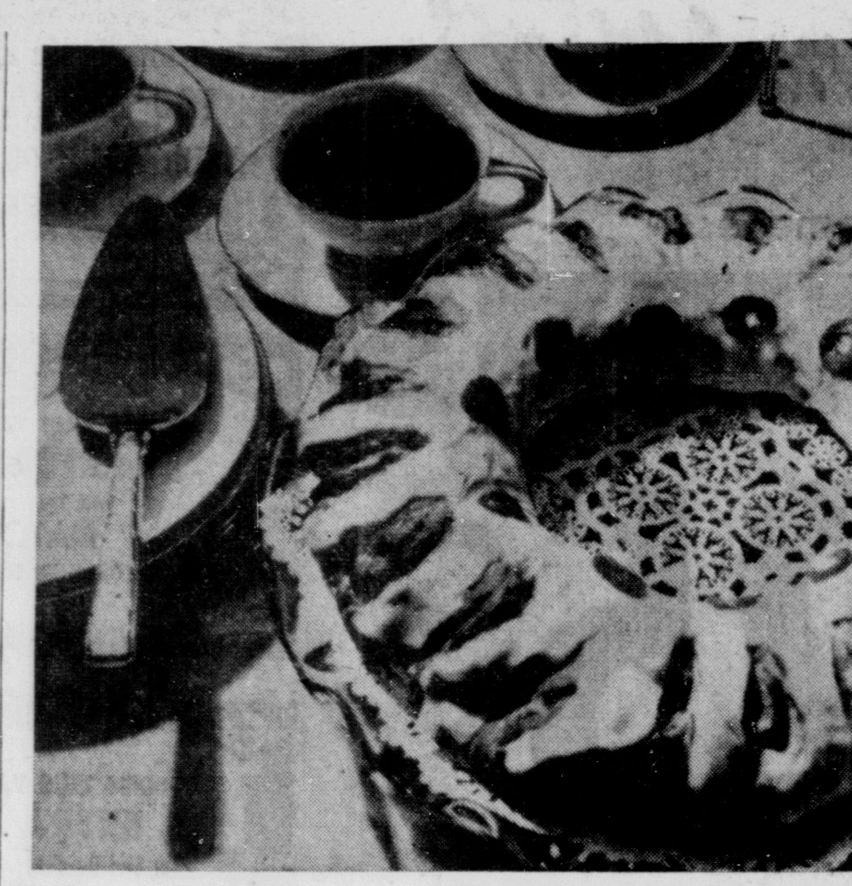
Sophisticated Coffee Cake Boasts Apple, Cheese Fill

Some homemade yeast coffee cakes are so delicate and moist they often fit into the dessert class rather than with breakfast breads. You may find this is true of the following fruit filled coffee ring.

It begins with a standard sweet, yeast dough. The filling, however, is an intriguing combination of spicy chopped apple and blue cheese. The delicate pungency of creamy American blue cheese pervades the fruit and dough, lending tantalizaing flavor to the coffee cake.

This is the kind of sophisticated hot bread to serve fresh from the oven with lots of hot coffee.



BLUE CHEESE COFFEE RING

¾ cup scalded milk
1/3 cup soft butter
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well beaten
½ teaspoon vanilla
1-ounce yeast cake
1 tablespoon sugar
About 3½ cups sifted bread flour

Filling:

1½ cups crumbled American blue cheese (about 8 ounces)
2 apples, pared, finely chopped
2 tablespoons cinnamon
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
Confectioner's Sugar Icing
Maraschino cherries

Pour scalded milk over butter, sugar and salt. When butter is melted, add eggs and vanilla. When mixture is lukewarm, crumble yeast into one tablespoon of sugar and mix with fork until liquefied, then stir the dissolved yeast into the milk-egg mixture. Mix well.

Add flour gradually, adding only enough to make a dough that is soft and easy to handle. Knead it gently until smooth and elastic, about five to eight minutes. Round dough up into a ball and place in a greased bowl, turning once to bring greased side up.

Cover with a damp cloth and let rise in warm spot until doubled in bulk, about one and a half hours. Punch down with fist, pull edges of dough into center and turn dough. Cover and again let rise until doubled in size, 30 to 45 minutes.

When ready to shape dough, gently pat and roll the dough into a rectangle about 12 by 20 inches. Brush with melted butter. Spread with blue cheese-apple filling which is made by blending ingredients together on mixer. Roll dough like jelly roll.

Place sealed edge down forming a ring on lightly greased baking sheet. Join ends of ring and seal them. With sharp knife or scissors, make cuts 2/3 of the way through ring at one inch intervals, turning each section on its side to show filling.

COVER AND LET rise a third time until light, about 40 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees about 25 minutes. Frost with a thin confectioners' sugar and milk icing. Decorate with sliced maraschino cherries. (SH

Wasted Wall Space Is Ideal for Storage

By ANN DOUGLAS

If you're like the average family, the home that seemed amply large when you moved into it is now bulging at the seams. This is probably true even if the size of your family has remained the same.

The reason, of course, is that every family collects possessions over the years, and they tend to accumulate in ever-increasing amounts no matter how valiantly you discard during bouts of housecleaning.

What to do about it? If the matter is out of hand, you can (1) move to a larger house or apartment; (2) build an additional room onto your present house, or (3) take advantage of larger amounts of wasted space in your present home—the walls.

THE FIRST two solutions are major projects. The third works wonders at very reasonable cost. It is accompanied by acquiring some of the handsome new storage pieces that furniture stores are now showing, suggests the Better Home Furnishings Council of Greater Chicago.

Storage for all manner of belongings from books to unpaid bills, from hi-fi equipment to the mending basket, is available for homes in any style without surrendering a single square foot of floor space. Storage pieces either hang on the wall or sit on top of other pieces.

A woman planning a kitchen feels it is incomplete and inconvenient if it does not have its full share of wall cabinets. Yet sometimes it never occurs to her that this same type of storage, differing in design and material to suit other rooms, is just as valuable for general storage as kitchen cabinets are for pots, pans, and staples.

A very common example of useful storage space on the wall is the hutch or cabinet designed to rest on a dining area buffet. Often these stand on pedestals at either end of the buffet so the surface between is left clear for display and serving. The upper piece probably has glass doors to show of the owner's china and glassware.

EQUALLY useful but less widely known, points out the Better Home Furnishings Council, are the numbers of other similar ideas. If you have floor cabinets you can build them right up to the ceiling.

You can hang storage on the wall over sofas, desks, beds, tables—you name it.

There are open shelves in many sizes, depths and styles; often they may be combined with cabinets with hinged or sliding doors, drawer units, tilted magazine racks, and the like. Some of these come already assembled, and others are in units that may be combined to fit your fancy and your wall space. There are drop-leaf desk units, and bar units, and cabinets that may be fitted for stereo and hi-fi, television and record storage.

In addition to filling their primary function of providing storage, these wall pieces can be undeniably decorative. Open shelves can be used to display colorful and attractive possessions, and the more mundane objects hidden in drawers or behind doors. Pleasing effects are possible with the succession of open and closed areas, deep and shallow shelves.

Living rooms, dining rooms, dens, family rooms, bedrooms, all are logical places for wall storage. Furniture makers are constantly thinking of new ways to provide it. There are beds with storage headboards that reach nearly to the ceiling. There are tables that fold out from the wall, disclosing commodious shelves behind them. There are room dividers that give a sense of separation between areas without blocking light and air, and provide ample shelf space to boot. And there are dozens of styles of stacking storage pieces that can be combined to fill any given area. Try some of these and we'll bet your house won't seem nearly so small any more.

AND WITH the clutter taken care of, it will be the kind of home you're proud to show to your friends.

Home is the place you and your family should want to come back to, invite your friends to, show off as your proudest possession. It's the heart of America. (Soc

Dial-A-Number Service Gives Homemaker Hints

A dial-a-number telephone encyclopedia of home owners hints is a new service for Chicago and Cook county residents by the cooperative extension service of the University of Illinois.

Helpful and timely information covering a wide range of subjects for homemakers is available daily from three telephone centers. These serve the city, and north and south sides of the county.

CHICAGOANS can receive a recorded message of the day by dialing STate 2-7459. Those living on the north isde of Cook County should dial 392-3060 for messages from the Arlington Heights extension office.

Daily messages from each center cover the same featured subjects. In addition to recorded hints, many booklets containing more detailed information are available from these offices.

DIAL-A-NUMBER messages on Mondays will cover homemakers hints, prepared by Claradelle Upham, Cook county home adviser, who is located in the Federal bldg., Des Plaines.

On Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, general information on gardening and landscaping will be offered by James Fizzell, Cook county specialist in landscaping, whose office is at 201 N. Dunton st., Arlington Heights.

Thursday messages will cover the U of I consumer service bargain food buys for the weekend, prepared by William F. Lomasney, marketing specialist, at 160 N. LaSalle st., Chicago 1. (SH

Savory Green Bean Sauce

Bright broiled tomato halves, richly browned lamb chops and "Green Beans with Mustard Sauce" make a colorful, flavorful main course for dinner.

Round out the meal with a green salad, crisp bread sticks and a warm fruit dessert.

Thoroughly drain 1-pound can blue lake green beans. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Blend in 2 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 drops tabasco sauce and ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Slowly add 1 cup milk, stirring. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and drained beans. Simmer 3 to 4 minutes, until heated through. Makes 4 servings. (SH

Barbeque Cookery Highlights Outdoor Grilling, Home Fare

A versatile barbecue sauce that can be used to make barbecued spare ribs or chicken or barbecued hamburger on buns is one of Mrs. Thomas L. Rife's favorite recipes.

Mrs. Rife has had many requests for this recipe, for it is always successful no matter how it is used. "And it is easy to prepare, too," commented Mrs. Rife.

A variety of ingredients including tomato soup, onion and several spices are simply heated together and poured over partially-baked ribs. Baked for an additional hour in this savory sauce, the ribs are a tempting taste treat.

LOTS OF FLAVORFUL ingredients go into the quick and easy barbecue sauce being prepared by Mrs. Thomas L. Rife of Rolling Meadows. This versatile sauce can be used to baste spare ribs or chicken or it may be combined with ground beef to make barbecued hamburger. Handing their mother a few of the important seasonings are two of the Rifes' sons, Tim and Tom. (SH

Chicken is delicious basted with this flavorful sauce on the outdoor grill. And when Mrs. Rife makes the barbecued hamburger she simply browns ground beef and onion, adds the sauce and lets the mixture simmer for 20 minutes. It can be prepared in advance and re-heated before serving.

"My husband likes to cook too," said Mrs. Rife, "and is a good one. We often work together in the kitchen and he makes the sauce as often as I do."

"MEN especially like the barbecued hamburger (which is spooned onto buns) and it is excellent to serve as a late evening snack. I have often served it after bridge," she continued, "accompanied by a relish plate and potato chips. It is also good for a weekend family meal, with vegetables and a salad."

This good cook finds that barbecued ribs are a nice company meal because there isn't a lot of last-minute preparation. With the ribs she likes to serve baked potatoes and hot biscuits, which can be baked in the oven along with the meat. Vegetables and a tossed salad or Five Cup Salad are also used as accompaniments.

The Five Cup Salad is also one of Mrs. Rife's favorites because it is a little different, yet delicious and so easy to prepare. It simply consists of one cup each of mandarin oranges, coconut, crushed pineapple and marshmallows, all mixed together with sour cream.

"THIS SALAD goes well with almost any type of meal," said this good cook. "It can also be used for a luncheon, accompanied by Ritz Crackers, or as a salad dessert."

Children like this Five Cup Salad as much as adults do. It makes a big hit with the Rifes' three sons, Bobby, 8, Timmy, 5, and Tommy, 3.

In addition to her culinary interests, Mrs. Rife has several outside activities. She works two evenings a week as a nurse at Northwest Community hospital and is a den mother for the Cub Scouts.

The Rifes live at 2807 Sigwalt st. in Rolling Meadows.

Barbecue Sauce for Spare Ribs

2½ pounds spare ribs
2 medium onions, sliced
1 can condensed tomato soup
¾ cup water
3 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon chili powder
1/8 teaspoon cloves

Combine all sauce ingredients and heat until hot.

Let spare ribs bake for one hour in a 350 degree oven. Pour off grease. Then pour sauce over ribs and bake, covered another hour or longer. Remove cover last 15 minutes of baking. Serves 4.

This sauce may also be used for basting chicken on the outdoor grill.

Barbecued Hamburger on Buns

Brown 1½ pounds of ground beef with onion. (Omit onion from the sauce). Add remaining sauce ingredients listed above and cook for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Spoon onto buns. Serves 6 to 8.

Five Cup Salad

1 cup mandarin oranges, drained
1 cup miniature marshmallows
1 cup chunk or tidbit pineapple, drained
1 cup coconut
1 cup sour cream

Mix all ingredients together and refrigerate. Serve on lettuce cups.

Proper Labeling Promotes Wise Canned Foods Buying

"The label is like a key that enables the shopper to open doors to what she wants," says a new National Canners association booklet, "It's On the Label." The booklet explains the facts about canned foods labels, the ways they help consumers to shop wisely and the advantages of descriptive labeling.

By giving as many facts as possible about a product, the booklet explains, a descriptive label tells the shopper more than she could learn from a grade label, which relies on A, B and C ratings.

Grade A tomatoes may be wholer, redder or riper than grade B tomatoes, for instance, but the shopper won't know which thing the grade indicates.

MOREOVER a grade label may be misleading because it refers neither to wholesomeness nor flavor quality, the two crucial considerations for the consumer.

The booklet also answers questions about the legal requirements for labels, the optional information that many canners add, how labels protect consumers, and how consumers can use labels to best advantage.

It stresses the fact that a can of food may be offered for sale only if the food is pure and wholesome and the container made of safe material. The consumer may read the label with that assurance and go on from there.

LAW REQUIRES that all canned foods labels list the product name, the name and address of the packer and the net contents of the can. But the National Canners association recommends that canners make use of descriptive labeling to give consumers as much help as possible.

Most labels go well beyond the legal requirements and include a good product picture, a brand name to facilitate identification by consumers, and facts about product size, color, seasonings, number of servings and cups, and often a recipe panel with serving suggestions.

IF THE PRODUCT warrants it, labels must also present information about product variety, style or packing medium—the fact that corn is whole-kernel or cream-style, for example — and an ingredient list, unless a standard of identity for the product has been established.

A standard of identity is legally established after government and industry agree on required and optional ingredients and sometimes proportions of these for a particular product such as canned peas.

All canners packing such a product must adhere to the standard of identity, and need list only the optional ingredients if they are used.

AS FOR LABEL information about flavor, the booklet has this to say: "As there can be no unanimity about flavor, the canning industry feels that it is unwise and misleading to establish or indicate what may be presumed to be general preferences.

"Most canners agree that it is more useful to state physical characteristics of products which can be objectively and scientifically measured and let each purchaser make her own selection. By the use of descriptive labeling, canners try to tell the consumer exactly what she is getting when she buys a can or jar of food."

CONCLUDING its discussion, the booklet makes suggestions to the shopper. To get most benefit from canned foods labels, she must take the few seconds required to read each label and read it intelligently.

If she knows the size of her family, the use she intends to make of the food, her budget and her family's taste, she can be sure of buying exactly what she wants when she uses label information as her guide.

Note: "It's On the Label" may be had free of charge by requesting it from the food editor of this newspaper. (SH

Spring's Surprise Ham 'n Grapefruit

What would springtime dinners be without ham and Florida grapefruit? Although they usually appear on the menu separately, these two plentifuls are a good team when prepared together as a dinner entree.

The juicy tartness of grapefruit goes well with ham and since the fruit lends itself to broiling it can be done right on the broiler rack with a thick ham slice.

IF YOU'RE not familiar with broiled or baked grapefruit, try it soon and see what a treat it can be. The heat seems to bring out the sunshine flavor of Floida's prize fruit.

This time of year brings lots of grapefruit from Florida to local markets so buy enough to serve them often as juice and halves, in salads and fruit cups, and in cooking.

BROILED GRAPEFRUIT AND HAM

2 Florida grapefruit
Ready - to - eat 1-inch thick
3 tablespons brown sugar
1 tablespoon catchup
⅛ teaspoon Tabasco

Cut Florida grapefruit in half; remove core if desired. Cut around each section loosening fruit from membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge of fruit.

Place ham in pre-heated broiler; broil 10 minutes. While ham is broiling, blend together sugar, catchup and Tabasco. Spread part of the topping over cut surface of grapefruit halves.

At end of 10 minutes, turn ham; spread with remaining topping. Place grapefruit halves on broiler rack with ham. Broil slowly 15 to 20 minutes, or until heated thru.

Yield: 4 servings.

Note: If desired, ham and grapefruit may be baked in a moderate oven, (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. (SH

Hog Prices Show Unusual Stability

Yield Is Key Factor In 1962 Corn Prices

Even with a new government program, old man weather still holds the answer to corn prices in the year ahead. This year's yields have a much greater influence on 1962 prices than the acreage diverted from corn, a University of Illinois agricultural economist stated this week.

L. F. Stice lists three major factors that will set the corn price next year: yields on the planted acreage, the amount made eligible for support and the amount sold from government stocks.

LAST YEAR'S record-size corn crop was produced on 82.1 million acres with a record-high average yield of 53 bushels. Before 1958, yields averaged below 50 bushels an acre.

The amount of corn eligible for loan depends on how many farmers sign up in the 1961 feed grain program. If 30 per cent of all feed grain producers signed up, the production from about 24.6 million acres would be eligible for support. If yields averaged 52 bushels, Stice figures that about one billion bushels would qualify for the loan. This much corn in the loan would not leave enough "free" corn for market use, so prices would rise to near the loan price, he believes.

A signup of 50 per cent of all corn acreage would make about 1.7 billion bushels eligible for loan and tighten free market supplies even more.

Sales of government corn will also influence prices. When a farmer participating in the feed grain program exchanges his certificates for cash, he authorizes the CCC to sell corn from its stockpile. But the amount it can sell in this way is equal to only about half the cutback in production. Perhaps even more significant, the sales authorized by certificates are equal to only one-eighth to one-third of the corn made eligible for price support.

BESIDES THE corn that can be sold through certificates, the government can also sell corn that is in danger of going out of condition. Much corn has been sold in the domestic market in the past through this means. In addition, the Commodity Credit Corporation can also sell corn for export, although it is not now doing so to any great extent.

How will government sales influence corn prices next year? Sale of noncertificate corn will probably have more influence than sales permitted under the 1961 feed grain law, Stice concludes. (FM

Down On The Farm

CARL F. MEES

Alert Homeowners: Dial 392-3060 daily!

The University of Illinois agronomists will roll out the red carpet for visitors to Agronomy Day at the University's South Farm, Urbana, Wednesday, June 28.

Visitors will have an opportunity to get a first-hand story on research results as well as to see test demonstrations of the newest developments. Watch this column for further information.

The last time you chewed on a drumstick, you may have noticed that the meat near the bone and the bone itself was an abnormal shade of reddish brown.

No doubt your next thoughts went something like this. Didn't the wife fry it long enough? Maybe the old bird is spoiled. I know, a hormone that farmers stuff into their chickens probably caused it. None of these reasons of course, are correct. Bone darkening in poultry is simply a sign of times, reports University of Illinois poultry specialist Sam Ridlen. Modern research has developed rations that help produce tender broilers and fryers in record time—about nine weeks. It previously took about 14 weeks.

The bones of chickens only nine weeks old have not completely calcified or hardened. This condition liberates the hemoglobin in the blood when the young broilers and fryers are frozen and then thawed out. The hemoglobin leaks through the spongy bone walls, discoloring the bones and the meat surrounding the bones. Cooking changes the hemoglobin's red color to various shades of reddish brown. The bone darkening does not affect the quality, aroma, flavor, texture or even taste of meat—just its appearance.

So until science devises a method to stop bone darkening just shut your eyes next time you chew on a darkened drumstick.

Each year I am asked the question many times as to how late corn can be planted. The Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station has conducted experiments to show the effect of planting time upon corn yield. Corn yield averages from five years of testing three hybrids on different dates were as follows: Planted on May 4th, yield—112 bushels; May 12th—108 bushels; May 19th—111 bushels; May 27th—110 bushels; June 3—110 bushels; June 12—89 bushels.

These results show that grain yield is high for all plantings made in May. A significant drop did not occur until after the June 3 planting. In Cook county I think it would be safe to say, if at all possible, corn should be planted by June 1, but if the weather does not permit, probably it could be planted until June 15, depending of course upon the frost in the fall.

To obtain yields as stated above, the rate of planting should be at least 16,200 kernels per acre or more. Needless to say, heavy applications of fertilizer are necessary to obtain yields of 100 bushels per acre or more.

Face Flies Are Already Spotted

The troublesome face fly has already been spotted in Illinois this spring, reports Steve Moore, entomologist with the University of Illinois and Illinois Natural History Survey.

The flies have been found in cow herds north of a line between Greene county and Edgar county. The number averages up to 35 per head, depending on the weather.

FLIES SEEN so far are adults that have over-wintered in buildings and other locations. They are either laying eggs now or will soon start. Therefore immediate control measures can reduce the populations this summer.

For control, Moore advises painting the forehead of each animal with a face fly bait. Most baits contain syrup and 2/10 per cent of the insecticide DDVP. The syrup attracts flies to the bait; the DDVP finishes the job. Bait left over from last year has probably lost its effectiveness.

FACE FLIES, which resemble house flies, are easily identified because they cluster on the faces of cattle, horses and open-faced breeds of sheep, such as Corriedales. The flies feed on the eye secretions.

Through annoying the animals, they cause reductions in weight gains and milk production, as well as general irritability. (FM

Market Prospects Also Hold Level

by L. H. SIMERL

Hog prices at midwest terminal markets have held closely around $16 and $17 for 12 month. During this time hog producers made some very good profits. These served to replenish farmers' bank accounts that had been depleted by low prices for hogs in the previous 12-month period.

The next 12 months seem likely to be midway, profitwise, between these two latest 12-month periods.

As every hog producer knows, hog marketings and pork output have been relatively light during the past 12 months. Recently, however, market receipts and pork output have equaled year-before levels.

LOOKING AHEAD to the summer and fall, market supplies will probably be midway between those of last year and the year before. Prices, too, seem likely to fall about midway between 1960 and 1959 levels, which would be around $16 for the summer and $15 for the fall.

The projected price pattern is slightly unusual in two respects: (1) it does not anticipate a normal seasonal price rise from spring to summer, and (2) it does not anticipate a full normal seasonal price decline from summer to fall.

There are some reasons for expecting these deviations from the usual price patterns. In the first place, we are at the turning point in the hog marketing cycle. From now on we expect market receipts to run 6 to 10 per cent larger than the year before. Increased supplies compared with last year, plus more competition from other meats, will likely hold prices of hogs slightly below the $17 monthly averages posted last summer.

MARKET SUPPLIES will be only moderately larger during the fall than during the summer. The reason is that farmers increased their 1961 spring farrowings only about half enough to offset the big cut they made last year.

If we have appraised the early summer market correctly, it will not pay to delay marketing hogs in anticipation of substantial price increases. It may pay to hold back for a few days when prices have broken sharply. But advances may be temporary bulges, rather than the beginning of a longer trend.

When we focus on 1962, we have to resort to guesswork. We try to guess whether farmers will increase or decrease hog production, and how much.

THE PRESENT expansion trend may continue into next year. The hog-corn price ratio seems likely to be average, or better, this fall at the breeding time for 1962 spring pigs.

The new feed-grain program complicates the picture. Farmers who comply and become eligible for price support for corn may cut back hog production. But those who do not comply may increase their hog business in order to provide a market for their corn. It may be a close game.

Show Value of Early Cut Hay

University of Illinois research dramatically illustrates the value of cutting hay in the bud or early-bloom stage.

U. of I. dairy scientists compared dry matter yields, feeding values and dairy cow consumption rates of bud-stage and full-bloom alfalfa-bromegrass hay. Here's what they found:

1. Although the full-bloom hay yielded more dry matter per acre, the bud-stage hay yielded 207 pounds more protein per acre.
2. The bud-stage hay contained 1,201 pounds less crude fiber per acre.
3. Feeding trials showed that cows preferred and ate more of the early-cut hay.

OF THESE three advantages for bud-stage hay, the higher consumption rate is probably most important, explains U. of I. dairy scientist John Byers.

Byers says dry matter consumption per 100 pounds of body weight was 2.13 pounds for second-cutting bud-stage hay and only 1.89 pounds for second-cutting full-bloom hay.

This indicates that a 1,500-pound cow would eat 3.6 more pounds of the bud-stage hay per day than of the full-bloom.

CARRYING these figures further, a 100-cow herd on full-bloom hay for a six-month feeding period would require the equivalent of 20 tons of shelled corn to replace the nutrients lost in the consumption gap between the two types of hay.

Considering the nutritional value of the hay plus the consumption per cow, Byers says this research indicates that one acre of hay cut in the bud stage is equal to one acre of full-bloom hay plus 10 bushels of shelled corn. (FM

Hints To Home Owners

by

James Fizzell

Assistant Farm Advisor

It takes care and attention to keep trees and shrubs healthy through the summer.

Water is probably more important than any other single factor in keeping plants growing in hot weather. Large plants need lots of water. Trees or shrubs planted this year will particularly need watering throughout the season. In watering these plants, the soil should be soaked at least a foot deep. This can be done by laying a hose at the base of the plant and letting it run slowly for several hours. Root soakers can be used which place the water directly in the soil, soaking the plant without run-off. Watering once every ten days should give the plants plenty of water.

ROOT SOAKERS can also be used to advantage on established trees and shrubs. These plants will not need watering as often, but a good soaking is advisable whenever a week of hot weather occurs without rain. If insufficient rain falls to soak the soil, watering may be advisable anyway.

Weeds often interfere with the natural development of trees and shrubs, by competing for moisture and nutrients. Weeds should be pulled out or chopped out with a hoe. Be careful not to dig too deeply into the soil around the plants as this may injure the small feeder roots which are quite near the surface even under large trees.

Insects will cause a lot of damage to ornamental plants this year. Red spider mites will be particularly damaging to evergreens. Washing down evergreens with a strong jet of water once a week, and spraying with a miticide, such as aramite, will help prevent this damage.

BAGWORMS damage deciduous as well as evergreen plants. Lead arsenate or malathion will control them.

Aphids are particularly destructive on deciduous plants and are quite annoying due to a sticky material, secrete while they feed, which soon covers cars or anything else parked under trees for any length of time. Aphids can be controlled by spraying with lindance.

Good control of insects demands persistent treatment with the correct material.

Cool Hogs Pay Off In Cheaper Gains

Keeping hogs cool during the hot summer months ahead will pay off in cheaper gains, observed Dick Carlisle, University of Illinois livestock specialist.

He cites California Experiment Station tests to support his statement. The California workers kept hogs nearing market weight in rooms constantly maintained at either 100 or 70-degree temperature.

Hogs kept in the 100-degree rooms required four times as much feed as those in the cooler rooms. Carlisle admits that a constant 100-degree temperature will not be found on an Illinois farm. But the results still show how hot temperatures increase cost of gains.

CARLISLE lists these four tips for keeping hogs cool:

1. Provide at least six square feet of shade per hog. On pasture, running the long axis of a rectangular shade north and south helps to reduce dust under the shade.
2. Provide plenty of drinking space—at least one cup for every 20 hogs.
3. If hogs are on concrete, provide a mist sprayer. Turn it on when temperatures climb past 75 degrees.
4. If hogs are on pasture, locate sanitary wallows in the sun, so that hogs will climb in, get wet and then lie in the shade. This allows more hogs to use the wallows. (FM

No Admission To State Parks

There will be no admission fees at Illinois state parks after July 1 under the provisions of a bill signed into law last week by Gov. Otto Kerner. Bill sponsor, Sen. Gordon Kerr of Brookport, said state parks should be free to attract tourists. Admission fees are now 10 cents a person, 10 cents a car or $2 for car sticker good for all year for car and occupants. The Way We See It

Taxpayer Rebellion Brewing in Illinois

A wealthy state, Illinois could hardly be considered bankrupt or insolvent. Personal income in Illinois is exceeded only by California and New York.

Yet a leading legislator last week declared that Illinois is bankrupt and can pay its day to day bills only because the Governor is borrowing from earmarked funds to provide for the general revenue deficits.

Governor Kerner has called for a state budget of more than $3 billion. This includes $385 million in new, additional revenue needed to make up a $216 million deficit inherited from the last biennium and $170 million more needed for schools and state hospitals.

Under the state's tottering tax structure, the chief source of revenue is the sales tax.

Desperate for increased revenue, Governor Kerner wants the tax raised to 4½ cents on each $1 retail sale — with an extra half-cent for both the cities and state. If approved, the Illinois sales tax will be the highest in the nation and provide Illinois with the most regressive tax structure of any of the states.

Other makeshift proposals aimed at patching up the state's already confused and inequitable tax system include broadening of the sales tax coverage, tripling of the corporation franchise tax rate, a 5 per cent tax on hotel and motel room receipts, a one cent per package tax on cigarettes, a 10 per cent tax on cigars, a state income tax based on 5 per cent of federal taxes, an extra 2½ per cent race track betting tax, and a personal property tax on stock of foreign corporations.

A few of these proposals will be enacted into law; most will expire in committee archives. None strike at the heart of Illinois' financial dilemma.

The state's tax problems focus ultimately on the need for constitutional change.

Illinois is governed by the same revenue provisions that were written into the state constitution 90 years ago. Consumers of essential goods, such as food and clothing, and owners of land bear the brunt of paying for state and local government. Farmers, homeowners, and lower income groups have been hit especially hard in recent years.

The state needs an entirely new revenue article to meet 1961 conditions. Legislators should stop trying to patch it up but should get behind a new effort to revise it completely. The General Assembly must be forced to adopt a resolution for a new revenue article so that the people will have a chance to vote on it in November, 1962.

Meanwhile, every effort must be exerted to trim the Governor's budget to essential expenditures.

Two areas worthy of examination, according to State Rep. Bernard Peskin (6th district), are the universities and Department of Public Welfare.

In the wake of shocking exposures of waste, extravagance, and incompetence in the administration of Southern Illinois university, it is imperative that the unversity budget undergo special scrutiny.

Considerable savings could be effected in the welfare department with the elimination of grounds housing for state institution employees who are union labor or administrative personnel. These workers can afford private housing.

A taxpayers' rebellion is brewing in Illinois. Citizens are weary of an inequitable, patchwork tax system which only adds to a cumbersome tax burden. They want maximum economy in state government, and they demand positive action to overhaul Illinois' archaic revenue article.

New Attitude in Illinois

Attempts by Dr. Francis J. Gerty, new director of the Department of Public Welfare, to establish a number of small mental health clinics throughout the state is a display of how Illinois is finally shedding its medieval attitudes in the treatment of mental illness.

Dr. Gerty's recommendations to use the $150 million mental health bond issue for establishment of such facilities, however, ran into a legal obstacle when the attorney general gave the opinion that the money could only be expended on existing institutions.

In order to operate within these limits, it has now been decided to establish branches of existing mental institutions, as the University of Illinois has educational branches throughout the state.

A lion's share is planned for the Chicago metropolitan area, at last report, pointing up the need for such facilities where the state's population is most heavily concentrated.

In addition, Dr. Gerty wants to establish 17 small mental health clinics scattered throughout the state. Money for these institutions would be taken from the state's mental health fund, legislators say.

Just such a clinic has been proposed for the northwest suburban area, where the communities to be served would contribute whatever they could, and the state would put up two-thirds more than this amount.

Legislation is also pending to establish a Department of Mental Health removed from the Department of Public Welfare since over 80 per cent of the welfare department's budget is for treatment of the mentally ill and retarded.

Major objectives of this proposed department are interrelated and cannot be divorced. They call for development of community-centered services for prevention, treatment and cure of mental illness; relief of overcrowding in existing mental hospitals which can be accomplished with establishment of more clinics whose goals will be prevention as well as treatment; rehabilitation and repair of existing hospital facilities.

A mental health clinic, such as the one proposed to serve Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Elk Grove, Hoffman Estates, Wheeling and Prospect Heights, provides treatment for lower income families which might not otherwise seek aid until the need is too apparent when a psychotic breakdown occurs.

Furthermore, such a clinic assists in coordinating activities of other agencies, such as Family Service, in attempting to keep the mental health of the communities it serves at a high level. As a part of the community — rather than an institution far removed from it where patients are warehoused rather than treated — it can be much more effective in mounting the assault against a disease which affects one American in every 10.

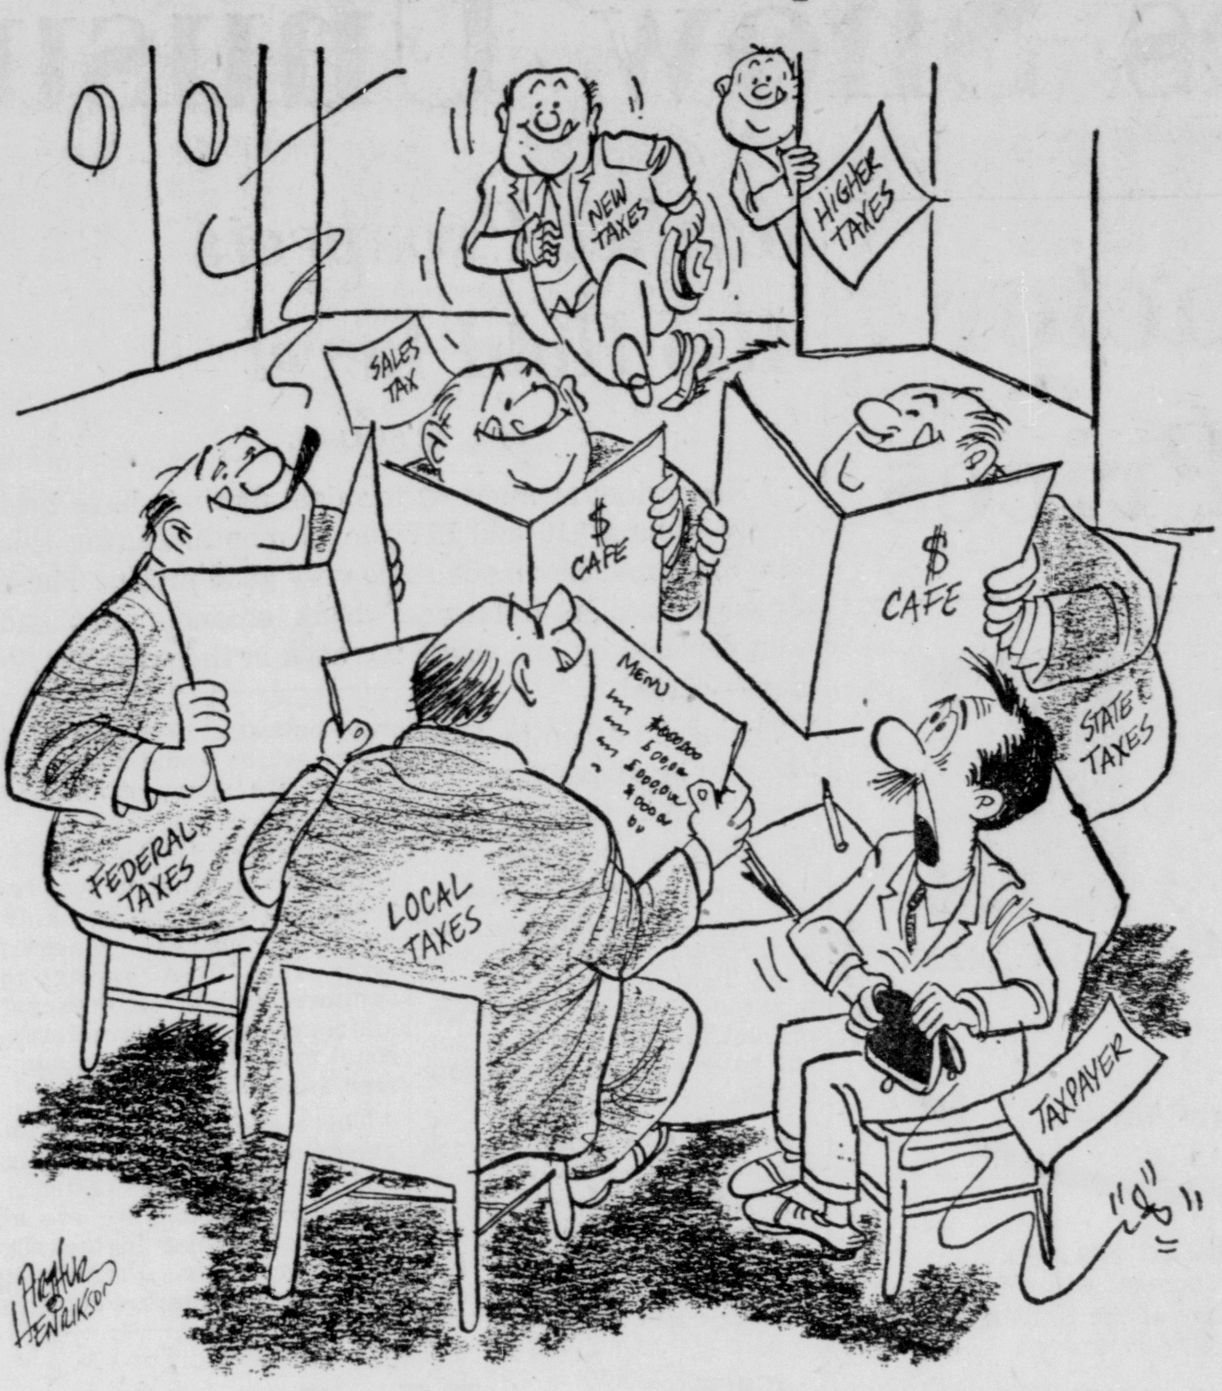
If the need for such clinics does not appear apparent, then perhaps these statistics compiled by the Mental Health Society of Greater Chicago for the Mental Health month of May more dramatically demonstrates this demand:

—There are 48,000 patients crowded into space designed to accommodate 35,000 in Illinois mental hospitals;

—Illinois ranks eighth among the states in personal income, but 31st in the amount spent on patient care, and 43rd in the number of full-time employes to care for each 100 patients;

—Every three minutes, the doors of one of our mental institutions in this country closes behind one of our citizens who needs psychiatric help.

'Could I Be Classified as a Depressed Area?'



Democracy Is Endangered

Public Is Too Indifferent Toward Government Secrecy

by DICK HOFFMANN

My knowledge of the current controversy over the way business is conducted in Arlington-Prospect high school district 214 is limited to what I read in these news columns and in letters to the editor.

But I find somewhat alarming the attitude some of our readers seem to take toward "executive" sessions of the high school board of education, as if they were something to be taken for granted as part of the democratic process.

The readers appear miffed because this newspaper published information it had secured from one secret session. One reader, "A Teacher," complains that "If a man cannot be sure that an honest opinion expressed at an executive meeting won't be published—then the whole reason for executive sessions is lost."

FIRST of all, I don't know why a man would object to his honest opinion being published; I assume the man expressing it has the strength of his convictions. Secondly, I am at a loss as to what the "whole reason" is for executive sessions.

Whatever value "executive" sessions has in a democracy is questionable. The law has generally been interpreted to allow school boards the right to enter into closed-door sessions in a few isolated instances, e.g., the acquisition of property, hiring and firing of personnel and setting of salaries.

Logic directs that the purchase of property requires a certain effort to avoid garrulousness. And there are always individual rights and feelings to be considered in placing on or dismissing educators from the public payroll. Individual salaries shouldn't be made a matter of general knowledge.

BUT THERE should be exceptions to these exceptions. How a school board arrives at its establishment of salary schedules, how they compare with other districts — generally how the taxpayers' money is being distributed—should be disseminated to the public.

If a deep and abiding rift develops between board members over the qualifications of an administrator or teacher, I think it is proper that the paymaster, i.e., the public, should be allowed to express its views on the matter.

I am not attempting to criticize district 214 for abusing the use of the executive session; neither should these comments be interpreted to apply specifically to problems this particular school district is encountering.

BUT I DO feel obliged to comment on this apparent acceptance of the executive session by members of the public. For too often the executive session is a convenient excuse for covering up errors and controversy; it offers an escape from a public accounting of action taken.

Furthermore, I doubt if it was designed as a defense for board members so that their comments or opinions would remain closeted from public view. I would assume that these closed door sessions are to protect individuals from situations that could only serve to embarrass them or put their means of livelihood in jeopardy.

But there is a growing tendency at all levels of government to utilize secrecy to cloud responsibility or cover admissions. Its justification takes many titles: "in the interest of national security," "executive privilege," "classified."

PRESIDENT Kennedy's suggestion that the press censor itself seems to epitomize this attitude. The recommendation was offered in what appeared to me to be a fit of petulance because of the role the newspapers played in catching Kennedy and his Secretary of State in a lie concerning this nation's contribution to the ill-fated Cuban invaders.

I think the American press lived up to its traditional promise in exposing this hypocrisy. It is disturbing to me that our holders of high office do lie, in public or private, and I wonder how we can continue to hold George Washington and the chopped down cherry tree as an example to our young in such instances. Using the rationale that our enemies practice deceit is not justification enough; it just means that we are adopting their worst features.

In a democracy, the people are expected to make judgments on the basis of a free flow of information; when public bodies begin damming up these sources of knowledge they interfere with one of the basic functions of the democratic will.

PERHAPS THE star chamber activities of village or school boards seem distant from such lofty expressions, but if the public begins to accept such practices the cause of those who do not believe in democracy is furthered.

The general coverage these newspapers have given high school affairs has been criticized; I do not wish to enter into this quarrel. The press is not sacrosanct or infallible; if it errs it should be brought to task.

But I will defend our education editor in one regard: she showed resourcefulness in digging out of a secret session the fact that a serious split existed between members of the board of education. This is something the public was entitled to know.

Springfield Sidelights

Gambling Bills Face Legislative Battle

by REP. PAUL SIMON

The gambling bill which has received most of the headlines has been the bingo proposal, with some attention to a proposal to license dog tracks in the state; but the gambling measure which will cause the biggest fight before its passage or defeat is one calling for outlawing of a certain type of pinball machine which is used for gambling almost exclusively.

The two bills which will outlaw this particular type of pinball machine were introduced in the Senate by Senator Robert McClory of Lake county. They have passed the Senate and now face a fight in the House for passage.

TWO YEARS ago the bills passed after a bitter fight—only to be vetoed by Governor Stratton. Newspapers around the state were unanimous in criticizing Stratton for that action.

The bill does not affect most pinball machines. It does affect the one-ball machines which record the number of games you win on a special little device. This provides a basis for a payoff. The proprietor, through a special lever, cancels the winning games after the payoff. Experts say you can spend money more rapidly on this type of machine than you can on a slot machine.

The federal courts have ruled it is a gambling device, as far as federal regulations are concerned. Owners must buy a federal gambling stamp. But the state courts have ruled that it is not necessarily a gambling device and therefore not necessarily illegal.

AFTER STUDYING the experience of other states with this type of device, it seems clear that outlawing this type of pinball machine is in the public interest.

Unfortunately, ev erything

Unfortunately, everything that is in the public interest does not automatically pass.

Two years ago the opposition fought the measure strenously and the bill did not pass until the final hours of the session—only to be vetoed a few days later.

House committee meetings will be held on these senate bills soon. It will be apparent then how much opposition the gambling gentry can muster against the bill.

ALMOST EVERY type of state and national group interested in law enforcement and decency in government have endorsed legislation of this kind.

The bingo bill and the dog bill will continue to grab the headlines, but when the vote is taken, in all likelihood both will be soundly defeated.

The outcome of the McClory bills, outlawing the gambling type of pinball machine, is not so certain.

It's the type of bill citizens interested in good government should watch with more than casual interest.

Sen. Graham Wins Plaudit

Having just returned from a visit to Springfield with our Stuart R. Paddock eighth graders, I feel that some comment should be made concerning our very fine senator from the third district, John Graham.

This busy man took the time to meet our Palatine group at the hotel and not only greeted the pupils, but also toured nearly the whole two days with them. He lectured in the senate about the processes of state government, and even walked the streets of Springfield with us, pointing out places of interest to the group.

He made arrangements with guides to meet us at all of the appropriate places, and in general, made us feel good about this whole trip.

Both the children and the teachers wish to express their sincere thanks to a public servant who is truly a public servant.

Credit Crisis For Consumers

Interest Charge Abuse Requires Broad Action

by MARTIN E. MARTY

Were I ever to be "held up," my antagonist would walk away with precious little cash and a handsome collection of credit cards.

Like all men who drive an automobile a great deal, who travel some nationally, who occasionally must entertain or be entertained, I find it convenient to use the little cards as a means to prove to Uncle Sam at the end of the year that I had actually been where I said I'd been.

Despite the numerous magazine articles on the subject, I was never aware of the extent of the business those cards symbolized until I read "Buy Now, Pay Later" (Morrow, $3.95) by Hillel Black, the most extensive popular study of the credit business to date.

AS READY AS I might be to "charge it," just as reluctant am I to pay whopping interests. Those who feel as I do are a distinct minority in American life, if Black is correct. Most consumers never even ask interest rates—they just ask monthly payment amounts. If they can meet the monthly payment, it does not occur to them to ask what amount is going into interest, though that sometimes approaches or exceeds the price of the original product.

Black is not just an "agin" man. He knows that the credit business has brought certain assets to American life. Few American families could have a home, drive a car, build a church, meet many emergencies, without the services of credit agencies.

What he is against is exorbitant interest rates and even more, deceptive interest-charging practices and even more, attempts to prevent people from being informed about them. It is at this point that the moral question enters.

Black's documentation on this point is impressive: the credit business is built in no small measure on the assumption that people must be kept systematically in the dark. Maybe he is optimistic and self-contradictory: again and again he shows how when people are informed they still choose the path of folly.

HIS BOOK IS an alarming summary of the thousand encroachments of the credit-mobilizers. They are organized to involve the 12-year olds ("The Pied Pipers of Debt") to give them the habit. They are equipped to do so much research that they know more about the average citizen than does the F.B.I. Their biggest enemies are those who do pay cash. Black's major strategy for counter-attack is information.

He suggests several approaches:

Back a federal consumer credit labeling bill (Sen. Paul H. Douglas, who sponsors one, wrote the book's introduction).

—Strengthen or enact state laws that protect the consumer.

—Prohibit car manufacturers from financing automobiles.

Support a state consumer counsel.

—Wherever possible, join or start a credit union.

—Shop around for credit.

But behind them all is his consistent theme: inform people and they will begin to free themselves from the webs of an approach to life which is putting the pawn shops out of business: we are all in hock.

Eyeglass Drive Was Successful

Members of Delta Gamma alumnae wish to thank area residents for their fine support of our recent New Eyes for the Needy campaign. We are proud to have sent over 600 pairs of discarded eyeglasses to Short Hills, New Jersey, headquarters of New Eyes for the Needy, Inc.

Usable eyeglasses will be cataloged by them and distributed to needy persons both in the United States and abroad. Metal frames will be melted down and their revenue used to finance the charity. Sunglasses are sent to leper colonies.

We feel this is a worthy cause and hope to continue our support to it next year. Won't you tuck away any eyeglasses you can no longer use and join us again next year?

First Picture Magazine 'Reborn'

SPECIAL ISSUE
Berliner Illustrirte
Berlin the hub of GERMANY
ASR

Once a strong voice for democratic Germany, the world's first weekly picture magazine, Berliner Illustrirte, this month is being published for the first time in English. It is a special issue devoted to the divided city of Berlin, and is the first appearance of the magazine since Germany's fall.

A portrait of President John F. Kennedy appears on the cover. Picture stories report on free Berlin's business and industry, fashion, arts, religion and people, in the midst of a "red sea."

Berliner Illustrirte was for 40 years the leading photo magazine in Germany and Europe. With the advent of the Nazi regime the publication fell under Nazi influence. Publication ceased in 1945.

The special issue came into being because a German publisher, Axel Springer, believes that thru the once highly respected publication he can best express the gratefulness of the people of Berlin to their friends in the western world.

A potential collector's item, the special English issue graphically demonstrates the problem of how human life goes on in a divided city in a divided nation.

PARK BOARD SET TO ACT ON OFFER

Six Tracts Are Donated

Bensenville park district is "ready to roll" after last week's decision by the village board to give six pieces of property to the park district.

The six tracts were acquired previously by the village for park purposes.

The park board will discuss its plans for maintenance and development of the areas at its next regular meeting on Tuesday, June 6, according to Robert Nichols, park board president.

THE SIX pieces of property are:

—Central (or Memorial) park, of about seven acres, on Church rd. where the swimming pool is located.

—Sundale (or Sunset) playground, about three acres, on Grove st. between Judson and Barron sts.

—The Margie, Rose and Adeline playlots in the Brentwood Terrace subdivision.

—The playlot of 1.8 acres at Hamilton ave. and the railroad tracks in Seekaar's subdivision.

TRANSFER of deeds to the properties is expected to take place about July 1. At about the same time, the park district will receive its first installment of tax income, which is expected to add up to about $30,000 a year.

Some of the tax income will be reserved for future land purchase. The exact amounts which will be devoted to develop of the newly acquired parks this summer will be discussed by the board June 6.

Much of Central park is leased by the swimming pool association.

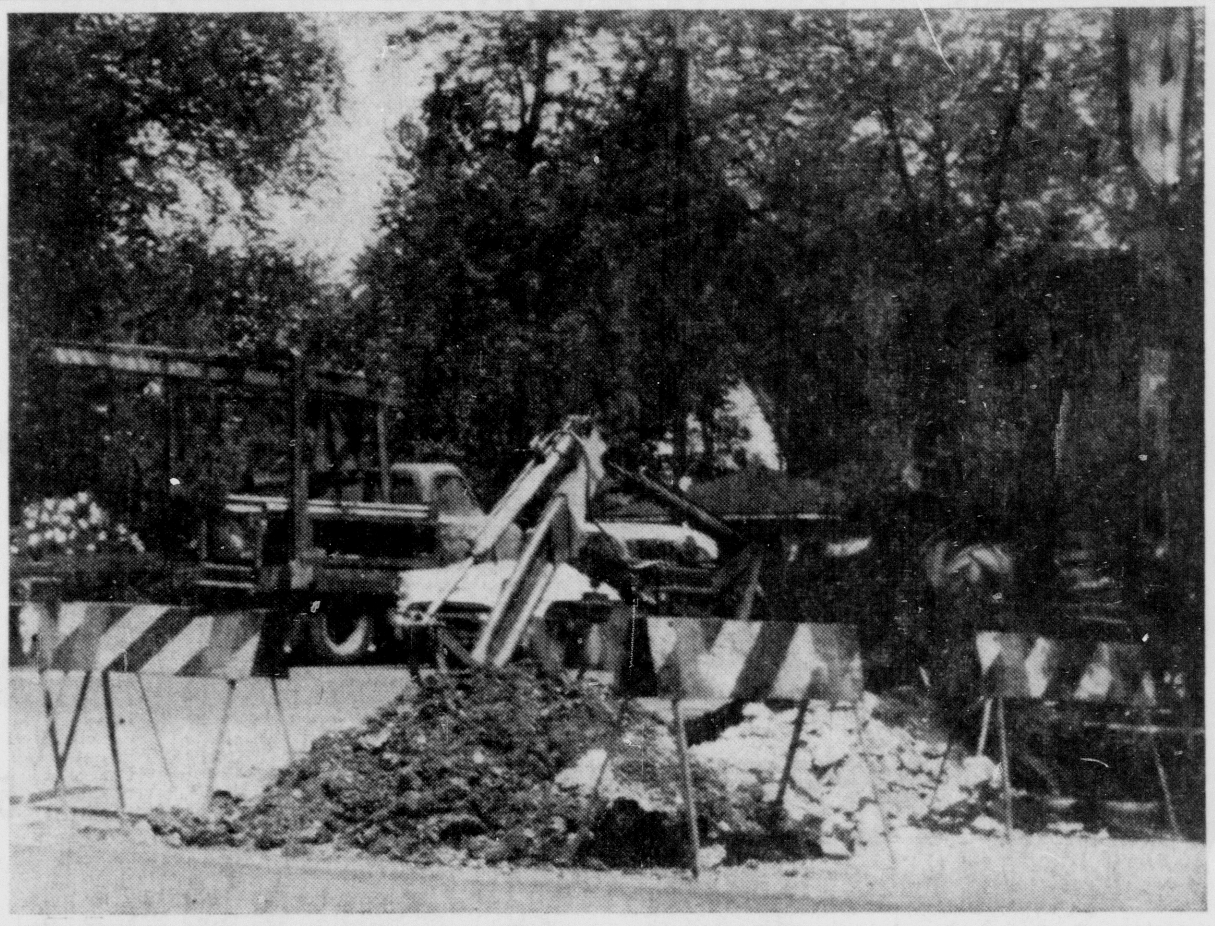
A new lease between the association and the park district will be negotiated to replace the lease between the association and the village.

The Sundale playground has ball diamonds and some equipment already. Trustees asked that the ball diamonds be retained at this playground.

THE THREE Brentwood playlots are being seeded as a cooperative effort by Brentwood Terrace Home Owners association and the village, in line with an agreement made about a year ago.

Three pieces of property are being retained by the village, at least for the time being. They are Lions playground, the Crestbrook playground on S. York rd. at Forest View ave., and a strip of property in Brentwood.

The deeds of land being transferred will contain a clause providing that the land will revert to the village if it ceases to be used for recreational purposes.



WORK HAS BEGUN at York rd. and Green st., Bensenville, on the long-awaited traffic signals which are expected to reduce rush-hour congestion at the busy intersection.

Supervisor Wonders

Grand Ave. Widening Snarled with Delays

Difficulties which continue to plague the DuPage county highway department attempts to clear the way for widening Grand ave. have caused Fred Koebbeman, Addison township supervisor, to say: "I'm beginning to wonder if we'll get the job done this year."

The county plans to widen the road from two lanes to four lanes from County Line rd. on the east to a point west of rte. 83 which will be determined exactly when the route of the Congress expressway extension is settled.

ONE OR TWO condemnation suits may be necessary to acquire right of way for the Grand ave. widening.

In addition, original plans for the job jeopardized the existing location of pumps at two gasoline stations at Grand ave. and York rd.

The highway department has been revising its plans in an effort to simplify the undertaking.

Parents of children in Brentwood Terrace subdivision, Bensenville, and the Country Club Highlands subdivision south of Grand ave. have told county officials of their concern about the wider highway and the heavier traffic which will result.

PUBLIC SCHOOL children in Brentwood between Belmont and Grand ave. are in the Churchville school district and must cross Grand ave. to attend Conrad Fischer school. It is expected that about 90 boys and girls will go to Conrad Fischer school from Brentwood next fall.

About 60 Catholic children from Country Club Highlands are expected to attend the new St. Charles Borromeo school, on the north side of Grand ave., when it opens in the fall, and they, too, will have to cross Grand ave. four times a day.

There has been some talk of building an underpass for school children, but the county does not agree. It proposes flashing school crossing lights and a crossing guard.

Tell Parade Plans For Memorial Day

Eighty-seven organizations have been invited to take part in Bensenville's Memorial day parade, which Peter Martyniuk, parade marshal, hopes will be "the biggest ever."

The parade will begin at 10:15 a.m. from the corner of Memorial dr. and Miner st., proceed east to Addison st., then north to Main st., east to York rd., and past the reviewing stand in front of the VFW home.

AMONG THE groups invited to march are the Lions, Chamber of Commerce, volunteer firemen, Little Leaguers, Boy and Girl Scouts, YMCA Indian Guides, and the Babe Ruth League ball players.

The Fenton high school band will be divided into two groups of about 50 each during the march. The Tioga Vagabonds, a precision color guard, will exhibit their skills at marching and drill.

Making their debut will be the St. Alexis junior drum and bugle corps, which is co-sponsored by Tioga post, VFW. The corps was organized last November.

CHIEF SPEAKER at the conclusion of the parade will be William A. Redmond, state representative from the 14th district.

Preceding the parade at 9 a.m., the VFW will hold a graveside service at the grave of Robert Haberstich at Frieden's cemetery on York rd. Haberstich was a member of Tioga post for 15 years.

Approve Radio

Purchase of a radio for the third police squad car, at a cost of $570, has been approved by Bensenville trustees.

The new radio is needed because a six-volt set owned by the department will not meet the standards of split-channel operation demanded by the Federal Communications Commision, the board was told.

Share of Tax

The village of Bensenville received $4,467.07 as its share of the tax on retail sales made in the village during February.

$989 in Fines

Fines totaling $989 were levied by Justice of the Peace Jack Parish in Bensenville court during April.

Banking Hours

Bensenville State bank will be closed Memorial day, but will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Monday, May 29.

Two Blocks West

Extension of Sewer Asked

Extension of the Irving Park interceptor sewer from its present terminus at Eastview ave. for two blocks westward to Marshall rd. has been recommended by W. L. Ashdown, village engineer.

The village board last Thursday referred the proposal to its sewer committee.

Robert Doty, of the Ashdown firm, said the Peter Ciccone company, which has just completed the sewer to Eastview ave., would be willing to put in the extension to Marshall rd., while its machinery is in the area, for the same unit prices in its present contract.

DOTY ESTIMATED the extension would cost $19,657.46.

However, William A. Redmond, village attorney, gave the opinion that the board would have to advertise for bids on the new work.

Trustees Pete Martyniuk and Fred Hilton said they were not ready to make a snap decision on the matter, and it was then referred to the water committee.

Construction of the extension would make it possible to put a sanitary sewer in Marshall ave., either by special assessment or under private contract arranged by the property owners, said Village President Ritchie Thomas.

THOMAS SAID septic systems along Marshall ave. are giving trouble.

Extension of the interceptor would be financed by funds remaining in the bond issue for sewer and water expansion.

The board instructed the Ashdown firm to prepare plans and specifications for the extension, and also for one in Wood st. which was discussed several months ago. However, final decision on both projects will await the report of the sewer committee.

A BOYS BASEBALL team will be sponsored by Bensenville's League of United American Citizens (LULAC), which has also worked to improve housing conditions, provide a night school for adults, and establish a college scholarship fund. Shown at the presentation of the check to finance the baseball team are, from left to right: Jesus Garcia, treasurer of LULAC; Gus Villareal, president; Vince Patlan, vice president; Carmen Rios, secretary; Rudy Persales, district director, and Paul Tice, president of Bensenville Boys Athletic association.

To Control Tower

Elevator May Prove Costly

An abortive effort to provide elevator service to the top of a new control tower at DuPage county airport may cost the county $7,500.

The county board's road and airport committee discussed the problem at its meeting last Monday.

Original plans called for having the elevator run to the fourth floor of the five-floor control tower. Last October, Wesley A. Kidd, then chairman of the board's airport committee, ordered work stopped so that plans could be prepared to have the elevator go the full five floors.

SUCH PLANS were prepared at a cost of $2,500, but proved to be unworkable because the elevator shaft required would obstruct the view from the control tower.

Meanwhile, Kidd failed to get Republican nomination for reelection as a Milton township supervisor last winter, and left the board when his term expired in April. When the new board organized, Chairman Paul Ronske merged the road and airport committees.

The new committee has decided to abandon the plans for a five-story elevator. It has been told that no airport control tower in the country has an elevator going all the way to the top.

It has before it a $7,500 bill from the contractor — $2,500 for the unused engineering plans and $5,000 for costs or "damages" caused by the unsuccessful attempt to make "room at the top."

Revise Plan Commission

Bensenville has updated and revised its ordinance governing the plan commission at the suggestion of the State Housing board.

The State Housing board has before it a village request for federal funds to help finance preparation of a master plan, and asked for a revised village ordinance so that Bensenville conforms to all requirements.

THE CHIEF change will make Ritchie Thomas, village president (and also president of the board of local improvements) a member of the plan commission.

All present members of the plan commission were reappointed by Thomas after the ordinance was adopted.

Plan commission members receive no compensation. They may pay their secretary, however.

Talent Needed

Emil Fivek, 247 S. Center st., Bensenville, who puts on shows for patients at veterans hospitals, reports that he is in need of acts, and invites singers, dancers, instrumentalists or barber shop groups who want to perform to telephone him at POrter 6-0575.

COUNTY NEWS Roundup

GLEN ELLYN — Annual village fair is Thursday, May 25, through Sunday at village fairgrounds. Events include band concert by Glenbard High School band, student and adult art shows and dog show. Prizes in the dog show will be given for tricks, big feet, long tail, very small size and funny costume. Each dog will receive a can of dog food.

WHEATON — Redrafted county liquor code aimed at keeping DuPage taverns free of hoodlums. Requires all bartenders in rural taverns to have special licenses. Applicants will be photographed, fingerprinted and checked for criminal records.

ROSELLE — One of two physicians makes decision to transfer offices to Medinah, about a mile from Roselle. Village officials denied his request for rezoning which would permit construction of a medical clinic. Physician needs more room for new facilities and wishes to meet May 30 deadline for signing a lease for the new quarters, says his attorney.

ADDISON, WOOD DALE, ITASCA — Circuses in each village over Memorial Day weekend. Saturday, at Green Meadow shopping center, Addison. Monday, village hall grounds in Wood Dale. And, also Monday, village park in Itasca.

BENSENVILLE — State Representative William Redmond introduces to legislature a bill to reduce country treasurer's fee for collecting school district and municipal property tax from three to two per cent.

Redmond cities several million-dollar construction projects paid for out of current funds which has one source in this collection fee. DuPage voters last fall rejected $5.5 million bond issue proposal to expand county home. Now county plans to build $2.25 million wing with current operating funds.

County Board Chairman Paul Ronske charges bill was introduced for political reasons.

SPRINGFIELD — Bill introduced in legislature would finance six mental health hospital - clinics in six zones, one of which includes DuPage county. Cost would be an estimated $8 million.

ADDISON — Fast-growing Addison annexes two parcels at north boundary of village and considers a third parcel of 80 lots.

BENSENVILLE — Village board votes to transfer six pieces of property to newly formed park district, which will receive its first tax money about July 1.

Vote Salary Hike To Village Clerk

The minutes of a special meeting of Bensenville trustees held April 27 reveal that the old village board increased the salary of Village Clerk Herb Dierking from $6,000 to $6,600 for the year beginning last May 1, and raised it to $7,200 for the following year, $7,800 the year after that, and to $8,400 for the final year of the four-year term.

The meeting, presided over by outgoing Village President Gust J. Van Mol, was attended by four trustees—Les Biefeld, Robert Kerr, Ritchie Thomas and Ray Williams. Trustee Charles Jackson and Leo Wols were absent.

DIERKING AND Village Attorney William A. Redmond were also present.

Trustees Biefeld, Thomas and Williams voted for the raises in the clerk's salary. Trustee Kerr abstained.

The meeting agreed to retain the existing compensation of $900 a year for the village president, and $10 a meeting for trustees.

Form of Walking

by WALTER TETT

Acting Chief of Police, Bensenville

In driving around twon, especially on Church rd. and Grove st., I have noticed that some of the teenagers have gotten into the bad habit of walking on the wrong side of the street.

I think that everyone knows that you always walk facing the traffic.

The habit itself is not too bad in the daytime, but in the evening and at night it can be dangerous, especially if you are wearing dark clothing. The driver of a car very often cannot see you until he is almost on top of you.

I have seen many people walking along a highway with their backs to the traffic on nights when the fog was so thick a driver couldn't possibly see the pedestrians.

One other item I would like to mention is that, when you are walking on a street or on the roadway, don't walk four or five abreast as I have seen, but keep to the road and walk single file.

It's easy for me to write about these precautions and many times they may not seem to be earthshaking articles. However, I do want everyone to keep growing older and I hope that these reminders will help all to do this. (B

'61-62 School Term

Fenton Elects New Officers

Fenton high school students elected their class officers for the 1961-62 school term Friday, May 12. The election day climaxed a week of campaigning through posters in the halls and class assembly meetings. Student Council officers were elected during the final week of April for the coming year.

Lawrence Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mueller of Ralph st., Bensenville, was elected president of the class of 1962. Other officers elected are Alfonso Rubiano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso G. Rubiano of 230 S. Grace st., Bensenville, vice president; Natalie Szymber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wasyl Szymber of 221 Forest View, Wood Dale, secretary, and Edward Bodene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bodene sr., 16W711 Crest, Bensenville, treasurer.

The class of 1963 elected Randall True, son of Mrs. E. Swanson of Irving and Park, Bensenville, president. The other junior officers elected are Phyllis Semsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Semsch of 465 Itasca, Wood Dale, vice president; Caroline Asgeirson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Asgeirson of 260 Mason st., Bensenville, secretary; and Shirley Miner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Miner of 418 Hickory, Bensenville, treasurer.

ROBERT HETTICH, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hettich of Route 3, Bensenville, was elected president of the class of 1964. Other sophomore officers elected are: vice president, Thomas Schmitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schmitt of 192 Rose st., Bensenville; secretary, Sandra Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hamilton of 247 Miner, Bensenville, and treasurer, Beverly Chamberlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chamberlin, 17W343 Third ave., Bensenville.

In the April 24 Student Council election, Michael Najdowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Najdowski, 1310 Brookwood, Wood Dale, was elected president for the coming school year.

Other officers elected are: vice president, Judith Schwagart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schwagart of 304 Ash, Wood Dale; secretary, Mary Etta Wleklinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kas Wleklinski of 910 Pamela dr., Bensenville, and treasurer, Barbara Paley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Paley of 155 Harvey, Wood Dale.

The sponsor of the Student Council next year will be Mrs. Charlotte Sonnenfeld of the social studies department. She replaces guidance director Henry Cobb jr. in that capacity. (B

Boy Scouts in North DuPage

BENSENVILLE

Cub Scout pack 28 of Peace Church, dressed as clowns, marched in the grand entry parade at the Scout circus last Friday in Wheaton.

The following day, the Cub Scouts went to the naval ordnance plant in Forest Park. A tour of the plant was followed by a movie and refreshments in the cafeteria.

Rewards for work in the circus will be distributed at the pack meeting Friday, May 26, which will be the last meeting of the season.

BOOMINGDALE

Cub Pack 57 will meet Friday, June 2, in the Bloomingdale forest preserve on North Bloomingdale road.

The Scouts went on a hobo hike last Saturday, May 20.

Dentist Back From Course

Dr. John W. Silberhorn, 104 W. Green st., Bensenville, has returned from Washington, D.C. where he participated in a five-day course in oral diagnosis and therapeutics at Walter Reed medical center.

Eugene Person Is Department Head At 3-Day Parley

Eugene Person, 15W637 George st., an assistant minister of the Bensenville congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, will direct the public address department at the group's three-day assembly, June 2-4, in Carpentersville Community high school, Carpentersville.

"As soon as the assembly site is disclosed we look over the location to determine equipment needs," Person explained. "After setting up controls in the auditorium, two to four microphones are placed on stage. Any of the 22 assembly departments needing sound are connected with the main controls. Ten speakers are used and an intercom system enables various departments to contact each other on convention matters. Hundreds of feet of wire connect the various departments to the main controls," he said.

"IF IT WERE not for the public address system," reported Person, "the 1,400 delegates would not be able to benefit from the advanced training in effective gospel preaching."

Person, a carpenter during the week, will attend the training program with his wife, Anne.

The highlight of the assembly will be the public Bible discourse, "The 20th Century in Bible Prophecy," Sunday, June 4, at 3 p.m. (B

Dog Wins Honors In Tracking Test

John Curley, 33 Orchard ave., Bensenville, a member of the German Shepherd Dog Training club of Chicago, had reason to celebrate Sunday, May 7.

His German Shepherd, Heidi Von Curley, successfully negotiated the tracking test in a show conducted by the Rand Park Dog Training club on the grounds of the Oak Brook Polo club.

IN PASSING this test, Heidi was required to follow a track laid out some two hours before the test began. Heidi had a good nose that day as she followed every twist and turn by scent to the article left at the end of the 440-yard track.

For her efforts, Heidi received the coveted tracking degree and the Kimberlyn gold medal and ribbon award. Needless to say she also received plenty of praise from her proud owner-trainer, John Curley. (B

Bonaparte School Sets Open House

Invitations are now going out to friends and relatives of the retarded to attend the eighth annual Open House of Bonaparte school, Lincoln building, Bensenville, on June 4 from 2 to 5 p.m.

The hand-screened invitations are examples of the work of Bonaparte pupils.

Exhibits will include hand-loomed rugs and mats, leather work, ceramics designed and executed by pupils, Christmas tags, and hand-screened Christmas cards and notes.

Community Welfare for Mentally Retarded Children, P.O. box 61, LaGrange, which sponsors Bonaparte, since 1950 has operated a school for retarded entirely without public funds. The pupils for one reason or another are ineligible for special education classes.

The school orginally was in LaGrange, then in Glen Ellyn, and now shares expenses of the Lincoln school building with two public school classes for trainable retarded.

BONAPARTE'S own two classes include retarded and multiply-handicapped from 6 to 21, whose curriculum includes self-help training, academic work geared to individual abilities, household arts, crafts, and a program of physical training of which the weekly swimming classes in nearby Flick-Reedy corporation pool are probably the most popular.

Five Bonaparters have thus far received their Red Cross certificates as a result of these classes, taught by volunteers.

The Lincoln building is located on Thorndale road, between rte. 83 and York rd., north of Bensenville. Anyone interested in work with the retarded will be welcome at the open house. (B

Crack Train Hits Car, Kills Driver

Funeral services were held Monday at Geils, Bensenville, for Bertil O. Olson, 55, of 4N-715 Wood Dale rd. who was killed when a Milwaukee train hit his sports car at Ash st., Wood Dale, last Friday morning.

Police say Olson was driving south when his Thunderbird was hit by the eastbound "Arrow" train. There were no witnesses to the accident, police say. Olson's body was thrown about 30 feet from the intersection of the street and railroad tracks, and his car was tossed about 100 feet.

AN INQUEST will be held at 3:30 p.m. Friday, May 26, at Geils at which L. W. Welch, driver of the train, is expected to testify.

Olson was a contractor. He is survived by his wife, Karin; two sons, Osborne of Addison and Ralph of Medinah; one daughter, Louise Klein of Bensenville, and seven grandchildren.

Interment was in Clarendon Hills cemetery. (BF

No Plastic Slated For New Drive-In

Plastic will not be used to construct a drive-in restaurant on Irving Park rd. just west of Mason st.

Backers of the drive-in told the village board last week they will build with conventional materials.

THE DECISION followed discussion by the board of a letter from the Building Officials Conference of America (BOCA) which listed some reservations about the plastic material proposed.

An informal poll of trustees showed all were opposed to granting a building permit for the plastic building.

Richard Niles intends to operate the drive-in restaurant under franchise from the Saucee Weenie chain, headed by Sam Gayle. Both were present to plead for permission to build the 10-by-24-foot building of plastic.

Gayle brought photographs in color and black-and-white of Saucee Weenie drive-ins being built in Grand Rapids, Mich. They did not sway the board.

THE DRIVE-IN question has been before the board for about two months, and led to some heated exchanges of words at previous meetings.

When the board voted against plastic, Gayle said he was willing to lose money by building with conventional materials in order to prevent default by either himself or Niles on their contract, and to put Niles in business for the summer season.

Folk Singers Set For Concert Date

The West Suburban Community Concert association has announced the booking of The Weavers, folk singing quartet, for an appearance in late winter and at the same time extended the membership campaign for another two or three weeks.

After a brisk start in response to the initial mail campaign, membership enrollment is reported to have slowed down and the Glenbard auditorium capacity has not been attained.

"WHETHER IT is a matter of suburban inertia, a reluctance to plan that far ahead, or simply the fact we haven't made contact with all interested members of the community, we're not sure," said Floyd Sanders, campaign manager.

"Certainly," he continued, "our good fortune in being able to book such outstanding attractions as the Goldovsky Grand Opera Theater, the Dallas Symphony orchestra, and now The Weavers, makes the program for next season one which everyone who enjoys music will want to attend.

THE ASSOCIATION also has announced that the Goldovsky Grand Opera program will be held in Glenbard East auditorium instead of Glenbard West.

This is to take advantage of the superior facilities of the new and modern theater for this elaborate production, as well as to bring one program closer to Lombard members, it was said. (Z

'Hire Now' Drive Spur To Economy

The nationwide effort to stimulate employers to "Hire Now" was kicked off in Washington May 10.

To encourage the re-employment of workers, Illinois has joined the other 49 states in carrying out an intensified job drive. Theodore Zigler, manager of the West Suburban State Employment Service office, 807 Madison, Oak Park, has asked employers to staff up to keep in step with a rising economy and share in its profits. This branch is one of the 53 local Employment Service offices throughout Illinois.

Zigler pointed out that there are thousands of instances where employers in Illinois have need for additional personnel, but have not crystallized their decision to hire these new workers now. "Men at work mean buying power, and buying power maintains business and industry." Now is the time to hire when there are qualified people available, he added. (Z

Board Approves Reappointments

Larry Sigmund, Bensenville electrical inspector, and Lynn Huffman, municipal band director, were reappointed to their positions last week by Village President Ritchie Thomas and trustees.

Their compensation remains unchanged. Sigmund is paid half the electrical inspection fees. Huffman gets $600 a year.

The board also approved a schedule of summer band concerts submitted by Huffman. (B

Drop Annexation Plans for Camp

Plans to annex the Vietzen trailer camp were dropped Thursday night when the Wood Dale village board voted unanimously to follow the recommendation of the zoning board, water and sewer board, and planning commission.

The new (old) plan entails securing easement through the forest preserve. The board agreed that this was a school board problem and should be "dropped in their laps."

IN A LEGAL opinion, Village Attorney Carl W. Kuhn told the commissioners that the village could extend sewers to the school property even though the property were not annexed to the village.

"Wouldn't the same accommodation apply to the trailer camp?" Bob Cesar asked.

"Yes," replied the attorney, "if the village could not prove excess demand on the sewer system."

DISCUSSION OF the matter was calm, following last week's big meeting of the various boards.

Commissioner Stoeck fanned the flames, however, when he prefaced his "aye" vote on the forest preserve recommendation with "I'm still convinced this isn't the best way to do it." (BF

Sunday Tea Slated For New Librarian

A tea to introduce Miss Dorothea Schmit, Bensenville's new librarian, to the community will be held on Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the community library, 168 N. Church rd.

Mrs. William Whitfield, president of the Friends of the Library and chairman of the tea committee, stated, "The tea has been planned to give Bensenville an opportunity to become acquainted with Miss Schmit and welcome her to the community."

MISS SCHMIT will assume her new duties July 1 and brings to Bensenville many years of library experience through her association with the Chicago public library system.

Clarence Thiemann, president of the library board of trustees, said, "All of us who have met Miss Schmit are delighted with her enthusiasm. We hope all of Bensenville will come out to "Meet Miss Schmit" at the library Sunday." (BF

Grand and Petit Jurors Selected

Names of grand and petit jurors to serve in DuPage Circuit court in June have been selected by the jury commission and announced by Robert M. Haenisch, Circuit court clerk.

Among the petit jurors whose service will begin June 5 are the following north DuPage residents: Peter M. Jorgensen, 416 W. Lake st., Addison; William J. Hodoval, 510 Grove st., Wood Dale; Fred C. Bender, 530 Catalpa st., and Sylvia M. Johnson, 606 Arlington rd., Itasca; Earl W. Grussing, 508 Spring st., and Helen R. Stahelin, 25W575 Webster, Roselle, and Walter F. Krueger, 15W130 George st., and John W. Peterson, 410 N. Marshall rd., Bensenville.

ON THE REGULAR grand jury panel for the June term are: Roland D. Persenico, Lake st., Addison; George F. Koehnke, 320 E. Division st., Itasca, and Elwin W. Kuehn, 9 E. Elm ave., Roselle.

Doughnut Day Slated June 9

Virginia J. Kervin, 29 Orchard ave., will serve as Bensenville chairman of Doughnut day, the Salvation Army's 23rd annual tag day, which will be held June 9.

The VFW and American Legion auxiliaries are cooperating in the drive. Volunteers may call Mrs. Kervin at POrter 6-1971.

Bond Buyers

DuPage county residents purchased a total of $316,209 in series E and H United States savings bonds in the month of April, according to Donald M. Carlson of Elmhurst, general county chairman of the savings bonds committee. (Z

Non-Degree Teachers Get Raises

The question of salary increases for non-degree teachers in school district 54 was resolved last week.

Teachers lacking degrees are to receive the across-the board $500 increase regardless of whether they obtained an additional eight hours of education. Those who did meet the educational advancement requirement were advanced the next step on the salary scale and will receive an added $100 increase for each of the next three years, in addition to the $500.

At the previous board meeting it had been believed by most board members that no salary scale existed for non-degree teachers. A review of the minutes of past meetings established that the scale did exist. (HAF

Bensenville Restaurant Is Honored

Plentywood Farm restaurant in Bensenville was among a number of United States restaurants which received Duncan Hines Silver Anniversary awards at a dinner Monday night in the Pick-Congress hotel, Chicago.

The restaurant was honored for being listed in the first edition 25 years ago of the Duncan Hines books, "Adventures in Good Eating," and still being recommended today.

Among the honored guests at the dinner were Mrs. Duncan Hines, many directors of university schools of hotel and restaurant management, and officers of the National Restaurant association and American Motor Hotel association. (B

Bensenville Lions Pace 43 Clubs

Bensenville Lions club has led all 43 clubs in its district in raising and distributing money for activities to aid the blind during the past six months.

Since last November, $1,412.97 has been earned by the club or donated by Bensenville merchants, industrial plants and individuals. Of this sum, $1,308.60 has been distributed to the Hadley School for the Blind, for leader dogs, eye care and glasses, blind training, local aid, and the summer camp for blind children.

Contributions have also been made for the mentally retarded and the Leukemia Research Foundation.

"We will sincerely endeavor to increase this aid program in the future," the club states. "With the help and cooperation we have received in the past, this goal will be reached."

New Students Will Enroll on June 5

Enrollment day will be held Monday, June 5, for all children who will be entering district 54 grade schools in September for the first time.

Enrollment will be held at every public school in Schaumburg township except the Schaumburg Junior high school, according to the following plan: residents whose last names begin with A-L will enroll their children between 9 a.m. and noon; residents whose last names begin with M - Z will enroll their children between 1 and 3 p.m. Residents will enroll their children at the school nearest their homes.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for first grade enrollment a child must have been born in 1955 and thus reach his sixth birthday sometime in 1961. No exceptions are made to this rule. Parents are required to bring the children's birth certificates or baptismal records when they enroll them in first grade.

Parents who enroll children in other than first grade must bring their children's transfer slip or the latest report cards from their previously attended schools.

The students will begin their work at the nuclear research facility next fall and will participate in the "Argonne Semester" program instituted in 1960. (CC

Modern Etiquette

Q. What have you to say about a girl's acceptance of gifts from a man?

A. She should not accept expensive or personal gifts—never any wearing apparel more intimate than gloves or handkerchiefs—never such things as dresses, nightgowns, slips or furs. Flowers, of course, are always acceptable. Gifts that are too expensive or too personal are compromising, and a man with really good taste will not embarrass a girl by offering them.

Psychology Makes Water Taste Good

"Psychology is a wonderful thing," said Robert McHugh, Addison village president, to the board of trustees Monday night.

"Three persons have told me, 'The water sure tastes better since you put in the chemical'," McHugh reported.

THE CATCH? The village has not added any chemicals to the water yet. The decision has been delayed pending a report from the water committee on the cost of repairing well No. 1.

If enough money is left after the well is repaired, the committee will recommend one of three chemicals proposed to combat the "red water" problem in some areas.

In Germany

Army Pvt. Allen Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Fox, 103 N. Addison st., Bensenville, recently arrived in Germany and is now a member of the 568th quartermaster company.

Fox, a supply clerk in the company in Ludwigsburg, entered the Army in September 1960, completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan., and was last stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The 23-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Fenton high school, and was employed by High-Low foods, Bensenville, before entering the army.

Require Permits For Phone Cables

The village of Addison is going to ask Illinois Bell Telephone co. to get permits and follow plans before laying underground telephone cables in the village.

Trustees were told Monday night by Willis Collins, village engineer, that a route for a sanitary sewer in Grace st. must be changed because the phone company did not follow plans for its cable in the same street.

"It seems that the telephone construction crew just followed their nose and took the line of least resistance," Collins observed. "They should have made a survey to establish property lines," he added.

WHEN VILLAGE President Robert McHugh suggested that the phone company be asked to move the cables, Collins reported that it would be difficult to do so.

Trustee John Rutz, chairman of the streets and alleys committee, said, "The village has had this problem for the last two years."

The village attorney was instructed to write a letter to the phone company. (LF

Memorial Day Parade Set by VFW

The Memorial day parade organized by the Addison VFW will include the VFW post and auxiliary, the Addison grade school band, eight Girl Scout troops, six Brownie troops, five Boy Scout troops, 250 members of the Little League and many other marching units.

Parade formation will begin at 9:30 a.m. at Cherokee park, Michigan and Myrick aves., with starting time at 10 a.m. From the park, the parade, led by the VFW color guard, will move south on Michigan ave. to Lake st., then west to Army Trail rd. and the LCWA grounds, where the traditional ceremonies honoring departed veterans will be held.

MAIN speaker of the day will be Robert McHugh, vilage president, and a past commander of the Addison VFW post.

Master of ceremonies for the day will be Alfred Hennig, also a past commander of post 7446. Bill Miller will be grand marshal of the parade.

Members of the post and auxiliary will begin the day's activities at 8 a.m. with a memorial service and light breakfast at the post clubhouse on Lake st. The public is invited to participate in the service.

Kania Joins Police Force

Henry Kania, 25, of 524 Marshall rd., will join the Bensenville police department as a special patrolman.

Chief Walter Tett asked to add Kania to the force to keep manpower up to normal during the vacation period. Trustees approved the request last Thursday.

Kania's full-time occupation is with an Itasca machine firm.

Springtime seems to bring out the energy of the young and the nasty dispositions of dogs.

A flurry of cuts, broken bones and dog bites kept the emergency room of northwest Community hospital busy last week.

Seven-year-old Anna Martinez, 640 N. Franklin, Palatine, was bitten by a dog on the face. Another Palatine youngster, Tom Piotrowski, 6, of 250 Elmwood, was bitten by a dog earlier in the week.

Michael Hynes, 12, of 1011 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, also was treated for dog bites.

DOGS DID not confine their "biting spirit" to children. Mrs. Georgia Tatroff, 8542 S. Meade, Oak Lawn, was treated for dog bites at the emergency room. Sutures were applied to dog bites on both hands for Raymond Becker, 3311 Pheasant dr., Rolling Meadows.

The older a child, the farther he falls. Gary Soto, 5, of 3902 Eagle lane, Rolling Meadows, fell from monkey bars, breaking his left forearm. Falling from a picnic table, David Alvin, 6, of 516 N. Fairview, Mt. Prospect, broke his right arm. Harry Anderson, 10, of 635 S. Beverly, Arlington Heights, fell the greatest distance when he fractured his right wrist in tumbling from a tree.

A fall at work brought Donald Plantz, 2114 Seventy-third st., Elmwood Park, to the hospital with a fractured left arm and dislocated elbow. Plantz was admitted to the hospital and his condition is listed as satisfactory.

Spring also seemed to bring a rash of new substances which children found as tasty food substitutes.

GARDEN PEST poison pills were the snack which two-year-old Rosso Runyon, 549 Oak, Elk Grove, ate last week. The young boy was rushed to the emergency room where his stomach was washed.

The stomach-washing equipment at the emergency room also was kept busy one day when Mark and Peter Langer, 2 and 4 years old, of 215 W. Wilson, Palatine, ate an unknown amount of baby aspirin. Later in the day, Susan Durkee, 2, of 447 Bianco, Elk Grove, was brought to the emergency room after eating baby aspirin. Still later the emergency room equipment was used for Beth Barratt, 4, of 904 Lynnwood, Arlington Heights, after she ate adult medication.

Baby aspirin was the "candy" which brought two more youngsters to the emergency room last weekend. John Lindstrom Jr., 2, of 2107 Hawk lane, Rolling Meadows, and Sandra Irvin, 2½, of 731 N. Ela rd., Palatine, both had their stomachs washed and were released following treatment.

AN ELECTRIC saw brought Buford Whitman, 533 Gentore Breeze, Carpentersville, to the emergency room for treatment. Whitman lost a finger while using the saw.

Lawn mowers were out in full force for spring grass cutting, and in the emergency room in full force were victims of severe lacerations received from the mowers.

Roland Soorus, 18, of 211 W. Miner, Arlington Heights, received severe lacerations on his leg. He was admitted for treatment and observation and his condition is reported as good.

DARREL MEACHAN, 501 W. Wing, Arlington Heights, was treated for a three-inch scalp laceration received at work. Phyllis Seaber, 201 Barcliff lane, Hoffman Estates, cut her hand on broken glass while washing dishes. The cut was sutured at the emergency room.

Cuts were not limited to adults. Alan Cureton, 6, of 418 Flanders lane, Grayslake, fell from his bicycle receiving a severe laceration of his upper lip. He was admitted to the hospital where his condition was listed as satisfactory.

Stephen Spence, 9, of 810 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights, caught his foot in a door and cut his heel. His condition is reported as satisfactory after admission to the hospital.

Flash burns of the face were received by Richard Hoffman, 1508 Joan dr., Palatine, when a furnace blew up. His burns were treated at the emergency room.

A fall in her home brought Mrs. Eleanor Pruyn, 918 N. Hickory, Arlington Heights, to the hospital for treatment and observation.

SEVERAL automobile accidents in the area kept the emergency room busy with injuries. Andres Gutierrez, 2605 Kirchoff, Rolling Meadows, received facial lacerations in an automobile accident on South State rd. Another Rolling Meadows resident, Leonard Millewski of 2806 Hawk lane, was treated for lacerations after an accident at Wilke and Kirchhoff rds.

A severe cut on his forearm was received by Delbert Blakley, Biesterfield rd., Roselle, when he caught his arm in a Go-cart. Treatment at the emergency room included sutures and a tetanus toxoid shot.

Fourteen-year-old William Crotty, 308 E. School lane, Prospect Heights, was brought to the emergency room after he was hit by a car. He was released following examination and X-rays.

An accident at Mitchell and Elm sts. in Arlington Heights brought three village residents to the emergency room for examination, X-rays and treatment. They were Mrs. Louise Nagle, 321 S. Stratford; Warren Wahl, 17, of 906 N. Vail; and Larry Weidner, 17, of 1131 N. Dunton. All three were released following treatment.

HOW DOES AN OYSTER TELL TIME?

If it's a Rolex Oyster, it always tells the time—correctly—even underwater! In 1926 Rolex was the first to invent a completely waterproof* watch. Today, the handsome Rolex Oyster is still the finest waterproof watch in the world. Its patented OYSTER case completely seals in the accuracy of its precision movement, protects it from the rigors of underwater sport (up to 165 feet!) . . . seals out harmful dust, sand and grit.

On land as well as in the water, the Rolex Oyster is a watch you can always depend on. Rolex Oyster watches are priced from $82.50.

For Women

—In North DuPage—

Doctors, Wives Meet June 3 'Just for Fun'

Planning an end of the season "just for fun" party June 3 in the American Legion hall, Glen Ellyn, is the DuPage County Medical society and auxiliary.

Emphasis will be on informality with dinner, dancing and entertainment plus a few surprises for this annual joint affair. Chairman is Mrs. I. Erlin Bartlett of Wheaton.

Penny Social In Itasca Fri.

A penny social, sponsored by the Itasca Home Bureau, is slated for May 26 in the home of Mrs. Max Muehler, 715 North st., from 1 to 3 p.m. Local ladies who attend will be served coffee and cake while bargaining for new and white elephant items.

Roselle Teacher Married In Philippine Lace Gown

In an ivory lace gown which belonged to a sister living in the Philippine Islands, Miss Frieda Koessel, a Roselle teacher, became the bride of David L. Schultz of Bay City, Mich. the afternoon of Easter, April 2.

Performed by Rev. A. C. Nuechterlein, the ceremony was held in Zion Lutheran church, Harbor Beach, Mich., home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rudolf Koessel, who, for her daughter's wedding, chose a navy blue dress, stephanotis and orchid corsage.

THE SERMONETTE was delivered by the bride's brother, Francis, who will graduate next month from Concordia seminary at Springfield. An uncle, Edwin Miller, accompanied Miss Koessel to the altar where she exchanged vows with the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schultz, Bay City.

Preceding the bride down the aisle was the groom's sister, Mrs. Kenneth Schave of Port Hope, Mich., dressed in her matron of honor royal blue chiffon over taffeta gown. Bridesmaids were Misses Eleanor Stumpf of Kitchener, Ontario, a cousin; Sharon Beck, Detroit; and Lana Scheer, Harbor Beach; all of whom wore powder blue.

THEIR FLOWERS, stephanotis and pink carnations, were carried in baskets. Stephanotis and orchids made up the bridal bouquet and also were used to fashion the corsage which accented Mrs. Schultz' blue print ensemble.

Eugene Koessel of East Detroit, the bride's brother, was best man. Ushers were Robert and Donald Schultz, brothers of the groom, also a cousin, Elvin Schultz, all from Michigan.

GUESTS NUMBERING 125, were entertained at a dinner and reception in Zion parish hall before the newlyweds returned to Roselle, where they will reside at 103 W. Hattendorf.

The new Mrs. Schultz is the kindergarten teacher at Trinity Lutheran school, where she has been on the faculty for three years. Her husband is continuing his studies for the Lutheran teaching ministry at Concordia Teachers college, River Forest, of which his wife is a graduate.

500 Lilac Bouquets For Vets

Five-hundred bouquets were distributed at the veteran's hospital in Elgin by the Roselle Garden club, who set aside May 18 as annual "lilac sharing" day. Club members and many local gardeners contributed to the project which was directed by Mrs. Joseph Vavak, guild chairman, Mrs. Roy Johnson and Mrs. Robert Stumpt.

On May 19 at the Inverness garden show, through the efforts of Mrs. Robert Bowes, Mrs. Frank Wihey and Mrs. Harry Holmes, the garden club won a red ribbon for the club's entry, a luncheon table arranged in shades of yellow with powder blue place settings.

ISMS Auxiliary Has Convention

Among delegates at the annual convention of the Women's auxiliary to the Illinois State Medical society held May 16-18 in Chicago's Sherman hotel were Mrs. James A. West of Itasca, Mrs. Bruno Beinoris, Wood Dale and Mrs. Gus Ormbrek, Bensenville, all of DuPage county auxiliary.

Activities at the convention in addition to regular business meetings included a luncheon and style show at the Ambassador West, a punch party and tea honoring Mrs. Harlan English of Illinois, president-elect of the Women's auxiliary to the American Medical association, and a joint dinner with the Illinois Medical society in the Sherman hotel ballroom.

Engagement

Judith Laatz

To be married in November are Miss Judith Ann Laatz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Laatz of 502 N. Rush st., Itasca, and Kenneth R. Rogers, son of the Lawrence Rogers of Des Plaines.

Dear Peg:

Patrick had his fifth birthday a few days ago and it was celebrated in a grand way!

As we promised the night before we all took his presents in to him before he was awake on his birthday morning. He gets so embarrassed when he's drawn into the spotlight and so hid his head during the singing of Happy Birthday—lovely though it was at 6:45 in the morning.

Of course, Joseph had to have a few gifts too (to keep peace) so both of them set about opening presents. There were cars, trucks, jeeps, musical instruments, a plastic baseball bat and ball and a bloop. For those of you who are not familiar with the latest toy— a"bloop"—this is a sort of pop gun whose short front end comes off with a "pop" when enough air is pumped into it by the child. The children love it—and it is guaranteed to be harmless. In fact Joseph "shot" Deirdre with it at very short range and didn't hurt her at all (although it scared her for a minute.)

Shortly before the party all arrived, Patrick became very sick at his stomach. I think now that it might have been the excitement of the day, however he claimed that it all started in the middle of the morning, when he felt that all he wanted to do was to lie down. Now, this is most unusual for Patrick, since he's the type who will keep going until everyone else gives up.

I toyed with the idea of calling off the whole party at the last minute, but knowing it would be a disappointment to the invited guests, I decided to let them all come and hope that Patrick would perk up.

Our darling little Jeannie arrived first. She is such a cute little girl, who although a year older than Patrick, loves to play with him and even enjoys playing with Joseph. The boys adore her. She arrived in her little red coat and white gloves, carrying a bright package for Patrick.

Poor old Patrick, flaked out on the couch aroused himself long enough to open the gift—a nice game of picture Lotto just right for ages 5-8.

Little Jeanne entertained herself looking at Patrick's other gifts until the other guests arrived while Patrick drew up his knees and turning over on his side went back to sleep. The other guests arrived en masse—all four of them. Again Patrick stayed awake long enough to open the presents then went back to sleeping.

I let the children play around for a short time until I could decide what to do about Patrick. Knowing that they were looking forward to the cake and ice cream, I called them to the birthday table, also insisting that Patrick get up long enough to blow out his candles on the cake. He gave in and in a couple of blows blew out the five candles. I didn't think he would want any ice cream or cake, but I was mistaken. Despite all his complaints, he was able to get through a large dish of vanilla and a medium size piece of cake—and then insisted on going outside with the rest of the children! I tell you, you never know! I all but had him in the hospital with appendicitis (since he almost never has a stomach ache). He suddenly claimed that all the pain had vanished—apparently it was true and played the rest of the afternoon with no reoccurrence of the malady.

One of the funniest things about the whole birthday affair was Joseph. Ever since Patrick was invited to a party a week ago, and Joseph wasn't, Joe has been getting dressed up each morning for a party—no one knows whose party—but it's somebody's anyway.

So, now that a real party was planned for the day Joseph went all out—putting on all the clothes he considers party clothes. A real Beau Brummel, he had two shirts, a vest, a jacket, short pants (his best)and no shoes or socks. He was quite a sight, but believed himself to be the best dressed guest at the party! As a matter of fact, I'm not so sure but that he wasn't . . .

My love,
Patty

Tioga VFW Auxiliary

It is reported that "a gala time" was had by those who attended the Gold Star luncheon at Frieden's restaurant in Hinsdale recently honoring Mrs. Hilma Johnson, who was presented with a corsage of carnations by unit members.

Today is Poppy day; auxiliary ladies are requested to wear poppys until Memorial day as it is a symbol of remembrance for those who gave their lives in service. The auxiliary appreciates the cooperation of townspeople in Bensenville and Wood Dale in this drive.

MAE DALY, chairman of the Du Page County Council Junior Activities committee, was "pleased" by the large turn-out of juniors at the picnic held May 20 at Salt Creek park. In on the planning were junior activities chairmen of the Downers Grove, Glen Ellyn and Bensenville units.

Women are still needed for the parade on Memorial Day, which starts at 10:15 in the morning. Jeanette Lind, chairman, is finalizing plans before May 30; marchers will meet at the Legion home at 9:30.

ELECTION OF officers for the coming year will be held at the next meeting of the Du Page County council, June 1, at 8:15 p.m. in Downers Grove. Delegates are asked to exercise their right to vote by attending; Ruth Aden is seeking the office of chaplain. PO 6-2598 and PO 6-1971 are the numbers to call for additional information.

Auxiliary congratulations are extended Mr. and Mrs. Lyne Whiting on their anniversary.

by CHARLENE RICKER

Congratulations to Dorothy Bielak, newly elected senior vice president of the fifth district. At the district meeting Sunday, the poppy display in the club lobby won second place, and the publicity book took fourth.

The Memorial day parade Tuesday will start at 10:15 a. m. from Miner st. and Memorial dr. Everyone is welcome to march; those with uniforms are asked to wear them.

PROSPECTIVE blood donors are asked to contact Dick Daehn or Litzie Leider, post and auxiliary blood bank chairmen. Litzie says they're really working hard trying to get the blood bank "out of the red."

June 10 is the date of the safety check conducted by the Bensenville police department. Post and auxiliary members will assist in this voluntary program.

Barbara Reher (Kollath) who has been living in Champaign while her husband finishes his University of Illinois schooling, was at last week's meeting. They will move to LaGrange after his graduation in June, so she will be able to attend meetings more often.

Auxiliary members Alvira Guzman, Susie Martyniuk, Emily Beaver and their sister, Nina Behnning, from Massachusetts, along with several other members of the family, had a surprise birthday party for their mother, Mrs. Virginia Garcia, last Sunday.

The auxiliary sends wishes for a speedy recovery to Madeline Tribke's father, Jacob Hahn, who is in St. Anthony's hospital, Chicago, for observation; Marie Lewandowski, who underwent surgery in Resurrection hospital last Thursday; and Louise Henning, who is recuperating from a heart attack in Elmhurst hospital.

Golf league standings are: Pars, 6 points; Bogies, 5; Birdies, 3; and Eagles, 2.

Mrs. D. Quatraro Heads St. Peter Society

Representative of the Joliet Council of Catholic Women, Mrs. Harold Ring, installed new officers of the Altar and Rosary society of St. Peters Catholic church of Itasca at a meeting May 15 in the village hall.

Accepting offices were Mrs. Dorothy Quatraro, president; Mrs. Diane Lauk, vice president; Mrs. Mae Salak, secretary; and Mrs. Irene Wronski, treasurer.

Rev. Paul J. Benson spoke on two new committees to be formed: the Catholic charities and foreign relief.

Mrs. G. Goodwin Active As Club President

As new president of the Itasca Woman's club, Mrs. Glenn Goodwin has been busily engaged in keeping up with club events, two of which preceded her formal installation at the club's last affair of the season, a luncheon and fashion show May 16 in Itasca country club.

On April 27, she and Mrs. Phillip Link, past president, attended the 11th district IFWC annual meeting and lunch in Lombard. The second week of May found the pair at the federation's annual 3-day convention in the Sherman hotel, Chicago.

Another active day was spent May 19 when Mrs. Goodwin, alone this time, drove to Naperville for the DuPage Federation of Women's Club session. Up-and-coming project is the group's float, which will be readied for the Memorial day parade.

Club members who have already signed up to help in this task are asked to contact chairman, Mrs. C. Hamilton, this week.

Voters League Topic In Bensenville

Mrs. Tom Barber of White Pines, Bensenville, invited 20 ladies from various sections in the area to her home last Wednesday afternoon to aquaint them with the work of League of Women Voters.

Two friends from Palatine, Mrs. A. G. Gabrielsen and Mrs. Harold Stone, active league members in their town, informed guests of the organization's purpose and goals, answering the many questions which arose.

As a result of the interest aroused, consideration is being given to the formation of a league for greater Bensenville. Anyone interested may call Mrs. Barber at PO 6-0056.

Ruth Circle Lawn Party Planned

Mrs. Herb Barth, 217 Blackhawk, was hostess Thursday afternoon to members of the Ruth circle committee of the EUB church, Bensenville, who are planning a lawn luncheon party June 6 or June 8, depending on the weather, at the home of Mrs. Jack Snowberg, Timber lane. Chairman of the event is Mrs. George Adis.

STORKFEATHERS

Karloyn Marie, second child of Mr. and Mrs. John Houck, 514 Catalpa, Itasca, weighed 8 pounds 8 ounces at birth May 20. Grandparents of the new infant and 15-month John Gerard are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laske of Chicago and the senior John Houcks, Norridge.

Dennis Joseph, weighing 8 pounds 5 ounces was born May 18 in Sherman hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hatcher of 189 S. Center st., Bensenville. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Kelsey Council Bluffs, Iowa, and the Glenn Ellmores, also of Bensenville.

Leslie Lynn was the name chosen for the second girl in the Howard Risberg family, Roselle. Born in Sherman hospital, Elgin, on May 21, the new infant weighed 5 and ¾ pounds. Leslie, Sharon and Gary are the grandchildren of the M. Satersleins and J. Risbergs. all of Chicago.

Marilyn Kay, first child of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Masters of W. Green st., Bensenville, was born May 21 in Elmhurst hospital. Grandparents of the 9 pound 3 ounce baby are Mr. and Mrs. Archie Masters, also of Bensenville and Mr. and Mrs. James Hansen, Oregon, Wis.

Karen Charlotte Klein's birthplace was Sherman hospital, Elgin, on April 27. Her parents are the Dennis Kleins of Elgin; grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Freeman of Itasca and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Klein, Keeneyville.

Gay 1911 Bridal Pair Mark 50 Years Sunday

Looking ahead to many more years of "wedded bliss" are Mr. and Mrs. W. Fenz of Roselle, who fondly recall that in the year of 1911, their marriage was doubly memorable, for they were the first couple to stand at the altar of the then newly dedicated Trinity Lutheran church to exchange holy wedding vows.

In marking the two-fold occasion, they will observe 50 anniversary years this Sunday, May 28, with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. at their 37 S. Roselle rd. residence. Offering golden wedding congratulations will be the pair's five children, seven grandchildren and relatives, friends and neighbors.

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS in that year published a full account of the rites which united Renata Hattendorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hattendorf, and William Fenz. On a strip of microfilm taken from a special file their nuptials revealed to the last detail a story which proved to long be a conversation piece in the Roselle area.

A trio of cars, bedecked in pink and white frills, conveyed the wedding party to and from the church, with the final trip being made to the home of the begin made to the home of the bride's parents for a reception. There, at a garden party under the trees, merriment filled the night air, extending into the small hours.

MUSIC MAKERS of Bartlett, William Pfingsten and crew of seven, during intermittent showers, kept guests in the dancing mood on a specially built dance floor obilging with requests until 4 a.m.

Daybreak arrived, and six late guests, four former classmates of the bride, found themselves without transportation to their Elgin homes, having missed the last stop train.

Never to be forgotten was their "knight in shining armor," the C.M. & St. Paul engineer, who stopped his westerly thru-train to come to the aid of the girls who had lost all count of time.

As a bride, Mrs. Fenz remembers her wedding day half a century ago gowned in duchess lace and silk marquisette, adorned with pearls over satin and carrying a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. She was attended by a sister, Adelia, Anna Troyke and Malinda Oltendorf.

Mr. Fenz received double best wishes from his best man and groomsmen, for shortly he was to assume responsibilities as head of a local feed, grain and lumber business, formerly owned by Mr. Hattendorf. Assisting him in the wedding party were William and Herman Rohlwing, also Walter Hattendorf.

RESIDENTS OF THE Roselle area through the years have known them as parents rearing a family of five children: Mrs. Francis (Elrena) now of Forest Park; Evelyn, of Watertown, Wis., Marion, Roselle; Williard, a California resident of Palo Alto; and another son, Roland of Stroudsburg, Pa.

Itasca Jrs. Claim IFWC Award

Itasca Junior Women's club attendance at the 3-day 66th annual convention of the Illinois Federation of Woman's Clubs held earlier this month in the Sherman hotel, Chicago, held special meaning for the group as they accepted the federation's 100 per cent award.

Those present on "junior day" were Mrs. Richard Basten, Mrs. George Preston, Mrs. Frank Boller, Mrs. Duane Clark, Mrs. Alan Ingram and Mrs. Richard Vennell.

AT AN EVENING banquet a summary of accomplishments of over 10,000 Illinois junior clubwomen was reported, after which followed a presentation of awards to outstanding clubs who fulfilled all requirements of the IFWC.

Lyric opera star, Emiko Suzuki, and the TV personality, Bergen Evans, provided top entertainment for the evening.

Hollywood Stars Perform For GOP Benefit June 5

Opening night of "The Guardsman," starring Nina Foch and John Newland at Salt Creek Playhouse in Hinsdale is set for Monday, June 5. The famous Molnar play, set in turn of the century Austria, will delight the capacity crowd expected to attend the fourth annual theatre benefit of the DuPage County Federation of Women's Republican Clubs.

The DuPage County Young Republicans will again share in the evening's festivities by selling corsages to increase campaign funds. William Toerpe of Addison is on the committee to arrange this feature; his wife will be one of the "belles," gowned in keeping with the playhouse New Orleans decor, assisting gentlemen with selections.

EVERY YEAR the women look forward with great expectation to the presentation of the Republican Woman's award. In previous years it has been won by such outstanding women as Miss Hattie Glos, Mesdames Pearl Duncan, Elmer Hoffman, Margaret Shattuck, Roscoe Rau, Win Knoch, Philip Locke and Harvey Wienke.

This year's recipient will be selected by a committee headed by Mrs. Wienke, last year's winner and the 13 club presidents. Mrs. Wilbur Bredehorn of Itasca will assist at the affair as usherette; among the hostesses are Mrs. Robert Furry, Bloomingdale township, and Mrs. A. H. Kroon, Addison township.

'Showboat' June 1 Stars Lisa Kirk

Auxiliaries of the council, Sherman hospital, will present a benefit night, June 1, starring Lisa Kirk in the Oscar Hammerstein and Jerome Kern "Showboat," at the Melody Top summer theatre in Hillside.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Tickets, $3.95 each, are available from members of the Roselle Women's auxiliary or Phyliss Miller, TW 4-6152.

Sherman Auxiliary Feted At Hospital Award Lunch

Volunteers who have given 100 or more hours of service during the past years were honored at the annual awards luncheon held in Sherman hospital's assembly hall May 18, the program being sponsored by the auxiliary council with Mrs. D. Lloyd of Roselle, chairman, presiding.

Addressing the group was Mrs. Harry F. Stinespring Jr. of McHenry, who actively played a part in forming the McHenry hospital auxiliary, having been first president in 1957. She later served as chairman of district 2 and is currently secretary of the Women's Hospital auxiliaries, Illinois Hospital association.

CHAIRMAN of volunteers, Mrs. L. H. Schurmeier, stated that in including workers honored at the luncheon and the evening workers, whose awards were presented previously, a total of 94 had earned awards the past year.

She further reported that a total of 243 women gave 20,818 hours of volunteer service time during the year ending April 30. Mrs. Schurmeier and Mrs. Edward Henninger, director of volunteers, assisted Harold W. Salmon, administrator, in presentation ceremonies.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindquist, Wayne Schroeder, ass't administrator, and Mrs. Manolia Schult, associate director of nursing.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fenner were hosts last Friday evening in their home at 801 S. State rd., Arlington Heights to members of Arlington Heights center of the Infant Welfare Society and their husbands, who were making plans for the center's next benefit, a buffet supper dance in the swank Post and Paddock club at Arlington race track.

The affair, "Turf and Terrace Party," will be held Friday, June 30, beginning with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. in the new Terrace club, followed by dinner at 8:30 p.m. in the Post and Paddock. Dancing will be from 9:30 to 12:30, also in the Post and Paddock.

FOR DANCING, the group has signed the 12-piece orchestra of Frankie Masters, with a combo from the orchestra to also play during the cocktail hour. Details of the buffet menu were announced at the party by Mrs. William Ball, president of the center, who has been conferring with Emile, the Post and Paddock's matre d'. Emile, who has been with the club for many years, promises both a hot and cold gourmet buffet, plus the club's famous array of desserts.

Those attending the benefit, which is by invitation only, will be among the first to see the club's new Terrace room, which is scheduled for completion some time in June. This room overlooks the track and many of the party-goers will be arriving at the club in time for the last few races. (S

By DOLORES HAUGH

With the lovely tulips nodding at the window and spring in all its glory, why not entertain a few of your friends at a Tulip Time Coffee Party?

INVITATIONS

Cut double fold tulip heads and paste them to a paper cup pattern, yellow, red, any color that suits you. Inside write the following:

Tulip Time and Spring is here,
So come on over the 10th, my dear,
For a Tulip Time Coffee I'm planning, 'tis true
It won't be a success without YOU.

State time and place, the patio or breezeway would be perfect, especially any room in view of the tulips.

MENU

Simple and sweet, rolled, that is. Coffee cakes and sweet rolls hot from the oven. A nice Dutch recipe you've seen in a magazine or one from a favorite aunt. But there is nothing so fragrant as a houseful of lovely fresh baked aroma coming from the kitchen when the coffee hour draws near.

And, remember the gals who are cutting down. A friend of mine recently served a dish of chilled pineapple wedges and these pleased the guest-dieters and certainly showed the hostess wanted only her guests' satisfaction.

DECORATIONS

The picnic table, or two card tables turned buffet can be set with a lovely pink cloth; just a suggestion, tint a yellowed or aged white one, it perks up your table and your outlook on the world. The cost is low and if you use your washing machine for the dye job it's simple as changing your mind.

Get a tulip print napkin or one with a coffee cup design and carry out the tulips in the centerpiece. If you have white dishes or any with a Dutch feeling, use them and use one of the vegetable dishes for your flower container. If you want to use an urn type container fasten a cup turned upside down to the bottom of the dish. Hide the cup handle with a figurine or a tulip. Turn a few tulips inside out for a "new" flower appeal and a conversation piece is created. A wooden shoe also is a terrific container for your tulips.

ENTERTAINMENT?

Daisies won't tell but Tulips will, and who needs more than tulips when a group of ladies get together for coffee?

Fertile Soil

California's $3 billion farm income is the largest of any state and is about 10 per cent of the nation's total agricultural income.

Subdivision Rule Upheld by Court

Joseph Nicosia lost his bid to compel Addison to approve his subdivision plans for Golden Gates Estates, a residential subdivision near the intersection of rte. 53 and Lake st.

Judge William L. Atten, in Du Page Circuit court, ruled that the village had the right to make Nicosia conform to village plans for sewer and water services because the land probably will be annexed to the village in the future.

STATE LAW gives municipalities jurisdiction over subdivision plans in unincorporated areas within one and a half miles of municipal boundaries.

Judge Atten ruled that Addison could not compel annexation as the price for providing sewer and water to Nicosia. Hubert J. "Bud" Loftus, village attorney, did not contest this point.

Loftus told the village board Monday night that Nicosia would have to go to the State Supreme court if he wanted to reverse Judge Atten's decision.

VILLAGE President Robert McHugh reported that Nicosia already has made overtures to renew his meetings with the Addison plan commission.

In addition to the residential development, Nicosia plans a large shopping center at the Lake-53 intersection.

Driver Charged In Fatal Mishap

The driver of a car involved in an accident in which Mrs. Edward Jagler, 55, of Itasca was killed has been charged by DuPage county police with reckless homicide.

Sam C. Messiena of Melrose Park was the driver of a car which collided at 7:40 p.m. last Friday, May 19, with a car in which Mrs. Jagler was riding. The accident occurred a half mile west of York road on Lake street.

Mrs. Walter Stoiner of 605 George st., Itasca, was driving the car in which Mrs. Jagler was a passenger.

Carol L. Letsche of 135 S. Walnut st., Wood Dale, suffered loss of her left eye, severe face cuts and possible internal injuries. She was riding in the car driven by Messiena.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jagler were conducted Tuesday afternoon, May 23, in the chapel of Matz Funeral home, 3440 N. Central ave., Chicago. Burial was in Glen Oak Cemetery, 12th st. and Mannheim road.

MESSIENA was hospitalized in DuPage Memorial Hospital, Elmhurst, with deep lacerations on the top of his head.

He told police that he was passing a car in the right lane of the four-lane highway when the other car swerved into the left lane. The turn signal of the car he was passing indicated a right turn.

To avoid a collision, said Messiena, he turned abruptly to the left, crossed the center stripe and struck the car driven by Mrs. Stoiner, proceeding in the opposite direction, at practically a right angle.

Mrs. Stoiner suffered lacerations of her face and neck and possible internal injuries.

Mrs. Stoiner and Carol Letsche were still hospitalized early this week in Elmhurst hospital.

TEEN TOPICS

By PAT WALKER

The magic night is here. Tomorrow night at 9:00 the juniors and seniors from Lake Park will appear in their formal attire. "Moments to Remember," the L. P. prom, is the biggest social event of the year.

The band scheduled to play is the Tony Marterie dance band. Many coke parties and social gatherings will take place in the hours before. The boys are wearing tuxedoes.

The girls are wearing short and floor length formals. The predominant color for the night appears to be white.

THE NEXT DAY the teens will take off for the countryside for a day of picnicking. Usual places invaded by the Lancers are the Sand Dunes, Starved Rock, White Pines and Devil's Lake.

The weekend appears to be fascinating for the juniors and seniors. Don't ruin a fascinating weekend by reckless driving or harmful monkeyshines. Make the weekend one to remember, not one to forget.

If anyone has a 1959-60 Lake Park Yearbook that he no longer wants, Gisela Rupp, the student from Germany, would appreciate it if she could have it. Her yearbook was lost in the mail and she wishes to have something by which to remember her friends. (I

ABOUT ITASCA PEOPLE

Springtime means field trips to most school children, and these excursions are looked forward to eagerly. Several Itasca school classes have made trips this month, while some went earlier in the year. The three first grade classes at Washington school went to Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago on May 19. Teachers who took their groups were Mrs. Van Dam, Mrs. Ewert and Miss Jedike; mothers who accompanied them were Mrs. G. Buckel, Mrs. F. Partipilo, Mrs. J. Wadsworth, Mrs. R. Kozel, Mrs. A. Vallas, Mrs. E. Schubel, Mrs. A. Ambroso and Mrs. M. Neirman.

The fifth grade class of Mrs. Kauffman at Washington school toured the Morton Arboretum near Lisle. Lunch was eaten in the picnic area. Mothers who also made the trip were Mrs. E. Rice, Mrs. Moreno, Mrs. K. Irons and Mrs. E. Boekenhauer.

The first grade class of Miss Colburn at North school recently toured two nearby farms, first the Dieckhoff farm in Ontarioville and then Rosewood farm in Roselle. Mothers accompanying them were Mrs. D. DeGrazia, Mrs. J. Nelson, Mrs. Sobol and Mrs. T. Marx.

SECOND graders of Mrs. Meyer's room at Washington school went by bus to the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago on May 10. Mrs. R. Benhart, Mrs. P. Gibson, Mrs. E. Budzisz, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. R. Malenius accompanied the children.

Members of the fifth grade class taught by R. Matteson visited the Chicago Historical Museum Monday. The group was accompanied by Mrs. V. Edbrooke, Mrs. W. Hight, Mrs. D. Hammel and Mrs. H. Lowrey.

A trip to Elk Grove forest preserve was taken recently by Mrs. Gustafson's fourth grade at North school. Mrs. R. Walker, room mother, was among those who went with the class.

BIRTHDAY WISHES are sent to Mary Guerino, 5N267 Bunker ter., who was 11 on May 16. She celebrated the event with a party for several friends Sunday, among them Linda Smith, Rena Ambroso, Sue Janek, Deb Rice, Marsha Skoglund, Karen Boekenhauer, Maryanne Bierman and her sister, Donna.

Birthday congratulations are sent to Gregory Johnson, 449 S. Cherry st., who will celebrate his 14th birthday on May 27.

Best wishes for a happy anniversary are sent to Mr. and Mrs. C. Farina, 717 E. Irving Park rd., on their 21st wedding anniversary May 25.

Winners of the $5-prize for the best decorated booth at the recent PTA Fun Fair were the seventh grade room mothers. Theirs was the "Win-A-Fish" booth. The money was given to the seventh grade classes.

Happy birthday wishes are extended to Mrs. William Weber, 316 N. Linden, who celebrated on May 23.

THE K. LAUTEN family, formerly of Home ave., are now residing on Washington st.

Daryl-Jean Buckel, 415 S. Cherry st., celebrated her 10th birthday on May 12 with a party for 13 of her friends and classmates.

Danny Upstrom, Central rd., who was 11 on May 18, celebrated with a family gathering in the evening.

Birthday congratulations are sent to Ken Murison, 611 Country Club dr., who celebrated his birthday on May 20. (I

WOOD DALE FLASHES

Karl Schiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schiller, was awarded a citation for his outstanding science project, the spectroscope. The citation was presented to Karl last Saturday by the Chicago Teachers Science association, at the Natural History Museum of Chicago.

The Zaki Labovsky dance artists will perform Saturday evening on the Polka-Go-Round TV show. Wood Dale girls participating in the dance are Irene Beinoris, Bonnie Huntley, Pat O'Donnell, Susan Wolf and Penny Stoecks.

A week ago Sunday, Wendy Huntley attended the Elmhurst college honor assembly of scholarships, and was presented the Pan Hellenic award for outstanding achievements.

BIRTHDAY greetings are extended to Rev. Herman Cook who celebrated his birthday May 17.

Mrs. Jack Kress celebrated her birthday last Sunday with a dinner party in her home at 372 Irving Park rd. Among her guests were Mrs. Kress' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gordon of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kress of Bensenville.

Classmates of Judy Parsons gathered in her home at 140 Potter st., Friday evening for a pizza pajama party. Judy's guests were Barbie Gavin, May Diezel, Jane Peskuski and Kathy Kiefer.

Earlene Anderson of Wood Dale rd., celebrated her birthday last Saturday with a sweet sixteen party. Her guests were Sue Kittmann, Jerry Kotulski, Avis Carlson, Richard Moon, Art Palenschat, Lolly Schuster and Ted Tecza; also friends and relatives from Franklin Park, Schiller Park and Bensenville.

MRS. JOHN Varline celebrated her birthday Saturday evening by entertaining friends in her home at 407 Catalpa. Among her guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Vurorenmaa of Schiller Park and Mrs. Varline's sister, Mrs. E. Anderson of Chicago.

Delegated as a welcoming committee last Wednesday, the Robert Csars greeted Mrs. Csars' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gillie Sr., at O'Hare airport. The Gillies were returning from a 2-week vacation in the state of Washington. From the airport the two couples journeyed to Oak ave. where a welcome home dinner awaited in the home of Raymond Gillie Jr.

Get-well greetings are extended to Debbie Schuemann of 303 Elmwood ave. Debbie is home convalescing from the measles.

Birthday greetings go to Annette Herness who celebrated her 18th birthday last Sunday.

The Krause twins, Janice and Joyce, entertained 17 schoolmates Friday evening at a lawn party given in the home of their aunt, Mrs. Alex Arnt, 134 Center st. Out-of-town guests were Rosemarie Perfect and Rory Hughes of Wildwood, Illinois.

BIRTHDAY greetings are extended to Robert Barton who celebrated his birthday May 15.

At last Sunday's library dedication friends and co-workers of Mr. and Mrs. George Welter presented the couple with a plaque in appreciation for the time and effort put into our library.

Newcomers to our community are Mr., and Mrs. Raymond Gillie, 370 Oak.

MR. AND MRS. William Kammer and other members of the Society of Residential Appraisers, dined in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewe of Riverside.

A safety tip on climbing trees comes from 10-year-old Kathy Heinrich who related the following message for other children. "Not to climb trees unless they wear a parachute." Two weeks ago Kathy fell 30 feet out of a tree knocking herself unconscious and smashing three vertebrae in her back. After a brief convalescence in the hospital, she is now able to return to school. Village Clerk Gets Pay Hike

Wood Dale's village board Thursday night voted to raise the village clerk's salary to $5500 per year.

The vote was 4-0, Mayor John Murray abstaining. Commissioners Cesar and Stoeck supported the pay boost which Clerk Robert Doane had requested. (D

Arnold Pool

Arnold Pool, of 176 Nugent st., Addison, died May 12 in his home of a heart seizure. Arrangements were made by Richert and Sons funeral home, Addison, for the body to be shipped to Graves County, Ky., where services were held and interment was in Mt. Olive cemetery in Kentucky.

He leaves a son, Adair, of Addison. (D

Clarence J. Brunst

Services for Clarence J. Brunst, 39, of 1 S. Wisconsin ave., Addison, were held May 22 in St. Paul Lutheran church, Addison, with the Rev. Reuben Garber officiating. Interment was in Mt. Emblem cemetery.

He was born June 13, 1921, in Chicago, and died May 20 in Memorial hospital, Elmhurst. He has resided in Addison for the past 17 years, and previously in Forest Park. Mr. Brunst was employed with the Jefferson Electric Co. He also was a member of the Addison police department for over 10 years, and served as police commissioner. He retired from the department in 1958. He also was chairman of St. Paul Lutheran Scouting and a member of the Addison volunteer fire dept.

He leaves his wife, Marian, (nee Petersen) whom he married on February 17, 1945, and two sons, Gregory and Gary, at home; also his mother-in-law, Mrs. Erna Petersen. (D

Minnie Hill

Services were held Saturday, May 20, in Geils funeral home, Bensenville, for Minnie Hill, 72, of 202 E. Pine st., Bensenville. The Rev. Norman Zurbrigg officiated and interment was in Mt. Emblem cemetery. She died in her home May 17.

She leaves one son, William C. Daisey of Chicago. (D

One of Four

Almost one out of every four government employees working within the U. S. is a woman.

In Germany

Army S/5 Roger D. Zebroski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Zebroski, 411 N. Maple st., Itasca, recently became a member of the Seventh U. S. Army's Order of Gold Patriots while serving with the 317th engineer battalion in Germany.

Members of this voluntary movement have pledged their support to President John F. Kennedy in reducing the outflow of gold from the U. S. In so doing they have agreed to save a certain ercentage of their pay each month. Chapters of the order are being established in all units throughout Seventh Army.

Specialist Zebroski, who arrived overseas in April 1959, is a combat-demolition specialist in the battalion's company C in Hochst. (WUS

Register Bikes

Police Chief Ernest "Bud" Lynch of Wood Dale has asked boys and girls to register their bicycles at the police station.

Lynch reports that 37 bicycles were reported stolen in Wood Dale during the past year.

"If we have a number and description for each bicycle at the police station, it will discourage thefts, and make it easier to recover a bicycle that it reported missing," Chief Lynch declares. (D

At Knox

Knov college announced the selection of Gordon B. Benkler, 145 Walnut, Wood Dale, as a recipient of a George F. Baker Scholarship for the 1961-62 academic year.

Benkler attends Fenton high school. He has served as president of the Math club and president of the Fine Arts society at the school. (CC

MISS HAZELITA, featured bareback rider with the Penny Bros. circus, is one of the attractions who will appear in Wood Dale when the circus performs on the village hall grounds on W. Irving Park rd. at 4 and 8 p.m. Monday, May 29, under the auspices of the Wood Dale Police association. Merchants in the Wood Dale area are offering half price tickets to the circus.

Suburban Couple Turn Backs on Excitement

By MARY LOU MITTEL

MRS. CARL CHAVERIN, of Wood Dale, has left behind the theatrical life (at least temporarily) in favor of her son, Daniel, and daughter, Lydia.

Have you ever wondered if Ike likes golf as much as the press reports; if Mamie is as sweet as she looks; are Pat as gracious and Dick as sincere as they appear?

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Chaverin, 244 Oakwood dr., Wood Dale, have had the pleasure of meeting each of these people and confirm the newspaper reports, adding, "But definitely!"

These two attractive young people, who have chosen a quiet, small town to make a home for themselves and their two children, have both enjoyed a fast-paced, exciting life.

CARL WAS a member of the U.S. Secret Service during the final months of the Truman administration and for two years of the Eisenhower administration.

Born and raised in Monessen, Pa., he served his country in the Navy air force during the second world war. After receiving his honorable discharge, he completed his education at Franklin and Marshall college in Lancaster, Pa.

He then joined the U.S. Secret Service and, among other duties, served as a guard for President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon and sometimes Ike's grandchildren. David Eisenhower, then five years old, was responsible for Carl and Lee's first meeting and introduced them. Carl was David's bodyguard and Lee, then an entertainment director for the Army, was helping David build submarines on the beach near Fort Sheridan.

Following their marriage in 1954, they moved to Washington, D.C., where they made their home for two years. During this time, Carl was assigned to Presidential guard duty, and Lee was a fashion photograpehr's model for Tall Girl fashions.

Carl accompanied President Eisenhower to the Geneva conference in Switzerland, and also to Colorado, Gettysburg and Augusta, for Ike's golf games. Lee often joined Carl on these trips, and of her acquaintance with Mamie, she says, "She's just as sweet, charming and friendly as she looks."

PART OF Carl's duties included serving as advance man for Richard Nixon, insuring adequate accommodations and protection. When asked for a personal opinion of the Nixons, Lee replied, "We like them both . . . they are so considerate . . . never seemed to be too burdened by their responsibilities to stop for a word of greeting or gratitude for any aid given."

Lee's life during college and immediately after was filled with challenge and adventure.

She is a graduate of the University of Illinois where she majored in speech and drama, and was a member of several national sororities including Alpha Gamma Delta, Zeta Phi Eta and several other honorary professional organizations concerned with speech and the theater. She has been associated with many theater groups, among them the national Collegiate Players.

Lee has the distinction of having been the first civilian entertainment director for the First Army area. As such she directed and produced variety shows, sometimes joining the fun herself.

LEE ALSO had, as she laughingly describes it, "the dubious distinction of being the only female post entertainment director . . . quite a job . . . coordinating a well rounded entertainment program for all military personnel in the Fourth Army post."

Indeed it must have been "quite a job!" but Lee radiates, an air of competence. It is not surprising then that in the two years, since Carl's position as a data processing salesman for IBM brought them to Chicago and they chose to live in Wood Dale, that Lee's vibrant personality and energetic, enthusiastic interest in the Wood Dale library has won her neighborhood admiration.

She was chairman of the building fund drive which raised $5,000 and provided Wood Dale with a library ing.

As a member of the Wood Dale Junior Women's club she serves as library chairman, a liaison between the club and the library, which they have chosen as their "pet project." Preceding a recent fashion show, sponsored by the club, Lee trained some of her fellow members to perform as models.

WHEN ASKED if their present life doesn't seem a bit dull compared with their past ventures, they both were quick to offer a denial. They explained that they have all they need to make them happy — two darling children, Lydia, 4, and Daniel, 2.

Throughout this interview Lydia performed a series of ballet dances, making several changes, displaying a real theatrical flare. Danny manages to win his audience's heart with his comical grin and an emphatic "I like you all!"

Lee smiled and said, "They can be pretty-much sometimes but they have given our life real meaning. We enjoy ourselves just watching their personalities develop. This is the reason I have limited myself to work in two civic organizations." (D

Pizza Profits Are Slated for Center

Monday's profits of the Pizza Cottage on Irving Park rd., in Roselle will go to the Roselle Youth Center.

The Pizza Cottage usually is closed on Mondays, but it will be open from 5 p.m. to midnight next Monday. Employees will work without pay. There'll be a 25-cent reduction in the price of pizzas.

An adult dance sponsored by the Youth Center is scheduled for 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday night, May 27, at Glendale country Club. Dancers will cavort to live music. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

THE YOUTH Center will be open at the time Lake Park high school's summer vacation period begins, said Barry Gilmore, president of the center.

A lease has been signed for the Center's building, but an insurance company has delayed opening until certain deficiencies have been removed. One such deficiency is a hornets nest.

The Youth Center will receive 10 per cent of the profits of a carnival scheduled to appear June 5 to 11 in the village park east of Parkside school. It will also receive profits of a concession stand.

Some 150 teen-agers attended a recent dance to live music in the all-purpose room of Parkside school, said Gilmore. (RF

It's Foolish to Avoid Paying Up

Roselle police this week pointed out the financial foolhardiness of failing to purchase village vehicle stickers and dog licenses.

Every person who receives a summons for failure to display a vehicle sticker currently is being assessed $6 for court costs and fine. The sticker costs $6. So, the errant motorist ends up paying twice what he would have paid if he bought a sticker before the police got to him.

MAY 1 WAS the deadline for buying dog licenses. But, there still are a lot of licenseless dogs in town, say the police.

If police pick up a dog without a license the owner will receive two citations — one for allowing a dog to run loose and another for failing to purchase a license.

Dogs will be impounded. Owners will have to pay board and room. Cost of dog licenses is $1 for males and $1.50 for females. (RF PROGRESS: People in the Roselle area began receiving their new telephone books last Thursday, May 18. By now everyone must have received them.

Subscribers learn from the new books that they contain a few of the seven-numbered "all number calling" telephone numbers. Among these few are all telephone company business office numbers.

Those who are proud of the fund of telephone numbers filed away in their memories need not fear that they must relearn new ones. If one continues to dial the old numbers he will reach the same parties. The finger holes for the numbers are the same as for the letters. For instance, LA 9 is 529, according to the new system.

DROWN THEM? Whenever voters reject a bond issue which would finance construction of new classrooms it causes gnashing of teeth among school officials. They are convinced that new schools are needed — and needed badly in many cases.

One school official in this area recalled the time he stood in a back yard as a child and watched a girl drown kittens.

His moral: What do we do with children after we run out of classrooms?

SUBURBAN PLAQUE: There may be some who think the dandelion is decorative; but most people would rather have plain green lawns free of the yellow demon.

The dandelions are in full bloom now, spreading like a yellow blanket over lawns. But, there's a way to get rid of them.

When the dandelions are damp with a heavy dew or, after you have sprinkled them, spread a chemical weed killer called 4XD. It will kill them fast, say the garden store people.

Still another way to get rid of them is to eat them — the leaves, anyway. They make excellent salad. And, did you know that dandelion wine is very tasty?

State Agency Has Questions About Treatment Plant

The state agency which holds the power of life and death over a proposed addition to the Roselle sewage treatment plant had some questions about the preliminary layout of construction in a letter read at the village board meeting Monday night.

Village Engineer Richard Koehler said that final plans and specifications were to be ready this week. The only changes that will have to be made as a result of the letter, said Koehler, is addition of two pumps.

THE PUMPS will boost estimated cost of the addition some $4,000 to about $190,000. Federal aid, meted out through the Illinois Sanitary Water Board, will pay a maximum of 30 per cent of the cost. That would leave $133,000 to be paid from village resources.

The village is financially incapable of paying the $57,000 which would be the government's maximum share of the cost, in the estimate of trustees.

It was the Sanitary Water Board which decreed that an addition is necessary because of the increasing population of Roselle, rapidly approaching maximum capacity of the sewage treatment plant. (R

The Roselle village board is attacking the village's rusty water problem on two fronts —treating the water with a chemical which will cause the rust (ferric oxide) to precipitate from the water, and flushing water hydrants to temporarily remove rust scale from pipes.

Village Trustee James Wolber reported the latest developments on front one at the village board meeting Monday night.

A CHEMICAL called polyphosphate has removed most of the rust from the water system of nearby villages and also industrial firms which have used it, said Wolber. He recommended that Roselle meter it into its water system.

Cost of equipment would be about $1,200, Wolber estimated. And cost to operate the equipment would be about $1 to $1.50 a day.

The Illinois Health Department must approve addition of polyphosphate to the water, said Wolber. So, purchase of equipment should wait until that approval has been received, said Wolber. He said he expected a report from the Health Department in time for the June 5 meeting.

MEANWHILE, Albert Botterman, village superintendent, said Monday night that he would flush hydrants from 1 to 3 p.m. every Tuesday and Thursday. He said he would begin today, May 25.

Flushing will cause temporary upheaval in rust content of water. (RF

County Queen Is Eligible for '62 State Fair Title

The queen of the DuPage county fair, to be chosen July 27, will be eligible to become Miss Illinois County Fair and reign at the 1962 Illinois state fair.

Letters have been sent to hundreds of groups asking them to sponsor contestants. Deadline for the entries is July 1. Don C. Miller of Naperville is chairman of the queen contest committee.

MISS DUPAGE County Fair will receive gift certificates donated by merchants all over the county besides $100 from the DuPage County Fair Association. She will be crowned and receive a trophy and roses.

Two girls chosen for the queen's court will receive trophies too and share hostess duties with the queen during the fair.

These are qualifications required of a queen contestant: 17 to 22 years old by January, 1962; resident of DuPage county; single, never married. She may not be a professional model.

JUDGES will evaluate contestants on the bases of posture and charm, personality and stage presence, beauty and form. Candidates will wear formal dresses during judging.

In January, 1962, the queen will represent DuPage county at the state convention in Springfield and compete with other county queens for the title of Miss Illinois County Fair.

The county fair is scheduled for July 27 to 30. (Z

Academy to Build $500,000 Addition

Construction of a $500,000 school and cafeteria addition will begin early this summer at St. Procopius College academy, Lisle.

The building will contain 13 classrooms, an administrative office, a cafeteria seating 300 students, kitchen, and faculty dining room.

PROMINENT in the building plan is a spacious lobby. It will serve not only as the school's new main entrance, but also as a new lobby for the school gymnasium.

The new building will be attached to the present main classroom building and gymnasium. After the building is erected, the gym will be expanded for greater seating capacity.

The 40,000 square foot building will be completed for classes in September, 1962.

ST. PROCOPIUS College academy is the high school department of St. Procopius college in Lisle. Conducted by the Benedictine Fathers, the school was founded in Chicago in 1887 and transferred to Lisle in 1901.

Though the academy has a record enrollment this year of 565 students, it has a student-teacher ratio of one teacher for every 19 students. (Z

Ceremony Is Set for Vet Memorials

A public Memorial Day ceremony and program is scheduled for 11 a.m. next Tuesday, May 30, in Bloomingdale Cemetery on East Lake street.

Roselle American Legion post 1084 will sponsor the annual observance. It will consist of the placing of wreaths on the graves of war veterans, playing taps and firing volleys over the graves.

THOMAS Mayhew, Roselle superintendent of schools, will deliver the Memorial Day speech. The Rev. Walter Mehlberg, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church, Roselle, will give the invocation and benediction.

Tommy Middendorf will play taps as he has the past two years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Middendorf, 57 W. Maple st., Roselle.

Joliet Diocese Records Growth

The Catholic population of the diocese of Joliet has increased by 8,952 over last year, the Joliet chancery office reported today.

Catholics in the Joliet diocese now number 210,033. The figure compiled by the diocese was released in the 1961 Official Catholic directory, which gives a statistical survey of the Catholic church in the United States as of January 1, 1961.

The total U.S. Catholic population was reported in the directory to be 42,104,900. The figures show a 10-year national increase of 13,470,022 or 47.04 per cent over the 28,634,878 in 1951.

Two new parishes were erected in 1960, raising the diocesan total to 92. Total area of the seven county diocese is 4218 square miles, with a total population of 687,197. There are 399 priests in the diocese. The national total of priests, 54,682, the largest ever recorded, is an increase of 886 over last year. (R

Solicitors 'Flooding' Community

A recently revised village ordinance which does not provide for investigations of the police records of solicitors is blamed for a recent run on solicitors in Roselle.

Police Chief George Pieper said that 12 solicitors registered from May 13 to 18.

HE IS not permitted to fingerprint them under terms of the revised ordinance. Before the revision solicitors were required to wait 48 hours for the blue identification card they still receive while police checked to see if they had criminal records.

The word evidently has gotten around that Roselle has no way of ascertaining the truth of statements made on registration forms, said Pieper. (RF watch check-up now!

Here's why it's so important to get a check-up by a qualified, professional watchmaker. A good watch is made to work constantly, for years. But jarrings, dust, dirt or humidity can sometimes throw off its intricate, hard-working mechanism. Of course, your watch may be working fine, but if you bring it in for a check-up now you may avoid possible costly damage later.

BENSENVILLE In The NEWS

The Park street home of Mrs. J. Garcia was the scene Sunday of a family gathering which completely surprised Mrs. Garcia, who was observing her birthday. Among those on hand for dinner were Mrs. Garcia's children and families, the Art Garcias, Peter Martyniuk family, Daniel Kruses, Richard Guzmans and Henry Garcias. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benning. who came from Massachusetts for the occasion, and Mrs. Garcia's granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Borowczyk. recently home from their honeymoon.

EVERYTHING from flannelette pajamas to Hawaiian Muu Muus were in evidence last Friday morning when Mrs. Ray Hall, Tioga rd., entertained members of her bowling league at a "come as you are" breakfast.

The sympathy of Bensenville friends and neighbors is extended the John Lill family of Brockwood st. on the death last week of Mr. Lill's father, William.

Frankie Field's seventh birthday was celebrated Saturday afternoon at a party, with each of the six luncheon guests receiving a cowboy hat as a favor. Frankie was again honored Sunday at a family dinner in the Chicago home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Field.

OLD PRAGUE in Berwyn was the scene Saturday evening of the Mohawk ladies bowling banquet. Fifty-four team members and their husbands enjoyed dinner together, with trophies being awarded the winning team of Chaban's. Mrs. Irv Frontzak received two trophies, one for high score, the other for first place team.

Mohawk friends of Rich Hoskins were sorry to learn that he has been hospitalized since last Friday in Elmhurst. Everyone hopes he will be able to return home in time to celebrate his 15th birthday.

The Stan Kusek yard on Tioga rd. was an active one Saturday afternoon when two teams of neighborhood girls met for a baseball game. Coached by Susan Kusek, the Tioga rd girls challenged the Mohawk dr. team to a game, which was witnessed by a number of parents. Linda Spillone coached the Mohawk team, which included Gayle Tomassoni, Gayle Busa, Kathy Lasorso, Diane Schirmer, Marlene and Carol Chamberland. The Tioga team consisted of Jill Kusek, Janice and Joyce Owens, Valerie Porter, Kathy Carroll, Chris Koch and Charlene Porter.

A number of St. Alexis seventh graders enjoyed a splash party Monday evening at Flick - Reedy. Among the chaperones were Mr. J. Kowalczyk, Mrs. Stratton and Jay Butler.

DON CARROLL was elected president of Mohawk Community association at its May meeting last Wednesday evening in Mohawk school. Other officers elected were Stan Fic, vice president; Mrs. Ronald Neubauer, secretary; Mrs. Don Miller, treasurer; Orin Bates and Louis Spillone, board members.

A party in her home on Algonquin rd. recently helped Jo Ella Skinner, daughter of the Ron Skinners, celebrate her eighth birthday. A number of playmates gathered after school for games and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas were hosts last Friday evening at a family dinner in their home on W. Green st. Guests enjoyed fish dinner, part of the Thomases' recent catch during a fishing trip near Eagle River, Wis.

Mrs. Richard Mueller was hostess Saturday afternoon to a group of neighborhood friends for dessert luncheon. Among the guests were her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ed Mueller of Addison, and Mrs. Fred Hilton's mother, Mrs. Leo Burns of Detroit, Mich.

Plentywood Farm was the scene Wednesday evening of a dinner party which honored outgoing board members of Mohawk PTA.

House guests this week of the George Sullivans are Mrs. Sullivan's sister and family, the Herbert Carlsons, visiting here from Denver, Colo.

GENE MADAY of Algonquin rd. was surprised Saturday evening to find himself guest of honor at a birthday dinner party. Twelve friends and relatives joined the Madays for the evening.

Ronald Graff and friend, Claude Vondruska, took the Graffs' boat to his friend's home on Grass Lake last Friday night, returning home the following day with 100 bass, blue gills and crappies. Ron's mother, Mrs. Aileen Graff, went to the lake Saturday evening with her son, Larry, and his fiancee, Diane Gurke, returning Sunday with another batch. Fresh fish dinners will be featured in the Graff home for some time to come.

Bensenville friends of Mrs. Herbert Dierking send speedy recovery wishes to her while she is hospitalized at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Koch and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kosar were among those who recently attended the men's bowling league banquet held at the Golden Pheasant.

MEDINAH st. playmates of Jeannie Mondel helped her celebrate her fourth birthday Saturday afternoon. Jeannie is the daughter of the Joseph Mondels.

Many months of preparation reached a culmination Saturday evening for Mr. and Mrs. David Labbe, who served as chairmen for a sports car rallye. The evening was similar to those that many experienced when they attended the annual Mohawk treasure hunts in past years, with the wind-up dinner being served at Nordic Hills country club.

A maypole cake featuring baby dolls was used as a centerpiece for the serving table at Cynthia Bronars' first birthday party Tuesday evening in the Henry Bronars home on Algonquin rd. Among relatives on hand with best wishes were Cynthia's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schendel, and her godmother, Mrs. James Mangan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Armstrong spent the weekend in Indianapolis, Ind. where they attended the wedding and reception of their niece, Mary Beth Taylor, and Richard Walker. While there the Armstrongs also helped Mary Beth's parents, the John Taylors, celebrate their silver wedding anniversary.

The Fred Hiltons were hosts Saturday evening at a barbecue supper at their home on Algonquin rd.

THE ARTHUR Andersons of S. Mason st. have received word from their daughter, Mary Lou, and family, telling of their safe arrival in Spain after a wonderful trip, stopping in Ireland and Newfoundland enroute. Weather in Spain so far has been perfect, with warm days and cool nights.

The Edward Dylo family attended the wedding of a niece in Norridge Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McGinn of Davenport, Iowa, parents of Mrs. George Glowacki, spent the weekend in the Glowacki home on S. Center st. Sunday the family drove to Chicago's south side to visit Mrs. Glowacki's sister, Sister Daniel Anne, a nun at Holy Cross convent.

Rickie Jones, son of Mrs. Thomas McLain, S. Walnut st., who was just promoted to Petty Officer 3/c in the Navy, arrived home early this month for a 30-day leave, allowing him to be with his mother on Mother's day and on her birthday. Rickie has been on a 3-month cruise during which he visited the Philippines, Okinawa, Hong Kong and many other interesting places. At the end of his leave he will board his ship at Pearl Harbor.

A family get-together took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reinhold Sr. on S. Center st. over the weekend to celebrate the sixth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reinhold Jr. of Chicago. Present also were Gen. (ret.) and Mrs. Joel Holmes of Burlington, Iowa, and Mrs. Julia Koestner of Waukegan, sister of Mrs. Reinhold Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Dahlstrom of Eau Gallie, Fla., parents of Stig and Berndt Dahlstrom of Bensenville, were called here by the death of Mr. Dahlstrom's sister, Mrs. Oscar Johnson of Chicago.

MRS. ROBERT Hamer and son, Bob, attended a birthday and farewell party for her son-in-law, Ellis Smith of Deerfield, Tuesday evening. Mr. Smith will leave soon for England on business for his company.

Harold Reagan of Seymour, Tenn., nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Berndt Dahlstrom, is making his home with the Dahlstroms while working for A. Dahlstrom and Sons in their cement business.

Mrs. Ronald Schmidt, Mrs. Charles Buttner of Madison, Wis., and Miss Maraldine Schoo were co-hostesses at a surprise bridal shower for Miss Beverly Schoppe, daughter of the Bernhard Schoppes of Thorndale ave., Sunday afternoon in the Ronald Schmidt home on Rose st. Miss Schoppe will become the bride of Wallace Tasche on June 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Schoo drove to Holland Mich., last Friday evening for Holland's Tulip Festival on Saturday. A big parade with 20 bands, scrubbing of the streets, folk dancing by teenagers in native costumes and a visit to the tulip farms made their visit colorful.

The Alfred Hochs were pleasantly surprised when their son, Richard, flew in Saturday afternoon for an overnight visit with them, returning Sunday to his naval base at Norfolk, Va.

THE JUNIOR High Sunday school classes of the EUB church braved the cool breezes Sunday afternoon for a picnic at Salt Creek forest preserve near Wood Dale. Chaperoning the 30 young people were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schumann.

Mrs. Arthur Reynolds spent last Thursday evening in Goshen, Ind., with a friend, driving to Holland, Mich., on Friday to attend the Tulip Festival. Her daughter Kathy, a student at Hope college there, returned home with her.

Mrs. Connie Parrish, teacher at Green Street school, entertained members of the faculty and maintenance staff in her home in Downers Grove last Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Henrietta Robb, principal of the school who will retire at the end of the school year.

Mrs. Gladys Johnson, third grade teacher at Green Street school, who wil retire at the end of the school term to make her home in Arizona, was guest of honor Monday afternoon after school when Mrs. Oliver Onken entertained at a party. WHITE PINES NEWS

Elva Duvall POrter 6-5585

The first golf luncheon of the season for members of the White Pines women's golf league will be held at 11:30 next Wednesday at the Mohawk country club. After the luncheon, a report will be given by the members of the rules committee, followed by a discussion period.

Last Friday some of the upper grade students at the Zion Lutheran school presented the operetta, "Tom Sawyer," at their annual school entertainment night to raise funds for the purchase of books for their library.

The lead character was realistically portrayed by Paul Klotz of Hawthorne ave. Kathy Axtman and Jack Klotz of Hawthorne and Susan Johnson of Church rd. contributed to the success of the evening, too, by their fine performances in supporting roles.

ONCE AGAIN the Murrin residence on Pine Grove ave. was the scene of a robbery early Saturday morning. Two masked thieves reportedly entered the house by breaking through a basement window and tying up Mrs. Frank Murrin and her overnight guest, Miss Katherine McNally, both of whom had been awakened from a sound sleep. After cutting the telephone wires, the women said the thieves selected jewelry and furs and other valuables and then left in Mrs. Murrin's car. Two days later the police reportedly found the car, intact, abandoned in Bellwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hagemeister of Crest ave. returned last week from a pleasant 2-week vacation in Mexico. After enjoying a few days of sight-seeing in Mexico City, they spent the remainder of their time relaxing in beautiful Acapulco.

The William Danks family of Ridgewood ave. drove to Centertown, Ky. last weekend to join other family members in the celebration of their grandmother's 91st birthday. The guest of honor, Mrs. R. W. Danks, had the rare privilege of holding her great-grandson's infant daughter, Laurie, who represents the fifth generation of their family lineage.

FRIENDS OF the family and former neighbors were all saddened by the news of the tragic accident which took the life of Bertil Olson last Friday morning. Although a resident of Wood Dale the last few years, Mr. Olson maintained an active membership in the White Pines Sportsman's club. Residents here join with the Sportsmen in extending sympathy to his family.

The Clifton Carlson family of Ridgewood recently spent Saturday visiting with their daughter, Marilyn, at Illinois State Normal university.

Mrs. Alfred Grunschel of Red Oak ave. entertained members of her canasta club a week ago Tuesday evening. Mrs. Wilford Schreier of Hawthorne ave. and Mrs. Jess Parrish of Ridgwood ave. shared the honors for prizes.

A joint birthday party was held at the Zdanek residence on White Pine rd. last Saturday. Kathy Zdanek celebrated her 12th birthday and Michael, his ninth. Games and prizes kept the young people occupied until refreshments were served then everyone joined in the baseball game which followed.

The preceding Wednesday afternoon Kathy and Michael had been honored at a family birthday luncheon as that day they had only a half day of school. Among those who joined in the celebration were their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Young, and two aunts, Mrs. Jean Holtz and Mrs. Carole Greve and their families all from Chicago.

LAST WEEK, Mrs. Charles Lindholm of Pine Grove turned over the duties of block captain for block 11 to Mrs. Nils Royem also of Pine Grove.

As is the custom at Fenton, each year senior students are given the opportunity to act as guest conductors at the senior band concert. Among those sharing this honor last Thursday evening were Philip Benziger of Hawthorne ave. and Gary Menzies of Ridgewood.

A foursome of ladies enjoyed a bridge-brunch at the home of Mrs. Howard Dusek of Red Oak recently. Guests included Mrs. John Green of Pine Grove ave., Mrs. Frank Duda of White Pine rd. and Mrs. George Arnold of Red Oak ave.

Once again neighbors are being cautioned against leaving anything of value in their yards over night. A quilt and a wool blanket which had been left out-of-doors to dry recently were both missing the following morning when Mrs. Alfred Grunschel of Red Oak ave. went out to get them.

A WEEK AGO Tuesday Marilyn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blaesing of Ridgewood ave., celebrated her fourth birthday with a party in the afternoon for eight of her friends.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Indian Princesses was held at the Thomas Mills residence on Pine Grove ave. last Monday evening. While the girls concentrated on their current project, weaving, the fathers considered plans for a camping trip for the youngsters in June.

Mrs. Arthur Olsen arranged a family get-together at her home on Hawthorne ave. last Sunday evening in celebration of her husband's birthday.

MRS.KENNET H Strohm of Red Oak ave. and Mrs. Joseph Spencer, Mrs. Douglas Barger and Mrs. Ray Soden all of Ridgewood ave., were among those who attended the bowling banquet at Bino's restaurant in Franklin Park a week ago Tuesday. During the presentation ceremony which followed, Mrs. Spencer received an achievement award in recognition of "the most improved bowling average" in her league.

Congratulations to Mary-Therese Marriott, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopec of Hawthorne ave., who has been voted one of the 10 outstanding students of the year by fellow students in the graduation class at Immaculate Conception High School. All of the candidates were selected for abilities shown in scholastic and social activities. (B

TIOGA POST 2149 NEWS

HONOR THE DEAD BY HELPING THE LIVING

Buy a poppy this Thursday, May 25. Our auxiliary ladies along with post members will be located at strategic stations throughout Bensenville to sell poppies. Bear in mind that a poppy bought contributes to the rehabilitation and welfare of a hospitalized veteran. Truly this is one of the VFW's finest efforts.

POST PATTER

Activities chairman Bill Kaufmann reports a scheduled two-ball golf tournament for the last week in June.

An early reminder by carnival chairman Fred Wendur that our carnival takes place August 9 to 13.

Comrade Walsh stated the need for 60 new bulbs for the lights at Blackhawk field. Approval for the request was granted. Commander Koehler and junior vice commander Wendur with the aid of a sky hook truck graciously loaned by Speedway Neon Sign Co. and Radtke Sign installed the bulbs.

Our color guard should be resplendent this Memorial day in their new uniforms. Parade Marshal Pete Martyniuk has lined up 85 organizations to march in this year's Memorial day celebration. Origin of the line of march will extend from Miner st. and Memorial dr. and wend its way through Bensenville beginning at 10:15 a.m. Post and auxiliary members should be at Tioga home no later than 8:30 a.m. to participate in the post and auxiliary memorial services. Tioga post graveside services at Frieden's cemetery will honor departed comrade Bob Haberstich.

TIOGA WELCOMES

CAMPAIGNOTES

Dept. junior vice aspirant Ray Soden has been burning shoe leather and tonsil straining his way throughout the state. This Friday Ray will appear on Lee Vogel's WTAQ show at 10:30 p.m. and on Saturday with Jack Eigen at 11:15. Next week he is scheduled to pop up on Lee Phillips TV program.

KEGLER'S KWOTES:

Tioga's happy bowlers enjoyed a tremendous dinner prepared by Mary "Crocker" Strohm and her fine committee. During the course of the evening trophies were presented to Julie Braun's winning quintet including Hal Luxen, Bud Guido, Lee Ricker and Lenny Gill. Lee Craine had high series, 646. High individual game, Ted Appelhoff, 268; high individual average, Bill Burde, 177; high team series, Snafus, 3127; high team game, Snafus, 1100. Bowling president Frank Rasmussen, treasurer Tony Medziak, and secretary Bob Anderson are to be complimented for a wonderful party and a successful season.

CONDOLENCES

Tioga extends its sympathies to Litzie Leider upon the death of her father.

Tioga post and auxiliary won second place at the district meeting with their color photo entry of the Tioga poppy display. Auxiliary president Pearl Burde was extremely elated with the result. Thanks to Bob Amundsen and Lois Dement, says she. (B

Like millions of Americans you may be dreaming of building or buying your own home. If you are, chances are you need two important things—first, money for a down payment; second, a home loan to make up the difference. Our association specializes in helping you get both these things.

Last year, associations like ours throughout the U.S. made one out of every three home loans—1,000,000 of them totaling more than $10 billion. The Insured Savings and Loan way has, in fact, become America's most popular way to finance a new home. Here's why:

1. We know more about home loans because we make more of them.
2. You get friendly understanding from our staff which is experienced in home financing.
3. You repay your loan just like rent. A monthly repayment is usually set up to include principal, interest and property taxes.
4. While you're saving for the down payment, your money earns excellent returns, and is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government.

Lake Park Hosts Bisons in Loop Finale

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

HATS OFF TO Coach Max Armer and his LaGrange Lions for bringing a share of the state track and field crown back to the Chicago area. It wasn't gone long — just one year — but it's nice to have it back.

This is Armer's first year as head man of the Lions' cindermen and that's quite a way to start. He succeeded Russ Deason as varsity track coach at LaGrange after Deason had guided the Lions to some outstanding campaigns.

Although state titles are nothing new to LaGrange, it was Rock Island's first time at the top, just as it had been Moline's first last year.

"Track interest has really boomed in our area in the last few years," the Rock Island coach commented Saturday. "When I started out four years ago as head coach we didn't have enough boys out to stage both a varsity and sophomore meet."

Among the disappointed coaches in Champaign-Urbana was York's Joe Newton. The Dukes, author of several major track titles this spring, lost expected points when Mike Psaltis failed to qualify for the discus finals and when hurdler Gay Morse, who had the state's top time at :19.1, couldn't make the grade in the 180 yard lows. In addition, Psaltis had a new shot put record taken away from him in Friday's prelims.

Mike, who eventually finished fourth in the state, became the first man to hit 60 feet in state shot put competition, getting off a 60-0½ toss Friday. But a rules infraction resulted in taking the record off the books and setting off a first-class rhubarb.

The shot put Mike has been using all season — without any other complaints — has two small indentations, about one-eighth of an inch deep where plugs, which had fallen out, had previously been — and had been replaced by corks.

The rules state that the shot put must have a perfectly smooth surface to be legal and following a protest by the Bloom coach, Psaltis' record was tossed out. The husky York senior had been using the same shot all season, and it had been weighed and inspected by the official inspector of weights prior to the event.

As Newton asked and with reason, "Why didn't they rule it illegal in the first place? If Mike had thrown it only 48 feet, they wouldn't have said a word!"

THE BIGGEST SURPRISE of the track and field meet was the failure of New Trier's Chuck Mercein, a 60-foot-plus shot putter all season, to finish either first or second. As Palatine's Junior Andy Merutka commented after setting a new state mark at 59-5½, "The distance didn't surprise me, but Mercein did. I was only three inches over my previous best but Chuck's been ov 60 so many times.

"Mercein started concentrating on the discus last week. You use your arm entirely different, and it apparently threw off his timing."

In any respect, our congratulations to Palatine's Merutka for his performance downstate. A great competitor, Andy appears heade for a brilliant senior year.

Fenton High Trackmen Top Lancers

Fenton's varsity thinclads swept the top three places in both the 880 and mile runs last Wednesday enroute a tight 65-53 win over Lake Park.

The varsity victory along with a decision in the accompanying frosh-soph contest assured Fenton possession of the Milwaukee Bill during the '61-62 school year.

Going into Wednesday's meet, the Bisons held a slim 78-66 advantage in their drive to wrest the Bell from Lake Park. The double victory boosted their lead to a now insurmountable 114-66.

BISON TERRY Aasen raced to victory in both the half and mile events to pace Fenton sweeps in both departments. Tom Martinek was second in both instances.

Bill Kehoe, Fenton's ace sprinter, was plagued by a wrenched back and managed no better than a tie for first in the 100 and a second in the 220.

Lake Park's Joe Petty equaled a school record of :10.6 to tie Kehoe in the 100 and then went on to take top honors in 220.

THE LANCERS actually dominated as far as first place finishes were concerned with seven outright wins and two deadlocks but Fenton's depth paid off in the long run.

The Bisons picked up firsts in the mile relay, broad jump and pole vault in addition to Aasen's pair of winning efforts. Don Schmidt tied Lancer Ken Klein for first in the high jump.

Capturing the broad jump was Al Heimsoth with an 18-8 measurement while Gary Mueller cleared 10 feet for top pole vault honors.

Lake Park dominated the hurdles as Mike Stienke ruled the highs and Bill Tiffany took the lows. Another Lancer, Ken Hardwicke, topped the 440 while Al Blazek and Jack Woodman captured the shot and discus respectively.

Linksmen Collide At Mohawk

Little more than prestige will be at stake this afternoon (Thursday) when traditional rivals Fenton and Lake Park tangle at Medinah in the final Tri-County Conference baseball battle for both schools.

As a matter of fact, today's clash will conclude Fenton's 1961 diamond campaign; Lake Park will wrap matters up Friday when it hosts West Leyden high of Northlake.

Actually, the only matter that still remains to be settled is the conference runner-up slot. As things stand at present, the Bisons possess a share of second along with Elmwood Park while Lake Park is mired in the cellar.

NEVERTHELESS, a Lancer win coupled with a North Chicago victory over Elmwood Park would create a three-way tie beneath the champion War Hawks.

North Chicago breezed through the '61 diamond chase with ridiculous ease enroute to its fourth consecutive title. Even more monotonous is the fact that the Hawks now have won every major athletic title since the Tri-County circuit's inception four years ago.

THIRTY-SIX Milwaukee Bell points will be distributed at the conclusion of this afternoon's Lake Park—Fenton activity although they will have little bearing on the final outcome of this year's competition.

Fenton successfully wrested the Bell from Lake Park's possession with varsity and frosh-soph victories in track last Wednesday. The Bisons currently lead, 114-66, and a Lancer sweep today would do little more than reduce the final count to 114-102.

In addition to the varsity baseball contest at Medinah, respective frosh-soph nines will collide at Bensenville with varsity and frosh-soph golf matches slated for Mohawk Country club.

The Bison soph hardballers are currently involved in a torrid two-way fight with North Chicago for the mythical conference underclassman title. Both schools have won three of four games.

Softball League Planned

Under the auspices of the Greater Wood Dale Youth Recreational association, a sandlot softball league has been established for the youth of the Wood Dale area.

This new league suupplements the present Little League, Pony League, and Ponytail League teams now in existance and is open to all boys who are not now affiliated with a team.

REGISTRATION for all eligible boys will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, at the ball diamonds located at Wood Dale rd. and Commercial ave. in the village. At this time, the individual teams will be oragnized and game schedules worked out.

All necessary equipment will be furnished by the association.

The GWDYRA requests that older boys and adults interested in managing or coaching these teams also report Saturday for assignment.

Fenton Shares Second

Reed, Bisons Blast Elmwood Park, 7-2

Trailing, 2-1, after three-and-one-half innings of play, Fenton's varsity Bisons found the range for six runs during the next three rounds to notch a 7-2 win over Tri-County Conference rival Elmwood Park last Thursday.

By virtue of the victory, Coach Jim Monahan's nine climbed into a second place tie with the Tigers. Both squads have won two of five contests with one game remaining.

Gaining credit for the Bison victory was Sophomore Carl Reed. Reed went the distance for the victors and scattered four hits to pick up his first win of the season after four heartbreaking reversals.

ELMWOOD DREW first blood with a pair of tallies in the second frame. Moore led off with a single and moved to second on a walk to Pete Tingberg.

Ron Lewis then laced a single to right and when the ball skipped past John Greenwood both Moore and Tingberg scored with Lewis taking third on the play. In a brazen attempted theft of home, however, the Tiger base runner was cut down to retire the side.

A pair of errors by Elmwood catcher Mike Bertolani enabled Fenton to chalk up its first tally of the game in the second.

STILL DOWN by a run, the Bisons pulled ahead for keeps with a pair in the fourth. Tom Semper started it off by reaching base on Moore's miscue and then took second on a passed ball.

John Hennig's sacrifice sent Semper to third and Elmwood starter Lewis walked to put two men on with only one out.

Carl Reed then banged out a single to score both runners.

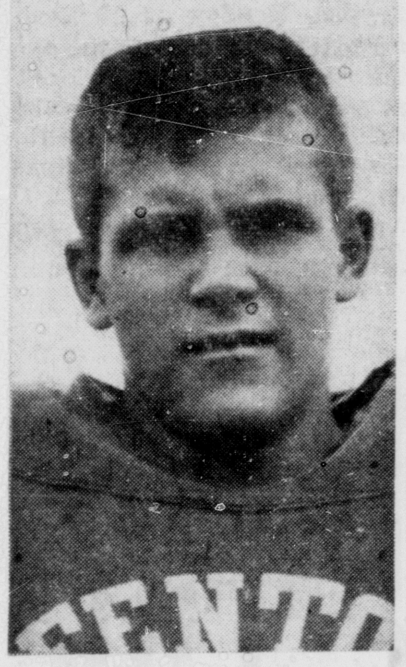
FENTON ADDED another run in the fifth on two errors by Tiger shortstop Krueger and then iced the issue with a trio of counters in the sixth.

Howie Waldvogel led off the sixth with a single and scored moments later on Greenwood's double. Frank Nelson walked and Dan Summers whacked a single to score Greenwood.

Phil Floring then rapped into a pitcher-to-second-to-first double play but Nelson scampered home during the proceedings.

MONAHAN'S crew ran into Lisle Friday afternoon and at the conclusion of the day's activities, found themselves on the short end of a 3-0 decision.

The Lions threw their ace hurler, Colbert, at the Bisons and the ace senior promptly throttled the Bensenville nine to a single hit while fanning 10.



DAN SUMMERS

Evan Simmons got the start for Fenton and pitched good ball except for a momentary lapse in the fifth in which the victors chalked up all of their runs.

Announce Honor Team Next Week

Prep athletes will be honored in the 12 individual events with certificates and tear sheets going out to the All-Staters.

An All-State board, headed by Sports Editor Bob Frisk and Bill Beckman of Prospect high school, will select the 1961 team with the honor squad based on the consistency of the boy's performances throughout the season rather than on one or two impressive efforts.

THURS., MAY 25, 1961

RACING TO VICTORY in the 880 is Fenton's Terry Aasen during last Wednesday's Bison-Lake Park track meet. Coach Lee Thompson's varsity tripped the Lancers, 65-53, while the Bison frosh-sophs also triumphed.

Capture Varsity, Sophomore Crowns

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

The Lancers did it again!

Summoning forth their greatest effort of the spring, Lake Park's varsity and frosh-soph golfers successfully defended their Tri-County Conference titles Monday at Mohawk country club.

Not only was it a team victory for Coach Gerry Carpenter's marauders, but the Medinah crew also took home a lion's share of individual honors.

Claiming the first place individual varsity medal was Lancer John Stevenson but not before he succeeded in turning back a couple of determined teammates in the persons of Randy Wolf and Dan DeMay.

ALTHOUGH their margin of victory was not as great as last year, the Lancers still wrapped up in their second straight loop links title with a lower medal score than that which won the '60 affair.

Lake Park's four low men totaled 321 strokes for an 11 stroke bulge over second place Elmwood Park. North Chicago trailed in third with 334 while Fenton was a distant fourth at 397.

The frosh-soph Lancers had somewhat of a tougher time but their 371 was still good enough for top honors. Elmwood Park (379) again was second followed by North Chicago (391), Ridgewood (397) and Fenton (425) in that order.

IN CONTRAST to last year's varsity individual race for the top medal, this spring's battle proved to be a real dogfight right down to the wire.

Lake Park's Terry Sopko waltzed away with the '60 individual crown by a full eight strokes over teammate Jay Kelley but such was not the case in Stevenson's ascendancy to the top Monday.

At the end of the front nine Monday, Sophomore DeMay of Lake Park held a slim one stroke lead over North Chicago's Ryscek on the strength of his 38. Stevenson was a solid three strokes back with a three over par 41.

ON THE EASIER Mohawk back side, DeMay slacked off to a 41 and Ryscek to a 45 thus setting the stage for a dramatic fight to the finish between Stevenson and Wolf.

With Wolf up by one after nine holes, the two Lancer aces battled on even terms on the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th before Stevenson made his bid.

On the par three 14th, Stevenson registered a par and pulled even as Wolf took a bogey four. Then came the big 15th.

DEMAY'S HOPE for first trickled down the drain with a triple bogey seven. Stevenson, meanwhile, pulled one stroke ahead with another par while Wolf picked up another bogey.

Stevenson and Wolf both parred the 16th but the former virtually decided the issue with a birdie three on the 17th while Wolf was taking a par four.

*Won sudden death playoff for first ribbon

Wolf closed the gap to one stroke with a bogey four on the 18th while Stevenson, plagued by an out-of-bounds penalty, registered a five.

WOLF TOOK the second place medal with the third place medal going to DeMay. North Chicago's Dempski fired a 36 on the back side after a 44 front side and wound up with fourth place honors.

Elmwood Park's Ken Kirpluk edged teammate Koeppel in a sudden death playoff for the fifth and final medal. Both boys concluded regulation play with 82's.

Rounding out Lake Park's four man total was Lloyd Peterson with an 87.

DAVE ECCLESTON turned in Fenton's best card, a 94. Other Bison scores that counted included Erwin Mick's 95, Dave Reichert's 99 and Len Hansen's 109.

In its first year of membership in the Tri-County circuit, Ridgewood snatched the number one individual frosh-soph prize as Augustine whipped Elmwood Park's Navratil in a sudden death playoff.

One stroke back of the leaders in third place was Lake Park's Art Wenzel with an 86 followed by teammate Jack Bauerle with a 93. Finley of North Chicago and Boras of Elmwood Park tied for the fifth slot with 94's.

Hawks Shock Lancer Sophs; Share Lead

Trailing, 3-1, heading into the second inning, North Chicago exploded for six runs in the bottom of the second and rolled on to a 7-3 win over Lake Park in a Tri-County Conference sophomore game at North Chicago last Thursday.

The loss dropped the Lancer sophs into the conference basement while the War Hawks maintained their share of the top slot along with Fenton.

Coach Norby Wesolowski's crew opened up with three runs in the first without the aid of a base hit. Successive walks to Bob Rompala and Drury Mays and a pair of errors in right by North Chicago's Sage produced the game's first run.

BOB KRAMARCZYK walked to force in Mays while Jim Kozlowski's sacrifice fly scored Larry Gates' with the inning's third run.

The Hawks fought back with a single run in their half of the first. Gramer grounded out but Schatz singled.

Lake Park starter Dennis Gieseke got Gesky on a liner to short but back-to-back singles by Duffy and Sage produced North Chicago's first run.

THE ROOF caved in on Gieseke in the second as the Hawks converted five walks, two singles and a couple of Bison lapses in the field into those six runs.

Cliff Stetter came to Gieseke's rescue and finished up for the Lancers without allowing a base hit.

The Medinah crew recovered its winning ways Saturday with an impressive 14-2 rout of Burlington at Burlington.

JOE CHLAPTY started on the hill for Wesolowski's outfit and got the win although he was relieved by Scott Robertson. Baker was tagged with the defeat.

The Lancers decided the Burlington issue in short order with five big markers in the top of the first and then added four more in the second and five in the third.

THE NORTH SUBURBAN CONFERENCE had one of its best years at the state track meet. Theo Cox of Zion-Benton won the 100 in :09.9, took 4th in the 220, and anchored a 5th place 880 relay team to give his team 7th place. Andy Merutka, like Cox only a junior, broke the state record in the shot with a toss of 59' 5½" and with Bradley McCreery's tie for third in the pole vault helped Palatine finish 13th. John Lally of Crystal Lake's North Suburban track champs, took 5th in a record breaking mile in which Jim Weinert of Highland Park was clocked in the amazing time of 4:16.2. When Jim Bowers of DeKalb set the old mark of 4:20.7 in 1956, the record was expected to stand for many years.

THIS MONTH AT MOST of the private golf clubs in the Chicago area members will either be billed for a payment to the Evans Caddy Scholarship Fund or will be asked to make a contribution. Chick Evans golf exploits of many years ago are well known to most sports fans but cannot compare with his work in helping deserving caddies to secure a college education. Evans is the only man to win four major championships: the National Open, National Amateur, Western Open, and Western Amateur. This is insignificant compared to his organizing a foundation which has sent 1,106 ex-caddies to college.

Last summer on his 70th birthday 1,000 guests, including some of the greatest sports and educational dignitaries, gathered for a testimonial banquet for this outstanding youth leader. From the Paddock Publications area the Evans scholars now in college are Jason Morgan at Illinois and Dave Shaw at Northwestern from Inverness; Michael Andrea at Northwestern and Joseph Rand at Michigan from Barrington Hills; Thomas Tirado at Illinois from Brookwood; Fred Flener at Illinois from Elmhurst; James Tatnall and Tom Tatnall at Illinois and James Utaski and Tom Utaski at Northwestern from Itasca Country Club; Tom Clark, James Ellinger, and Francis Sekyra at Illinois and Tom Lynch at Northwestern from Medinah; Gordon Brunner and Vernon Bruner at Wisconsin; Don Moses at Illinois, and Bruce Rasmussen at Northwestern from Rolling Green.

20 YEARS AGO

Palatine won the Northwest Conference track meet with 63 points. Bensenville was second with 55. It was the first time Palatine had ever won the league track meet. Sixteen Palatine boys won 28 medals. Cipri of Palatine and Kiefer of Bensenville each took two firsts and a second for 13 points. Pomplun of Bensenville scored 12 points with a double win in the hurdles and a third in the shot while Hahnfeldt of Palatine and Fullerton of Barrington collected 11 points apiece in field events. Trepus and Timmerhaus of Palatine set records in the 880 and mile runs. Pomplun and Thomas of Bensenville set new marks in high hurdles and pole vault . . . Crystal Lake won the Northeast Conference track meet with Arlington third behind Libertyville. Arlington winners were Heinze in the high and low hurdles and Niemeyer in the mile . . . Tom Fullerton is athlete of the year at Barrington. Fullerton quarterbacked a conference champ football team, played center on the basketball team, and was in the state meet in track.

10 YEARS AGO

Palatine took the Northwest Conference track title for the 4th year in a row with few first places but a new record of 4:40 in the mile by Herb Oesterle . . . Arlington took the West Suburban golf title as Dick Hauff scored 76, Tom Rowader and Dick Tang got 84, and Coleman and Rascher both carded 88. Hauff is a freshman and played remarkable golf in a pouring rain . . . Palatine's golfers, with a 12-5 record, are favored to win the Northwest golf title next week .

Reed Hurls One-Hitter; Bisons Win

Fenton's Carl Reed, plagued by untold misfortune earlier this spring, took another giant step towards equalizing accounts for the season with a masterful one hit whitewash of Glenbrook Tuesday afternoon.

For a change, Reed's teammates gave him a little support at the plate and came through at the right times to nutch an impressive 6-0 win over the Spartans from Northbrook.

Had it not been for Fotter's single in the second Reed would have been the author of a no-hit, no-run mound masterpiece. As it was, he did fan 10 and was in trouble only once during the game.

FENTON SALTED this one away for keeps with two runs in the opening stanza. John Greenwood led off with a single and stole second.

After Frank Nelson popped out to second, Dan Summers and Phil Floring walked to load the bases. Tom Semper then delivered a clutch single to score both Greenwood and Summers.

Singles by John Hennig and Greenwood, a walk to Summers and a passed ball accounted for Fenton's third run in the second.

REED GOT himself into hot water in the fifth by filling the bases on walks with one out but he toughened and retired the next two batters on strikes.

The Bisons added three insurance counters in the sixth. Ron Folak singled and moved to second when Greenwood was safe on a fielder's choice.

Nelson grounded out but Summers was hit with a pitch to fill the bases. Phil Floring then tapped into a force play at third with Folak scoring and a bobble of Tom Semper's roller by the Spartan shortstop opened the gates for two more Bison tallies.

PETE MELONAS registered his first victory since the opening day of the spring as he hurled Fenton to a 13-5 conquest of Immaculate Conception Monday. Coincidentally, that initial win by Melonas also came at IC's expense.

Coach Jim Monahan's outfit decided Monday's battle in short order with five big runs in the top of the first.

The Bisons added another run in the fifth, six in the sixth and a final marker in the seventh. IC countered with two in the first and single tallies in the second, fourth and seventh.

Floring paced the victors' attack against the Knights with three hits in five tries and three RBI's. Summers also knocked in three Bison runs with a pair of safeties.

Picket Sparkles As Lake Park Routs W. Leyden

Fred Picket, a catcher by trade, took a crack at a starting mound assignment and hurled Lake Park's sophomore baseball squad to a convincing 10-1 victory over West Leyden Monday at Medinah.

Picket, who usually handles the number one varsity backstop chores, pitched no-hit ball for six innings before the Knights from Northlake finally found the range.

The victory was the fifth of the season for the Lancer underclassmen as opposed to six setbacks. West Leyden had won five straight prior to Monday's engagement.

THE Medinah crew scored all it needed with a pair in the first. Cliff Stetter led off with a single, stole second and raced home on Picket's single.

Picket then moved along to third and tallied on Larry Gates' long sacrifice fly.

Norby Wesolowski's boys came up with one hit in the third and converted it into another two-spot. King singled and moved around to third on a pair of walks to Stetter and Picket.

GATES rapped in his second run of the game with another sacrifice fly and Stetter tallied on a wild pitch.

Freshman Drury Mays spearheaded the Lancer attack in the later innings with solid hits in the fourth and sixth. Ahead, 5-0, going into sixth, Lake Park came up with five big runs to put the game on ice.

West Leyden finally got to Picket in the seventh for a pair of singles and a double that produced its only run of the afternoon.

The Lancer frosh-sophs will wrap up the 1961 campaign with games at Fenton today (Thursday) and at Ridgewood Friday.

Rout Lancers, 8-1

N. Chicago Clinches Fourth League Title

North Chicago's irrepressible War Hawks wrapped up their fourth consecutive Tri-County Conference baseball title last Thursday with an easy 8-1 conquest of Lake Park.

The victory boosted the Hawks conference mark to 5-0, a full three lengths ahead of second place Fenton and Elmwood Park with only one contest remaining.

For the Lancers, the defeat sent them tumbling into the loop cellar, a single game behind the Bisons and Tigers.

IT TURNED out to be an all-around dismal week for Coach Dick Davis' outfit as Burlington took the Lancers to task, 7-5, Saturday afternoon at Burlington.

Actually, North Chicago gathered all the runs it needed for victory in Thursday's initial session. War Hawk leadoff batter Grady Shearin rapped one of Jerry Brown's deliveries at Norm Pfortmiller and the Lancer first sacker bobbled the ball for an error.

Tom Jakaitis was safe on another error, this one by Rick Schimmel and Brown walked Don Curtright to load the bases with nobody out.

DAVE Armstead then slapped one to Schimmel who promptly fired in to Fred Picket cutting down Shearin at the plate. Moments later, unfortunately, Vern Shelton laced out a single scoring both Jakaitis and Curtright.

The Hawks added more coal to the fire with a trio of counters in the third. Shelton led off with a single and raced around to third on Linder's single.

Bill Liskey smashed another one at Schimmel and once again the Lake Park junior cut down a run coming in to the plate. Jim Romans flied to left but Wasnecki walked to fill the sacks.

MOMENTS later, Shearin belted a bases-clearing triple to put the game on ice for the champs.

North Chicago added another run in the fourth on a single by Curtright and another Pfortmiller error. Curtright's triple accounted for the vitors' final two tallies in the fifth.

After five futile attempts, the Lancers finally broke into the scoring column in the sixth. Pfortmiller walked and moved along when Curtright erred on Picket's infield tap.

GEORGE Stump rapped into a force play erasing Picket at second but Joe Gorski's single produced Lake Park's only run.

Jim Romans got the win for North Chicago, his first of the season in conference play; Brown was tagged with the Lancer loss.

Burlington took advantage of some timely hitting and a sloppy Lancer defense to notch its win over the visitors from Medinah.

DAVIS' lads jumped out to a 1-0 edge in the first on singles by Jim Fuller and Picket and a hit batsman but the Rockets from Central high roared back with three in the bottom of the second.

Stump's tremendous homer with Fuller aboard in the third knotted the count and the Lancers pulled ahead with another pair in the fourth, these coming without the aid of a base hit.

Guy King started it off with a walk and then stole second. Successive walks to Schimmel Cliff Stetter and Fuller forced in one run while Pfortmiller's perfect squeeze bunt accountedfor the last Lancer marker of the game.

BURLINGTON picked itself off the deck in the bottom of the fourth with four runs to take the lead for keeps.

Struke went the route for the Rockets to pick up the victory; Gorski absorbed the defeat on the hill for Lake Park.

Willowbrook's tennis team squeezed by a fine Glenbrook team 3-2 Tuesday, May 16, at WB, in its last meet of the season.

The Warriors' Dan Wilson went 43 games before he won the first singles match 6-4, 11-13, and 6-3. Wilson is now 7-1 in conference matches this year. Second singles went to Glenbrook 6-1, and 6-2, and likewise in third singles competition 6-3, and 6-2.

Willowbrook's two doubles teams saved the day though, as John Scholz and Jerry Paulson, both sophomores, were victorious, 6-2, 6-0, in first doubles. Dale Wood and Dave Herbster credited the WB team with its third and winning tally by winning 6-2 and 6-1.

This was the Spartans' first loss in conference competition. The 'Brookmen wound up with a 6-2 record in the band of Spartan plebes.

Medinah CC To Host 1962 Western Open

After a lapse of two years, Chicagoland sports enthusiasts will welcome the return to this area of big-time professional golf this summer.

As a matter of fact, the Chicago area is assured a glimpse of all of the top notch pros for at least the next two summers with the selection of Medinah country club as the site of the 1962 Western Open.

Olympia Fields country club of Chicago Heights will host the National PGA championships July 27-30 of this year.

FOR THE Medinah club, next year's Western will mark the first appearance of the PGA trailblazers since 1949 when its number three course was the site of the National Open.

A definite date for the '62 Western has not, as yet, been determined by the PGA. This year's tourney, slated for Grand Rapids, Mich., will be held June 22-25.

The Western, sponsored jointly by the PGA and Western Golf association, is considered to be one of the top four tournaments along the professional circuit. Also included in this group are the Masters, National Open and National PGA.

VALUE of this year's Western will be in the neighborhood of $30,000 although the '62 meet will be worth approximately $50,000.

Professional golf has declined in stature in this area ever since George S. May, owner of Tam O'Shanter country club, withdrew his backing of the All-American and World's Championship tourneys in 1956.

Glen Eagles country club took a crack at filling in the void during the summer of '57 with the $50,000 Chicago Open but abandoned the project after two unsuccessful tries.

MEDINAH'S number three course is one of the most awe-inspiring in the country. Its par 71 rating is deceiving if not downright unreasonable as many pros will attest.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff walked off with that National Open title at Medinah in '49 even though he totaled a one over par 286 for the 72 hole test.

Since then, Medinah has added several improvements to its championship layout including 12 rebuilt greens that will give even the best of the pros some sleepless nights.

Sophs Topple Spartans

After watching a seemingly insurmountable 7-2 lead trickle down the drain, Fenton's sophomore baseball squad regained its composure in time to down stubborn Glenbrook 11-9 at Northbrook Tuesday afternoon.

The Interim League Spartans took full advantage of five Bison errors in the fourth inning for five tallies and a 7-all deadlock heading into the fifth.

But Coach Bob Appleby's boys were not to be denied as they punched across two in the fifth to take the lead for keeps.

ACCOUNTING for a good share of Fenton's offense were Rich Gellerson and Louis Youngs. Gellerson rapped out three hits in four trips to the plate including a double and a triple.

Youngs collected two hits in four at bats. As a team, Fenton banged out seven hits but matched that figure in defensive bobbles.

Picking up the victory for Coach Bob Appleby's crew was Jim Engel. Engel rescued Carl Janks during Glenbrook's big fourth.

Coach Bob Thollander's freshman aggregation did not fare as well, however, and dropped a 6-3 decision to a band of Spartan plebes.

Bison Sophs Whip Tiger, Rebel Nines

Fenton's sophomore Bisons punched across four runs in the bottom of the second last Thursday to pave the way to a 6-3 conquest of Elmwood Park in a Tri-County Conference underclassman diamond battle.

The victory enabled the Bisons to maintain a share of first in the conference soph race along with North Chicago. Both schools have won three of four tests.

It was a good week all around for Appleby's outfit as it whitewashed Ridgewood, 1-0, Friday and thereby avenged an earlier loss to the Rebels.

AFTER A scoreless initial stanza, Fenton hit Elmwood Park with its big four spot in the second on only one base hit. Successive walks to Louis Youngs, Jim Wytrwal and Bill Brock filled the sacks and another pass to Will Beeskow forced in the game's first run.

Rich Moon then cracked out the inning's only hit, a single, to score Wytrwal and Brock but Beeskow was nailed going around to third on the play.

Moon proceeded to steal second, take third on Andy Engel's infield out and score on a wild pitch.

THE BISONS hiked their edge to 5-0 in the fourth as Brock led off with a walk, moved to second on Beeskow's sacrifice and scored on Len Dick's single.

Elmwood fought back with a single run in the fifth and threatened to throw the game up for grabs in the sixth.

Calia erred on McEvoy's smash to short setting the stage for Ken Bromann's run-producing triple. Delorto singled Bromann home and scampered to third on Hendrickson's single. Bison reliefer Dick toughened, however, and retired the side on three easy infield taps.

ENGEL GOT the win for Fenton; Hildebrand was tagged with the defeat.

Youngs' single with Gellerson at third in the first inning gave the Bisons just enough cushion for their triumph over Ridgewood Friday.

The game featured a rugged mound duel between Fenton's Engel and Mike Killian of Ridgewood with the former dishing up a two-hitter to gain the nod.

Varsity Golfers Drop Two; Sophs Whip N. Chicago

Elmwood Park and North Chicago handed Fenton high's varsity golfers their 10th and 11th consecutive setbacks of the spring on successive afternoons last week.

The Tigers ripped the Bisons, 159-230, last Thursday while North Chicago upended Lee Craine's outfit, 194-203, Friday.

Ken Kirpluk fired a torrid 34 to pace Elmwood Park to its easy nine hole win. Ranieri carded a 41 for the victors while Staroscik and Koeppel each notched 42's.

DENNIS JACOBSEN continued to show the way for the Bisons, turning in a 45 this time around. Other Bison scores included Erwin Mick's 47, Eccleston's 47 and Dave Richert's 51.

Ryczek paced a balanced War Hawk foursome Friday with his 47. Kozlowski, August and Kapheim each recorded 49's for the victors.

Jacobsen again was Fenton's best scorer with a 46, three strokes better than Mick's 49. Eccleston and Richert chalked up a 50 and 58 respectively.

FENTON'S sophomores absorbed their ninth successive loss against Elmwood Park but finally cracked the win column against North Chicago the following day.

Elmwood Park whipped Craine's underclassmen, 159-230, before the Bisons toppled North Chicago, 188-206.

Next on tap for Fenton are matches at home against Lake Park this afternoon (Thursday), and at East Leyden next Thursday.

Orioles Head B-ville Babe Ruth Loop Race

With the score deadlocked at one-all after six innings, the Orioles exploded for seven runs in the seventh round to take an 8-1 decision from the Larks in Bensenville Babe Ruth League action last week.

By virtue of their triumph, the Orioles climbed into sole possession of the BRL lead with a perfect 2-0 slate.

After dropping their opening game last week, the Pirates bounced back to notch a pair of victories and thereby climbed up to second place.

KENT CURRAN hurled the Bucs to a 6-5 win over the Athletics Friday while the Cards fell to the Pirates, 8-4, Sunday. Pacing the Pirates against the Cards was Noe with a solid single and a pair of RBI's.

Conoglio blasted a homer over the center field fence with one aboard but the Larks still dropped a 3-2 decision to the Cardinals last Thursday. Siemers got the win for the Cards in this one while Townsend was tagged with the loss.

In Major Little League action, the White Sox stepped out to a slim half-game edge with an easy 11-1 conquest of the Indians in their only outing of the past week.

HERO OF the White Sox win was Finn who tossed up a no-hitter at the Indians and rapped out a homer and single at the plate.

Wolters, Steging and Graham each pounded out four hits as the Dodgers walloped the last place Tigers, 20-12. Weller got the win while Aden was tagged with the loss.

In their opening game Friday, the Dodgers were held to a 3-3 deadlock by the Cubs in a tight pitchers' duel called at the end of the eighth because of darkness.

DODGER hurler Steging and Cub pitcher Walsh each fanned 14 batters.

The Yankees and Giants each picked up a pair of victories last week to move into a 3-cornered tie for fourth with the Red Sox, just one-half game off the White Sox' pace.

Dean Gorman, Hunt, Freda and McKinney batted in 19 runs between them as the Yanks pounded the Indians, 30-15. Paul Poplawski whacked a pair of four-baggers and Jeff Novatny laced out three doubles for the losers.

CONSOTTI pitched and batted the Yanks to a masterful 15-0 conquest of the Tigers last Wednesday. In addition to a fine job on the mound, he collected two doubles and two singles at the plate.

Ross Laho knocked in five runs and pitched the Giants to a 12-2 win over the Red Sox Friday. The Giants then toppled the Braves, 9-6, Sunday as Bob Johnson had a perfect day at the plate with two triples, two doubles and four RBI's.

Johnny Green fanned 13 to pace the Red Sox to a 6-2 decision over the Cubs in another game played Sunday. Dennis Podkowa absorbed the loss on the hill for the Bruins.

In last week's only Minor League game, the Seals outslugged the Bears, 15-11, behind Noe's homer and two doubles.

Cook Buick Claims Lead In Roll-Off

Bill Cook Buick, rolling one man short, took the lead in the Paddock Classic Traveling League Championship roll-off by winning two of three games from Bill Bond Men's Wear Sunday night at Bowlway in Elgin.

Play will now revert to Bill Bond's home lanes at Country Lanes in Lake Zurich where all the remaining games in the best four of seven series will be resumed at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Although Bill Cook Buick of Arlington Heights was one man short, the first half champions had three of their four men who were present join the "600 Club," paced by a 673 by Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods. Dick Nickol of Palatine posted a 613 and substitute Norb Leja of Arlington Heights came through with a 607 triplicate.

LEJA WAS bowling in place of Jim Perna of Rolling Meadows and Whitey Hefferan of Elk Grove Village, both of whom were absent. For the blind, the low score on the Bill Bond team was substituted game by game.

George Radke of Mundelein was the only real thorn in Bill Cook's side, rolling a 679 series for the second half champions from Rolling Meadows.

Radke started off with a 231 game to pace Bill Bond to its only win Sunday, 970-947. Helping was a 205 by Herb Lohman of Lake Zurich. A 226 game by Nickol and 212 by Kouros were not enough.

THEN BILL Cook Buick got rolling. Kouros upped his count to 237, Leja came along with a 221 game and John Seidel of Palatine totaled 214 for a 1047-949 Bill Cook Buick triumph. The only 200 game for Bill Bond was a 221 by anchor man Frank Graff of Palatine.

Bill Cook Buick captured the third game by 14 pins, 963-949, thanks to a 224 count by Kouros and 216 by Leja. It was a hard loss for Bill Bond to take in view of the fact that Radke rolled the night's high game, 256, and teammate John Taylor of Waukegan rolled 206.

Deerfield's Soph Netmen Top Knights

Deerfield swept singles play and wrapped up a 3-2 victory last week over Prospect high's frosh-soph tennis squad.

Claiming triumphs for Coach Maurie Levy's Knights were the doubles teams of Lee Marek and John Barr and Bob Laechelt and Scott Campbell.

High Series

Bob Rogers of Des Plaines, bowling for Cook County Mobile Homes, walked off with high average honors in the Paddock Classic traveling league for the 1960-61 season.

Official statistics released this week reveal that Rogers carried a 198 average for 69 games with a high game of 278 and high series of 693.

Cook County Mobile Homes also boasted the second high-average bowler with Don Oberg of Itasca coming in with a fine 195 average for 99 games. Oberg recorded a high series of 683 and high game of 268.

ROUNDING out the bowlers with 193 or better averages in the high-flying Paddock Classic league are John Taylor of Waukegan and Bill Bond Men's Wear (194), Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods and Bill Cook Buick (194), Earl Fenimore of Arlington Heights and Pro Sport Center (193), George Stone of Wilmette and Jeffery Lanes (193), LeRoy Papineau of Lake in Hills and Moyle Construction (193), and George Radke of Bill Bond Men's Wear (193).

John Seidel of Palatine, rolling for Bill Cook Buick, was author of the high game in the 1960-61 season with a big 279 en route to a 675 series. Seidel finished with a 189 average for 102 games.

Other top games registered in league play were a 278 by Rogers, 276 by Nickol of Bill Cook Buick, and 269's by Fenimore and Ted Zimmerman of Cook County Mobile Homes.

GEORGE STONE of Wilmette hit the high series with a booming 724 in competition for Jeffery Lanes. Kouros of Bill Cook Buick fashioned the other 700 series for the past season with a 714. Rogers had a near-miss with a fine 693.

The Rules committee and advisory board of the Paddock Classic traveling league decided to retain the same average range for next season, 940-970, as this past year; to retain the area from which bowlers can be drawn, as is without change; to travel as a unit of eight teams, same as last season; and to adopt the "4-point system" of determining championships, instead of the won-loss system in use in the past.

The league will hold its annual banquet Saturday evening, June 3, at Barrington Ten Pin.

JIM WEINERT, Highland Park's talented junior, hits the finish line at the termination of the one mile run Saturday in the Illinois Interscholastic track and field championships in Champaign. Weinert set a new state record in the event with a clocking of 4:16.2, snapping the old mark by over four full seconds.

West Suburban League Having Banner Year!

The West Suburban conference is enjoying quite a year in athletics.

With LaGrange and Hinsdale adding state titles last weekend the WSC has now picked off four Illinois Interscholastic championships during the 1960-61 school year and one second place.

Glenbard West's Hilltoppers captured the cross country title in the fall and York's Dukes annexed the state gymnastics crown last winter. LaGrange tied with Rock Island for the track title, and Hinsdale walked off with the links championship.

Hinsdale's Red Devils also boast a second in state competition with a runnerup — that's quite a record for any conference!

JUST DOGS

Obedience Trial

The 21st annual trial of the North Shore Dog Training club held last Sunday at the Highland Park Recreation center had some 19 people from our area with dogs entered in the event. Although it was a cool weekend, it ended up on a warm note from the standpoint that many people came home with a passing score for their dogs and more than one completed the required number of points and shows to win one of the coveted American Kennel club obedience degrees.

Top honors should go to Maxine Martens of Elk Grove Village, whose Doberman Pinscher took first place in the Open A class with a score of 196½ out of a possible 200. In the same class, Kay Blackwood of Arlington Heights showing her Poodle won fourth place with 193½. Another class winner was the Cocker Spaniel owned by John and Leona Weging of Wheeling, whose dog took third place in the Novice A class with a score of 198½.

Perhaps one of the most coveted wins at the trial was in connection with the tracking test held early in the morning at an outdoor location. In this event the dog either passes or fails, however, in the case of the German Shepherd owned by Irving Pociot of Roselle, his dog passed this difficult test with flying colors. It is a tough affair to train a dog to do and congragulations are in order to both the owner and his dog.

Fair Price

We have often mentioned the subject of a fair price for a dog, and with summer about here and people looking for puppies, again keep in mind a few points.

A price for a purebred puppy will vary, according to the availability of the breed and the individual pup's potential as a show or field trial prospect. Once you decide on the breed you will find not too much of a variation among good breeders. It costs so much to raise a puppy and, after all factors are considered, most breeders will be in line with their costs based, of course, on the potential of the puppy being sold as well as the actual raising costs.

Barks & Bays

Laws and taxes seem to be with us these days. They have one law in a city in Europe which forbids dogs to ride in taxis except on the day of their national dog show.

Darnell Captures Main Event at Waukegan Oval

Veteran race driver, Bay Darnell of Deerfield, Ill., broke into the winners circle once again as he sped to victory in the 25-lap main event for the modified stocks at the Waukegan Speedway Sunday night.

His win registered the first feature run of record for the 1961 season in the second program held at the local track. Last Sunday's semi and main event was washed out by rain and this Sunday, though clear, was extremely cold and held the crowd down to just over 2,000 avid fans.

Darnell grabbed the lead on the 8th lap from pole setter, Bob Ratajczyk of Milwaukee, and held it for the rest of the distance. A hard fought battle for the second spot then ensued between Ratajczyk; Gordy Gorman, Libertyville; Junior Dodd, Waukegan; and Jack Radtke of Grayslake. The position changed hands several times, but at the end of the gruelling 25, Ratajczyk still held on to second, Dodd finished third, Gorman fourth and Radke placed sixth.

GARY Sheldon, Beloit, scored a last lap victory in the 15-lap semi feature to win over Johnny Wood of Winthrop Harbor who had led for the entire distance.

Reynolds won the first tenlapper of the evening, beating out Don Koelling of Wheeling; Sheldon won the second heat over Ken Heiden of Barrington; Zion's Jack Frost a long time favorite of Waukeganites scored the third heat win over George Bellegante of Winthrop Harbor; and Junior Dodd took top honors in the fourth over Bay Darnell.

NEXT Sunday, May 28 the modifieds will have their third go at the Waukegan oval. Another large field of cars and drivers is expected to participate and track manager Mike Kaishian is hoping for a weather break in order that a full program can be held to a comfortable crowd.

Warriors' Trackmen Defeated

Elmwood Park won six out of nine track events in edging Willowbrook 63-55 on Wednesday, May 17, at Willowbrook in the Warriors' last dual meet of the season.

Both the high and low hurdles were won by Elmwood Park men. Warrior George Wisbrock took first place on the 880, and John Ashenhurst ran a 53.2 quarter to give Willowbrook another first.

Elmwood's George Clark and Roos finished 1,2 on the mile, Clarke having a fine 4:44.2 time. The two runners finished first and third in their district earlier this season.

ELMWOOD PARK'S relay team nosed out Willowbrook in the 880 relay, but WB victored on the mile relay with a time of 3:39.

Fenton Sophs Blank Tigers; Fall to Proco

After watching their four game win skein trickle down the drain last Wednesday, Fenton's freshman Bisons recovered their winning ways with a 6-0 victory over Elmwood Park last Thursday.

The win over the Tigers was the sixth of the season for Coach Bob Thollander's crew as opposed to four setbacks and its fifth in its last six outings.

Author of the masterful whitewash was Bill Pfluger, ace of the Bison mound corps. Pfluger was in complete control of the situation throughout as he scattered four hits, walked none and fanned an even dozen.

THE BISONS settled the issue in the first with four runs. Bob Hettich started it off with a single and went to third on a couple of passed balls.

Norm Jacobsen and Tom Schmitt walked to fill the bases and Pfluger knocked in the first run when he was safe on a fielder's choice.

A walk to Bill Martens, another fielder's choice and a hit batsman accounted for three more Bison tallies in the first.

SUCCESSIVE singles by Roger Sparling, Bill Decker and Hettich produced another Fenton counter in the fourth while Schmitt's single in the sixth accounted for the game's final score.

Trailing, 2-0, after three-and-one-half frames, St. Procopius erupted for seven runs in the bottom of the fourth last Wednesday to topple Fenton, 7-2.

The Bison yearlings wrapped up their '61 campaign at West Leyden Wednesday.

Knights Topple Bisons, Lancers In Track Test

Capturing eight firsts, Immaculate Conception of Elmhurst outpointed Fenton and Lake Park in a triangular track meet at IC Monday afternoon.

The Suburban Catholic Knights registered 77 points to easily outdistance second place Lake Park. The Lancers totaled 40½ points to Fenton's 30½.

Joe Petty picked off a pair of firsts for Coach Larry Stees' outfit with victories in the 100 and 220. In both cases, Petty whipped IC's ace sprinter Jerry Drozd.

LARRY Wheelwright of Lake Park accounted for nine-and-one-half points with a first in the high hurdles, a second in the broad jump and a tie for third in the high jump.

Lake Park's half mile relay squad also raced to victory with a 1:38.1 effort.

Fenton's Terry Aasen was Monday's other double winner with firsts in both the half and mile runs. He toured the half in 2:10.9 and covered the mile in 5:01.4.

Fenton Sophs Rock Lake Park In Track Test

Capturing 11 of 14 firsts, Fenton's frosh - soph cindermen rolled to an easy 72-45 victory over Tri-County Conference rival Lake Park in a dual meet at Fenton last Wednesday.

Pacing the victorious Bisons was Jim Sikorski with a trio of winning performances. Sikorski took the high hurdles in :19.4, the quarter in :57.9 and the broad jump with a 17-3 measurement.

Gil Panos contributed a pair of firsts with winning efforts in the 100 and 220 as did Frank Tegel in the 880 and mile.

BISON FRANK Nelson put the shot 41-3 for top honors in that department while Bill Economos and Dan Boone chalked up five-pointers for Fenton in the high jump and pole vault respectively.

The victors copped the 880 relay while Lake Park snatched the mile event.

Other Lancer winners were Wentz in the low hurdles and Vern Krause in the discus.

Fenton Trackmen Rule Triangular

Fenton's frosh-soph cinder squad copped eight firsts and rolled up 54 points to eke out a tight decision over Lake Park and Immaculate Conception in a triangular track meet at Elmhurst Monday.

The Lancers placed second behind Lee Thompson's underclassman outfit with 50 points followed by IC with 44.

CAPTURING a pair of victories for the Bisons were Jim Sikorski and Mike Franzen. Sikorski took the high hurdles in :18.8 and the quarter in :58 flat while Franzen ruled both the 100 and 220.

Dan Boone continued his winning ways for Fenton in the pole vault while Bill Economos cleared 5-8 for a first in the high jump. Bison Frank Hallberg nipped teammate Frank Tegel for top honors in the mile run.

Recording Lake Park's only individual victory was Sullivan with a 17-9 effort in the broad jump. The Lancers additionally captured the mile relay while the victorious Bisons took the half mile relay.

Lancer Golfers Roll On!

Lake Park, apparently gathering a full head of steam as the '61 season nears its conclusion, registered a pair of smashing golf victories over Elgin Tuesday at Itasca country club.

The Tri-County Conference champs toppled the Maroon varsity, 166-175, and then took the frosh-soph contest, 182-201.

For the Lancer varsity, Tuesday's success was victory number eight of the season in 12 outings. The Medinah underclassmen also have won eight of 12 encounters.

Randy Wolf paced the victorious upperclassmen with a 39 on Itasca's front side. John Stevenson and Dan DeMay both chalked up 41's while John Thomas recorded a 45.

Dick Calendo turned in the best card for the Maroons, a 42. Fred Meier notched a 43 while teammates Craig Sorenson and Bob Berger both had 45's.

Jim Dick carded a 46 to pace Lake Park to its win in the frosh-soph match. Other Lancer scores included Dave Shellenbarger's 47, Jack Bauerle's 49 and Art Wenzel's 50.

Rams Rip Fenton Golfers

Glenbard East proved to be an extremely inhospital host last Wednesday afternoon, copping varsity and frosh-soph golf matches from visiting Fenton.

The Rams from Lombard triumphed in the varsity match, 179-200, and then captured the frosh-soph contest, 191-224.

The loss was the ninth of the season for Coach Lee Craine's varsity in as many starts. The Bison underclassmen have dropped eight straight thus far.

PACING THE Ram varsity was Pederson with a 43. Teammates Smith and Wysert contributed 45's while Abraham recorded a 46.

Dennis Jacobsen fired a 43 in a losing cause for Fenton while Dave Richert carded a 49. Len Hansen added a 57 and Erwin Mick a 51.

Glenbard's LaZorki took medalist honors in the frosh-soph match with a 40. Vick's 53 was tops for Fenton.

Ordinance No. 80-61

SUBDIVISION ANNEXATION ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING FEES OR CHARGES TO THE VILLAGE OF ROSELLE

BE IT AND IT IS HEREBY ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Roselle, Illinois, as follows:

SECTION 1: That in consideration of the Village of Roselle, Illinois, hereinafter annexing any real estate to said Village the following fees for such annexation shall hereafter be as follows:

(a) For any land which shall be annexed to the Village coincident with the submission of a subdivision plat for R-1 Single Family Residence District, the charge shall be $375.00 per lot. For each square foot in R-1 annexed which is over the minimum requirement for R-1 as to lot size, the additional charge for each such additional annexed square foot shall be .0375 dollars.

(b) For any land which shall be annexed to the Village coincident with the submission of a subdivision plat for R-2 Single Family Residence District, the charge shall be $375.00 per lot, excepting where the lot size of lots in the R-2 Single Family Residence District exceed the minimum lot size required for such R-2 zoning by 180%, then each such lot shall be in the sum of $750.00. For any difference in size of any R-2 lot between the minimum size as set forth in the Village Zoning Ordinance and 180% in excess, then for such area difference in square feet the additional fee of .0375 dollars shall be paid in addition to the $375.00 for each such additional square foot so annexed.

(c) For any land which shall be annexed to the Village coincident with the submission of a subdivision plat for R-3 General Residence District, the charge shall be $500.00 per lot, excepting that where the lot size of lots in R-3 General Residence District exceed the minimum lot size required for such R-3 zoning by 180%, then each lot shall be charged the sum of $1,000.00. For any difference in size of any R-3 lot between the minimum size as set forth in the Village Zoning Ordinance and 180% in excess, then for such area difference in square feet the additional fee of .05 dollars shall be paid in addition to the $500.00 for each additional square foot so annexed.

(d) For any land which is brought in on an acreage basis not accompanied by a Plat of Subdivision the charge shall be as follows:
1. R-1 Single Family Residence District $1,000.00 per acre.
2. R-2 Single Family Residence District $1,000.00 per acre.
3. R-3 General Residence District $1,500.00 per acre.
Any fractional acreage herein annexed shall be charged on the basis of its fractional size in square feet in reference to the above charges as set forth in this section.

(e) For any land annexed to the Village under any classification other than those hereinabove described in this section under paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d), it shall be annexed at a charge to be mutually agreed upon by and between the Village and the Petitioner for annexation.

(f) That for each parcel of property which is rezoned in its classification upward from its present classification to that of a higher classification, that upon the granting of rezoning by the Village Board they shall pay an additional annexation fee as to the difference between the annexation fee that they had paid for annexation under this ordinance and the then existing annexation fee as to the new zoned classification.

SECTION 2: No Plat of Annexation shall be signed without payment of all annexation fees to the Village Clerk.

SECTION 3: Each of the provisions of this ordinance is severable and if any provision shall be determined to be invalid, the remaining provisions shall not be affected but shall remain in full force and effect.

SECTION 4: This ordinance shall be effective from and after its passage and due publication.

SECTION 5: All ordinances, or parts of ordinances, in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

ADOPTED this 8th day of May, 1961.

Ordinance No. 81-61

VILLAGE OF ROSELLE, ILLINOIS

BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Roselle, Illinois:

SECTION 1. All persons before entering in or upon private residences as solicitors of orders for the sale of goods, wares and merchandise are hereby required to register with the Chief of Police and furnish the following information: Full name of registrant and local address, if any; permanent home address; a physical description of the applicant setting forth age, height, weight, color of hair and eyes, sex, motor vehicle registration number, if any; social security number, if any; nature of goods, wares, and merchandise offered for sale; name and address of the firm for or on whose behalf the orders are solicited or the supplier of the goods involved; a statement as to the period during which the applicant intends to solicit orders; a specimen of applicant's signature; a statement as to whether the applicant has been convicted of any crime involving moral turpitude and, if so, where and the nature of the offense and the punishment or penalty imposed therefor.

SECTION 2. (a) Upon furnishing the information required under Section 1. hereof, applicant shall be registered forthwith unless the information furnished in compliance with this ordinance shows that the applicant has been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude.

(b) Any registration granted hereunder may be revoked for furnishing false information in connection with the registrant's application or for the subsequent conviction of the registrant for a crime involving moral turpitude.

SECTION 3. Any person soliciting within this municipality, whether or not required to register under the provisions of this ordinance, shall conform to the following regulations:

(a) The solicitor shall conduct himself at all times in an orderly and lawful manner;

(b) Where the solicitor takes a down payment he shall give a written receipt for all orders taken within this municipality, which receipt shall be signed by the solicitor and shall set forth a brief description of the goods, wares or merchandise ordered, the total purchase price thereof, and the amount of the down payment received by the solicitor from the purchaser.

SECTION 4. The act of soliciting orders for the sale of goods, wares and merchandise in or upon private residences in this village without having been registered shall constitute a misdemeanor and any person found guilty thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5.00 or more than $200.00, and each order solicited in violation of the provisions of this ordinance, or any false statement or misrepresentation of fact for the purpose of obtaining a "solicitor's permit" shall be deemed a separate offense.

SECTION 5. This ordinance shall take effect on final passage and publication according to law.

Area Motorists Lose Privileges

Of the 186 revoations and 973 suspensions of drivers licenses in the state of Illinois, three licenses of area motorists were revoked and 16 were suspended. In addition, 14 drivers received probationary permits, according to the records of Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier.

Revoked was the restricted driving permit of George Cutting, 104 State rd., Arlington Heights; the license of Julian J. Domek, 403 N. Vail, Arlington Heights because of three violations; and for driving while intoxicated, the license of Harry Krippes, R 3, Box 344, Palatine.

SUSPENDED for three violations were the licenses of Arlington Heights residents Denny F. Warnock, 721 N. Beverly; Earl F. Weseman, 1107 N. Mitchell; Paul Peale, 829 N. Belmont; Pedro G. Perez, 528 E. Dundee rd.; and Frank W. Bauer, 2803 Grouse lane.

Also suspended for three violations were licenses of Edmund H. Becker, 1100 Wilke rd., John A. Bichl, 114 S. Ashland; Vernon R. Rairie, Box 274 Rand, and Jack N. Nielsen, 620 Franklin rd., all of Palatine; Nick Menola, 627 Edwards and Robert M. Mayers, 1708 Estates dr., both of Mt. Prospect; and John J. McFall, 3306 Pheasant, Rolling Meadows.

The licenses of Donald L. Blair, R. R. 2, Higgins, Bensenville; Charles A. Matthies, 5N473 Central, Itasca; Daniel J. Pearson, 325 Pleasant st., Hoffman Estates; and Paul F. Vombrack, 230 Pearl st., Roselle, were also suspended because of three violations.

PROBATIONARY permits were issued to Raymond E. Walbaum, 115 S. Mitchell ave., and Eldon C. Robson, 927 N. Chicago ave., both of Arlington Heights; Palatine residents Richard C. Lepley, R. R. 3, Box 237, Ross J. Paterson, 361 N. Ela rd., James R. Dickinson, 272 E. Kirchoff rd., and Richard F. Wegrzyn, Box 343 R. R. 3; and Mt. Prospect residents Walter S. Swiatowy, 139 Hill st., Dennis H. Hahn, 118 S. Louis st., and Bruce E. Lynam, 509 William.

Also receiving probationary permits were Kenneth J. Milowski, 340 Pleasant st., Hoffman Estates; Kenneth E. Neilsen, 209 E. Pine st., Bensenville; and Addison residents Sterling N. Augustine, 409 Stone st., General P. Fields, 547 Byron, and Robert C. Lunetto, 229 E. Diversey.

'WAY BACK WHEN'

SCHAUMBURG

Christ Fasse is now located at the home of his birth. He has moved over to the old place. Nine teams joined in the procession with a drove of cows at rail end. Louis Menke and force of eight men beat the record in Schaumburg by raising Herman Busche's new barn, 36x70x26, frame complete, in 2¾ hours; high roof and two sets of rafters all in place. They began at 2 p.m. Wednesday and had it all done before sundown. About fifty neighbors came to help see and enjoy the fun. It is a large barn, 44 ft. to the ridge, has 144 rafters and required 500 pins to fasten it together. The building was raised with pikepoles, without ropes or tackle. It stands on a high hill that commands a good view of the surrounding country. A new house, 24x44x20, also adorns the site and will make a pleasant home for the newly wedded couple.

ROSELLE

There is no more feasible money-making project than a north and south electric railroad, connecting the coal fields on the south with the lakes and ice fields on the north. Every inch of a road from Morris, through Plainfield, Naperville, Wheaton, Bloomingdale, Roselle, Schaumburg, Palatine, Quentin Corners, Lake Zurich, Wauconda and Volo to Fox Lake, would pay well, hauling mail, express, freight and passengers. Such a line could make traffic arrangements with all railroads leading west from Chicago; could compete with all, and yet have no opposition. The cars could stop at any crossing, and still make satisfactory time.

PALATINE

Miss Louise Beigel and Wm. Niemann of Arlington Heights were married at the residence of H. C. Hitzemann Saturday evening, May 18, 1901, Rev. Droegemueller officiating. The couple will take up residence at Arlington Heights.

The announcement of the special conference collection was overlooked last Sunday, so come prepared this Sunday, Rev. J. C. Hoffmeister.

Wouldn't brick or asphalt make better street crossings and not cost any more than stone?

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Rev. Edward N. Barrett, D.D., a teacher in Dunton Academy, Dunton, Ill., (known now as Arlington Heights) in 1866 and 1867, died in Iowa City, May 8, 1901. On leaving Dunton he entered the Chicago Theological Seminary, from which institution he graduated in 1870. He had served in the 137th Illinois infantry during the Civil War and was closely identified with the Grand Army of the Republic. He was buried in the Arlington Heights cemetery, Saturday May 11, 1901.

EDITORIAL MUSINGS

H. E. Quindel has subdivided the 30 acre tract he bought from Fred Nerge of Schaumburg Center and is building a mammoth hotel in anticipation of the new North and South Electirc railway to be built connecting the lakes of Northern Illinois with the coal fields in the central part of the state. This road will be welcomed by all steam roads as a connecting link to carry freight, passengers, milk, mail and express to all interior points.

The People's State Bank of Arlington Heights is an assured fact. The 250 shares of stock at $100 a share sold at par like hot cakes among 57 subscribers. First stockholders meeting was Saturday, May 20, and they were informed that an option had been taken on the Union Hotel property at $9,050, and the new bank will probably open for business early this fall in a new brick building on the site occupied by the White's barber shop.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The President and Board of Trustees of the village have ordered the construction of a connected system of sewers in State Road, Euclid Avenue, and other streets and avenues in the village. Lorenz Traub was the officer appointed to spread the levy.

A large congregation assembled at St. James Catholic Church Sunday to witness the impressive ceremony of dedicating the new bell.

ROSELLE

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Renata Hattendorf and Wm. Fenz Sunday May 28.

Until Sept. 3, the Geo. E. Franzen Roller Mills run only the last three days of the week.

PALATINE

Commencement exercises of Palatine high school will be held Friday evening, June 16. The graduates are Misses Alice Hanne, Sarah Rennack, and Elvera Schmidt.

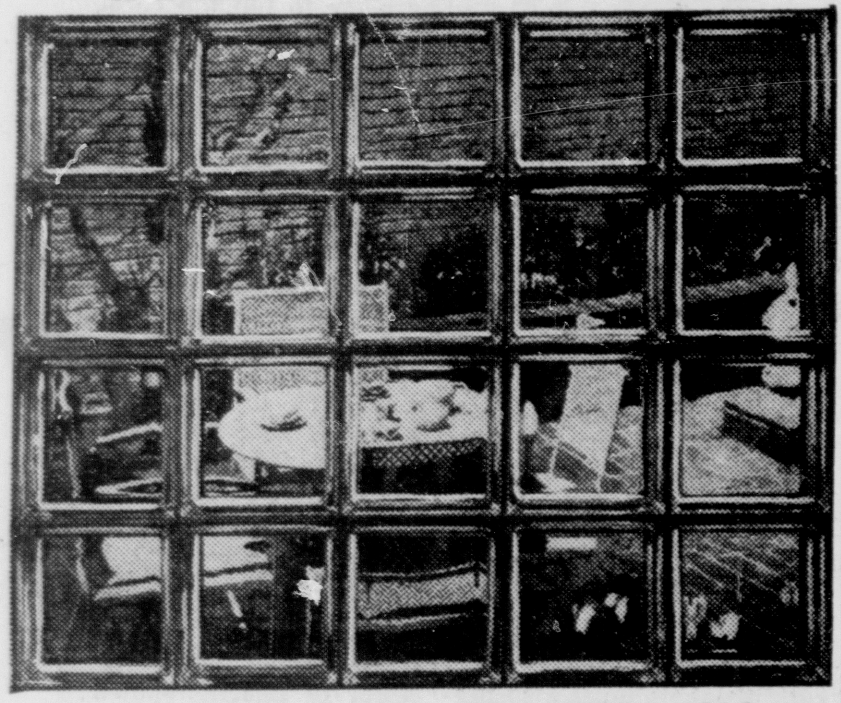
PATIO PANORAMA



Now it's possible to have a picture window which provides both beauty and insulation. Clear glass blocks give a vista-view to the great outdoors in all kinds of weather—especially pleasant in spring and summer when outdoor living reaches an all-time high. And summer heat is so much less when a picture window is made of glass blocks. Made of two pieces of pressed glass fused together to create a partial vacuum, glass blocks insulate as well as an eight-inch masonry wall. Sturdily constructed and available in convenient sizes, glass blocks are easy to install and maintain. Mortared in place, they may be cleaned from the inside by wiping with a damp cloth and washed from the outside with a garden hose.
